NAME	DATE

PAGE 1 BINGO

Directions: Play this Bingo game to see how you can scan the front page of The New York Times for interesting or useful information. Try to find something from Page 1 of today's Times that fits the criteria given in the boxes below. When completing each box, make a short note that describes the item. When you have completed a row vertically, horizontally or diagonally, call out "BINGO!"

How should you dress tomorrow based on the weather?	A sports, arts or style article	An article that might not have been published if we did not have freedom of the press	A word you don't know and a guess about its meaning
The story considered most important by Times editors today	A story that would be considered hard news	The article on Page 1 you'd be most interested in reading	A metro or business article
A story that might benefit from a chart or graph, and why	A branch of the U.S. government involved in an article	A science, health or technology article	Your guess as to why the main photo was chosen
If an alien landed here and read only this page of this paper, what is one conclusion it might draw about human beings?	A controversial issue covered or alluded to on Page 1	An article that reminds you of something you've studied in school, and why	Another country and a brief summary of why it is in the news