CHILD'S PLAY CAN BECOME A PROBLEM

The Health Department points out that children often swallow parts of toys, marbles, nuts and buttons—or poke such objects into ears and nose.

If this happens, don't probe for it. If the object is not easily removed or is inhaled into the lung, take the child to a doctor or a hospital.

Seek Federal Funds For Libraries

The Navy Yard Boys' Club, Brooklyn, today urged the city to seek federal funds to keep borough libraries open on week-ends, asserting that "the search for knowledge must not be sacrificed on the altar of economy."

George Calvo, Club president, noted that the Brooklyn Public Library is keeping its 54 branches closed on Saturdays because of a shortage in clerical staff. Only the main library at Grand Army Plaza is open under the library's new policy.

The regrettable shuttering of these branches on Saturday resulted from the "job freeze" on the Brooklyn public library system. On a city-wide basis about 100 clerks are needed. In Brooklyn, about 35 are required.

"During the summer months, the accessibility of a nearby library is essential, particularly to college and high school students who are attending classes," he said.

Calvo said that under the federal Elementary and Secondary Education Act, schools that do not have libraries have been granted funds for new books and other teaching aids.

Similarly, the government should take steps to advance the monies necessary to pay for sufficient clerical personnel to keep public library facilities open on a six-day-a-week basis, he added.

THE GREAT Sounds Record Company of New York graciously supplied top entertainment such as THE BEES, THE MAJESTICS with singers E. C. Chandler and Dominick; THE DANNY SMALL TRIO with vocalist Gwen Franklin. And, well-known school bands such as the ADELPHIS and THE IATIN ABSTRACT OCTETS entertained.

The faculty, individuals and merchants of the community also contributed greatly of time and effort; it was truly a community function. There was entertainment, prizes and food galore.

An indication of the esprit-de-corps that prevailed... the faculty members and men and women of the community who worked hard to prepare, to serve, and to clean-up, also insisted on buying tickets to enter.

As Mr. Platt remarked, "What comraderie, what cooperation, what courtesy! I am very proud of our student body, our faculty, our community. I would have liked for everyone to see has been done."

HOSPITAL

The Medical Center which is expected to cost 16 to 18 million dollars is being designed to implement the latest developments in scientific and medical knowledge as well as to meet the complex needs of an urban community for total health care.

It shall provide a home-care program with advent of Medicare and fulfill the shortage of mental health facilities as well as deficiencies for ambulatory and emergency patients.

"THE JOHN F. KENNEDY Memorial Center will forever eliminate the stigma of the ghetto oriented city-type welfare institution and will provide the highest quality care for both indigent and private patients," said Dr. Nadrowski.

The doctor continued to elaborate: "It will be an institution projected to maintain the private patient doctor relationship with full-time directors of specialty services for the perpetuation of the highest standards of education of doctors in training. Also part-time attending physicians will be embraced as the need arises to assure the highest quality care for the indigent. A close relationship with the medical school is planned with the eventual establishment of a Graduate Medical School for the furtherance of higher level of education of the physician in practice.

"The area War on Poverty will be accomplished through the training of hundreds of doctors, nurses and lab technicians who are in extreme shortage throughout the city." He continued:

"An economic uplift through 800 persons employed plus concomitant growth through development of new middle income homes in the area will prevent an Appalachia out of Greenpoint-Williamsburg."

AS OF THIS DATE, complete approval and aid for the center have been received from Mayor Lindsay's office and the Kings County Medical Society.

Assurance of approval and encouragement from the Hospital Review and Planning Council of Southern, N.Y. through Dr. Jack C. Haldeman, president and Mr. Joseph Peters, assistant executive director, was recently obtained.

At the present, a charter from the State Department of Social Welfare and approval for a fund drive is being fulfilled. Immediately after obtaining the charter, various foundations such as, the Ford, Rockefeller, Sloane, etc. will be approached for funds.

Recent developments include: a meeting scheduled with Mrs. J. F. Kennedy's office to describe the progress of the Committee and Senator Robert Kennedy will be approached in Washington to request his help and influence in expediting governmental funds through the Hill-Burton Act which will provide 33 1/2 per cent of cost of the center.

Congressman Rooney is still convalescing in Washington from a recent illness, however, a reply requesting his help is expected by the Committee soon.

Also, Senator Edward Lento is busy at work investigating ways of seeking funds from the city for the 100 indigent beds for the center.

"INDUSTRY is being approached to provide 50 beds for Compensation Injury and accident cases for which an ambulance service with around the clock protection is planned. The Committee has started negotiations with a realty representative of the Brooklyn Diocese in an effort to purchase the old St. Catherine's site," said Dr. Nadrowski.

Prominent businessmen are also being approached to add their experience and prestige to the Committee."

Members of the JFK Committee, in addition to Dr. Nadrowski are: Dr. Bernard Sicuranza, secretary; Dr. Sylvester Cort, treasurer; State Senator Edward S. Lento; and John W. Raber, executive vice-president of the Green Point Savings Bank.

Also Edward Anderberg, assistant vice-president of Green Point Savings Bank; The Rev. John Huneke, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church and Victor Tirabasso, counsel to Mayor Lindsay.

CITY

(Continued from Page One) will open the door to a revitalization of business in Brooklyn and in the city in general," said the mayor.

WHILE NO definite plans have been made, the industrial park might contain light industry, a steel fabricating complex, an apparel industry center and some residences.

At the present, the site is under the jurisdiction of the disposal utilization bureau of the General Services Administration.

The first step in the city take over will be for the government to send in appraisers and establish a price, so the city can start bargaining.

It is expected that the city will take title to the property some time later this year.

AT THE SAME time, Mayor Lindsay lauded the actions of Kings County Democratic leader Assemblyman Stanley Steingut, Borough President Abe Stark and Rep. Hugh L. Carey, all Democrats, for their "initiative and industry in this attempt to revitalize a sadly depressed area of our city." The three are sponsors of CLICK.

The Mayor said members of his staff advised him that early in the last century both the city and state deeded property at the site to the federal government. The deeding was made with the condition that property would automatically revert to New York City and state, when the yard ceased to be a shipbuilding and repair facility.

Reportedly, the state has indicated it would pass title to its property to the city so the industrial complex could be developed as a single unit.

AVOIDING POISON IVY PROBLEMS

The Health Department points out that it may be possible to avoid the burning, itchy blisters of poison ivy by washing the skin with strong household soap or detergent as fast as you can after contact with this low growing plant.

After walking through weeds or a ditch with plants you are unable to identify, wash your skin without delay. Dab calamine lotion on itching spots or blisters. See a doctor if a severe rash breaks out.

All Local Hospitals Ready for Medicare

The four hospitals in the communities serviced by the Bushwick Social Security Office, Greenpoint, Williamsburg, Ridgewood, Glendale and Bushwick, have completed arrangements for full participation in the Medicare program.

The participating hospitals named today by John A. Balkoski, district manager, are Greenpoint Hospital, Bethany Deaconess Hospital, Williamsburgh General and Wyckoff Heights Hospital.

According to Balkoski more than 6,000 hospitals in the nation have already been approved for participation with more applications being approved every day. Only a few hospitals in the country failed to apply. The law required a formal application from hospitals desiring to participate in Medicare. There is no such requirement, however, for the coverage of doctors services under the Medical Insurance program.

EXCEPT in strict emergency situations, services received in a non-participating hospital are not covered. Mr. Balkoski defined emergency services as those which are necessary "to prevent the death or serious impairment of the health of the individual and which require the use of the most accessible hospital available which is equipped to furnish such services."

Balkoski pointed out that while physicians and hospitals have the major role in providing services, other members of the health community will also be providing covered services. These include home health agencies, independent laboratories, and, starting January 1, 1967, skilled nursing homes that qualify as Extended Care Facilities.

Three of the four local participating hospitals nominated Blue Cross to serve as a fiscal intermediary for the handling of Medicare benefit payments under hospital insurance, and one hospital chose Travelers Insurance Company. The United Medical Service (Blue Shield) was appointed by the Social Security Administration to handle claims for services received in all the city except Queens under the Medical Insurance part of Medicare, such as physicians services. In Queens, the Medical Insurance services will be handled by Group Health Insurance, Inc.

Balkoski invited local residents to write, phone, or visit the Social Security District Office for answers to their questions about the Health Insurance Program.

Urge Legislation On Refrigerators

Abandoned, no-latch iceboxes still pose a potential death-trap for children, according to Albert M. Leavitt, president of the Youth Service League, Brooklyn.

Leavitt called for federal legislation that would require some form of ventilation on all refrigerators. He noted that safety experts had believed that the problem of youngsters trapped in abandoned iceboxes had been solved with the advent of the no-latch door. These permit the child to push on the door, which swings open. However, there have been reports that some children do not push themselves to freedom, due to fear or panic when locked in.

"It would be a relatively simple matter to design ventilation for all refrigerators, and mandate their use, as was done with the no-latch iceboxes a few years ago," he added.
