

West End Boy Scout Troop Plans Membership Drive; All Boys Invited To Join

Troop 112 Prepares To Follow Ten-Year Plan of President Hoover.

Troop 112, Scout troop of the West End, in conjunction with Queens Council and National Headquarters is working on plans for a huge recruiting campaign which started immediately after its first official meeting Friday evening.

It is the intention of troop officials to reach every boy between the ages of 12 and 14 years, living in Rockaway Park, Belle Harbor and Neponsit. This plan is to be carried out with the co-operation of the Board of Education through the Public Schools, and also by working with the various civic and religious organizations of the Rockaways.

Troop 112, Queens, is sponsored by the Men's Club of Temple Beth-El. Francis N. Ehrenberg who now heads the troop as scoutmaster, will announce the appointment of three assistant scoutmasters who will help in taking care of the troop's increased membership. In addition to these officials there will be a senior patrol leader in direct charge of all patrols. Each patrol is composed of eight Scouts and has a patrol leader in charge.

The troop will meet every Friday at 8 p. m. in the gymnasium of Public School 114, Beach 134th street between Newport and Cronston avenues.

It is to be remembered that four years ago the troop with a membership of ninety-six Scouts led New York State and Queens Council for advancement and achievement records. Troop officials are confident that this coming year will set a new high mark in the standards of achievement. They ask that all boys wishing to become Scouts come early so as to get the most out of the Scouting year.

Greater Show Season has provided patrons of the Park Theatre with a number of excellent moving picture productions.

The comfort station at Beach 116th street and the boardwalk will be maintained all winter as last year, it was stated this week.

TEMPLE OPENS TWO SCHOOLS

Religious and Hebrew Sessions Are Now Under Way.

Temple Beth El reopened school on Sunday morning, September 18. The Religious School has opened its sessions in both its Sunday School and Hebrew School. The Sunday school offers a 6 year course leading to graduation, including the study of Jewish History, customs and ceremonies, current events, Jewish music, in addition a high school department is conducted under its auspices and special classes for confirmation and Bar Mitzvah for girls and boys. The Sunday school is thoroughly modern in its approach, is managed by a staff of young American university trained teachers and enjoy the universal repute in the community.

The Hebrew school which meets on Sunday morning and two week day afternoons offer 5 year courses in its Elementary department and a three years High School course for boys and girls. The curriculum includes the study of Hebrew, the Bible, Jewish history, customs and ceremonies and Jewish music. The High School department includes the study of Heb. conversation, the prophets, Mishna, Modern Hebrew literature and modern Jewish problems.

The office is open for information and registration every weekday afternoon and on Sunday morning from 9.30 to 12.30. Boys and girls between the ages of 5 to 15 are eligible for admission.

Since an organization from the east end of the peninsula offered opposition to the plan to establish many more one way streets in the West End, a survey was made along the people of the section and it was found that sentiment for the change is overwhelming among property owners. This announcement was made last week by those who have been advocating one way streets.

The entire community was gone over some time ago by chairman James R. Hussey in company with police officials who also thought that if established, the new rules would be a great benefit to the West End. It is stated that the change will in all likelihood be made next spring.

When the Rockaway Welfare League convenes early in October for the fall and winter sessions it is expected that there will be many demands for assistance, more than have been received at any time since its organization some years ago.

Mrs. Rose Holman, president of the League, states that with conditions financially as they are now and have been for the past year or more, the association will have its hands full in caring for all who are in need of help.

The Welfare League is one of the outstanding relief organizations in the Rockaways and as such has demands from many quarters. During the past year with so many people out of work, these demands have been unusually heavy and this same condition is expected to be encountered this year.

The activities have been carried on throughout the summer and some interesting reports will be made at the next meeting.

Theodore Isenberg of 214 Beach 122nd street is starting a three-year course at Harvard Law School. He is a graduate of Dartmouth.

Mr. and Mrs. James Sullivan of 228 Beach 146th street welcomed a daughter to their home Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Thomas of Cronston avenue have returned home after a short visit with their parents in Hammond, Ind.

Once again the Boys' Band of St. Malachy's Home has made a hit, this time before a crowd of several hundred who attended the testimonial luncheon at Grogan's Restaurant tendered to Municipal Court Justice William J. Morris, Jr. The band of thirty pieces played throughout the luncheon and the program was a varied one consisting of popular, semi-classic and old time tunes that were greatly enjoyed.

During the past year the band has made wonderful strides and is now rated as one of the best boys' bands in the city. The band has played at many public affairs and in addition is frequently heard over the radio. All the young men show considerable talent and also the results of excellent training by the leader and instructor.

James Maley of Beach 119th street is able to be out after a short illness.

The Rockaway Welfare League will resume its meetings the first week in October.

Notices have been sent out by the Rockaway Civic Club to its members calling a meeting for Tuesday evening, September 27, at the Commodore Hotel, which being the first one of the fall season will be one of the most important of the entire year. The program for the coming months will be arranged and reports from many committees heard.

Fred Stein, president of the organization, states that these committees have been working through the summer though there have been no meetings and the chairman will have a number of interesting reports to be made. One activity that has been given considerable commendation was the successful agitation to have weeds cut from lots and sidewalks of the West End and the officers have been highly complimented for this endeavor.

Last spring the matter of changing the meeting date of the club was taken up after a motion was made to meet on the last Monday evening of the month instead of the last Tuesday. This was given two readings and final action will be taken at the next meeting. The reason of the change, it was explained, is because a number of other organizations meet Tuesday evenings and there was a great deal of interference as many members belong to several groups.

Throughout the winter it is planned by the officers to have a number of speakers address the membership on matters of interest to the Rockaways and a committee is arranging for these speakers at the present time.

Parents who are interested, communicate with Dr. Robert Gordis, 121-16 Boulevard, Belle Harbor 5-1203, registrations Sunday mornings from 9.30 to 12.30.

Col. Lukeash said the work was about half completed at present and that the remaining portion of the improvement called for the placing of vast quantities of stone at the extreme end where the water is deepest. The jetty will be 8,100 feet in length, and there will be a 500-foot apron at the end.

When completed the jetty will represent an expenditure of about $1,400,000 Col. Lukeash said. The work being performed on the general construction by the Merritt, Chapman and Scott Company, represents an expenditure of $980,000.

Few saints in our times have grown more popular than the "Little Flower". Born on January 2, 1873, at Alencon, France, she entered the convent at the age of fifteen and died nine years later on September 30, 1897 at Lisieux. Before her death she stated she would become the wonder worker of our time, spending her heaven "doing good upon earth." Her promise has been more than fulfilled. Since her canonization, only twenty-eight years after her death, countless miracles are said to have been wrought through her intercession.

The novena, which will begin in St. Francis de Sales September 25 will close October 3. Rev. William Dailey, O.M.I., who conducted a mission in that church last spring, will preach each night of the novena.

A regular meeting of the West End Democratic Club was held Tuesday evening with a large number of the members present.

Sunday evening a reception was held at Temple Rodolph Sholom when the speakers were Dr. Stephen S. Wise, Louis Newman and others. The reception was given by the Manhattan Chapter.

The session Monday was devoted to health work being done by Hadassah and in the evening a banquet was held which was addressed by Judge Julian Mack and Morris Rothenberg.

Yacht Club Has Masquerade Party Closing Successful And Interesting Summer Social Season

One of the most successful and best attended affairs of the numerous ones held this past season by the Belle Harbor Yacht Club, was the masquerade party which closed the usual yachting season for the year.

The theme this year was Colonial in honor of the Washington Bicentennial and the large model room and adjoining rooms were decorated befittingly with large white columns were surrounded by Colonial type electrical illuminated lanterns and the beautiful wheel chandeliers were entirely reconverted into Colonial castelabras.

The effort was to visibly increase the appearance of the size of the rooms and give the effect of a beautiful true type Colonial interior and the adjoining room had a jail, an exact replica of the modern jail with a single cell in which those members and guests who attempted to dance before 10 o'clock were promptly locked up by the Hoose Gow guards and to the strain of Chopin's funeral march were marched around the hall and locked up and for an additional contribution were released.

Over one hundred masks were in attendance, beautiful prizes consisting of antique hand bags for the ladies and walrus leather Gladstone bags for the gentlemen.

There was one prize for a lady and one prize for a gentleman for the most beautiful costumes. The lady's prize was won by the commodore's daughter, Mrs. Edward T. Bischoff and the man's prize by Ray Johnson, the new tennis champion of the club.

The next set of prizes were for the most original costume, the lady's prize going to Mrs. Thos. J. Ham-nill and the men's prize to Jack O'Brien.

The other prizes were for the funniest costumes a brother and sister depicting Mickey and Minnie Mouse easily won the prizes. The men's prize going to Jack Todd, a popular young member of the club and the lady's prize to Miss Helen Todd, his sister.

An excellent recording dance orchestra that had just completed a foreign engagement rendered the music of the evening and it was along in the small hours of the morning before "Home Sweet Home" was played.

It was an ideal evening for the members and their guests, the rooms were all crowded with merry-makers. The large attendance of members this year was the cause of a great deal of satisfaction to the Entertainment Committee of the club who made the evening a highly successful one, long to be remembered in the annals of club affairs.

William A. Farrell of Farrell's Service Station Married Last Spring.

Coming as a surprise to his many friends on the Beach was the announcement made Sunday evening of the marriage of William A. Farrell, senior member of the firm of Farrell Bros. Service Station, and Miss Anna Walsh of Brooklyn, who were married last April 14. The announcement was made at a party given in Brooklyn.

The ceremony was performed in the presence of a few close relatives, the bride's sister Mary being maid of honor and James Farrell, brother of the groom, best man. All in the wedding party kept the secret until it was announced this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Farrell are now on a trip to Canada and upon their return will reside on the Beach.

Abandoned Pets Present Bad Problem; Appeal To Owners

The West End, in common with other parts of the peninsula, is experiencing an annoying condition due to the many stray dogs and cats that infest the section, most of them left, it is claimed, by summer residents who have returned to their city homes.

The S. P. C. A. has appealed to those who have abandoned dogs to come and claim them but already a large number have been rounded up and taken to the shelter in Jamaica. Those that have not been taken away in many cases being cared for by people in the neighborhood and this, it is claimed, imposes a burden on the residents.

This problem is not a new one but is generally encountered each fall after the summer people re-

SOLARIUM TO BE ERECTED

Work on New Feature at Riis Park Starts This Fall.

A solarium which Max Fuchs, Riis Park concessionaire, insists will be "the largest of its kind in the world", is to be constructed at the new $500,000 pavilion at Jacob Riis Park, it was announced yesterday by Simon Lintz, who operates the concession for Mr. Fuchs. The construction will take place this fall and early next spring, so that the new solarium will be ready for use when the pavilion opens next June, Mr. Lintz said.

According to Mr. Lintz, construction of the solarium will cost about $30,000. It is to be about 200 feet long and 80 feet wide. Its construction is to be part of a $200,000 program of new building and re-decoration at the pavilion, which is needed to complete the pavilion. The pavilion was opened to the public July 1 although it was not finished at that time.

The solarium, a large tile balcony overlooking the sea on the new brick pavilion, is to be enclosed with heavy thick glass, to give users of the retreat the benefit of the sun's ultra-violet rays, Mr. Lintz says. He added that the solarium would accommodate about 2,000 persons in lounge chairs. It will be open to the public all year.

FOUND DEAD IN BUNGALOW

Gas Poisoning Responsible For Death Of Resident Of Manhattan.

The police emergency squad, police officers and an ambulance, from the Rockaway Beach hospital were called to Rockaway Point Tuesday morning when a man was found dead in a bungalow at 33 Ocean Walk, Breezy Point.

The body was found by William H. 196 Beach 113th street who summoned assistance but the man was pronounced dead of gas poisoning by Dr. Blum of the Rockaway Beach hospital. Several hours work failed to revive him. The death is listed as accidental by police who found nothing suspicious in the circumstances surrounding the death.

The victim was identified as Lawrence Lambert, 38, of 26 E. 10th street, New York. He leaves a wife.

The next meeting of the Post will be on Friday, October 7. At this meeting you are to nominate candidates for the various offices of the Post. Two weeks later, on the 21st, you will elect them to serve you for the ensuing year. I repeat, give your utmost attention to your selections. We are going forward now and must continue to do so.
