Privacy policy

I. General Information

With the following information you will get a simple overview of what happens with your data when you visit websites with the advertising technology we use. Here you will find all the information about the data collected by Euvic360e-com sp. z o.o. with its registered office in Warsaw, at ul. Czerska 12, 00-732 Warsaw – the owner of the Clickonometrics platform – in the course of providing advertising services, in particular what kind of data it is, how it is collected and how it can be deleted from our advertising systems.

Euvic360e-com sp. z o.o. provides online advertising services to advertisers by offering a tool to display advertisements for their services or products on the websites and mobile applications of the publishers you visit. The Clickonometrics platform allows you to administer your online advertising campaigns and portal ads. The ads are personalised, meaning they use information about your previous online activities. This allows us to display personalised content based on your activity on the website and to better understand the needs of our visitors.
