Subject: Re: Re Oreskes: File Grievance with Harvard & Stanford & UC
Dear Christopher

After the Nov 4 elections, we will have a brainstorming session of local (DC) experts to examine the various options open to us

I am grateful for yr offer and will get back to you
Meanwhile, for yr enjoyment, the attached 1991 essay led to my libel suit against Algore's groupie

Best Fred

I will need much help
A few yrs ago, distinguished British surgeon SCHULTE filed a complaint with UCSD about N, Oreskes 'consensus' work.
Â He faced a mostly feminist mafia; NO was promoted to be Provost of a new college in UCSD.
I favor a multi-front approach
but will wait to make plans until after the Nov elections

Prepare one detailed grievance that you can submit simultaneously to Harvard Stanford and UC.start with Oreskes and Stanton Glantz of UCSF, both Stanford graduates.Â Oreskes got all of her tobacco smears against you and the other physicists from glantz's tobacco documents library.Â Read about glantz by googling "tilting at tobacco" and "Combating Lysenko pseudoscience".Â You can get the UC salaries of Oreskes and glantz by googling "sacbee state pay".Â This is a lot of reading but you can make a very strong case. There are at least two other Stanford PhD's that you can add to your case, once you finish with Oreskes and Glantz.Â John Hennessey is a very smart and principled president and I think he will take your submission seriously.

Good thought

I will look for help on how to do this

PSÂ What about UCSD?Â

She collected high salaries (from Cal taxpayers) while traveling to promote her book

Has she finallyÂ gone too far?Â She has no evidence of any sort -- and never did.

Maybe this is the right time for legal action.Â What say you?

Gents

Do you think I have a legal case against Oreskes? Can I sue for damages? Can we get an injunction against the documentary? Can she document any 'lies'? Has she got any 'for hire' evidence? She has become very rich on royalties, honoraria, and high academic salaries I need yr advice

New Warmist film: 'But the star of this show is the astonishingly charming rogue Marc Morano, a frequent cable-television guest who admits, 'I'm not a scientist, but I do play one on TV TV.' Morano, the founder of ClimateDepot.com, not only spouts his nefarious nonsense about science everywhere he goes but is also in the business of ensuring the mau-mauing of genuine scientific researchers who have felt a responsibility to go public with the dangers we face. 'We went after James Hansen and Michael Oppenheimer and had a lot of fun with it...we mocked and ridiculed,' Morano brags. He has also published their private e-mails, both as a means of harassment and as a warning to other scientists who might be considering doing the same thing.'

The pioneers in the field are not only the liars for hire employed by the tobacco industry for so many decades, but also Cold War scientists like Robert Jastrow, Fred Seitz and William Nierenberg, who initially founded the George C. Marshall Institute to promote Ronald Reagan's Star Wars boondoggle and then switched gears to lie about climate change—a task in which they've been joined by scientist/snake-oil salesman Fred Singer, who also cares more about opposing all forms of corporate regulation than he does about truth.
