5949 Athletes Take Part in 13th World Veterans Championships

Guido Mueller, of Germany, clears the final hurdle on his way to a thrilling M60 world record of 42.31 in the 300 hurdles.

England Welcomes Competitors from 74 Nations to Gateshead

GATESHEAD, England - The weather was near-perfect. The officials were outstanding. And the level of competition was again sensational.

Nearly 6000 veteran athletes from 74 nations took part in the 13th biennial WAVA World Veterans Athletics Championships, July 29 to August 8.

The weather in the northeast of England was better than anyone could have hoped for. It was sunny and balmy - in the mid-70s - with only a mild drizzle on one of the 11 days of the action.

"I've never seen anything like it in 40 years," said Bob Lothian, a local resident used to overcast skies and mid-60s weather in July and August.

The number of 5949 participants was the second-largest ever for a WAVA World Championships, surpassed only by the 12,175 competitors in Miyazaki, Japan, in 1993. The total of 74 nations was third only to the record 79 countries represented in Buffalo, USA, in 1995, and the 76 nations two years ago in Durban, South Africa.

"I thought the meet was really well organized," said Leo Benning of Cape Town, South Africa, echoing the sentiments of virtually all participants.

Northwest Regionals Contested in Seattle

by JERRY WOJCIK
This year's Seattle Masters Classic at West Seattle Stadium, July 17-18, did duty as the 1999 USATF Northwest Regional Masters Championships, and also served as a warmup for those athletes headed to the 13th WAVA Championships in England two weeks

In a battle of world record holders, Stephen Robbins - on the mend from ailments that curtailed his participation for the last two seasons - won the M55 100 over Harold Morioka, of Canada, 12.14 to 12.33.

Dave Walter won the M50 200 (24.47) and 400 (54.90). Morioka went on to win the 400, his specialty, in 54.24.

Linda Lanker, W40, did a hat trick plus one with wins in the 100 (14.18), 200 (29.58), 100H (19.04), and 400H (75.16). Diane Palmason doubled in the W60 200 (33.59) and 800 (2:54.61). Debbie Eerkes, W40, posted the fastest 1500 among the women with a 4:57.67.

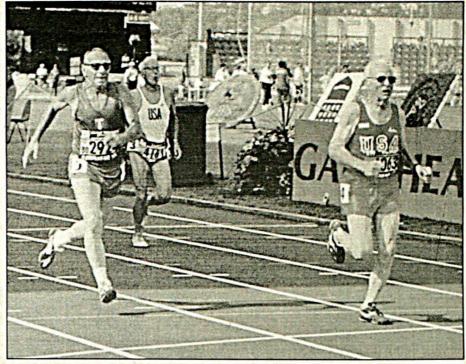

Pete Tel, M35, with a 15:49.85, and Michael Allison, M45, with a 16:08.13, were the standouts in the 5000, as was Mark Billett, M45, in the 10,000 with a 33:55.74.

Daniel Cole, M50, topped all other high jumpers with a 5-6. Jerry Cash, M50, was the highest pole vaulter (13-91/4). Vincent Martin, M30, reached 22-31/2 in the long jump.

Hammer throw honors went to Todd Taylor, M50, for his 173-3 with the 6kg, and Georgia Cutler, W55, for her 102-3 with the 3kg.

Matt Burks, M30, put the 16-lb. shot 51-11/2, heaved the 35-lb. weight 48-61/4 and the 56-lb. superweight 3-91/2, all meet bests. Neil Saling, M60, led all of the discus throwers, with a 145-8 with the 1kg. Carla Surina, W40, was foremost with the 4kg shot (10.07) and 1kg discus (26.80).

Next year, the Northwest Regional Masters Championships will be held in Bozeman, Mont., on July 29-30, its first venture away from the I-5 corridor.

Rod Parker, USA, winning the M80 200 with a 93.8% 31.53, WAVA Championships, Gateshead, England. Ugo Sansonetti, Italy, was second (31.63/93.5%), and Bill Weinacht, USA, third (32.82/92.8%).

John Tuttle and Diane Legare Steam in Boilermaker 15K

by JERRY WOJCIK

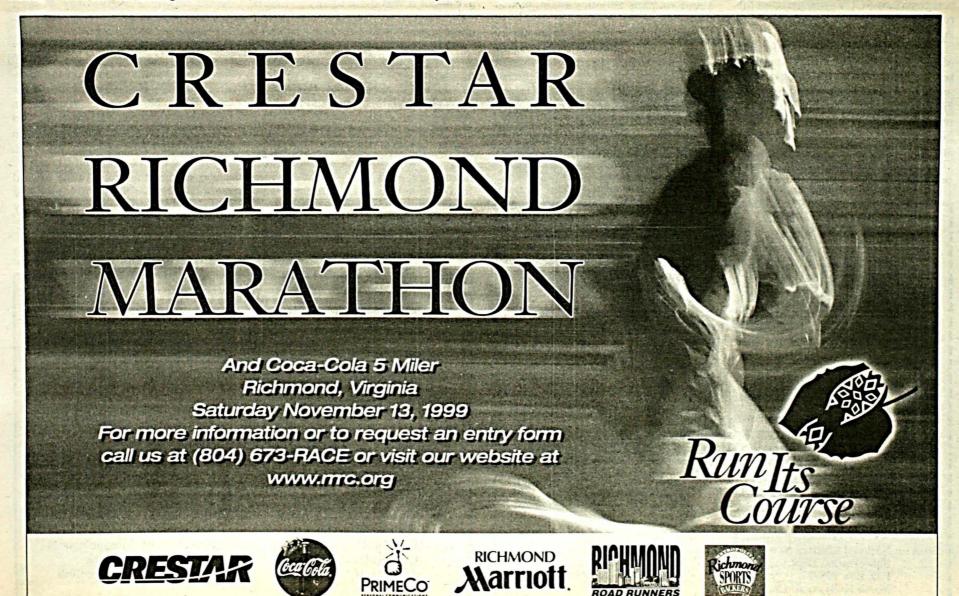

John Tuttle, 40, Douglasville, Ga., and Diane Legare, 48, Montreal, Canada, were $1000 richer after masters wins in the Boilermaker 15K, Utica, N.Y., July 11. Tuttle finished 21st overall in 46:17, with second master Martin Mondragon, 45, Mexico, 24th overall in 47:13. Legare defeated Patti Ford, 43, La Fayette, N.Y., by ten seconds with 55:48.

Pete Koech, 43, Kenya, was third M40+ in 48:34. Jennifer Mac-Donell, 42, Ottawa, Canada was third W40+ in 60:17. Second-place masters won $500 each; third-places

Dick Buerkle, 50, Atlanta, Ga., in 49:49, and Judith Hine, 50, New Zealand, in 62:33, were winners of the age 50-59 cash prizes of $400.

Canadian Ed Whitlock, 68, Milton, Ontario, with a 55:38, and Margret Betz, 62, Conklin, N.Y., won $300 each for their firsts in the age 60+ cat-

Whitlock also won masters agegraded honors with an outstanding, international-class 97.9%. Mondragon's effort was a 93.7%, Tuttle's 92.1%. Legare topped the W40+ with a 91.4%. □

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE LONDON TIMES

Following is a recent letter sent to Eleanor Mills, a reporter for the London Times:

Dear Ms. Mills,

Your article on Kathy Jager was good enough, in the eyes of your editor, to command a chunk of space. Congratulations – you certainly worked at it.

However, do please read my comments, unless you are one of those who are uninterested in advice.

Your third paragraph read as follows, lest you have forgotten it:

"This controversy has drawn attention to the BIZARRE BUT USUAL-LY HIDDEN world of veterans athletics, but it has also highlighted the huge and ever-growing number of physically active OLDIES. When I went to the Gateshead International Stadium to meet Jager, the scene that greeted me was like a weird snapshot of the long-living future. Lycra-clad grannies stalked the arena, baring WRINKLED FLESH in skintight cycling shorts, while Scandinavian octagenarians SCUTTLED around the running track like DEMENTED ANTS.

Are you in the habit of making fun of anything you don't understand? If so, and your editors let you get away with it, I can understand why the Times has lost its place as England's premier newspaper. Journalism school gone mad? Unfit yourself, therefore snide? Please tell me.

A better paragraph would have been as follows:

"This controversy has at least drawn attention to the world of veterans athletics, the original source of much of our newfound attention to health and fitness. When I went to Gateshead International Stadium to interview Kathy Jager, I found a topclass athletic meet, far larger than the Olympic Games, organized by folks whose only interest, unpaid, is providing international competition beyond the open level. It was a real eye-opener to see 40-year-old women and men looking as fit as teenagers and turning in top class performances. It was even more startling to see what a high level can be sustained into those years conventionally associated with rocking chairs. These people have learned things we should all know more about!

"But back to Kathy Jager . . ."
(and the rest was fine)

So you see, Eleanor, I come back to my original question – why did you gratuitously denigrate such an important event?

If ever you feel tempted to write about veterans athletics again, please do contact me.

Brian Oxley
President, North and Central America and Caribbean
Association of Veteran Athletes
(Well said, but in fairness to the Times, reporter David Powell wrote a nice article on the event two days before the Jager story broke. Four days after the games ended, Deputy Editor John Bryant also wrote a positive piece. – Ed.)

RECORDS

Just for the record (no pun intended), I wanted to add my name to what appears to be a growing list of masters competitors who have responded to Graeme Shirley's article (March NMN) regarding record documentation.

Upon reading Mr. Shirley's article, I thought it was quite timely in that it was published approximately the same time I found out my 9.03 60mH world record, set at the USATF Midwest Regional Indoor Championships, Indianapolis, March 7, 1998, would not make it into the record book. I had trained long and hard for this moment.

I thought I had all my ducks in a row – officials informed, forms in place. I was assured all would be taken care of. I don't know why it took five letters, numerous faxes and telephone calls over a one-year period to be informed my record did not stand because the computer tape malfunctioned, but two questions remain.

Why would it take 11 months to find out about a world record, and why isn't there a back-up plan in the event of a mechanical failure?

Competitors should not have to leave a meet with the belief they have a record and be informed one year later it's been tossed out. Apparently I wasn't alone that day – Mel Larsen's world time fell by the way as well. Fortunately for Mel, he regained his world record soon after.

I began my love affair with masters track and field nearly 17 years ago. It has been tough standing on the sidelines for this past year while on the injured list. No computer malfunction or missing form can take away the fact that I achieved a new world record in Indianapolis. The officials know it. My fellow competitors and I know it.

Do we need a new attitude toward records? You bet we do. But as Steve Ottaway so aptly put it in his July 1999 letter, "whining about its inadequacies is not good enough."

Mid-America Champions Decided in Wichita

by JERRY WOJCIK

Wichita State University played host to the USATF Mid-America Regional Masters Championships held on June 12. The sprint fields were large, but the thrower turnout was even larger.

On the track, James St. Cyr, M50, was the standout with first-rate times in victories in the 100 (11.22) and 200 (23.85). Jay O'Neill, M40, won the 800 (2:13.84) and 1500 (4:24.68). Kristi Leonard won the W35 800 race with a 2:50.25.

Ken Ellis, M40, topped all vaulters with a 14-6. Ken Winters won the M55 triple jump with a 32-2.

Shot putters, with 25 competitors, made up the largest contingent in the meet. Rick Anderson, M35, hit 43-11 with the 16-lb. shot. William Trimmell, M80, finished with a 28-111/2 with the 4kg.

In the discus, Wendell Donaldson, M30, uncorked the farthest throw (134-6) of the meet, with the 2kg. Ron Anderson, M60, was second farthest (134-1), with the 1kg.

Bill Butterworth served as meet director.

I've been on the "other side of the track" when helping to officiate at meets. I know what a thankless task this can be. I can't offer a solution but, for the present, to all newcomers in masters track & field and potential record breakers, a word of advice – know the rules and don't assume.

Don't assume the big meets will have all the necessary equipment, forms and records posted (and if you're a pole vaulter, make sure you bring your own steel tape).

KUDOS

I would like to take the opportunity to thank you for the magazines (NMN) that you donated to the library.

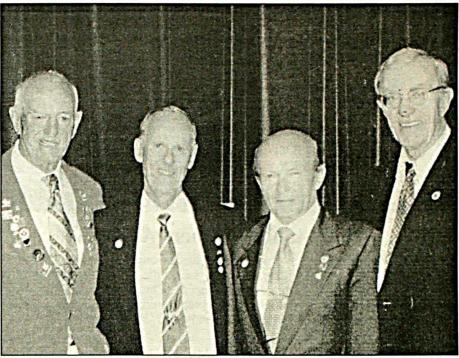

All of the individuals here really appreciate receiving magazines, as reading is an extremely popular activity here at the penitentiary.

Again, thank you very much for your donation. We greatly appreciate it!

Are Distance Runners Athletes?

s some readers surely know, ESPN has an ongoing year-long feature in which they are presenting what they see as the 50 greatest athletes of the 20th Century. They began with number 50, Chris Evert, and at this writing are down to number 27, Jerry Rice. They'll keep featuring one athlete a week until they finally arrive at the "Athlete of the Century" the last week of the year.

From 50 to 27, there are just two track and field athletes, Edwin Moses (#47) and Wilma Rudolph (#41). The only "runner" who competed at a mile or longer is Secretariat (#35).

Three "buddy" correspondents on the Internet and I began speculating on the remaining 26 selections, especially the final few. We also wondered whether any distance runners (the human kind) would make the list.

Top Five Picks

I speculated that the final five will be Michael Jordan, Babe Ruth, Pele, Muhammad Ali, and Jackie Robinson. Depending on the weight given to Robinson's contribution to egalitarianism, he could be the surprise winner. Of course, Robinson's allaround efforts as an All-Star baseball player, All-American football player, All-Coast Conference basketball player, and national junior college long jump recordholder (25-61/2), not to mention some talent at golf and tennis while at UCLA, should rank him pretty high on athletic ability alone.

Rounding out the top 10, I predicted Jim Thorpe, Jesse Owens, Babe Zaharias, Wayne Gretzky, and Rocky Marciano, with Ted Williams, Willy Mays, Jim Brown, Joe Louis, Ty Cobb, Henry Aaron, Jack Dempsey, Jack Nicklaus, Sam Snead, Gordie Howe, Joe DiMaggio, Magic Johnson, Al Oerter, Jackie Joyner-Kersee and Joe Montana rounding out the top 25.

"Didn't you forget Carl Lewis, Michael Johnson, and FloJo?" one buddy chimed in his two cents. I admitted that I forgot all about them and that it's likely Lewis will make the top 25. However, I had a hard time trying to figure out which of the others already mentioned Johnson and FloJo would bump.

Any Runners?

I could foresee no middle- or long-distance runners making the list, although I would have voted for at least three: Herb Elliott, Haile Gebrselassie, and Abebe Bikila. I'd put Gebrselassie among the top 10.

"What about Steve Scott?" the second buddy quickly typed a reply. "The guy broke four minutes more than 100 times. That should count for something.

I suggested that if we put Scott on the list, we'd also have to add John Walker.

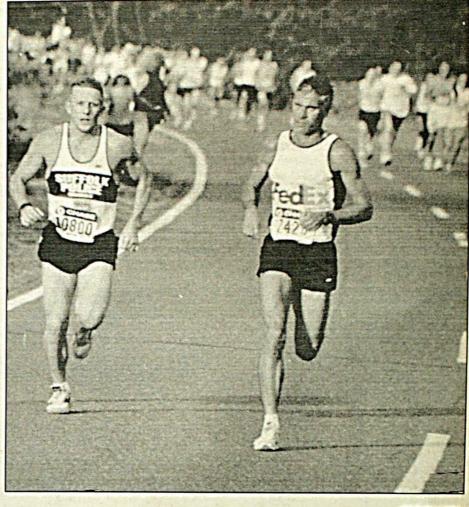

The first buddy felt that Roger Bannister should be among the top 50 for being the first to break the fourminute barrier.

Golfers?

"No way any golfers should be on the list," the second buddy offered. "They ain't athletes."

But I was quick to point out that a strong argument could be made that distance runners do not qualify as athletes. If you listen to John Madden and all the other football sportscasters, an athlete is someone who can sprint 40 yards in 4.2 seconds or faster, cut on a dime, and leap six feet in the air for a pass. In baseball, it's guys like Ken Griffey, Jr., who make shoestring catches, climb walls, and still hit 98 mph fastballs out of the park. Of course, Michael Jordan is considered pretty much the ultimate athlete, even though he'd probably have a hard time breaking six minutes in the mile.

Let's face it, most elite distance runners have no 40-yard speed or jumping ability. In fact, many great runners have been baseball, football, basketball, and sprinting rejects. Cross-country used to be the sport for guys who couldn't make any other team in school.

Don Di Donato, 41, outlasted Kevin Krause, 28, to win (17:46) the 14th Annual Chase Corporate Challenge 3.5, Jones Beach State Park, N.Y., July 28. A record 7928 runners and walkers from 252 companies took part in the largest participatory sporting event on Long Island in recent memory. It was Di Donato's sixth victory in the race, including five of the last six years. The event was administered by the Greater Long Island RC.

Since coordination, flexibility, and control factor into the definition of athleticism more than endurance, golfers do seem to qualify as athletes, more so than distance runners.

By Whose Definition?

"Who says Madden and his cohorts are the authority on the qualities that go into making up an athlete?" the second buddy shot back. True, Webster says anyone competing in sports, exercise or games requiring physical skill can qualify. But that would seem to include billiards players, horseshoe pitchers, and even yoyo artists. Where do you draw the line?

My Random House dictionary says an athlete is "a person with a sturdy build or well-proportioned body structure." That would eliminate many distance runners I know. It would also eliminate Babe Ruth. Isn't it strange that the man who could be the "Athlete of the Century" is almost the antithesis of the definition of an

The third of my Internet buddies suggested Bob Mathias should be among the top 25 for his two gold medals in the Olympic decathlon, not to mention his football playing skills at Stanford. But the first buddy pointed out that many other decathletes since then have made Mathias' records look puny. That brought up another controversy, comparing the stars of today with those of yesteryear. Can we say that Herb Elliott was a greater miler than Hickam El Guerrouj, who recently chopped more than a second off the world record with a 3:43.13? At his best, Elliott would have been 80 yards or so behind El Guerrouj.

Times Don't Count

"You can't compare them by times," the first buddy wrote. "You have to look strictly at their winning records." I agreed. Some sports, especially road racing and track and field, are clearly evolutionary sports, each generation adding a little more to the training knowledge, the quality of equipment, the dietary needs, what have you.

It's just the opposite in baseball, at least for hitters. Many of the oldtimers have lifetime batting averages of around .340, almost an impossibility these days. But that's due primarily to the evolution of pitching.

"How much faster do you see the mile record getting?" buddy number two strayed from the subject? I pointed out that El Guerrouj appeared to have a second or two left in him in that world record run. A few years ago, I would have said we'll never see a sub 3:40 mile, but I would have said the same thing about a sub 12:40 5000 and a sub 26:30 10,000.

Later...

"How about the top 10 athletes over 40?" the first buddy asked. I suggested we leave that one for another session.

"Where is My Meet Record?"

here are four good things that can happen at a track & field meet. I mentioned three of them in my July column: 1) Finish; 2) PR; 3) Win. The fourth good thing that can happen is setting a meet record.

Setting a meet record is a bonus over and above winning an event. Some of us have spouses who think we are crazy for running around in our underwear, and are tired of polishing another box full of medals. Nothing beats returning to announce to the household, "Honey, I set another meet record!"

The first three good things are within your control, but the fourth is not. Strangely enough, for many masters meets, including those at the national and world levels, there are no meet records.

No Meet Records Listed

For example at WAVA-Buffalo ('95) the meet program included the defending champions, but no meet WAVA records. The website (www.wava.org) contains a link to WAVA records. This page (WAVA Regional Records) displays the six WAVA regions (Africa, Asia, Europe, North America, Oceania, and South America). However, only the Europe link is active, and it only displays European Veteran Records noted in 1997 or 1998, not WAVA World regional meet records.

However, there is hope. Bill McIlwaine has compiled the WAVA North & Central American & Caribbean World Regional meet records and Rex Harvey says they will be posted on the www.wava.org site in the near future.

There does not appear to be a listing of meet records for the USATF National Masters Championships. Some of the USATF Regional Masters Championships keep meet records – the Northwest Regional meet records go back to 1983 and are included in the meet program each year. But none of these are posted on the Internet where you could compare WAVA World Regional or USATF Regional meet records.

Track & field meets rely on a large crew of volunteers (bless each and every one), so the job of updating meet records and including them in a meet program is just one more unpaid task. But there is no reason that some of the rest of us can't pitch in.

Since the 1998 World Masters Games in Eugene were the fourth of its kind, I offered to compile the track & field results into meet records. I was told that past World Masters Games left something to be desired in terms of officiating and standards. So I have compiled only the 1998 results as World Masters Games meet records.

Poor Accessibility

One barrier is that while meet results are published in National Masters News, they are not readily accessible in electronic format, which means that results have to be reentered by hand. I'm looking to see if the Northwest Regional meet records are in electronic format. It would save me from having to retype these into the old computer.

The National Masters News is devoted exclusively to track & field, long distance running, and racewalking for men and women over age 30. Each month it delivers 28 to 48 pages of results, schedules, entry forms, age records, rankings, photos, articles, training tips, and all the inside scoops and information that affect the world of masters athletics competition. Some masters events are sponsored by USATF, the national governing body for athletics in the USA. Some are sponsored by individuals, clubs or other senior organizations. Generally, anyone age 30 or over may come to a masters event and participate. Some events are limited to age 40 +, 50 + or 55 + (please check the schedule for details). Some events require advance registration. Some require a current USATF card ($12 to $15 per year, depending on the region). There are no qualifying standards for most masters athletics events.

Achilles Tendinitis – Probable Cause

I read your column on running and heel pain (July NMN). Would I be correct in assuming the same treatment works for Achilles tendinitis? I am a 75-year-old javelin thrower and shot putter and discovered my right Achilles tendon to be sore over seven weeks ago. Although I was playing tennis doubles at the time, the condition must have occurred previously, since there was no noticeable injury at any point.

Achilles tendinitis is the most common injury in men over 40 who compete in track and field. So, probably the injury was from running rather • than tennis. It sounds like it is a strain rather than a tear. A partial tear will show a small nodule over the tendon which you can feel. We usually get these because the blood flow to the area is limited after the age of 30.

There are more theories as to the treatment of Achilles tendinitis than Carter has pills.

First, I recommend icing, but only after exercise. This should be a brief icing of no more than 8-10 minutes. We don't want to compromise the circulation in this area. I recommend moist heat two or three times a day, such as hydrotherapy or whirlpool. Your last application of heat should be prior to bedtime.

I do not recommend taping at this level. I would add a heel lift to your athletic shoe.

I also recommend that you don't stretch it at this time. Usually athletes tend to overstretch and re-injure the tendon. If you are doing light exercise, walk a half-mile prior to exercise for

The best treatment at this point is physical therapy. This includes hydrotherapy and ultrasound. This will reduce the inflammation and any fibrosis that may have occurred around the

In the meantime, oral anti-inflammatories are not a bad idea, plus light jogging with no speed every other day on a firm surface. Use a heel lift and a well-made training flat.

Manuel White

Manuel White, a very popular thrower, of Helena, Mont., passed away July 22 of chronic cardiomyopathy. He had been ill for the past year after recovering from pacemaker and heart surgery. He was buried with full military honors at Fort Harrison, outside of Helena.

An excellent javelin thrower for the University of California at Berkeley in the 1930s, White received an M.D. degree and became an outstanding thoracic surgeon for many years, but never lost the enjoyment of throwing and competing. He was a very talented masters thrower, holding many age group records from 60 years plus, both national and international, with world records in the javelin, discus, hammer, shot, and weight pentathlon.

White was very involved in masters competition for almost 20 years and was popular both as a thrower and as a person who always shared throwing and training tips with both young and old. The Montana Masters Meet honored him in the early 1990s by having his portrait engraved in the medals presented that year.

Wherever he appeared, he was an inspiration to all of us and was affectionately called the Grandfather of Montana Masters.

White was 83-years-old and is survived by his wife, Helen, and his children and grandchildren, who accompanied him to his many meets each year. He and his wife hosted the Octoberfest Throws each October in Helena.

The Northwest Regional Meet held in Bozeman in July 2000, will honor him for the many contributions to masters and masters throwing.

He will be missed by all of us who competed with him and knew him both on and off the field. - Bob Sager

Payton Jordan's Sprinting Techniques - Part II

(Payton Jordan, 82, is one of the top masters sprinters in the world. He currently holds six world age group records in the 100 and 200. He was a track coach at Stanford U. for 22 years and was the 1968 USA Olympic track coach. Last month, he explained the goal of sprinting is to run faster, not harder; that the key to running fast is to be relaxed, while maintaining a loose and fluid form. This month, he talks about how to properly use starting blocks, how training is really a war on aging, and how to stay motivated to keep fit. – Ed.)

Thile the exact setting will vary, medium block placements are a good starting point. You should begin with the knee of your front leg roughly even with the starting line. The toes of your front leg should be about even with the knee of your back leg.

The first two spikes should be in contact with the track surface. This keeps you from "popping up."

Your arms should be placed in a wide stance to provide maximum freedom of your leg drive. In fact, the arm on the back leg side of your body can be held slightly wider to encourage aggressive drive at takeoff.

As you come to the "set" position, the height of your hips is determined by two factors: 1) your shins should be as close to parallel to each other as possible; and 2) you should be able to maintain a straight spine.

At the gun (assuming your left leg is placed in the front position), drive your left arm out and slightly across your body. In the fully extended position, your left hand will cross your face by one or two inches. Your right arm drives back and out. The slight rotation caused by this arm action will allow for fuller and longer pushes with the first two steps. In this part of the race, you should focus on full and complete pushes with your legs and aggressive pulls with your elbows.

Attitude is Paramount

Technique out of the blocks is important. But more important is the proper attitude for sprint starting. You must understand you are in control. Concentrate. Getting out at the gun is about attitude, reaction time and confidence. Worrying about the brand name of the meet blocks or the exact angle of the pedals is a waste of energy.

Only a relaxed athlete will be able to respond to the gun with a minimum of reaction time. Starting lines and track meets in general are very stressful places and are a large obstacle to relaxation. You should properly shake down your muscles before getting into the blocks. Your muscles should feel as if they are loosely hanging off the skeletal system.

At the "on your marks" command, block out the world by taking a few deep breaths from your diaphragm.

You need to feel the oxygen penetrate deeply into the lower lobes of your lungs. Further, you must concentrate on exhaling and inhaling fully. On the "set" command, the athlete should take a deep, full, controlled breath and hold it until the gun blasts. At the gun, the breath is exhaled as the sprinter explodes toward the finish line.

Training as a War on Aging

If you don't train, your movement abilities won't improve. In fact, they will get worse.

With age, the following human abilities become less effective:

1) The Ability to Utilize Oxygen

As we age, our sponge-like lungs become less flexible and less able to process the inhalation and exhalation of air. This limits the amount of oxygen that fuels the cells of our bodies. This trend can be resisted by exercising your respiratory system; specifically, your lungs.

Breathing above your breast line is tightening and inefficient. You should learn to breathe full breaths and to fill your lungs from the bottom up by utilizing the diaphragm. A controlled, elongated exhalation will facilitate a surge of power. The exhalation should take twice as long as the inhalation. For example, do 100 meter strides with 4/8 count breaths – that is, four counts in and eight counts out – with concentration on surging with the exhalation.

It's been said that it's impossible to train the diaphragm, since it's an involuntary muscle. Not so. Everyone can learn to breathe better. Proper posture alone can help to disencumber the lungs

2) Flexibility With Relaxation

Your musculature should be loose enough to shake on your bones. Your muscles must be relaxed in various athletic situations and at maximum speed.

Here's a sample loosening warm-up (each exercise should be performed for 55m and repeated twice):

a. Easy jogging. You should feel as if your legs are simply hanging off your hips.

b. Easy and relaxed high knee drills. This drill is about loosening your hips and hamstrings and not about exaggerated running form.

c. Alternating jog and quick steps, about 4-6 meters each, smoothly alternating between styles. The quick steps are similar to the "arm quickies" mentioned last month with the addition of small, quick footsteps; pay attention to maintaining loose arms.

d. High knee skips. Focus on your overall body's relaxation and fluidity.

e. Heel recovery skips.

3) Strength

The untrained human will lose strength. A minimum amount of training is needed if only to maintain strength levels.

4. Reaction Time

This critical characteristic of a sprinter is essential for all humans and can be affected by training. Reacting to the gun, or verbal commands, should be coupled with other reaction-time training units.

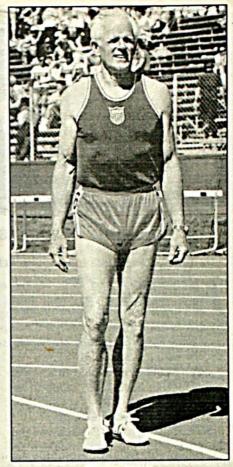

The aging human can arrest, or at least slow down, the basic degeneration traits mentioned above. This is known as aging gracefully.

Motivation

Sprinters must have high levels of self-esteem. It is no small feat to abandon oneself to maximum effort in a race against time and man. Successful sprinters have high levels of confidence. Self-esteem projects out and shines in. The great ones think with self-esteem. Everyone else is just watching the action from the sidelines.

Fear is our greatest enemy. Desire is our greatest weapon. I'm often asked what makes a champion. Over the years of being privileged to work with many athletes, certain common qualities are evident: commitment, goal setting, discipline, a strong work ethic, and an ability to appreciate and give credit to others.

Remember, winners dare to fail. So don't be afraid to think and act like a champion. The ingredients are simple if you will make the commitment, be unafraid to dream, and set goals. Don't frown on discipline. It's the tool that will push you to do the work needed. Fear not, let desire burn.

Maryanne Torrellas – A Natural Winner (Part II)

Between 1983 and 1989, Maryanne Torrellas (W40) represented the United States in 19 international meets, including the World Games and the precursor of the Women's World Cup – the Eschborn Cup. On March 17, she competed at the Masters Indoor Championship in Boston. In a close and exciting race with Lynn Brubaker, Maryanne set a pending W40 3000 meter American Record with a time of 13:46.73.

MT: Many people race to see who is the fastest, but I often raced to see who I could play with.

EW: How do you mean play?

MT: Playing to me is when you pull the pace from the front; or push the pace from behind. It's when you use a whole tool box of different tactics. For example, if you are on a track you may be able to use a lapped competitor to keep someone from making a move to pass. Or you may sit on somebody's shoulder and breathe down their neck.

You can walk with somebody to help them and pull them along; or you can walk to break them. And there is a difference. You are racing in the same spot, but there is a mental difference that I believe other athletes can feel. You can feel if someone is walking with you or walking against you. You feel their intent.

Battling to Win

But most delicious of all is to come from out of nowhere in high pursuit and battle to the finish. That was always something that I liked to do. I would be in third or fourth place and make a move at the end. When you do this, you take a risk that somebody may be able to pull so much ahead that you get beat. But in that risk, there are a whole lot of possibilities.

EW: I don't think a lot of people really know how to race.

MT: They just race to see who is the fastest. Sometimes, using tactics won't give you the fastest time, but it will give you the most delicious victory.

Many races with Ann Peel were like that. She would be feisty. She was physically competitive, but that in turn would spark even more competitiveness in me. We often raced on an indoor track. If I was ahead of Ann and it was coming toward the end of the race, I might not lap a slower walker very quickly.

You kinda hang on the outside, or perhaps walk next to the person for a little bit. This forces the person trying to pass you to go into lane three and pass two rather than one. If you are on the banked part of the track, it forces that person to go up hill to pass.

Or, let's say, somebody is walking in the inside lane and you are beside them in the second lane. You are both coming up to a slower walker. You could be polite, and I am sometimes with people whom I am helping and move out a bit so they can also pass, or you can just remain in your place and box them in.

Therapeutic Massage

EW: Many people have told me what a good massage therapist you are. What kind of massage do you do?

MT: I do sports massage, which includes a whole bunch of things that will have a beneficial physiological effect on the athlete's body. Massage basically increases circulation to a specific area. By increasing blood flow, you aid the transport of nutrients into the muscle tissue and aid the removal of waste products.

EW: Do you advocate massage before as well as after activity?

MT: There are different kinds of massage. Pre-competition massage is not deep. It's quick, rigorous motion. It gets the muscles warmed up and ready to go. It is a shorter massage than a recovery massage.

A recovery massage, right after a race, involves flushing the residue of lactic acid from the legs; not lactic acid itself, but the residue. It is a slightly deeper massage, but you avoid very deep massage directly after a race because any slight injury could be inflamed. A day after a race, you can go deeper.

Of course, it helps when a massage therapist works with an athlete all through his or her training. You can't work deeply on some athletes at all. Others can take very deep work and it is just what they need. So massage is an individual thing.

Establishing Rapport

EW: If a racewalker you didn't know came to you for a massage, what would you do first?

MT: Having worked on many racewalkers, I would know that the hamstrings might need attention. Also, the piriformis muscle is usually very tight in racewalkers. The drop of the hip puts some strain on it, as well as foot placement in line. I would also ask if there was a specific problem and rely on feedback. Establishing a rapport is important.

JERRY WOJCIK

A lot depends on the situation. Sometimes you are at a meet and only have 10-15 minutes to work on an athlete so you are only going to work the most important areas. Other times, you may have a greater amount of time and you can work on whatever areas the athlete says are tight.

For example, everybody seems to be tight between the shoulder blades. The tightness may not be so much from training or racing as from sitting at a computer, reading, writing or just staying in one position for a long period of time. So I might spend time on the trapezius and rhomboids. The lats are also important for racewalkers.

Sometimes a racewalker will complain of arm and shoulder pain after a race. Two different things are going on. As a walker tires in a long race, the shoulders might come up a little and cause pinching between the shoulder blades. Even if they only come up half an inch, that can happen.

Also, whenever you do extended, repetitive motions that are not full range, you usually engender some tightness. Think about your arms and their complete range of motion. The arms can move in a circle in many different directions. Then, think how you use them racewalking. You use them in only a small area of that total range of motion.

It is the same with the legs. Think about your legs and how far you can extend them forward and backward. When you use your arms and legs in a limited range, it tends to shorten the muscle fibers. So stretching afterwards is extremely important.

Helping Others First

EW: Dave Romansky said that you had been doing massages all day when you went out on the track and set an American record at the masters indoor championships. It was very exciting for everyone.

MT: Dave is my hero. He is such a great athlete and neat guy. I thoroughly enjoyed working at the national masters meet. It was a volunteer thing that I did with my two business partners, Keith and Karen Lee. They are massage therapists and personal trainers, too. We started working at 9 o'clock in the morning, and I worked until it was time to warm up for my race at 3:30 in the afternoon.

I loved talking with all the competitors – just finding out each one's story. When athletes are on the table, they like to talk about what they are doing.

There seem to be three groups of masters. The first group has been competing since they were in high school and college and never stopped. Some of them are in tremendous shape. The second group has never done any sport before and are just becoming involved. Some of them are the most enthusiastic, because every time they go out they may set a personal record.

The third group competed seriously when they were younger, stopped for family and job and started again on retirement. This large group has fallen in love with their sport all over again.

It was just fascinating to hear all the stories and what some people have been through. One gentleman, a 72-year-old high jumper, told me that he was going to win "this one for my grandson" and his grandson was sitting in the stadium. I told him I was going to watch him. I saw him look up at his grandson and give him a thumbs up. His cute little grandson gave him a thumbs up back and he went over the bar and wound up winning the competition.

Afterwards, he came back over asking, "How did I do? How did I do? My leg felt so nice and loose." He was so grateful for the massage. Doing massage at a race where there are so many different kinds of people is always very interesting.

Soothing the Feet

EW: Do you find anything common to masters?

MT: I find that the athletes who really have a good stretching and flexibility program are far more balanced in their bodies and have less injuries.

One thing racewalkers can do for themselves is simply massage their feet for five minutes after working out. The foot receives high stress during racewalking. I tell people to get into the habit of massaging their feet when they take their shoes off. Eastern philosophy talks of foot massage as opening up the energy channels of the body. It is a way of preventing a lot of foot problems.

EW: What type of a practice do you

MT: I have a home practice and also work with a chiropractor. I have worked with the U.S. Track and Field Team and have worked at the Olympic Games and at the Good Will Games.

Norm Green speaks positively about the venue and the performances and says a good time was had by most. We are going to miss Norm serving as our non-stadia representative. He and Dolores are reducing their volunteer load, but, thank goodness, he will continue to serve on our advisory committee.

No Formal Request

I have been asked by a few 30- to 39-year-olds why Masters LDR doesn't lower the masters age limit to 30 as Masters T&F is doing. My response is that we haven't been formally asked to consider a change; therefore, it has not been on our agenda. However, my personal observation is that, with the current exception of ultras, distance run-ners beyond the age of forty seem to show a performance level decrease, which is not apparent until about that age. Also, most 30- to 39-year-olds do not seem interested in competing as masters when they can still place in open competition and would be reluctant to compete in masters championships.

I would hate to see a masters 30- or 35-year-old national champion who does not rank in the top 100 of their actual age group. I think it would demean the whole concept of masters champion. However, since I am an AOR (adult onset runner) and did not compete as an open athlete, I am going to ask Ruth Wysocki of our Masters Advisory Committee to address this issue and would appreciate the input of any others who have opinions on the subject.

ILC Running Smoothly

The Indy Life Circuit is progressing nicely at the half-way mark. At this point Patty Valadka is leading the masters division women with Bev Docherty and Jane Welzel in a fight for second and third. Perennial winner Jane Ottaway is again heading the agegraded division with Victoria Crisp, a solid second, and Gloria Jansen, Linda Frisby and Patty Valadka in a struggle for third.

On the men's side, John Tuttle leads twice-champion Craig Young (second) with Steve Winchel and Mark Curp next. Tuttle and Young are also leading the age-graded division with Jack Nelson, Dick Buerkle, and Gary Romesser coming on.

Our championship series in roads; cross-country; and ultra, trails, and mountain is also moving well.

Important Contributor

This month I would like to again mention our Athlete Communication Center and the member of our advisory committee who carries on this function. Barb Arveson, a very exuberant and talented individual from Minnesota, who has recently become a fullfledged Texan (Big D), is a runner (preferably marathons), race director, certified official, and head of this new rom the Roman Army Museum, the three of us hiked up the hill and past a quarry used 2000 years ago to extract stones for the wall we had come to see. It was a Thursday afternoon, an off day at the XIII WAVA World Veterans Athletics Championships in Gateshead, England. Delegates to the World Association of Veteran Athletes were meeting all day to elect officers, conduct business and determine the site of future championships, but my wife Rose and I had decided to skip all that and visit Hadrian's Wall.

When I stopped by the meeting and mentioned our destination to Jerry Wojcik, Senior Editor for National Masters News, he nearly jumped from his seat in eagerness to join us. "I'd rather spend the day sightseeing than be stuck in this meeting all day," Jerry confessed as we climbed in a taxicab heading out of town.

I felt the same way, although there was some risk involved, both for Jerry and me. We were competing the following day: he in the weight pentathlon, me in the semifinals of the we probably should have skipped both the meeting and the sightseeing and lounged around the hotel with our feet propped up, contemplating our events.

But one needs to get one's priorities in order.

Sightseeing Op

At previous WAVA meets, my main priority often has been to compete and to compete well, perhaps to win. On four occasions, I've won gold medals, earning silver and bronze 1500 meters. For peak performance,

An Interesting Topic

More than likely, I gave Jerry and Rose a preview of what we were about to see that day: Hadrian's Wall. Four decades earlier, while I was attending graduate school at the University of Chicago, I learned that a visiting British professor would be teaching a class in Roman history. The course would do nothing to advance me toward my degree, but the subject interested me, so I signed up. My term paper that year was on Emperor Trajan who by 88 AD had pushed the Roman Empire as far as it would get in Northwestern Europe, the 80-mile wide stretch of rocky ground that separates England from medals five times. On other occasions, I've traveled to the meet more interested in participation than competition. The WAVA Championships offer an opportunity every second year to sightsee in some exotic location and renew acquaintanceships

Jerry was not (yet) one of those friends. Oh sure, I knew his name and face from the top of his column, "The Weight Room," in this publication, but we had never met before, or had met only briefly. Nevertheless, our friendship was quickly ignited as we stepped from the taxicab and caught a train that would take us to the town of

Hexham, where we would catch a bus to Hadrian's Wall. Soon our discussions had passed beyond distance running, weight throwing and WAVA politics, allowing us to move to other subjects, most of them so trivial I've already forgotten most of what we with old (growing older) friends.

The Scots were ferocious warriors, plus it was obvious to Trajan and his generals that the mountainous country to the north would be easy to defend and costly to conquer. Trajan stopped, and his successor as Emperor, Hadrian, built the wall that now bears his name in 122 AD.

For several hundred years, the Romans maintained their claims to most of the land around the Mediterranean between England and Persia, creating a pax romana, the longest period of peace that Europe has had. That is, it was peaceful in the interior around Rome, though battles raged on the fringes, such as at Hadrian's Wall. Eventually, Rome retreated from the land where WAVA would conduct its championships, but fragments of its once great civilization remained, including the wall.

Hazardous Footing

The hill we climbed was steep, but the turf was smooth, the only hazard being the sheep turds that forced us to look down as much as up. Finally at the top, we came across the remnants of the wall, which, when constructed by Hadrian was two meters across at the base, a half dozen meters high, and with defense towers every Roman mile and mini-towers every third-of-amile between.

Only the base of the wall now remains, but it was impressive to see it snaking across the countryside along the crest of a ridge. In several spots within our view, the wall overlooked steep cliffs. The Romans certainly had chosen as site for their wall an eminently defensible position, but sooner or later offense won the day.

The Romans abandoned England around 400 AD. Today they are remembered only through snippets of sound in what became Shakespeare's language along with the piles of stone they left behind. That the wall remains at all is remarkable, since local farmers used many of its stones to build houses and walls of their own.

Hadrian's Wall is now maintained as a World Heritage Site, memorable for having been the best known frontier of the entire Roman Empire.

Back to the Present

We might have spent days thoroughly exploring the area. But when the bus appeared several hours later heading back to Hexham, we boarded it and returned to the realities of World Veterans competition. I saw Jerry at the track the next morning competing in the weight pentathlon. "I haven't thrown this poorly in years," he complained. "I left my legs at Hadrian's Wall." He had a smile on his face when he said it, however.

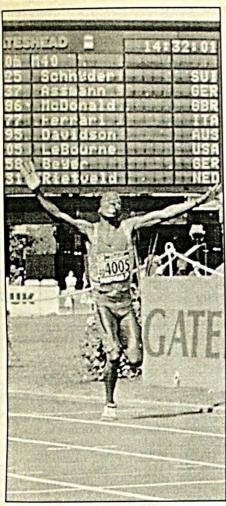

Running in a semifinal heat of the 1500 meters soon after, I too felt the pains of too much hiking through the countryside. My hamstring muscles felt like they had been struck by the lance of a roman legionnaire. I ran faster than my best for the year, but failed to advance. Two days later, hamstrings still stiff, I scratched from the steeplechase rather than risk an injury. More to blame than Hadrian, however, was a lackadaisical attitude going to the WAVA meet that caused me to train less hard than I might have if winning were my main goal.

But goals change, and two years from now I'll cross into a new age group less than a month before the XIV WAVA World Veterans Athletics Championships in Brisbane, Australia. That may motivate me to get serious again about my training to see if I can return from Down Under with a medal hanging around my neck. If not, there's plenty of sightseeing available in Australia, even if the Romans never got that far.

The Weight Room

by JERRY WOJCIK

Golds to Newcastle and Gateshead have to admit that I was wrong on two counts in re the WAVA Championships at Gateshead. First, on every day but one, the weather was "smashing," as Bob Lothian would say. Bob is the owner of Summerville, a bed & breakfast guest house in Whickham, a suburb of Gateshead, where the National Masters News crew stayed for the duration of the meet. He and other local residents, mostly cab drivers, said that they hadn't seen sunny skies and temperatures in the 80s for that long a time in decades.

Second, my weight pentathlon did not take 24 hours to complete; instead, we were done in four hours. Afterwards, some of us stood around, wondering what to do with ourselves. The B Group (lower scorers) of the M65s started at 7:00 a.m., the earliest of any WP group, at Monkton Stadium, the second venue, which meant I had to get up at 5:30 a.m. and take a cab ($20) to get there by the 6:30 check-in time. Fellow pentathlete Clifford Taylor, of Great Britain, slept in the first-aid tent at Monkton to avoid getting up that early.

Caffeine High

Thinking that I needed a stimulus to wake me up, I drank three cups of strong British coffee before the opening hammer throw. Big mistake. I generally have one cup of coffee in the morning, but that's it for the day. I was so wired that at least three people said I looked like a whirling dervish on LSD in the hammer, shot, and discus. I fouled two shot attempts and bounced a discus off the cage, never done before in my life.

I finally settled down in the javelin, and then hit a PR of 40-101/2 with the 20-lb., which earned me a round of applause. I finished 21st of 26 with a dismal 2952, but learned a lesson. What it is, I haven't deciphered yet.

Thankfully, Texan Bob Ward, first M65 (4741) and Floridian Len Olson, third (4448), saved the day for the M65 age group that I've been touting for years.

No Drinking...

There is only one toilet (British parlance for U.S. bathroom or john) for every 56,890 people in Great Britain. Not a problem, because there is only one drinking fountain for every 101,765. When one of the USA team managers mentioned at the team managers' meeting that water and seating for athletes was non-existent at some of the throwing venues, the discussion ended by one of the officials saying that athletes were acting spoiled and should be experienced enough to carry their own water. Part of the problem was that nobody anticipated temperatures in the 80s.

Off the Scale

Throwing performances bordered on the Stonehengian mythical. Three shot putters were in the 100+% range: Tom Von Wachenfeldt, 71, Sweden, 14.73/48-4 with the 4kg; Franz Ratzer, 60, Austria, 16.69/54-9'/4, 5kg; and Frank Meier, 81, Switzerland, 11.74/38-6'/4, 4kg. Oregonian Ross Carter, hewed an M85 WR in the DT (30.23/99-2), and Texan Carol SUZY HESS Tom Petranoff, USA, M40 winner in the javelin (73.72), WAVA Championships, Gateshead, England.

Time For T&F By-Laws Changes

This is a by-laws year and proposed changes can be submitted to Tom Light, USATF Masters T&F Committee Law Chairman, or Ken Weinbel, Masters T&F Committee Chairman, at least 90 days prior to the convention in December in Los Angeles. Their addresses are on p.2.

JERRY WOJCIK

Ina DeBuch, Germany, W35 weight pentathlete, putting the shot, WAVA Championships, Gateshead, England.

Finsrud, lassoed a U.S. W40 record in the DT (51.22/168-0) and snared the weight pentathlon. Javelinist Tom Petranoff, M40, didn't quite make his hoped-for WR but delighted the crowd with a 73.72/241-10.

Harje Noreborn, M70, Sweden (is that a fabulous name for a javelin thrower or what?) stuck an age-graded 100% 48.34/158-7. Women hammer throwers were spectacular. Inge Faldager, Denmark, was in the 100% range with a 50.00/164-0; Gudrun Mellmann, Germany, hit a 101% 44.77/146-10; and Jutta Schaefer, Germany, lapsed to the 99% range with a 35.92/117-10.

Ken Jansson won the M40 WP (3937), with Mike Hambrick, third, and Gary England, fourth. Lad Pataki, USA, showed up late but won the WP anyway (4697). Harry Hawke, who took a second in the hammer, surprised no one by scoring a second in the M70 WP.

Wladyslaw Kowalczyk, M60, of Germany, scored a meet high 4942 in the WP. With a name like that, Wladyslaw has to be a Pole who somehow became a German citizen.

Tough Competition

All in all, the U.S. throwers held their own but were not imposing. We have to decide whether we want to keep our participation in world competition at a do-it-yourself fun level or get serious with national coaches and funding support as I know some other countries already have.

Fun and enjoyment haven't completely left the scene, but they sure seem to be enhanced if you are a winner or take a bronze medal, at least.

On a different level, the U.S. submission for four throws in the weight pentathlon lost by a large margin. The 700g javelin was adopted for M50-59, as was the 500g for W50-59. The 700g thing I knew about, but the 500g is news to me. Ta-ta to records for those age groups.

Gateshead Meet

The competition was held in fiveyear age groups, beginning at age 40 for men and age 35 for women. The Championships are held every other year under the auspices of the World Association of Veteran Athletes (WAVA). This year they were staged by the Gateshead Organizing Committee, led by CEO Mike Newton.

5949 Entries

Of the 5949 entries, 1799 were from the host country. Visitors numbered 4150, the largest foreign entry ever.

After Great Britain, the largest contingent came from Germany (689), followed by the USA (547), Australia (234), Italy (147), France (146), Ireland (143), and Canada (138).

There were 12,822 event entries. Of the total 5949 participants, about 32 percent were women, the highest female participation ever for a WAVA World Championships.

With about 6000 family members and friends included, the meet had an economic impact on the Northumbria area of about US$12 million, according to standard economic estimates.

Opening Ceremonies

At the opening ceremonies, up to 20 athletes per nation paraded into the stadium behind their national flags as the Felling Brass Band and the Addison Male Voice Choir provided the musical backdrop. Local dignitaries and WAVA President Torsten Carlius spoke, with a French translation given after each speech.

Three stadiums were needed to handle the action – at Gateshead, Monkton, and Riverside. All were first-class facilities: Free and frequent buses shuttled athletes between the venues and the hotels.

SUZY HESS

Athletes stand behind their country's flags during the opening ceremonies, Gateshead Stadium, WAVA Championships.

"The transportation was the best I've ever seen at a World Championships," said USA team manager Sandy Pashkin.

Attractive gold, silver and bronze medals were presented to the top three finishers in each event in each age group.

The award presentations were made just outside the main stadium. While they properly did not interfere with the competition, most athletes wished the presentations could have been featured by being within the stadium, à la Buffalo in 1995.

Outstanding Organization

The organization of the meet was outstanding. The paper flow from the Hy-Tek computer program was virtually flawless. The officials were professional and numerous. There were no lap-counting errors. The advance work of the WAVA Council members who had visited Gateshead on several occasions paid off. Athletes were smoothly escorted on and off the field for their competitions. Results were posted quickly.

"A few of the officials were a bit too 'officious'," said Brian Keaveney, Canada's team manager, "but whenever there was a problem, it was handled immediately in a friendly and professional manner."

Lack of Publicity

One downside to the proceedings was a lack of community involvement. Except for athletes and friends, the grandstands were virtually empty. There was little coverage in the local papers or on TV.

"Most townspeople are unaware of the games," said one local businessman early in the meet.

The morning Journal printed a few results on only three of the 11 days of the meet, and only an occasional athlete profile.

The London Times, however, did send a reporter to cover the opening day's events. He wrote an excellent column in Monday's issue.

But the publicity drought was broken big time and hit page one of the local papers and, incredibly, the national tabloids, on Tues., August 3.

A Man or a Woman?

"Is This a Man or a Woman?" asked the Evening Chronicle in 132-point type on its front page, with a photo of Arizona's Kathy Jager, a 56-year-old sprinter and jumper.

"'Woman' Sparks Games Sex Row," blared the Journal, citing: "a sex scandal hit the world veteran games.'

The papers reported Australian and New Zealand athletes had filed a protest with WAVA and the organizers, claiming Jager had boosted her performance with high levels of male hormones which, rivals said, made her more man than woman. They said she should be disqualified from her 100-meter victory and barred from further competition.

All at once, everyone in Gateshead and, indeed, in all of Great Britain, now knew there was such a thing as veterans athletics. The story made the Times, the Daily Mail, the Telegraph and every other London paper. It even made USA Today's European edition.

Carlius was shocked.

'As far as I know, her sexuality has never been called into question before, and it is sad now," he said. "We operate under IAAF rules, so a blood test is preferred. I hope this will not cast a shadow over the games; this is a very friendly competition. It is embarrassing for the lady and for everyone."

Jager said she was the mother of two and grandmother of four and has been married for 30 years.

"I think people are trying to make trouble with these ridiculous allegations," she said.

Jim Tobin, New Zeland's team manager, denied New Zealand had made an official protest.

Jager was entered in the 200 on Wednesday afternoon, so Carlius moved quickly and firmly. Just 40 minutes before the start of the W55 200 meter dash, he announced that a medical examination by a gynecologist had established her gender as female.

"She has been accused of some-thing that is untrue," Carlius said. "I have every sympathy for the lady."

The crowd cheered the announcement, then applauded again as Jager confidently won her second gold medal.

Jager also won a bronze medal in the heptathlon and a silver in the pole

After the 200, the Chronicle said "she displayed tremendous dignity as she shook hands with her rivals, including an Australian competitor."

With dozens of TV cameras whirring and photographers jousting for position (one TV camera was sent hurtling down a nearby embankment), Jager said one of her goals, as a youngster, was to be an Olympian.

But due to a lack of opportunity, I never had the chance to achieve this. But now I'm realizing my dreams. I'll never forget the friendliness of the people of the North. The Geordies have welcomed me and supported me everywhere. I'll never forget their warmth."

But the story wouldn't die. It continued on the feature pages of most English newspapers with a long profile of Jager in the Sunday Times, and two more features on Thurs., Aug. 12 in both the Times and Evening Standard, four days after the event was over.

Then, on Aug. 18, the USA's NBC network TV show "Extra" interviewed Jager in a positive, 5-minute spot at the top of its highly-rated show. The world vets have never had this kind of publicity - ever.

World Records

A total of 66 world age-group records were set in the 11-day extravaganza (see chart and separate story).

Seven athletes were over age 90, including the USA's Waldo McBurney, the oldest participant at age 96. The oldest woman was 89year-old Ruth Frith of Australia.

The schedule of events was again

near-perfect, following the model developed in 1995 in Buffalo. Events were staggered so athletes could compete in natural doubles and triples (e.g., 100, 200, 400, 800, 1500, 5000, X-C, 5000, 10,000) with adequate rest in between.

The scoreboard crew did their job well, flashing the entries of each upcoming race and posting results within 10 minutes of the finish of the running events. (Due to a different computer system, field-event results could not be posted on the scoreboard, so they were read by the announcers.)

Each morning, a team managers' meeting was held by WAVA and the organizers to brief the national managers on upcoming activities and to hear and resolve problems. Each team manager would then pass the information on to athletes from his or her country.

The program in each athlete's packet contained the schedule and alphabetical listing of competitors in each event.

Tours

Many athletes and their families found time to take one or more of the tours offered by the organizers. Hundreds of tours were taken to Edinburgh, York, Hadrian's Wall and other historical spots in England and Scotland.

Friendly Camaraderie

As the meet wound down, T-shirts were swapped, invitations to visit friends in other countries were extended and a feeling of goodwill and friendship between people of different cultures blotted out - for a time, at least - the problems of the outside world.

Results

The results of the first eight places of each event are printed in this issue on pages 30-38.

66 World Records Set in Gateshead

A total of 66 world age-group records were set in the 13th WAVA World Veterans Athletics Championships in Gateshead, England, July 29-Aug. 8, eleven more than at Durban in 1997.

Thirty marks were set by men, 36 by women. Forty came in track events; 15 in field; 9 in the combined events; and 2 in the road walks. The 40 track marks included nine world "bests" for the 2000 steeplechase (30" barriers); four records in the 5000 racewalk; and eight in the relays, dominated by the quartets from Germany.

The U.S. athletes accounted for 14 records; Germany had 10, and Great Britain and Sweden tied with six. Thirty-seven of the records were by men and women age 65+, the age generally considered as time for retirement, and 18 records were by men and women ages 80-and-over.

Karl Trei, M90, left England for Canada with seven individual gold medals. Olga Kotelko, W80, also of Canada, tallied six gold medals, and two world records. Kaija Jortikka, W75, Finland, won five golds, sweeping all four throws. Ruth Frith, W85, Australia, also had five firsts.

Gerda Van Kooten, W60, Netherlands, captured four victories, two with world records. Paula Schneiderhan, W75, Germany, also took four golds, one with a world record.

On the Quest for Records

The breaking of records started with Germany's Rolf Geese, 55, scoring 8726 points in the decathlon – the highest total ever – and ended with a display of agility and endurance by men and women steeplechasers and a show of teamwork and preparation by the German relay foursomes.

In between, spectators, participants, officials, and volunteers witnessed perhaps the best performance ever by a masters high jumper, an electrifying performance by the most accomplished hurdlers over the age of 60, and three shot put marks over 100+%.

Breaking the meet down by division, here's how it looked:

M40

• Bruno Dupuy, France, won the 100 (11.38) and 200 (22.28), with age-graded efforts in the 90+% range.

• Anselm LeBourne, USA, took the 800 (1:54.60) and 1500 (3:56.05) with his patented kick at the start of the far turn. One observer noted, "I could get rich on LeBourne if Ladbroke's took bets on the races in this meet."

• Heiko Schinkitz, Germany, ran a 95.1% 14:18.20 to win the 5000 and won the 10,000 (30:33.26).

 Malcolm Fenton, Great Britain, won the HT (58.45) from Ken Jansson, USA, but Jansson, a week later, won the WP with a WR 3937 points.

• Tom Petranoff, USA, was accommodated by the officials moving the M40 JT into the main arena but failed in his attempt at a WR, finishing with a nevertheless outstanding 73.72.

• Italy's Hubert Indra successfully defended his Durban title in the decathlon.

• Chris Maddocks, Great Britain, won both the 5000 (21:12.94) and 20K (1:35:28) racewalks.

• Great Britain won both relays.

• Anthony Duffy, Great Britain, was first marathoner to the finish line (2:23:25).

M45

• Bill Collins, USA, won the 100 (11.27/96.7%).

 Stephen Peters, Great Britain, winner of the 100 and 400 in Durban, took the 200 (22.21/96.7%) and 400 (50.60/94.9%).

 David Wilcock, Great Britain, ran away from Jorge Ortiz Rivera, Puerto Rico, twice to win the 800 (1:57.97) and 1500 (4:07.06).

• Nigel Gates, Great Britain, pulled off a tough triple, first with a win in the 10K X-C (31:57) and following with wins in the 5000 (15:07.90) and 10,000 (31:40.01).

 Wolfgang Rute, Germany, was the class act of the pole vaulters with a 97.1% 4.78.

 Vasilis Manganis, Greece, won the SP (15.25), HT (57.15), and WP with a WR 4267.

•Roberto Cervi, Italy, racewalked to gold medals in the 5000 (21:43.1) and 20K Continued on page 18

(1:34:42).

- · Both relays went to Great Britain. M50
- · Dave Walter, USA, could be credited with the upsets of the meet, winning the 200 with a nosedive 23.93 over U.S. champion and 100 winner here (11.85) Charles Allie and defending champion Peter Crombie, Australia, and beating them again in the 400 (53.18), both marks in the 95% range.

 • Belgium's WAVA road champion
- Omer Van Noten won the 10,000 (32:31.10) and the X-C (33:23).
- · Peter Moon, Great Britain, eclipsed the 3000SC field with a 10:15.33.
- · James Sauers, USA, took the HJ from Charles Rader, USA, on fewer misses at
- Richard Krone, Germany, put the 6kg shot a 95.2% 17.27.
- · Lad Pataki, USA, missed sure medals in the SP and DT because of illness in the family but, despite jet lag, won the WP (4697).
- Charles Allie, USA, won a gold in the 100 and silvers in the 200 and 400.

M55

- Rolf Geese, Germany, the M50 decathlon winner in Durban, created a stir among his fellow athletes and spectators with a sensational WR 8726 points, the
- most ever by a masters athlete.

 Courtland Gray, USA, hurdled to a gold in the 400H (62.95) after a mild upset over Harold Morioka, Canada, in the 100, but missed a third victory in the 100H in one of the closest finishes of the meet, with Geese winning at 14.92, Petr Cech, Czech Republic, at 14.95, and Gray at 14.97.

 Morioka won the 400 with a 95.8% 54.08 over John Henson, Great Britain, 200 winner (24.48/96.7%).

• Britain's Reginald Phipps, 56, and Ireland's James O'Neil, 57, dueled in the 800 with Phipps winning, 2:06.33 to 2:07.23, but O'Neil posted a better performance, 97.3% to 97.1%.

· Ron Robertson, New Zealand, fivetime gold medalist in Durban, successfully defended three of his titles, 5000 (16:46.90), 10,000 (33:42.32), and 3000SC with a superlative 98.8% 10:33.86.

· Tapani Taavitsainen, Switzerland, jumped to victories in the LJ (6.14) and TJ (12.93).

 Helmo Viertbauer, Austria, parlayed his HT expertise and win (58.59) to the WP victory (4749).

· Don DeNoon, USA, was the best in the 5000 (23:28.74) and 20K (1:46:48) RWs and led the USA M55s to the team gold medal. The USA also took firsts in the M65, M70, and M80 divisions, tying Great Britain, which also had four golds.

THE RESERVE TO SERVE TO SERVE

· Guido Mueller, M60, ran what some observers thought was the most dynamic race in the meet, winning the 300H in 42.31 with an age-graded 99.1%. Later, he won the 100H (15.20/95.1%) and on Saturday, Aug. 7, held off Larry Colbert, USA, who set a U.S. record (56.58) in the race, to win the 400 (55.47/96.6%). After the 100H race, Lew Thorne, USA, third, said, "I was alongside Guido and Emil Pawlik (second, 15.28) until the secondlast hurdle, and suddenly they were yards ahead of me." Pawlik took gold medals in the HJ and decathlon.

 Jurgen Radke, Germany, M60 winner of the 100 and 200 in Durban, did it again with a 97.2% 12.32 and a 98.3% 24.76.

 Alan Bradford, Australia, reigned in the 800 (2:10.42/97.5%), 1500 (4:35.18), and 2000SC (6:54.31).

• Ad Heijens, Netherlands, was first in the 5000 (17:07.90) and X-C (35:09). · Franz Ratzer, Austria, hit a WR in the

SP with a 100+% 16.69 with the 5kg

 Dario Ramirez Castel, Colombia, took the victory stand twice for the 5000 (24:42.73) and 20K (1:47:13) RWs. M65 · Motoichi Tasaki, Japan, won both hurdles (14.58 and 53.30).

USA won both relays.

M75

· Mel Larsen, USA, nabbed an 80H WR (14.20) and won the 100 (14.13) and LJ (4.59).

· Heinrich Gutbier, Germany, scored a quadruple, with wins in the 5000 (22:08.86), 10,000 (45:17.48), X-C, and marathon.

· Lucas Nel returned to South Africa with a pending WR of 66.88 for the 400 and a gold medal for the 800 (2:47.65).

 Erik Eriksson, Finland, added the WP (4582) to his SP (13.00/98.2%) and JT (38.26) titles.

· Pecka Pentilla, Finland, scored a WR 7825 in the decathlon.

 The USA again won the two relays. M80

· Dan Bulkley, USA, cleared the barriers cleanly for golds in the 80H (WR 17.92), 300H (WR 62.61/94.8%), and 2000SC (11:48.10) and took a silver medal in the 800 and a bronze in the 1500.

· Emiel Pauwels, Belgium, turned in victories in the 800 (3:04.29), 1500 (6:23.14), 5000 (24:18.07), and X-C.

• Rod Parker, USA, flashed to wins in the 100 (15.18) and 200 (31.53/93.8%).

• Erling Svennevik headed home to Norway as victor in the HT, DT, and WP.

• Torsten Stale, Sweden, winner of six races in Durban, settled for two here, the 10,000 and 5000 RW.

• Takuru Miura, Japan, was the best of four entrants in the decathlon with a WR 4680.

· Germany won the relays. M85

• WRs were set by triple gold medalist Kasimir Gassmann, Switzerland, in the SP (9.47), Ross Carter, USA, in the DT (30.23), and James Grimwade, Ireland, in the 20K RW (2:24:00).

• Gordon Porteous, Great Britain, won the 1500, 5000, and 10,000.

· Mazumi Morita, Japan, took the 80H, PV (1.60), LJ (3.34), and TJ (7.37). M90

 Karl Trei, Canada, won seven events from the 100 (24.24) to the JT (15.48). · John Farrell, Great Britain, won the 1500 in WR time (9:23.74). Takuzo Miure, Japan, totaled 4680, a WR in the decathlon.

• Alipio Santos, Portugal, reeled off wins in the 200, 400, 800, and X-C.

· Bert DeGroot, USA, won the HT and SP and came second in the DT. M95

· No one asked "Where's Waldo?" because Waldo McBurney was highly visible setting WRs in the 200 (63.08), DT (13.56), and 5000 RW (57:06.80) and winning a gold medal in the JT.

· Versatile Leslie Estwick, Canada, earned three gold medals, 100 (14.21/93.3%), HJ (1.70), and LJ (5.63). Estwick was the Durban defending champion in the HJ in 1997.

• Jennie Mathews, Great Britain, sped to wins in the 400 (55.70) and 400H (60.29/92.8%).

Robertson, M55, New Zealand, gold medalist in the 5000, 10,000 and 3000 steeplechase, WAVA Championships, Gateshead, England.

JERRY WOJCIK

Courtland Gray, USA, on his way to the M55 victory in the 400H (62.95), WAVA Championships, Gateshead, England. He also won the 100 (12.30).

 Anne Keenan-Buckley, Ireland, opened with a win in the X-C (35:30) and closed with a victory in the 1500 (4:30.22).

• Elisabeth Moser, Italy, won the 5000 (16:56.90) and ran a good race to take the 10,000 from Katharina Kaufman, Germany, 35:52.18 to 35:59.77.

· Great Britain broke the WR for the 4x400 (3:50.80).

W40

• Anke Mortiz, Germany, registered a win in the 100 (12.58/90.4%) and held off Tilly Verhoef, Netherlands, the 400 winner (57.61/91.6%), to take the 200 (25.17/91.43%), successfully defending her title in the 200 at Durban.

· Patty Blanchard, Canada, hurried to wins in the 1500 (4:36.67) and 5000 (17:14.40).

· Carol Finsrud, USA, won the discus contest (51.22) and showed all-around skills with a WR in the WP (4120).

· Jenny Brown, Great Britain, recovered after her heptathlon win (5747) to win the HJ (1.65, 90.6%) and TJ (10.95, 80.6%).

· Germany's 4x400 team clocked a WR 50.07

· Joy Noad, Great Britain, was first overall in the marathon (2:52.44).

 Lynn Brubaker, USA, swept the 5000 (24:04.23) and 10K (49:24) RWs, leading a sweep by USA walkers in the 10K - Victoria Herazo (49:46) and Debra Benton (53:20). This started a USA juggernaut in the team competition with wins in the W40, W45, W50, W55, W65, and W70. Great Britain broke the string at W60.

W45

· Debbie Brill, Canada, high jumped to a WR 1.76, which age-grades to a remarkable 104%, the best performance by any athlete at the meet and perhaps the best effort ever by a masters high jumper.

• Dagmar Fuhrmann, Germany, swept the sprints, 100 (12.01/90.8%), 200 (25.85/92.7%) and 400 (59.64).

 Bronwen Cardy-Wise, Great Britain, went from a 10K X-C gold medal (37:10) to two more in the 5000 (15:57.50) and 10,000 (36:15.86/91.3%).

Christine Schultz, Australia, won the SP (12.81), DT (42.30), and WP (4092).

• Inge Dech, Germany, used her leaping skills to win the LJ (5.35) and the 80H from Anita De Villiers, South Africa, 12.85 to 13.12. De Villiers won the 300H (68.94/90.4%). Dech had won the W40 80H and LJ in Durban.

 Germany, with disciplined handoffs, won both relays.

W50

· Germany won the relays with WRs (53.74 and 4:28.51).

· Margaritha Daehler, Switzerland, garnered gold in the LJ (4.63), TJ (9.73), and heptathlon (5876).

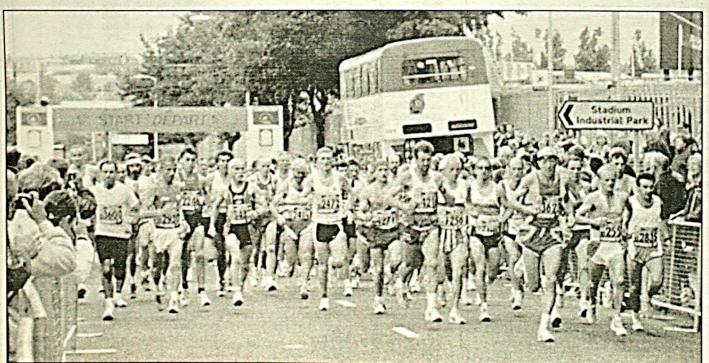

· Vivien Bonner, Great Britain, led a British sweep of the 100 (13.24/92.7%), with all three in the 92% range, and ran a winning 94.1% 26.52 in the 200.

· Margarethe Tomanek, Belgium, hurled to a WR in the WP (4313).

· Sheila Carey, Great Britain, won the 800 (2:25.83) and 1500 (5:00.33) with international-class, age-graded times in the 90%.

· Hurdler Waltraud, Kraehle, Germany, took the 80H (13.87) and 300H (50.68). W55

 Kathy Jager, USA, defeated Brunhilde Hoffman, Germany, twice, in the 100 (13.55/94.9% to 14.02/93.9%) and 200 (28.34/92.7% to 28.64/94.1%) and was second in the PV and third in the heptathlon.

• Marianne Maier, Austria, won the 80H with a 90.2% 14.12, and scored the highest in the heptathlon at 6066.

• Inkeri Janhunnen, Finland, triumphed in the 10,000 (40:12.43/90.6%) and, days later, won the 1500 (5:23.28).

• Renate Vogel, Germany, tallied firsts in the HJ (1.40/92.1%) and JT (40.44).

 Racewalker Heidi Maeder, Switzerland, won the 5000 (27:07.07/90.3%) and 10K (55:52).

• Australia broke into the relays gold medal parade by Germany and Great Britain with a win in the 4x400.

W60

• Gerda Van Kooten, Netherlands, won the unofficial "woman runner of the meet" award with WRs in the 800 (2:36.94) and 1500 (5:24.72) and wins in the 5000 (20:49.89) and X-C (44:27).

• Christiane Schmalbrucht, Germany, should also get an award as the best woman performer in the jumps. She won the HJ (1.30/93.5%), LJ (4.48/94.5%), and recorded an age-graded 100% 9.61 in the TJ, for which she holds the WR at 10.03. She was the Durban returning champion in three events.

• Becky Sisley, USA, vaulted to a WR

• Jean Hulls, Great Britain, added three gold medals to her collection with wins in the 400 (69.11), 300H (54.67/90.4%), and heptathlon (5870).

• Jeanne Hoagland, USA, won silver medals in the 400 and 1500 and a bronze in the 800.

• Elfriede Hofman, Germany, won the 100 (14.49/92.4%), with her German team mates, Gerti Reichert (14.59) and Schmalbrucht (14.70), taking second and third, and won the 200 (30.05/91.35%).

• You can probably name three of the sprinters on the German 4x100 relay team that set a WR (56.89). Germany took the 4x400, with a WR also (5:06.40).

• June-Marie Provost, Canada, strode to RW wins with a 30:52.14 and a 1:02.53.

W70
• Rachel Hanssens, Belgium, stuck a

WR in the JT (26.07) and won the SP (8.80) and WP (4026).

• Nina Naoumenko, Russia, was the success story in the distance races, taking the 1500 (6:36.04/90.5%), 5000 (24:31.92), and 10,000 (50:43.43). In all three contests, Berthilia De Preter, Belgium, who won the 800 and X-C, was second. In Durban, De Preter had won three W65 events, including the X-C.

• Isabel Hofmeyr, South Africa, hurdled to gold medals in the 80H (19.14) and 300H (68.82) and won the heptathlon 5157.

 Johnnye Valien, USA, won the LJ and PV, was second in the TJ and heptathlon and took a bronze medal in the 80H.

• The USA won both relays.

 Kaija Jortikka, Finland, swept the four throws (WR in the HT 23.92) and threw in the WP (WR 4234) for good measure.

· Paula Schneiderhan, Germany, conquered her rivals for wins in the 100, 200, 400, and LJ (WR 3.61), almost a replay of her performance in Durban.

 Helgi Pedell, Canada, bounded to a WR 1.10 in the LJ.

• Ursula Theuen, Germany, won both racewalks (37:31.76 and 1:17:28), as she did in Durban.

W80

 Olga Kotelko, Canada, did everything (and did them well) but hand out the awards, winning the 100, HJ (WR 0.92), HT (WR 23.92), JT, and WP (WR 3557).

• Britta Tibbling, Sweden, also had a wide range good outing, with a gold medal in the 400 and WRs in the racewalks (34:48.49 and 74:13).

• Friedegard Liedtke, Germany, bested the fields in the 800 (5:21.00), 1500 (10:51.18) and 5000 (37:45.19).

 Pat Peterson, USA, collected a full set of medals: gold, 400; silver, 200, and bronze, 100.

 Mary Haines, USA, gold medalled in the 10,000 and got silvers in the 1500 and 5000

WAVA First-Timer Now Hooked for Life

I'd been to three U.S. masters nationals, but competing in my first World Veterans Athletics Championships was a blast of an entirely higher caliber.

You know those fantasy baseball camps where middle-agers pay $5000 to play a little ball with ex-major league stars? This was better – and far cheaper. At Monkton Stadium in Jarrow (a secondary track used for prelims), I lined up against Stephen Peters of Britain in the 200.

Before the race, I joked with him that I'd gladly swap lanes — since he deserved my lane 4 far more than the lane 1 he'd been randomly assigned. He smiled at my joke — and proceeded to eat up the stagger and beat me by three seconds.

Two days later in the finals, Peters set a world M45 record of 22.21. In the 400 finals, he missed the WR by 0.4 second. He also bagged gold medals in both relays.

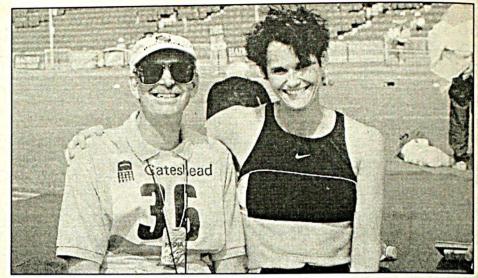

So went the whole meet. The event was Olympian in conduct but down to earth in fun. Just like the Marion Joneses and Michael Johnsons would be at Seville, we were called to a staging tent outside the stadium, led to the track by officials with walkie-talkies and had our "kits" retrieved by teen-age volunteers. But Marion and Michael couldn't have been more moved by the professionalism and respect accorded athletes who the public might have expected to retire decades ago.

I was lucky enough to secure a media pass and photographer's bib the day before the meet, so I had on-field access to many events. Even though this was a track meet, my mind swims with memories I'll never forget:

• Watching Tom Petranoff mutter at tossing the javelin only 240 feet due to pesky winds. A female official relaxed him by playfully yelling: "Get your act together." To which a respectful Petranoff replied: "Yes, ma'am!"

• Chatting with Waldo McBurney, age 96, at an adjacent javelin area after he completed the event. I stood in the sun with him for 15 minutes, sharing mutual Kansas memories. Tiring, I suggested we rest on a nearby high jump pit. Not Waldo. He wasn't ready to sit.

Ken Stone and Debbie Brill, WAVA Championships, Gateshead, England.

Guy talked my ear off!

• Laughing as WAVA's former president, Cesare Beccalli of Italy, danced like a kid to a Linda Ronstadt song at the International Party, wearing an expensive gray suit, tie and yellow carnation. And man! Dave Romansky, the Olympic racewalker, just never left the floor

• Attending the WAVA General Assembly at a gorgeous resort and hearing Malaysia's unprecedented offer of 100 free trips for athletes from poorer countries to the 2003 meet in Kuala Lumpur. A Mr. Singh closed his formal presentation by saying: "It's Malaysia's time. It's Malaysia's turn. Let's come to Malaysia and do the twist!" (Unsure of why he used the twist reference. Maybe he saw Beccalli dancing.)

• Meeting for the first time a dozen Internet friends with whom I'd been corresponding for years. Among them: M45 800 finalist Dave Clingan of Oregon (who sat with me in the stands during the Opening Ceremonies), Annette and Robert Koop of Germany (she won the W40 800 and took bronze in the 1500), and Bill Purves of Hong Kong (who found me a local athlete to stay with after my tour reservations were cancelled five weeks before the meet).

• Competing pain-free in my three track events. Even though someone strapped 5-pound ankle weights on me at the 200-meter mark in the 400m hurdles, I finished without injury. Later I was overjoyed to defeat two runners in the 200 (so I could say that I beat international competition). I was in seventh heaven in the 110 hurdles when I got my three steps up to the third hurdle for the first time in three years.

• Clearing 1.50 (4-11) in the high jump (on my third try) only a year after breaking my ankle at the Orono nationals. Afterward, I was even more excited when Canadian Olympian Debbie Brill gave a short critique of my technique. A day earlier, she had jumped a world W45 record of 1.76 (over 5-9) on her first try before injuring her take-off foot attempting an incredible 1.80 at age 46.

The weather was astonishingly good for the bulk of the meet. The level of competition was the best in WAVA history. Officiating was top-notch.

The only sad part: It all had to end.

I won't miss driving a tiny Vauxhall rental car on the wrong side of the road, navigating those treacherous roundabouts, or stick-shifting with my left hand. But I'll miss hobnobbing with world record holders, chatting with the founders of WAVA at the Gosforth Park Hotel, and having my restaurant meals interrupted by local residents who took note of my American accent and wanted to wish me well.

Gateshead was the meet of a lifetime – and left me hungry for more.

The M50 400 final, won by Dave Walter #4157, USA, with an age-graded 95.9% 53.18. Charles Allie #3791, USA, was second (53.19) and Peter Browne, Ruth Frith, Australia, did a Jortikka, compounding her four wins in the throws to a gold medal in the WP (3121).

• Sweden produced double winners Nora Wedemo, in the 100 (21.98) and 200 (53.07), and Margit Lindgren in the racewalks (42:21.59/90.1% and 1:27:30).

Kuala Lumpur to Host WAVA in 2003

The city of Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia, was officially chosen to host the 15th biennial WAVA World Veterans Athletics Championships in 2003 by the delegates to the WAVA General Assembly on Aug. 5 in Gateshead, England.

In close balloting, Kuala Lumpur edged Cauguas, Puerto Rico, 62-55 on the second ballot, after a first-ballot count of 49 (Kuala Lumpur), 37 (Cauguas), and 30 (Cesenatico, Italy).

Moscow, Russia, earlier dropped out of the running after winning a bid to another major sports event. "We can't do more than one," Moscow told WAVA.

Cauguas put on an impressive presentation, but it was not enough to overcome the sentimental vote for Kuala Lumpur, which had unsuccessfully bid on three previous occasions.

Cesenatico had staged a successful 1998 European Veterans Championships, but had virtually no presence in Gateshead. Cesenatico sent only two representatives, and its presentation paled in comparison to the more professional pitch by Kuala Lumpur and especially Cauguas.

Also, many Europeans - who comprise more than 50% of the voting delegates - reportedly did not want to go back to Italy for the world championships.

"Been there, done that," they said.

Some delegates felt the heat in Kuala Lumpur would be detrimental to the athletes, but the K.L. organizers said there would be nothing scheduled during the heat of the day - from 11 a.m. to about 4 p.m.

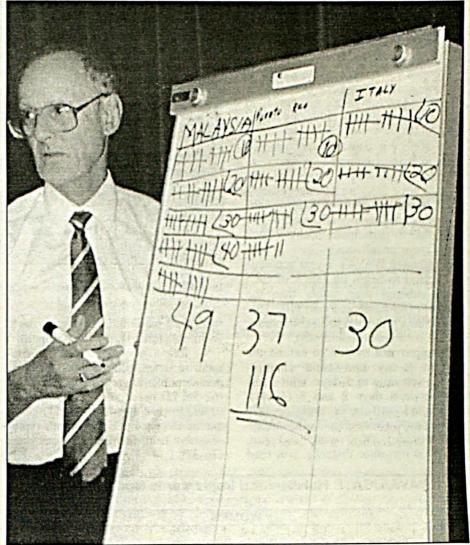

Other delegates were appalled at the repressive, military-like structure of Malaysian society, where execution is the penalty for possession of drugs.

Indeed, when asked if the death penalty was still in force for marijuana possession, the Kuala Lumpur presenters proudly said, "Yes." A few delegates were horrified, but other delegates seemed to murmur, "Good."

Buenos Aires, Argentina, defeated Udice, Czech Republic, 64-46, for the right to host the 2002 WAVA World Veterans Road Racing Championships. The date will be in May, 2002.

In 1997, delegates in Durban, South Africa, selected Valladolid, Spain, to host the 2000 Non-Stadia Championships. They also chose Brisbane, Australia, to host the 14th WAVA Athletics Championships in 2001. The date of the 2001 event is July 5-15.

Bob Fine keeps the tally in first-ballot voting for the WAVA 2003 World Championships. Kuala Lumpur, Malaysia (49) and Cauguas, Puerto Rico (37) advanced to a second ballot, while Cesenatico, Italy (30) was eliminated. Kuala Lumpur won over Cauguas on the second ballot 62-55.

600 Athletes Compete in Edinburgh Event

by MARTIN DUFF

Typically dour Scottish weather welcomed 600 athletes to the wellappointed Meadowbrook Stadium, Edinburgh, home of the 1970 and 1986 Commonwealth Games, for the BVAF event two weeks before WAVA-Gateshead. The proceedings were brightened by the appearance of around 100 guests en route to Gateshead, led by the multi-world champion Ron Robertson of New Zealand. The 58-year-old Kiwi won his three specialist events - 1500, 5000, and steeplechase - with a championship best 16:11.81 in the 5000.

The British, too, were warming up for the worlds, none more so than Steve Peters, 46, who again posted an M45 sprint treble. Helped by a 2.7 mps wind, he ran the 100 in 11.12, later adding the 200 and 400. Peter Browne, world record holder, showed that he has lost none of his competitive spirit, 10 years after Eugene, Ore., when he edged out former British International Walter Wilkinson in the M50 800 with a 2:04.02.

Janette Stevenson, who recently won a year's supply of bread in a U.S. race and gave it away to second-place, was again in top form in the 10K, adding a British record with a 36:55.29.

In the field, British heavies were out in force, with M45 Peter Gordon out to 49.36 in the discus, and Neil Griffin, 51, hitting 48.59 with the 1.5k. Evaun Williams, the best agegraded athlete in Durban when age 59, is looking to go over 40m in the hammer at age 61. She took all the throws golds here, but was a little down on her normal form.

WAVA Family Grows

Following a recommendation from Ron Bell, Vice President Non-Stadia, the WAVA Council agreed to include for the first time a WAVA world championship for the 100K run. The event will be organized by the International Association of Ultrarunners and will be held in Winschoten, Netherlands, on September 9, 2000.

Bell told NMN, "This is seen as extending the WAVA family to include those athletes of veteran age who do not run in WAVA events. We hope by including this event in our programme we will receive additional recognition from a previously untapped section of veteran athletes.

President Torsten Carlius, along with Executive Vice President Tom Jordan and Bell, met with IAU President Malcolm Campbell to agree on terms and conditions for staging the championships and were pleased to learn that the IAU is affiliated with the IAAF and recognizes the WAVA age groups.

Medals will be awarded for individual and team performances. More details will appear in future editions of - from Ron Bell NMN.

General Assembly Meets in Gateshead

In open voting on constitutional and by-law amendments at the WAVA General Assembly on August 5 in Gateshead, England, delegates voted

1) Reject a constitutional amendment to change the name "veterans" to "masters" (73-46 in favor of the change but a 2/3 vote was needed).

2) Approve a motion that any athlete suspended by any affiliate shall be ineligible to participate in any WAVA event (near unanimous).

3) Change WAVA's 2-year accounting period to begin on Jan. 1 of each odd-numbered year, rather than the current even-numbered year (102-15).

4) Add a provision to elect honorary WAVA members (unanimous).

5)Approve a motion to extend the current 2-day non-stadia championship schedule to 5-days, with a rest day between days 2 and 3 (49-41). Scheduled will be a cross-country relay, 5x4K (M40-59), 3x4K (M60+ and women), 50K walk and run, Ekiden at marathon distance, 10K road race, half-marathon, 20K road walk (women), and 30K road walk (men).

6) Reject a constitutional amendment to extend the term of the pastpresident from two years to four years (62-58; 2/3 needed).

7) Approve a similar amendment to extend the term of the women's representative from two years to four years

8) Reject a motion to require regional representatives to the WAVA Council to speak English (unanimous).

9) Reject a motion to increase the distance of the long hurdles for M60+ and W50+ from 300 to 400 meters (3-

10) Reject a motion to change the allowed number of throws for each of the five weight pentathlon events from three to four throws (5-99).

11) Reject a motion that national delegates must speak English (unani-

12) Reject a motion that German be one of the languages offered for translation at the General Assembly (unanimous). At present, only English, French and Spanish are translated.

13) Approve a motion to permit

WAVA and the OC to stage the crosscountry race at either 10K or 8K (68-

14) Approve a motion that records of 400m or less be maintained separately for electronic and hand timing

15) Approve a motion that in all combined events, an athlete must start each event (102-2).

16 Approve a motion to reduce the height of the 80-meter hurdles for M70+ and W60+ from 30" to 27" (unanimous).

17) Approve a motion to reduce the spacing of the M60 and M65 100H from 8.5m to 8.0m (unanimous).

18) Reject a motion to decrease the distance of the M60 and M65 100H to 80H (19-74).

19) Approve a motion to increase the distance to the first hurdle in the M60 and M65 100H from 13.0m to 16.0m (74-19).

20) Approve a motion to lower the heights of the M70+ and W50+ 300H from 30" to 27".

21) Approve a motion to use a 700g javelin instead of 800g for M50 and

22) Approve a motion to change the weight of the W50 and W55 javelin from 400g to 500g.

Prior to the voting, WAVA
President, Torsten Carlius, announced WAVA now has 125 affiliates. He said WAVA needs more revenues to help many areas around the world. He said the International Masters Games are here to stay, and suggested WAVA cooperate with the IMGA. No formal schedule suggestions will be made to IMGA until the Assembly meets again in 2001.

WAVA Treasurer, Peppo Galfetti, said the Council had approved a combined 1998-99 budget of $209,000, $12,000 more than the $197,000 budget the Council presented to the Assembly in 1997.

"More income, more expenses," Carlius said.

Despite an increase of $20,000 in revenues from the original budget ($30,000 was budgeted for WAVA fees from the 1998 non-stadia championships in Japan, but $50,000 was received, due to a large number of entries), higher-than-budgeted expenses of $92,921 resulted in a deficit for 1998 of $13,026.

EAST

• Peter Kirk, 42, Rockville, MD, in 15:46, and Annette Stertzer, 42, Oakton, VA, in 17:52, were top masters, both seventh-place finishes, 10th National Race For The Cure 5K, Washington, DC, June 5. Fay Bradley, 61, Washington, DC, M60 winner (18:43) was 82nd of the 66,148 registrant runners and walkers in the event, the world's largest 5K.

• In the first of a series of Baltimore-area women's races in June, first W40+ Eleanor Simonsick, 41, Baltimore, was fifth overall (40:24), Avon Running 10K, June 13. Marge Rosasco, 51, was seventh W40+ (46:22). On June 19, Betty Blank, 46, Falls Church, VA, ran an eighth-place 19:18 for masters honors, RRCA Women's Distance Festival 5K, Fredericksburg, VA. Tami Graf, 62, Lusby, MD, was 31st overall (23:33) of 200 finishers. Pat Wilkerson, 40, Baltimore, MD, hastened to a W40+ first (21:14) in a hot and humid Run For The Roses 5K, Wheaton, MD, June 26. Sharon Dolan, 57, Gaithersburg, MD, was third master (21:40).

• Chuck Moeser, 47, Sterling, VA, with a fourth-place 16:16, and Betty Blank, 46, 20:36, turned in masters firsts in the Tommy's American 5K, Washington, DC, July 3. Ed Sheehan, 42, Washington, DC, was a close second, with a 16:20. Julie Trapp, 55, Silver Spring, MD, was the first W50+ in 24:52.

MIDWEST

• Doug Sundling, 43, bested the field with an overall first 2:59:13, Hoosier Marathon, Ft. Wayne, IN, June 12. Cathy Dwyer, W40, took the masters women's victory with a 3:40:56.

 Masters winners in the Old Kent River Bank 25K, Grand Rapids, MI, May 8, were Jim Hage, M40, in 82:51, and Jane Welzel, W40, in 92:47.

MID-AMERICA

• Bill Rodgers, 51, four-time Boston and NYC Marathon winner, and Joan Samuelson, 1984 Olympic Marathon champion, were honored at the 25th Quad-City Bix 7 Miler, Davenport, IA, July 31, with the unveiling of a bronze statue of themselves. The life-size statue pays tribute to their contributions to the Bix 7 and inspiration to millions of runners. Samuelson was first W40+ in a 14th-female overall 40:17. Kim Jones, 41, was second in 41:54. First M40+ Mark Curp was 21st overall in 36:35, with Tim Schmid, 40, following in 37:14.

• Peter Koech, 43, Kenya/Albuquerque, NM, with a third-place 71:47, and Mark Curp, 40, Lee's Summit, MO, with a fourth-place 72:17, both collected $750 (Curp's fourth-place money was bolstered by a first-place local M40+ prize), Trinity Hospital Hill-Half-Marathon, Kansas City, MO, June 6.  Alfred Funk, 85, altered the M85-89 ARs for the 800 with a 3:38.8 and the 1500 with a 7:12.0, Big Sky State Games, Billings, MT, July 16-18. The present records of 3:58.3 and 7:44.96 are held by Paul Spangler in 1984.

CANADA

• Indefatigable Johnny Gray, 39, won the 800 in the Pan Am Games, Winnipeg, Manitoba, with a 1:43.38. He says that retirement crosses his mind once a year, but added "This year, it's crossed my mind 10 or 15 times. If I don't return, I'll run masters races. I'm getting tired of running against kids half my age."

• Art Meaney, M55, ran a 27:24 at the Mews 8K, July 4, and a 58:12 in the Telegram 10 Mile, July 11, in St. John's, Newfoundland.

GEORGE BANKER Eleanor Simonsick, 41, first W40+ (40:24), Avon Running 10K, Baltimore, Md., June 13.

PULAK

Bhashwar Hart winning the M50 100 (12.63), Sri Chinmoy Masters Games, Jamaica, N.Y., May 29. Ivan Black #114, third, went on to win the Male Best Athlete Award for most points scored.

INTERNATIONAL

Dutch runners were in world record territory in July, with Simon Herlaar, a new M70, running a 5:23.59 mile and a 10:42.40 3000, and Ad Heijdens, just 60, scampering to a 16:12.57 5000. John Keston of the US holds the present M70 mile record at 5:34.00 and the 3000 record with a 10:51.0. Stephen James, of Great Britain, holds the M60 record with a

CORRECTIONS

• Mark Twedt, M55, was ranked first in the McMahon Family Trust Indoor Rankings for the 55H in the July issue. His actual mark was 8.9h, placing him second to Kerry Sloan (8.4h).

• Kevin Lendo, M35, was the winner of the 200 with a 25.16 and the 400 with a 52.51 in the results of the Louisiana Games, p. 31, August issue.
