MELBOURNE CHESS CLUB.

MATCH BETWEEN THE MARKIED AND SINGLE. This match took place at the Club Rooms on the evening of Thurday, the ind instant, and turned out a very successful affair. The players, who were the same as we have already named, except that the place of Mr. Hammond, who was called out of town, was supplied by Mr. A'Beckett, met a little after 5 o'clock, and were paired as follows :-

MARRIED.	TINGLE.
Mr. Burns	Mr. Goldsmith
Stephen	Connell
Bedgefield	L. 8. Phillips
Simpson	Cooles
P. D. Phillips	Chamier
Luiman	Black
A'Beckett	Ainsley

The single men had the first move as the boards with the odd sumber, and the married at the others. The time allowed was an hour for twenty moves, and the play proceeded so expeditionsly, that all the games were over before 8 o'clock, with the exception of that between Messra. Goldsmith and Burns, which lasted till 10 o'clock. In this game which was the hardest fought of the series, Mr. Burns early lost his mest important pawn, the king's, through an obvious allp, and was stiterwards obliged to play for a draw. He had secured a drawn position, but at the end made the wrong move, which enabled his opposent to break through his defences and win. The finish was very well and vigorously played by Mr. Goldsmith. The match resulted in a decided victory for the Benedics, who scored four games to their opponents' two, the remaining game, that between Misers. L. S. Phillips and Bedgefield, being frawn. The victors on the side of the married were Messrs. Stephen, Simpson, Lul-man, and 'Bechett; and on the side of the single Messre. Gol-smith and Chamier. It is probable that a return match will be arranged to take place at an early date.

White moves first and win

IN THE MATTER OF WILLIAM OLIVE.

IN THE MATTER OF WILLIAM OLIVE. This was a renewed application for a certificate. Mr. E. M. Forster appeared on behalf of insolvent. His Honor said it was quite impossible that persons could drop the proceedings in the Court and come up at seme future time, as if nothing had happened, thinking they were in a better position. It only caused extra trouble to go back to ascertain what had previously taken place. Mr. Forster said that insolvent obtained his light gas a carrier, and had no fixed residence, so that it might take weeks for a communication to reach him. His Honor said that there seemed to have been an appli-cation for certificate of conformity called on, and, there being no attendance, it was struck out of the list. Ho would allow the present application to stand over until Tuesday, the 11th of November, in order to allow insolvent to file an affidavit of explanation. IN THE MATTER OF CHARLES JAMES GRANT.

To Mr. Fawl : I had about £160 when I entered upon the business, of which I gave £100 for the stock ; all that money has been sunk in the business. The official assignee, Mr. Humphery, read his report, no directions were given, and the meeting terminated.

FIJI ISLANDS.

By way of Auckland we have news from Fiji to the 30th September. It would appear from the subjoined extracts that the disturbance which had taken place there had sub-sided. It is reported that a new Constitution—providing for the right of voting by foreigners as well as by natives, to which instar the white population is opposed, but to which the King adheres as just to his people—is about to be issued. Captain Simpson, who has seen the proposed new Constitution, declared his approval of it, and that he believes it will work well, and be accepted by all. "By the plain law of the case," he added. "any laws promulgated under that Constitution by the King and chiefs must be obeyed."

lost nine native soldiers, and five white officers. Grasham and Jack were killed, Harding, Jones, and Jonson dan-gerously wounded. Jones was shot through the langs. Jonson had both arms broken, and Harding had aix musket balls extracted. So you will see the work was pretty hot. Major H. Thurston is in command there, and has carried all before him, taking all the towns in the mountains which have so long been the stronghold of the camibals of these ialands. Among others he took the town where the King was defeated in 1868, and has recovered the skull of poor Baker, the Wesleyan missionary, murdered and eaten in 1867, and which has been exposed in the heathen tem-ple there ever since. He has also brought from there a very singular carving in ivory—a huge whale's tooth beautifully done and much in the Japanese style. It re-presents two women, and how if got there is a mystery. The Fiji Gozette says :—Intelligence has arrived of the fall of Nabutautau—the great rebel stronghold, and from all appearance no further opposition of consequence will be offered to his Majesty's troops. The troops, under Major Thurston, attacked Nabutautau on the 11th instant, and were received by a sharp fire from the summit of a hill, which, however, was not sustained long, as the ememy retreated into the bush. The bush was cleared in gallant style by the Na Gaga auxiliaries, and no further resistance was offered—the enemy set at the forces returned to camp at Vatu Koro. One of the Na Gaga men was killed, and three wounded is pur-ters, acting without orders, started with a body of men to burn a small town during the temporary absence of Major Thurston, and had a very sharp akimiah. Being, however, reinforced; they retired upon the camp in good order, having caused great loss to the enemy. In this affar one may was killed, and one wounded. Despatches have been received from Ba, bringing the latest intelligence with re-spect to the victorious advances of his Majesty's troops. Major Thurston reports that his command has abandoned Wal has doubtless by this time been stormed, as the troops mus-tered for the stack now number some 1500. On the 29th ultimo the town of Vatu Koro was burnt, and 156 prisoners have been sent down to the coast. The natives in the interior are getting a frightful harrying—the quantity of queer old guns, clubs, spears, axes, &c., taken from them is incalculable: and soon the Viti Levu problem will be solved, as their complete subjection and disarmament is now placed beyond a doubt, remaining but a question of time. By advices received we learn that five Navost towns —the last being the celebratedNabutautau—have been taken and destroyed. The campaign is thus closed, and the forces have returned to the coast. Military posts will be established at once to prevent the mountaineers making head again. The regular troops, under command of Major H. C. Thurston, have marched overland to Korotabu ; and will arrive at head quarters sometime during the next week.

Will arrive an intera quarters week. A Mr. Hedemann (representative of one of the largest German houses in Europe), who is establishing an axten-sive business here, finding that fair words and argument were of no avail, chartered a vessel, and has gone to Sydney with the avowed purpose of telegraphing the state of the country to Berlin, and asking that one of the squadron in the China Seas may be sent down to Fiji to try the per-suasive powers of his Imperial Majesty's guns.

He asked for insolvent, who now filed a document which was perfectly inappropriate to the application. The credi-tors could release the estate, but they could not agree that insolvent should have his certificate, which Parliament said abould be granted in another form. If insolvent took so many years to consider about the matter, he must have forgotten a great deal, and how could he explain that which he swore in 1862. If he could not do so, it was impossible for him to say that insolvent had conformed to the provi-sions of the Act. The application was withdown
