CARAVAN TRIPS SUGGESTED

SOLDIERS OFFERED OPENING

Mr. J. C. Boyce, head of the Victorian Railways' Tourist Bureau, states that there are many demands by the public for a holiday caravan service in Victoria, and commends the enterprise to the Repatriation Department for the benefit of returned soldiers.

There are many routes along beautiful and picturesque scenery which are open for caravan traffic, but not served by railways, and Mr. Boyce considers that here is an opportunity for the formation of the most pleasant character, which would be eagerly availed of by holiday makers.

The equipment required is a suitable designed caravan, with five or six sleeping berths, drawn by a pair of horses. Healdsville, for instance, offers a favorable starting point for a trip and return lasting a week through the best holiday country.

In England the caravan system for holiday trippers is highly popular, as it enables people from the crowded cities to enjoy a week or more in the open air under ideal picnic conditions, in which monotony would find no place.

NATIONAL PARK VISITORS SEARCH KITCHEN MIDDENS

STONE AXES FOUND

(From Our Special Correspondent.)

DARBY, Wednesday.

Tourists at the National Park explored the hills and other beauty spots a few miles from the camp today. Parties visited Verkerker Range, seven miles away, and Darby Ridge, two miles, for the extensive views and variety of scenery and animal life. Others searched ancient aboriginal kitchen middens on the sand dunes for stone axes, flaked knives, and bone needles. Old camping grounds of the natives are indicated by enormous accumulations of shells, bones of native animals, and stone flakes. The visitors were surprised by these things.

The coach of the aviators, Capt. R. Douglas and Lieut. J. S. I. Ross was announced at lunch today, and the whole party stood in silence as a mark of respectful sympathy with the relatives.

A camp concert was held in the evening, with cinema pictures, gramophone selections and a mock trial by jury.

WAR SAVINGS CERTIFICATES SHOW ADVANCE IN VICTORIA

£150,000 RECEIVED TO DATE

When the Federal Government decided to continue the War Savings Movement originally initiated to raise money for war purposes, in order to provide funds for repatriation, the Commonwealth War Savings Council decided to make the experiment of an intensive campaign in Victoria.

This State was selected as offering the best field for the experiment. A comprehensive advertising and publicity scheme was formulated. The State was divided into four districts, and two organizers were appointed to each district. The men engaged were all returned soldiers, selected for their platform experience and their organizing ability.

The campaign extended over a period of four months, and the results have just been tabulated by the Secretary of the Victorian War Savings Committee. They show that 310 groups with a membership of 11,536 were formed in the Western district, 251 groups with a membership of 10,333 in Gippsland, 137 groups with a membership of 2,843 in the Mallee, and 121 groups with a membership of 2,471 in the North-Eastern district. This makes a total of 419 groups with a membership of 24,183. Altogether 210 towns were visited. These figures are exclusive of the Metropolitan area.

Turning the period under review over, £150,000 was received from the sale of war savings certificates in Victoria. One merit of the war savings scheme is that the movement is continuous and the initial impulse given to it in Victoria should result in gradually increasing returns from the sales of certificates. It is recognized by those associated with the movement, both in Great Britain and in the Australian States, that its great value is the inculcation of the saving habit. Financial and economic authorities agree that in the present era of superabundant cash and soaring prices it is especially necessary both in State and private expenditure.

INDUSTRIAL PROBLEMS

SEWER WORKERS' AWARD

Mr. W. Bryant, Melbourne representative of the Australian Workers' Union, commented adversely today on the decision of the Metropolitan Board of Works to approach the Industrial Appeals Court in regard to the rates fixed for sewer workers by the Wages Board.

Mr. Bryant said the men had agreed to accept the rates fixed up by the Wages Board, which recently gave its determination. The Metropolitan Board admitted that it did not employ directly many of the men affected. The Metropolitan Board of Works had an opportunity to oppose the personnel of the Wages Board and to appoint a representative, and it did not do so through one of its members attended and gave evidence. Now that one State tribunal had given an award, the Metropolitan Board proposed to pay the taxpayers to further expense by appealing to another tribunal. This was the sort of thing that led men to adopt direct action. Though the Metropolitan Board of Works had agreed to work it delegated its functions to others.

Mr. Snowball, one of the legal members of the Legislative Assembly, has given notice that he will move for the rejection of two clauses in the Nurses' Bill after the third reading has been agreed to by the House, to prevent any doctor being boycotted by nurses acting on their own initiative or in association with other members.

The penalty Mr. Snowball proposes for any registered nurse who so withholds, delays, or refuses her services without just and lawful excuse, when required by a medical practitioner, is debarment by the Nurses' Registration Board. He also seeks to make it an offence, punishable with fines from £10 to £50, for any person or association to induce or attempt to induce any registered nurse to withhold or delay her services when required by a doctor.
