The Commodore Mine will clean up about 1,500 tons to-morrow for which a return by amalgamation and cyanidation of something under £1 per ton is expected. The shimes which have been stacked for future treatment represent nearly half the total tonnage crushed, and assay about 8/ per ton. With extraction costs and loss in rectifying taken off the profit on these is unlikely to be more than 2/6 per ton. About 500 tons of lowgrade dump stuff has still to be treated before a start can be made below.

PROMOTION FOR COL. LUSCOMBE.

Lieut-Col. A. P. Luscombe, who has for some time occupied the position of Chief Staff Officer in South Australia, has been appointed Assistant Adjutantifeneral in New South Wales, and will, leave for Sydney on June 13. Col. Luscombe spent his early career at the addition Barracks, Sydney, and his new duties will lie in the same place. He has made himself generally popular here, and his departure will be regretted. He received his first appointment in 1889, was ceived his first appointment in 1889, was promoted to captain in 1895, brevet major in 1962, and major in 1966. He was with the New South Wales forces until 1997, after which he acted in Victoria as D.A.Q.M.G. for three years. In June 1996, he received the appointment of D.A.G. and D.A.Q.M.G. in South Australia. During the South African war he served as staff officer of the base Commandant at Capetown, and was D.A.A.G. of transport in 1900. He won the Queen's Medal with three classes. Col. Lascombe's service abroad includes a period in India spent principally at Poona and Lucknow. SHAKING UP CADETS. Senior cadets who have rendered them-

Shaking UP Caders.

Senior cadets who have rendered themselves liable to prosecution for not having attended the statutory number of parades during the year will be given an opportunity to complete their service and thus avoid punishment. The Minister for Delence (Sr. Pearce) stated that he has is sued to the Adjutant-General a memorandum which would be communicated to the Commundants as an order that area officers be instructed to receive the names of all senior cadets who had failed to attend the requisite number of statutory parades, and desired to escape the prosecutions to be undertaken after June 30. Whenever a sufficient number of such cadets came forward special parades for them would be held on consecutive days to enable them to complete the requisite number of drills. Those parades would not affect the cadets who had completed the statutory number of drills, as they would be held on week days. Loss of time at work might be caused to some of the cadets, but it was not proposed to compensate them on that account, seeing that the omission to attend the parades had not been the fault of the department. The statutory parades could have been attended without loss of workins time.

This will mean a considerable amount of work to area officers and instructors. They were hoping to have the whole of June free to enable them to balance their equipment and clothing account, and also to enter up the record books with the service of each cadet. This will throw all that work back till July, and in July the new batch of cadets commence to train, which will mean a considerable amount of heavy work for area officers and their instructors. It is anticipated that many cadets will avail themselves of the opportunity to attend these voluntary parades crowded in the last few days. It is the back door entrance would not be available. It is generally admitted by most military men that it would be far better, and more beneficial to the scheme to carry it out in its entirely, and enforce the prosecutions in July. This would imp 20,000 SHIRKERS.

Over 20,000 cadets have failed to attend their full complement of parades, and will be liable to a minimum fine of £5, and will then be compelled to make up all the drills they have missed. It is a serious situation, both for the cadets and the success of the scheme. It was not expected that there would be so many youthful citizens incapable of the defence of their country. The percentage of attendances in South Australia works out at 55, which is a long way down the list. In muskerry South Australia is the leading State, but the great need in this respect is the miniature rifle class close to the area. Arrangements are being made for baby ranges to be erected in some hall in every area. This will give the area officers an opportunity of giving individual instruction to each lad. The present method of taking 60 or 70 cadets to scamper through a course at Port Adelaide is a failure, as no time is available to teach a boy to shoot if he is incompetent. VICEREGAL LEVEE.

Osborne House, Geelong, which was used as a lever to force the New South Wales Government to terms over the Naval College site, was effective. The trouble is now over, and Jervis Bay will be the site for the Naval Colloge. Should the department find it necessary to establish a depot at Geelong it is probable that the Geelong Harbour Trust will be again approached. CADETS TO CANADA.

Arangements are almost complete for the departure by the White Star liner Suevic of the Commonwealth Cadets. The Suevic will leave Sydney on June 7, having on board the Queensland and New South Wales representatives, while the Victo-rian, Tasmanian, and South Australian Cadets will join in Meibourne, and the Western Australian lads in Albany.

cir Ernest Shackleton recently gave a London "Daily Mail" representative some interesting details relating to icebergs.

"The northern bergs," he said, "are formed of land ice-carved off from land glaciers. In the winter time there is hardly any movement of the ice. In some years there is a general break-up of the ice in the spring, and the danger zone consists not only of the actual ice-
