The body of an ex-convict, named Muller, who had dissipated the proceeds of some merchandise with which he had been intrusted to sell, was found hanging in his house in Noumea on the 20th of October. He left behind him, addressed to the magistrates of Noumea, a biography which was a model of conciseness. "I die in peace," he wrote, "I ask pardon of God, as I pardon all those who have done me wrong. I was born in 1840, at Offenbeeh, in the Dunchy of Hesse, near Frankfort-on-the-Main. SOUTH BRISBANE POST OFFICE,

SOUTH BRISBANE POST OFFICE,

Two deputations were introduced yesterday to the Postmaster-Lieueral with reference to the site of the new post and telegraph office for South Brisbane by Mr. Luya, M.L.A. The first consisted of property-holders in the borough, and there were present—Mosser, J. M. Sincisir, J. M. Davidson, E. Barter, M. Adam, J. Wilde, D. Moody, and D. Franck, Mr. Luya stated that the deputation thought that Stanley-street, being the principal business thoroughfare of the borough, the post and telegraph office should be situated there, and not in Melbourne-street as contemplated by the Government. They were of opinion that for business people in Stanley-street, at least for those whose places of business were some distance from Victoria Bridge, the proposed site would not be a suitable one, and considered that the office should be situated about the junction of Stanley and Glenelg streets, or Glenoig and Grey streets.

Mr. Davinson said that the object which the deputation had in view was the erection of the new post and telegraph office at the corner of Stanley and Choole streets, somewhere near the Fire Station. That site they considered to be the most central for all portions of the borough. But if the Government had made un their

Similey and Cloneig streets, somewhere near the Fire Station. That site they considered to be the most central for all portions of the borough.
But if the Government had made up their mind to have the building included in the Melbourne-street station, they would urge that it should be erected at the entrance to the station from Gleuelg and Grey streets. He expressed hope that steps would be taken to remove the disabilities under which the people of South Brisbane laboured with regard to their postal and telegraph services as speedilg as possible.
Mr. Sixcam expressed similar views.
The other deputation consisted of Aldermen Kennedy, Midsen, and Morry, as representing the Municipal Conneil.
Mr. Monar stated that as the representative of the West End district in the Municipal Conneil he had been in favour of the post and telegraph office being situated somewhere about the junction of Stanley and Staphens streets, but having talked the matter ever with his fellow-aldermen, and having been informed that when the new office was completed there would be a testier postal service for his district, and that the charge of sixpence for the editority of each telegram in the Hill End portion of the borough would be discontinued, he was quite satisfied with the site selected by the Government. He asked that steps should be taken for a later collection of laters than 3 p.m. in the Hill End district.

Mr. Miroon considered that a site at the corner of Grey and Melbourne streets as being the most suitable for the wants of the whole borough.

Mr. Leva said that the fact of fitanley-street orough.

Mr. Luya said that the fact of Stanley-street berough.

Mr. Leva said that the fact of Stanley-street being the leading thoroughfare to the southern portions of the colony should not be lest sight of by the Government when considering the erection of any public building in South Brisbane.

Mr. Dowarnece stated that he had received a telegram from Mr. Jerdan, M.L.A., who regretted that, on account of a slight indisposition, he could not be present. The matter of the site of the new office had received great consideration from himself and the officers of the department. They had determined upon Melbourne-street as the site of the building, with a branch office at the Five Ways. That they considered would be the most central site for the whole of the berough, and would be the best one for the working of the department. The intention was to put the office at the corner of Hope and Melbourne streets, but he would consult with the Railway Commissioners about altering the site to the corner of Grey and Melbourne streets. The suggestion that the building should be put up at the corner of Glenelg and Grey streets did not at all commend itself to him. The Railway Department proposed to take a portion of the building, and pay a part of the cost of erection. He did not know whether the commissioners would be agreeable to changing the site of the poet and telegraph office to the error of Grey to take a portion of the building, and pay a part of the cost of erection. He did not know whether the commissioners would be agreeable to changing the site of the post and telegraph effice to the corner of Grey and Melbourne streets, but he would do his best to bring it about. He would do his best to bring it about. He was aware that the removal of the post office in Stanley-street to Woolloongabba must have caused inconvenience to business poople, but he hoped in a few days a temperary one would be opened in that thoroughfare. The delay in opening a suitable office had been caused through as error in the title of the building which the Government had secured. The matter of baving a later collection of letters in the West End district would at once have his attention. As to the charge of 6d, for the delivery of each telegram in Hill End, he agreed with Mr. Morry that it was a hardship, and promised that it would be done away with as soon as better facilities for telegraphic work in South Brisbane could be provided.
