

this automatic mechanism, ICE users are trained to remove plates from alert lists when they no longer relate to an ongoing criminal or administrative investigation.

9. How often will managers conduct audit trails? The 2015 report said quarterly if not more often but it's not clear if this was specified in the 2017 report.

The audit logs will be provided to the ICE agency managers quarterly and the ICE Office of Professional Responsibility (OPR) upon request.

10. Can ICE users upload license plate numbers into their "alert list" that belong to people whose documented status is about to change? For instance, the license plate numbers belonging to DACA recipients whose permits are about to expire?

ICE does not use the LPR data service to locate or track individuals who do not have a nexus to ICE investigatory or enforcement activities.

11. Can DHS/ICE access data uploaded by local law enforcement agencies if they have opted out of the system? Are there any circumstances under which ICE can gain access?

ICE can only access data uploaded by local law enforcement agencies if those agencies elect to share the data they upload into the vendor system. There are no circumstances where ICE can gain access through the vendor system if a law enforcement agency has chosen not to share its data.

12. How many local law enforcement databases does ICE have permission to access?

The reporter will need to contact Vigilant and TRSS for this information.
