Sale of Men's Fine Shirts ordinarily 3.00 and 3.50 to-day at 1.85

HERALD.

I This is one of the golden opportunities of the Fall shirt campaign. Values such as these belong to the higher altitudes of price, and it is rarely indeed that shirts of this character are caught at a dollar eighty-five above sea level.

9 There are 1200 in all, made of fine quality silk and linen, Russian cords and French flannels. All are soft front models, in coat effect, with French cuffs, and some have collar to match.

The workmanship and finish are of that superior quality which one is accustomed to expect for 3.00 and 3.50 and which many men will be only too anxious to acquire at the low price of 1.85.

¶ All sizes and all sleeve lengths, and values that are easily the peer of anything in the current history of shirts.

"The Period" .. a New Derby .. 3.50

Called "The Period" because it marks the last word in Derbies. That is to say, it has everything stopped in Derby styles for present wear. Round curled brim, flat set. Not a bit freakish, vet different. Made by the Stetson people exclusively for us, in their light weight self-conforming quality. A headliner in every respect. Black, of course, and bronze, which is the newest, smartest Derby shade.
