GRADED TAX PLAN SCORED BY LATHAM

Republican Says It Will Increase Burden of Home Owner

The new taxing ideas of Councilman Charles Belous of Corona and Hugh Quinn of Astoria "would work havoc among the 126,000 home owners of Queens and result in a great increase of the already excessive tax burden."

That's the opinion of Henry J. Latham of Hollis, Republican candidate for state senator.

"It would result in the extinction of the home owner as a member of the community," he said. "Supposing a Queens home owner has a house, for instance, on a 40-100 plot which is adjacent to an apartment house on a plot of the same dimensions. Now each of these property pay taxes in ratio to the value of the land and improvements."

"Under the graded tax plan, each would pay the same taxes on the land and this would be 90 per cent of the whole bill."

"The net result of the Belous-Quinn idea would be to shift taxes from the apartment houses, office buildings and other highly improved income-producing properties to the home owner and the vacant land owner. The high tax on homes and vacant land would result in virtual confiscation of these properties," Latham declared.

"Home building would be discouraged, not stimulated. Owners of vacant land who now pay some revenue to the city would be forced to surrender title to the city and the city would be the biggest landholder in the community. Meanwhile, it would be getting no taxes at all from the vacant real estate."

"The taxing ideas of Councilmen Belous and Quinn are not new," he said. They are a variety of the old Henry George single tax plan."

The senatorial candidate proposed his own scheme for relieving the overtaxed homeowners. He would exempt homes from taxation to the limit of half their assessed valuation, not to exceed $3,300. This plan, he claims, will reduce foreclosures, increase building and keep people off relief.

Meanwhile, Walter Fairchild of Sunnyside, chairman of the Graded Tax Committee, issued a statement to show, he said, that some of Queens' apartment houses are overtaxed today. The Carlton House at 167th street and Crocheron avenue, he said, is assessed at $31,000 on land and $225,000 on improvements.

Under the new taxing scheme, the land assessment would be doubled and the building assessment cut 90 per cent.

Ryan Denies Guilt In Park Crash

James Ryan, 31, of Brooklyn, was arraigned before Magistrate Frank Giorgio in Ridgewood Felony Court, Friday, on three charges—driving while intoxicated, leaving the scene of an accident, and automobile assault. He pleaded not guilty and was held in $1,500 bail for further hearing on Oct. 15.

The complaint against Ryan, an employe of the Park Department, charges that at 8:15 o'clock Friday night, he drove his automobile onto the sidewalk at Crescent and Hunter streets, Long Island City, and into James A. Rafferty Memorial Park. The car, it is charged in the complaint, struck a bench on which Mary Kaplan, 22, of 38-07 42nd road, Long Island City, was seated. She was taken to St. John's Hospital suffering fractures of both legs, a dislocated hip and severe body bruises.

BUSES TO RUN ALL NIGHT TO HOOK CREEK

Civic Association Informed of Extra Service to South Side

All-night service from Jamaica to Farmers boulevard and Hook Creek will be initiated by Jamaica Buses, Inc., starting tonight, the New York Improvement and Civic Association has been informed by Harry Weissman, general superintendent of the company.

The service will be continued for a 30-day trial period to determine whether there is justification to include it as part of the company's permanent schedule, Weissman declared. "We do not anticipate any additional revenue from this service," he said, "but if it will provide a convenience for only four or five passengers we feel that it will be worthwhile."

Effective at midnight, buses will leave Parsons boulevard and Hillside avenue under the following schedule: 12 midnight to Far Rockaway; 12:20 A. M. to Far Rockaway; 12:40 A. M. to Far Rockaway; 1 A. THERE'S NO POINT IN LETTING NERVES GET FRAYED!

COCKER SPANIEL

Spanyell family dates back to 1386. Cocker is smallest of family. A very popular pure-bred dog in U. S. Standard colors range from solid blacks, reds, to shades of cream; liver red and combinations. Versatile in the field, can be trained into desirable retriever. Great lover of human family.

HE'S GIVING HIS NERVES A REST

AND SO IS HE

HAVE you noticed how a dog, in the midst of play, suddenly stops and rests? His nerve system—as complicated and high-strung as our own—has signalled that it's time to relax! Man, unfortunately, is less sensitive to the warnings of his nerves. Though nerves may need a restful pause, we are inclined to press on in our absorbing tasks—relentlessly—forgetful of mounting nerve strain. When we find ourselves tense, irritable, upset, we may not even realize why. Don't let tension tie your nerves in a knot. Make it your pleasant rule to break nerve tension often through the day—TO LET UP—LIGHT UP A CAMEL! Feel how gratefully nerves welcome the mellow intermission that your nearby package of Camels suggests. And not only do smokers find Camel's costlier tobaccos soothing to the nerves—but milder, too—ripe-rich in flavor—completely enjoyable from every angle!

Millions of people who live happily LET UP—LIGHT UP A CAMEL

FLAGSHIP PILOT, Captain Walter J. Hunter of American Airlines, speaks for his profession when he says: "Ragged nerves and flying don't mix. I head off nerve tension by giving my nerves regular rests—I let up and light up a Camel. I find Camels soothing to the nerves. Camels set a new record with me for true smoking enjoyment."

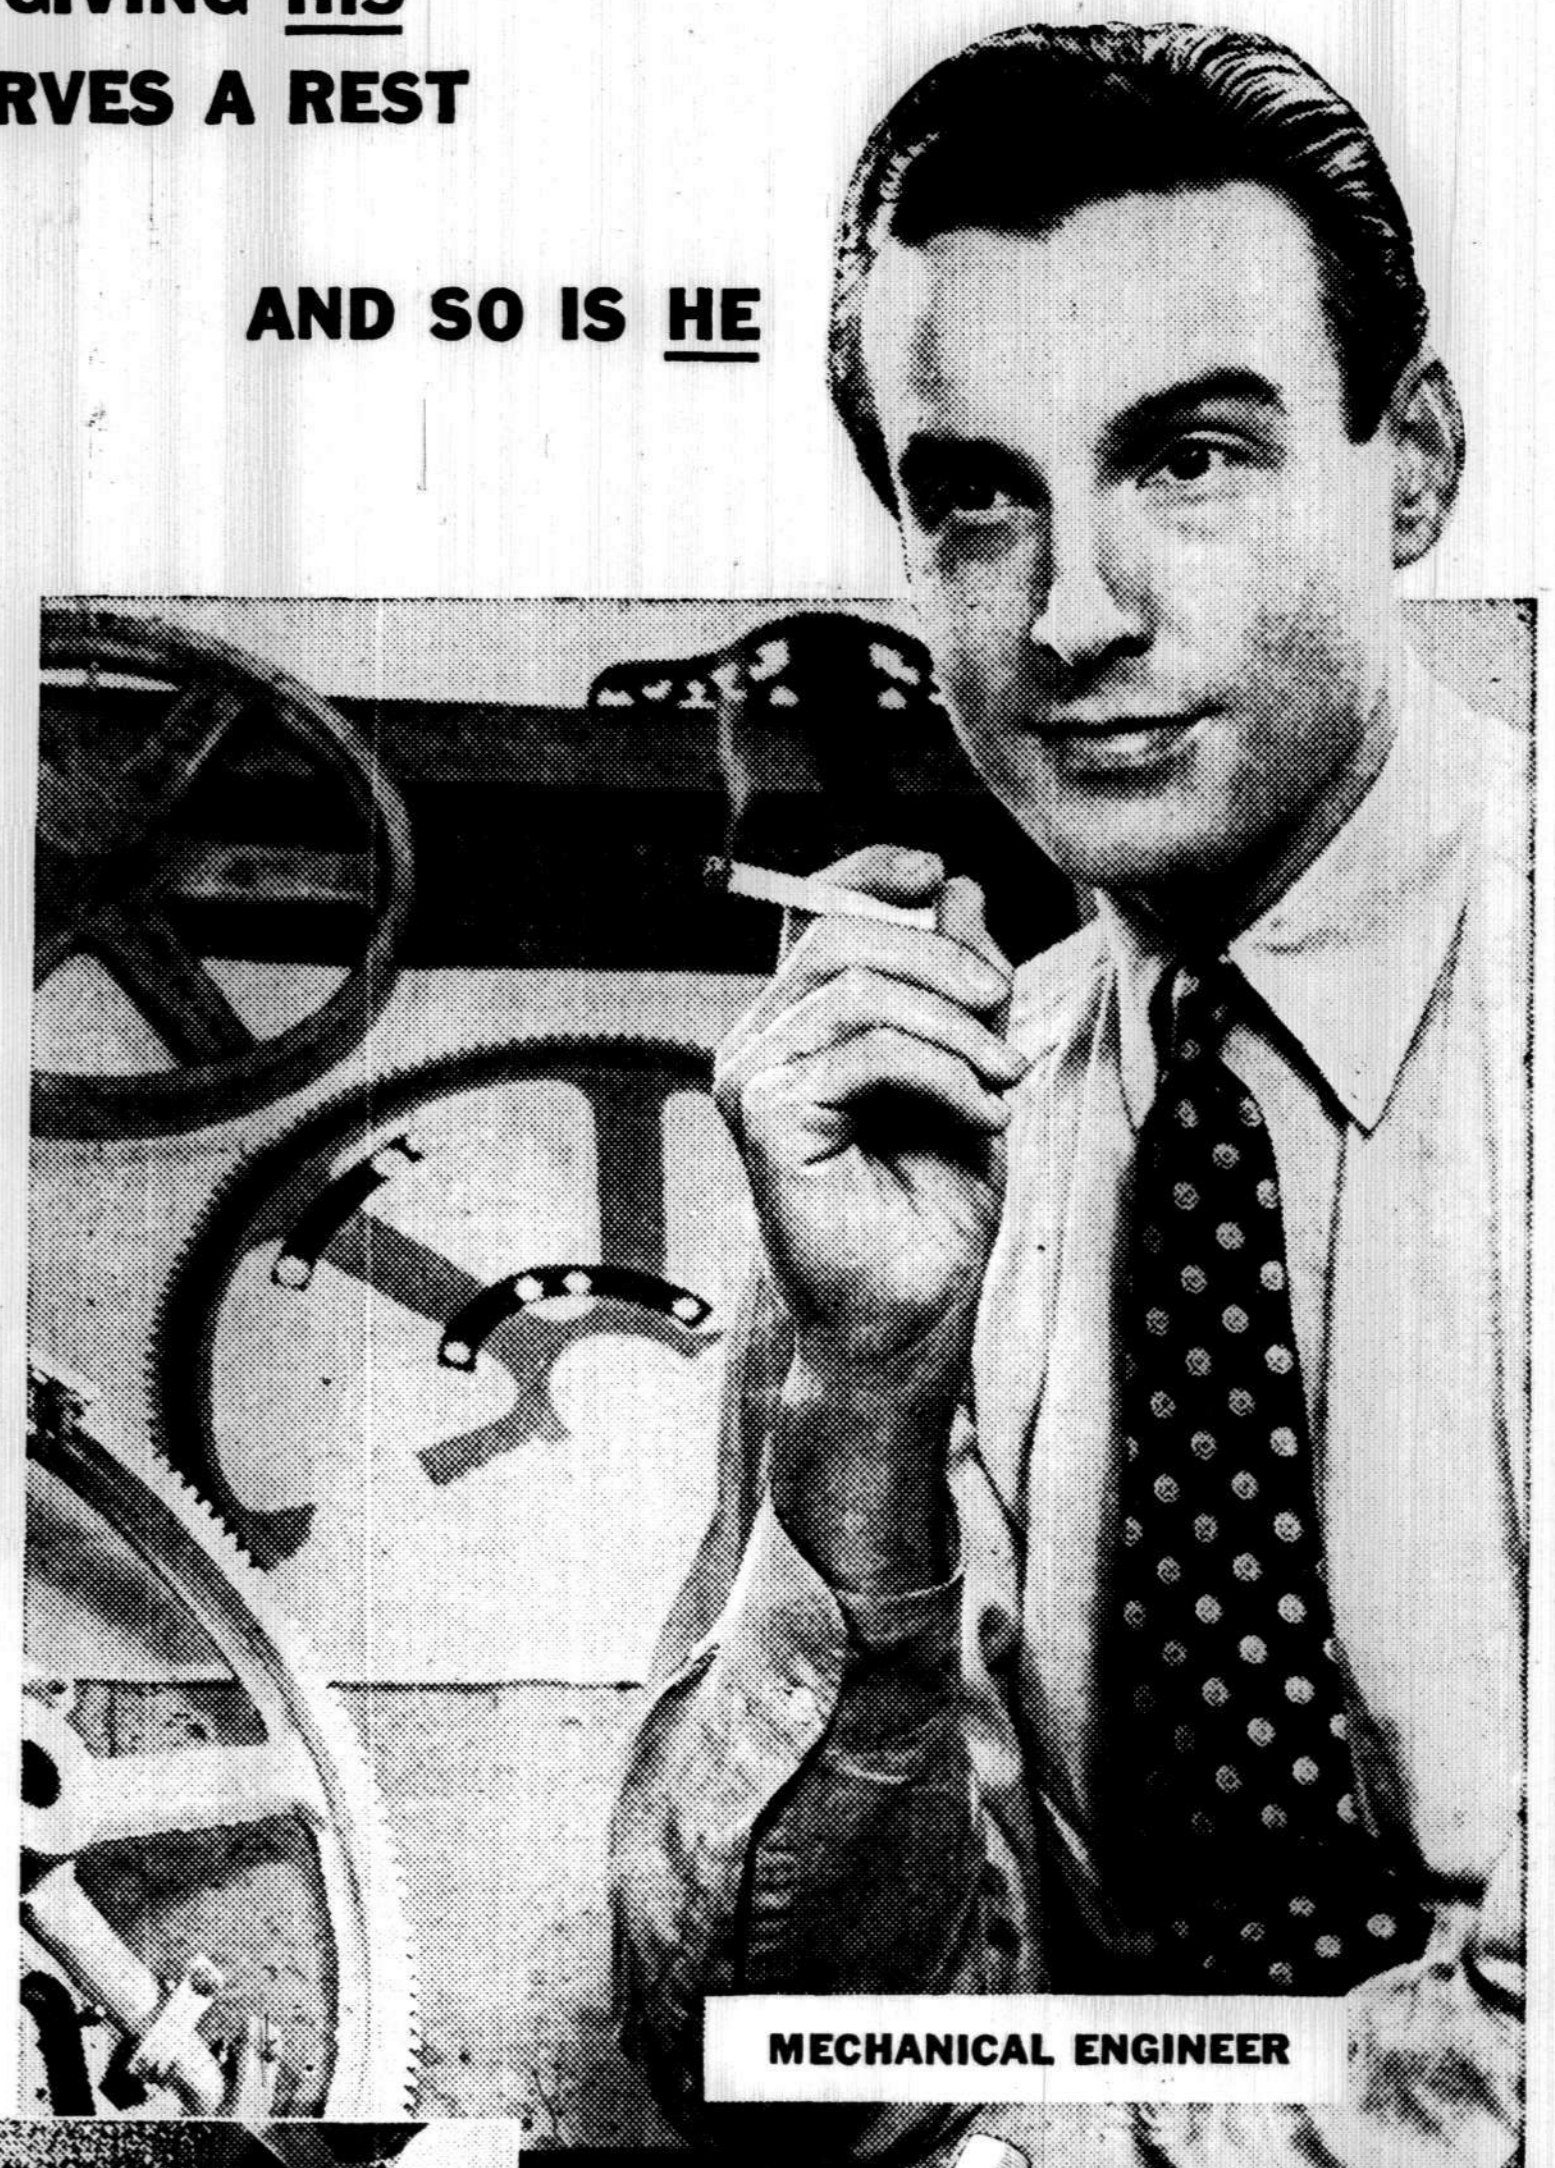

DID YOU KNOW:

—that the grower of tobacco also cures it—in many cases, in barns equipped with metal flues that apply heat without smoke? That the planter works day and night until the curing process is completed? The selection of Camel's tobaccos requires the services of men familiar with every phase of growing, curing, and aging choice tobacco. It is a well-known fact in the tobacco trade that Camel cigarettes are a matchless blend of finer, MORE EXPENSIVE TOBACCOS—Turkish and Domestic.

"RUSH ASSIGNMENTS, deadlines, phone calls would wreck my nerves," says New York newspaper woman Estelle Karon, "if I didn't pause frequently. I let up often and light up a Camel. Camels soothe my nerves. I work better—get more fun."
