

Elks Start Funmaking In 5-Day Convention

The Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks—some 30,000 strong—began celebrating their 88th grand lodge convention today in Manhattan, where it banded together 84 years ago to evade the Sunday blue laws.

Contrary to public opinion, a BPOE spokesman said, only a few old timers among them will be wearing elk's teeth. A variety of other interesting impediments, however, will be displayed by state delegations in hotel rooms and the streets—such as rattlesnakes, scapils from Indian war heads, "hometown-distilled beverages," headache powders, iron nails and a rodeo queen.

The five-day convention will open formally Sunday night. Business sessions will be confined to mornings for the rest of the week with afternoon free for ball games, horse racing, boat rides and cocktail parties.

ON THE SERIOUS side, the Elks will hear reports on their distribution of more than $6,000,000 during the last year for health, community service, youth and patriotic programs. The expenditures bring to more than $101,000,000 the organization's total benevolent expenditures since it was founded to put forward "a gospel of love and truth, justice, fidelity, to soothe the life's cares, drive away grief, uplift humanity."

The Elks developed from a group of theatrical performers banded together by British entertainer Charles Algeron Sidney Vivian under the title of the "Jolly Corks." The original purpose was to provide a congenial gathering in a well-stocked boarding house room on the actors' day off, which was also the day that New York law banned all forms of merriment.

The organization has continued a close association with theatrical enterprises. It proudly quotes actress Helen Hayes as saying: "Possibly I never would have been an actress if my father hadn't been an Elk."

Harvest Dance Entries Open

The Department of Parks is accepting entries for the 11th annual Harvest Dance Contest to be conducted at the Jackson Heights Playground, Jackson Heights, at 8:30 P.M. on Aug. 12.

Contestants must be at least 16. Competition will be divided into the four most popular types of dancing—foxtrot, waltz, rumba and jitterbug.

The judging will be based on the Olympic point scoring system. Dancers will be rated for posture and appearance, tempo and rhythm, proper execution, and variety.

Contestants may enter as many classes as they wish, but no contestant may win more than two prizes. Teams placing first, second and third in each class will represent their borough in the citywide finals to be held at the Mall on Aug. 28.
