Report of the Secretary-General and the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights

Summary

The present report is submitted pursuant to resolution 12/2 of the Human Rights Council. The Secretary-General highlights activities, policy developments and good practices within the United Nations system and beyond to address intimidation and reprisals against those seeking to cooperate or having cooperated with the United Nations, its representatives and mechanisms in the field of human rights. It presents the activities of the Office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights (OHCHR) and the Assistant Secretary-General for Human Rights, the senior official leading the efforts of the United Nations in this area. The report contains information on alleged acts of intimidation and reprisals, including in follow-up to cases included in the previous report (A/HRC/39/41) and prior to that. Owing to the word limit, more information on selected cases is set out in annex I. Information on follow-up to cases included in previous reports is provided in annex II. The report ends with a summary of trends and recommendations to address and prevent acts of intimidation and reprisals.

* The present report was submitted after the deadline in order to reflect the most recent developments.

 The annexes to the present report are circulated as received, in the language of submission only.

I. Introduction

1. The Human Rights Council, in resolution 12/2, expressed concern over continued reports of intimidation and reprisals against individuals and groups seeking to cooperate or having cooperated with the United Nations, its representatives and mechanisms in the field of human rights. The Council further condemned all acts of intimidation and reprisal committed by Governments and non-State actors and invited me to submit a report to the Council at its fourteenth session and annually thereafter, containing a compilation and analysis of any available information, from all appropriate sources, on alleged reprisals and recommendations on how to address the issue. The present report is the tenth report based on resolution 12/2.¹

II. Activities in response to acts of intimidation and reprisal

2. Forms of reprisals, retaliation for ongoing or past cooperation, and intimidation, designed to discourage future participation or cooperation, have continued in relation to cooperation with a wide range of United Nations organizations at headquarters and in the field, perpetrated by both State and non-State actors. During the reporting period incidents or trends were addressed within the United Nations system in the Secretariat and its field offices and peace missions, at the General Assembly, Security Council, Human Rights Council and its mechanisms, by the human rights treaty bodies, at the United Nations Permanent Forum on Indigenous Issues, the Commission on the Status of Women (CSW), in the Committee on Non-Governmental Organizations, and by the World Bank Group.

3. The General Assembly requested² the Secretary-General to prepare a report to mark the twentieth anniversary of the Declaration on Human Rights Defenders,³ held a High-Level plenary in December 2018,⁴ and urged States “to prevent and put an end to the arbitrary arrest and detention of peaceful protestors and human rights defenders ... including in relation to cooperation with the United Nations” (A/RES/73/173, para. 2).

4. Responses and recommendations were raised at the Human Rights Council, including in country resolutions, and during the universal periodic review’s (UPR) third cycle (2017-2021). Out of 98 States reviewed, five received explicit recommendations, including two during the reporting period.⁵ The High Commissioner for Human Rights (hereafter “High Commissioner”) expressed concern about “reprisals against victims, human rights defenders and non-governmental organizations who cooperate with the United Nations.”⁶

5. The Human Rights Council recognized the importance of the rights of environmental human rights defenders to have access to and communication with the United Nations (A/HRC/RES/40/11, para. 12) and invited the Secretary-General to continue to include alleged acts of intimidation and reprisal against them in this annual report (para. 27).

6. Successive Human Rights Council Presidents, through their good offices, sought to address alleged reprisals during Council sessions and side events by State representatives, as well as travel restrictions to the Council. In March 2019, the President stressed the “vital contribution” of civil society and noted “it is up to us to provide them with enough safe space to make these contributions.”⁷

7. The Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights (OHCHR) organized activities to consult directly with partners and victims under the leadership of the Assistant Secretary-General for Human Rights (hereafter “Assistant Secretary-General”), the senior official designated to lead efforts to address intimidation and reprisals. OHCHR convened, in December 2018, a consultation in New York with legal and academic experts to examine legislative and policy measures used to restrict engagement with the United Nations. Following regional consultations with civil society in South East Asia and Central Asia in 2018, OHCHR engaged East African civil society from 10 countries in Nairobi in May 2019.

8. OHCHR made efforts to implement the UNDP, OHCHR and Global Alliance of National Human Rights Institutions (GANHRI) guidelines on reprisals and intimidation (see A/74/226, para. 80-86). Specific cases related to national human rights institutions (NHRI) are noted in this report and the issue mentioned in the October 2018 Marrakesh Declaration.⁸ In September 2019, the Human Rights Council (A/HRC/RES/39/17) recognized the role that NHRI can play in “preventing and addressing cases of reprisal as part of supporting the cooperation between States and the United Nations” and stressed that NHRI “should not face any form of intimidation and reprisal” (para. 4).⁹

9. In April 2019, OHCHR began structured consultations within the United Nations Secretariat, funds and programmes to improve the gathering of information on existing guidance, resources, and policies and to discuss recommendations. It also made efforts to improve cross-regional information sharing and analysis with regional inter-governmental organizations and multilateral development banks, including the Council of Europe.

10. On 24 April 2019, the Assistant Secretary-General addressed the widespread intimidation of and reprisals against indigenous peoples at the Permanent Forum on Indigenous Issues.¹⁰ He encouraged more regular reporting, documentation of incidents online and analysis on how national laws and policies affect indigenous peoples’ engagement with the United Nations.¹¹ The Permanent Forum urged reporting to: reprisals@ohchr.org.¹²

11. In October 2018, the World Bank and OHCHR co-organized a roundtable on reprisals for multilateral development banks and their independent accountability mechanisms, the first of its kind. In April 2019, OHCHR co-organized, with the Inter-American Development Bank Independent Consultation and Investigation Mechanism, a roundtable on the risk of reprisals in development finance. At the meeting the High Commissioner noted the potentially powerful impact of prevention through “a “zero tolerance” policy on reprisals, backed up by action.” She stressed that “repression is increasingly being undertaken through the deliberate application, or better said mis-application, of national laws, including with respect to NGO registration and regulation, financing restrictions, abridgements of freedom of expression, association and peaceful assembly, and abuse of anti-terrorist laws.”¹³

12. In response to the request by the Chairs of the treaty bodies to identify good practices and enhance the role of focal points and rapporteurs,¹⁴ OHCHR and the International Service for Human Rights, with Amnesty International and the NGO Network on United Nations Treaty Bodies, organized a workshop in December 2018 in Geneva. In April 2019, the treaty bodies launched a common web page on reprisals¹⁵ and, in June 2019, the Chairs took stock of good practices in dialogue with the Assistant Secretary-General.¹⁶

13. The special procedures of the Human Rights Council compiled a range of communications, public statements, press releases, reports and meetings addressing reprisals.¹⁷ They stressed the need to secure a complete record of cases for a comprehensive assessment of trends (A/HRC/40/38, para. 59-60, 67-68) and appointed a new focal point on reprisals.¹⁸

III. Policy developments and good practices

14. During the interactive dialogue on the 2018 report (A/HRC/39/41), some Member States and civil society organizations suggested that the United Nations collect information on good practices to address and prevent reprisals. In February 2019, OHCHR issued a questionnaire and compiled submissions.¹⁹

15. At the international level, States²⁰ highlighted support to the work of the Human Rights Council, including the UPR, and to the Assistant Secretary-General to facilitate participation of civil society. Several current members have committed to firmly oppose reprisals, strengthen the protection of civil society and to promote its participation in the Council.²¹

16. Regarding safety and security of individuals, States referred to financial support to NGO funds, guidelines for the protection of defenders, and diplomatic interventions. One example was the European Union Guidelines on Human Rights Defenders and emergency aid for those at risk.²²

17. At the national level, States highlighted strong legal frameworks that make civil society participation a national priority, and the examination of reported incidents as good practices. Civil society pointed to normative frameworks that are explicit about the right to access, communicate and cooperate with regional and international bodies. Some States have included provisions or enacted specific laws guaranteeing recourse to international fora.²³

18. For example, in Ethiopia, recent legislative developments have been reported to provide reform which could enable civil society engagement with the United Nations on human rights. On 17 August 2018, the Special Rapporteur on the rights to freedom of peaceful assembly and of association noted the nascent reforms of legislation on freedom of association, media and access to information, anti-terrorism and computer crime (ETH 2/2018), seen as positive development to strengthen the rule of law. Prior to 2018, partners reported reluctance to engage with the United Nations for fear of reprisals. In April 2019, special procedures acknowledged the positive steps taken by the Government in the revision of the Civil Society Proclamation despite some remaining hindrances in the legislation.²⁴ Recommendations to broaden reforms were made by States in the UPR in May 2019²⁵ and noted by the High Commissioner in March 2019.²⁶

19. There have been several initiatives to develop guidance and improve reporting. The Human Rights Council presented Guidelines for States on the effective implementation of the right to participate in public affairs (A/HRC/39/28), which address intimidation and reprisals (see for example, para. 102). OHCHR developed guidance on incorporating a gender perspective into human rights investigations, which includes measures for preventing reprisals.²⁷

20. The World Bank Group developed good practice for complaints involving its projects. Following the publication of its guidelines,²⁸ the Office of the Compliance Advisor Ombudsman (CAO) reports complaints disaggregated by region, and from where the threats allegedly emanated.²⁹

21. In October 2018, the International Finance Corporation (IFC) published a statement on retaliation against civil society and project stakeholders,³⁰ affirming no tolerance for action “that amounts to retaliation – including threats, intimidation, harassment, or violence” and is developing internal protocols, including on risk screening procedures.

22. The UNDP Social and Environmental Compliance Unit (SECU) of the Office of Audit and Investigations has preliminarily approved a Standard Operating Procedure on managing risks and retaliation related to its work, which will be open to public comment. SECU also assisted the Inter-American Development Bank in developing a “retaliation toolkit.”³¹

23. The Department of Peace Operation’s 2019 revised draft policy on protection of civilians directs all components of peacekeeping missions to not expose civilians to risk or to cause harm for cooperation with the mission. It includes measures to prevent reprisals, including potentially for individual protection, and requires risk assessments for military and police components to mitigate civilian harm before conducting operations.

24. In March 2019, during the closing session of the 63rd session of the Commission on the Status of Women, UN Women³² and the CSW Chair raised concerns about incidents of reported cyberbullying against the Facilitator of the Agreed Conclusions of the CSW. UN Women expressed appreciation that the “condemnation” of the incidents was “unanimous” and noted cyberbullying “has no place in the UN.”³³

IV. Ensuring access to the United Nations, its representatives and mechanisms in the field of human rights

25. My previous report and its presentation to the Human Rights Council by the Assistant Secretary-General addressed obstacles that hinder individuals and organizations from speaking out in United Nations fora (A/HRC/39/41, para. 20-21).³⁴ There continue to be reported attempts by State representatives to block or delay the accreditation of certain civil society representatives, especially in the field of human rights.

26. OHCHR continues to receive reports of individuals filmed or photographed without their consent at United Nations meetings, and of the secret recording of statements in closed sessions, creating a climate of intimidation that may deter others from participating. In the field, some staff of human rights components of peace missions or those involved in the protection of civilians continued to report obstacles to engaging with communities due to fear or intimidation (A/HRC39/41, para. 80). The Security Council has urged unhindered access for peace missions to be able to carry out their mandates.³⁵

27. Issues of access were addressed by the special procedures. The Special Rapporteur on the situation of human rights defenders noted the exclusion of defenders due to restrictive State policies that hinder their registration or provision of travel clearances (A/73/215, paras. 54-58). He addressed the situation of women defenders, referring to the General Assembly's "no-objection procedure," which allows States to veto the participation of any NGO without providing a reason. Women defenders have reported travel bans, harassment, interrogation, arbitrary detention and physical attacks before and after meetings (A/HRC/40/60, paras. 48-51 and 109(b)). The Special Rapporteur on the rights to freedoms of association and peaceful assembly linked a "worrying number" of alleged reprisals to an increase in criminalization of defenders' activities (A/HRC/38/34, para. 51).

28. Successive reports continue to note the workload and working methods of the Committee on Non-Governmental Organizations ('the Committee'), the body mandated to consider applications for consultative status with the Economic and Social Council.³⁶ The Department of Economic and Social Affairs (DESA) reports that over 5,000 NGOs enjoyed either general or special consultative status in September 2018 (E/2018/INF/5).³⁷ Demand for this status remains high, and DESA received 820 applications during the 2018 cycle, more than previously³⁸ and an indication of the significance of consultative status for NGOs globally.

29. In January 2019, nineteen States³⁹ were elected for a four-year term to serve on the Committee.⁴⁰ At its May 2019 resumed session, the Committee recommended 219 applications for consultative status and deferred 268 applications (E/C.2/2019/CRP.57), a rate of deferral comparable to last year (A/HRC/39/41, para. 22).

30. The Special Procedures of the Human Rights Council met with the Committee Chair in October 2018, and on 20 June 2019 sent a comprehensive letter with recommendations (A/HRC/40/38, para. 60).⁴¹ The Special Procedures noted that "a large and growing number of NGO applications for consultative status continued to be perceived as arbitrarily deferred based on politically motivated and repetitive questions by Committee Members."⁴² As questions by one Committee member are raised on behalf of the entire Committee, these issues have been addressed by Member States in the consideration of its working methods.⁴³ The Chair of the Committee announced the establishment of an informal working group to consider ways to apply a sanctions list-related screening to NGOs seeking consultative status.⁴⁴

31. In my previous report, I welcomed the positive efforts of the Committee to increase transparency, particularly the webcasting of its public deliberations. I note the General Assembly's invitation to the Committee to examine how to "accommodate effectively the growing number of applications of NGOs" (A/RES/72/305, para. 22). As highlighted previously, continuous deferral of applications has in some cases amounted to de facto rejections and seemed to target organizations working on human rights issues (A/HRC/39/41, para. 23; A/HRC/38/18, para. 20). I again call on the Committee to apply the criteria for assessing organizations in a fair and transparent manner.

V. Information received on cases of intimidation and reprisal for cooperation with the United Nations, its representatives and mechanisms in the field of human rights

A. General comment

32. The present report includes cases based on information gathered from 1 June 2018 to 31 May 2019 and, in accordance with Human Rights Council resolutions 12/2 and 24/24, contains information on acts of intimidation or reprisal against those who:

(a) Seek to cooperate, or have cooperated with, the United Nations, its representatives and mechanisms in the field of human rights, or who have provided testimony or information to them;

(b) Avail or have availed themselves of procedures established under the auspices of the United Nations for the protection of human rights and fundamental freedoms, and all those who have provided legal or other assistance to them for that purpose;

(c) Submit or have submitted communications under procedures established by United Nations human rights instruments and all those who have provided legal or other assistance to them for that purpose;

(d) Are relatives of victims of human rights violations or of those who have provided legal or other assistance to victims.

33. The information received has been verified and corroborated by primary and other sources to the extent possible. Reference is made to United Nations publications if the cases are public. Responses provided by Governments are also included. Positive examples of State action are also included.

34. The present report and annexes do not attempt to provide an exhaustive list of cases. In preparing it, the principle of “do no harm” and the consent of the alleged victims to be named were strictly adhered to, and a risk assessment made for each case received and deemed credible. As a result, it was decided not to include cases where the risk to the security and well-being of the individuals concerned, or their family members, was deemed too high. Furthermore, a number of cases brought to my attention were addressed confidentially and may not figure in the report.

35. Owing to the word limit, Annex I contains additional information about cases summarized below, along with Government replies received. Annex II contains information on new developments during the reporting period on ongoing cases mentioned in previous reports.⁴⁵ References in the present report to communications of special procedures mandate holders of the Human Rights Council, and Government replies thereto, can be found online according to the case number in parentheses.⁴⁶

B. Summary of cases

Algeria

36. In July 2018, the Human Rights Committee called on Algeria to guarantee that individuals who cooperate with the Committee do not suffer reprisal, and to drop charges against, release, and compensate those prosecuted for cooperating with the Committee (CCPR/C/DZA/CO/4, para. 8(b)).

⁴⁶ See www.ohchr.org/EN/HRBodies/SP/Pages/CommunicationsreportsSP.aspx

Bahamas

37. On 30 May 2019, the Committee on Elimination of all forms of Discrimination against Women (CEDAW) sent a letter concerning Ms. Alicia Wallace, a defender working on women's rights and gender. She and her colleagues were reportedly the subject of disparaging comments by the host of a well-known radio programme and its callers, including related to their engagement with CEDAW in October 2018. On 22 June 2019, the Government responded.

Bahrain

38. In July 2018, the Human Rights Committee noted with concern a large number of reports of reprisals against Bahraini defenders and journalists, in particular when they collaborate with the treaty bodies and the Human Rights Council (CCPR/C/BHR/CO/1, para. 59). The Committee noted with concern the cases of Mr. Sayed Ahmed Al-Wadaei and Ms. Ebtesam Abdulhusain Ali-Alsaegh.

39. Allegations were reported to OHCHR that travel bans remain in effect, which prevented some civil society representatives in Bahrain (names are omitted due to fear of further reprisals) from participating in the Human Rights Council in March 2019. Annex II includes allegations of continued reprisals against Mr. Sayed Ahmed Al-Wadaei, Ms. Hajar Mansoor Hassan, Ms. Medina Ali, Ms. Najah Yusuf, Ms. Ebtesam Abdulhusain Ali-Alsaegh, and Mr. Nabeel Rajab. On 19 June 2019, the Government responded.

Bangladesh

40. It was reported that some human rights advocates and indigenous peoples' representatives, in particular from the Chittagong Hill Tracts, were intimidated during the April 2019 Permanent Forum on Indigenous Issues in New York. They were followed, videotaped without their consent, and asked not to speak in public meetings and, as a result, refrained from speaking to United Nations officials. Annex II contains allegations of continued acts of reprisals against the NGO Odikhar and its staff. On 5 July 2019 the Government responded.

Benin

41. In July 2018, the Subcommittee on the Prevention of Torture reported that individuals in custody feared reprisals for speaking with its delegation, in particular at the Agblangandan police station and in the Cotonou prison. It requested information from the Government on measures taken to prevent reprisals (CAT/OP/BEN/3, paras. 107-108).

Bolivia

42. In July 2018, the Subcommittee on Prevention of Torture reported that members of its delegation were unable to speak in private to inmates in two prisons due inter alia to fear of reprisals. After the visit the Government provided information on measures taken to address the allegations (CAT/OP/BOL/3, paras. 3, 14, and 126-131).

Burundi

43. On 15 September 2018, the Permanent Mission of Burundi in Geneva sent a Note Verbale to OHCHR requesting the withdrawal of badges of defenders with ECOSOC accreditation, including members of the Burundian Coalition of Human Rights Defenders. The defenders named in the Note were later attacked on social media. Ms. Marie Louise Baricako, Mr. Janvier Bigirimana, Ms. Yvette Ininahazwe, Mr. Pierre Claver Mbonimpa, Ms. Eulalie Nibizi, Mr. Alexandre Niyungeko, Mr. Pacifique Nininahazwe, and Mr. Vital Nshimirimana consented to be named, while others did not due to the fear of further reprisals. Annex II contains allegations of continued reprisals against Mr. Armel Niyongere, Mr. Dieudonné Bashirahishize, Mr. Vital Nshimirimana, and Mr. Lambert Nigarura.

44. On 5 October 2018, the Human Rights Council urged the Government to stop any reprisal against human rights defenders who are cooperating with international human rights mechanisms, including the Council (A/HRC/RES/39/14, para. 15). On 5 March 2019, the High Commissioner announced with deep regret that the OHCHR office in Burundi was closed at the insistence of the Government and that its staff had been "severely hampered in their ability to look into allegations of violations” since the October 2016 suspension of cooperation.⁴⁷

China

45. Several activists, human rights defenders and lawyers reported to OHCHR that they were targeted for attending trainings, including with United Nations staff, or engaging with the United Nations human rights mechanisms. Reprisals reportedly included detention and prison sentences, ill-treatment while in detention, seizure of property and surveillance. Those affected included Ms. Li Xiaoling, Ms. Li Yuhan, Mr. Liu Zhengqing, Ms. Xu Yan, and Mr. Zhen Jianghua.

46. It was reported to OHCHR that staff members of the NGO Chinese Human Rights Defenders faced intimidation and harassment for sharing information with the United Nations and conducting human rights trainings for China-based human rights defenders. Annex II contains information on new developments on the ongoing cases of Ms. Chen Jianfang, Ms. Wang Yu, Mr. Qin Yongmin, Ms. Zhao Suli, Mr. Mi Chongbiao, Ms. Li Kezhen, Ms. Li Wenzu, Ms. Wang Qiaoling, Mr. Li Heping, Mr. Jiang Tianyong, and Mr. Dolkun Isa. On 1 July 2019, the Government responded.

Colombia

47. Lieutenant Wilmer Orlando Anteliz Gonzalez, a key protected witness of a criminal investigation by the National Prosecutor’s Office, was reportedly the subject of disciplinary investigations, demotions, unsolicited transfers, lack of adequate protection measures, and death threats against him and his family for cooperating with OHCHR in Colombia. On 15 November 2018, the Assistant Secretary-General raised concern in writing. It was also reported that a woman rights defender (name withheld) in Ituango (Antioquia) received death threats from an illegal armed group for meeting with OHCHR and other United Nations agencies, and was forced to relocate and avoid all contact. Annex II contains allegations of continued acts of reprisal against Mr. Germán Graciano Posso.

Cuba

48. In August 2018, the Committee on Elimination of all forms of Racial Discrimination (CERD) addressed travel restrictions against defenders, preventing them from participating in its session on Cuba (CERD/C/CUB/CO/19-21, paras. 13-14). It was reported to OHCHR that Mr. Norberto Mesa Carbonell, an Afro-descendant defender, received threats of legal action against close relatives in July 2018 when preparing a submission to CERD. In August 2018, CERD addressed the allegations in writing and the Government responded on 15 October 2018. Annex II includes allegations of continued acts of intimidation and reprisals against Mr. Juan Antonio Madrazo Luna and Ms. Dora L. Mesa. In December 2018, the Assistant Secretary-General addressed the situation of Ms. Mesa in writing and, on 16 January 2019 and 21 June 2019, the Government responded.

Democratic Republic of the Congo

49. It was reported that in February 2019, a member of the Kwilu Ngongo civil society (Central Kongo Province) was publicly vilified and removed from his job by a local authority for sharing information about violations with the Joint Human Rights Office of MONUSCO.

50. On 12 April 2019, special procedures mandate holders addressed the Government of the Democratic Republic of the Congo, the Government of China, the Weihai International Economic & Technical Cooperative Co., Ltd, and the World Bank concerning death threats and kidnapping attempts against defenders with the Réseau d’aide aux Femmes et Enfants Nécessiteux (RAFEN) for cooperation with the World Bank (COD 1/2019; CHN 2/2019; OTH 15/2019; OTH 16/2019). Defenders had denounced violations related to the building of the Bukavu-Goma road, of the High-Priority Roads Reopening and Maintenance Project (ProRoutes). On 21 May 2019, the Government of China⁴⁸, and on 7 June 2019, the World Bank⁴⁹ responded.

Egypt

51. On 2 November 2018, special procedures mandate holders addressed allegations of forced evictions, violations of the rights to physical integrity, liberty and security in what appeared to be “a pattern” of acts of intimidation and reprisals against individuals who cooperated with the Special Rapporteur on adequate housing during her visit to Egypt in 2018⁵⁰ (EGY 16/2018; A/HRC/40/60/Add.1, paras. 585, 593). On 1 January 2019, the Government responded.⁵¹

52. It was reported that in March 2019 representatives of civil society experienced harassment and surveillance during the Human Rights Council and its side events. Annex II contains allegations of continued acts of reprisals against Mr. Ebrahim Abdelmonem Metwally Hegazy, Dr. Ahmed Shawky Abdelsattar Mohamed Amasha, as well as staff from the Cairo Institute for Human Rights Studies and members of their families, Mr. Bahey El Din Hassan and Mr. Mohamed Zaree, and addresses legislation restricting civil society.

Eritrea

53. The Special Rapporteur on the situation of human rights in Eritrea reported difficulties in documenting an extrajudicial killing due to fear of reprisals (A/HRC/38/50, para. 61) and raised reprisals in her statement to the General Assembly.⁵² The Human Rights Council encouraged States to protect and pay due attention to the safety of those who have cooperated with the Commission of Inquiry on Human Rights in Eritrea and the Special Rapporteur, and to protect them from reprisals (A/HRC/RES/38/15, para. 8).

Guatemala

54. On multiple occasions, special procedures mandate holders addressed legal impeachment proceedings (“antejuicios”) and public stigmatisation and vilification campaigns against Constitutional Court judges cooperating with the International Commission against Impunity in Guatemala (CICIG), including Mr. Francisco de Mata Vela, Mr. Bonerge Mejía and Ms. Gloria Porras and their relatives. They also expressed concerns about reprisals reported against judges with competence in high profile cases of corruption, organized crime and illicit financial flows, including Ms. Erika Lorena Aifán Dávila, Ms. Iris Yassmin Barrios, and Mr. Miguel Angel Gálvez Aguilar (GTM 7/2018; GTM 13/2018; and GTM 1/2019)⁵³ as well as Mr. Pablo Xitimul de Paz.

55. On 25 April 2019, the Assistant Secretary-General raised the above allegations in writing, as well as alleged reprisals against Ms. Claudia Samayoa, of the Unit for the Protection of Human Rights Defenders in Guatemala (UDEFEQUA), Mr. José Manuel Martínez, of “Justicia Ya,” and Ms. Helen Mack, of the Mack Foundation, who also were targeted for their cooperation with CICIG. Annex II contains allegations of continued reprisals against the national human rights institution and its Ombudsperson, Mr. Augusto Jordán Rodas Andrade. On 24 June 2019, the Government responded.

Honduras

56. It was reported that Ms. Glenda Ayala, of the National Preventive Mechanism against torture, cruel, inhuman and degrading treatment (CONAPREV), faced reprisals following her participation in the examination of Honduras by the Committee on Enforced Disappearances in May 2018. Annex II contains allegations of continued reprisals against Ms. Hedme Castro, and the positive outcome of the situation of Mr. Jerson Xitimul Morales.

Hungary

57. On 10 September 2018, special procedures mandate holders addressed legislation and practices regulating civil society (HUN 7/2018).⁵⁴ They mentioned the NGO Transparency Law (HUN 2/2017), which they stated would stigmatize foreign funded NGOs. They noted Act VI 2018, creating a new criminal offense in the Criminal Code of “supporting and facilitating illegal immigration” and amendments to the Tax Code, including a 25% tax on funding of organizations that “promote migration,” both of which reportedly restrict cooperation with United Nations entities assisting migrants and refugees, such as the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees. The legislative initiatives and related stigmatizing public discourse have been reported as intimidating and deterring civil society from cooperating with the United Nations, resulting in self-censorship and affecting research, advocacy and informed reporting in some cases. Annex II refers to allegations of continued stigmatization related to the listing by the Hungarian publication Figyelő of more than 200 individuals. On 18 June 2019, the Government responded.

India

58. It was reported that Mr. Thirumurugan Gandhi, an environmental rights defender in Tamil Nadu, was detained for nearly two months upon return from Europe, where he participated in the Human Rights Council and related events. Annex II contains allegations of continued reprisals pertaining to the Foreign Contribution Regulation Act (FCRA), including against Amnesty International India, Greenpeace India, Mr. Nobokishore Urikhibam and others from the Centre for Social Development, and Mr. Henri Tiphagne from the Centre for Promotion of Social Concerns, as well continued reprisals against Mr. Khurram Parvez.

Iran (Islamic Republic of)

59. It was reported to OHCHR in January 2019 that journalists of the British Broadcasting Corporation (BBC) Persian, or BBC Farsi, were branded as “anti-Iranian,” and some were followed, questioned and received threats against family members for their statements at the Human Rights Council, whose targeting was previously addressed by special procedures mandate holders (see also IRN 29/2017 and A/HRC/37/68, para. 34). On 15 January 2019, the General Assembly called upon the Islamic Republic of Iran to end reprisals against individuals, including for cooperating or attempting to cooperate with the United Nations human rights mechanisms (A/RES/73/181, para. 13). Annex II contains continued allegations against Ms. Raheleh Rahemipor. On 24 June 2019, the Government responded.

Iraq

60. On 2 October 2018, special procedures mandate holders raised concerns about allegations of unlawful arrest, enforced disappearance and torture against Mr. Imad Al Tamimi and intimidation and threats against Ms. Israa Al Dujaili, both of the Al Wissam Humanitarian Assembly, concerning the documentation of enforced disappearances (IRQ 3/2018, and A/HRC/40/60/Add.1, paras. 597, 600-601). Threats and harassment were also reported regarding Mr. Riyadh Al Karawi. The mandate holders raised concern about what seems to be a pattern of reprisals against employees and volunteers of Al Wissam Humanitarian Assembly for their engagement with the Committee on Enforced Disappearances⁵⁵ and the Working Group on Enforced or Involuntary Disappearances, addressed in Annex II related to Mr. Imad Amara.

Israel

61. On 31 May 2019, three special procedures mandate holders raised concern about State publications, which they said appear to stigmatize civil society organizations for their engagement with the United Nations, and also noted reports of harassment of civil society engaging with human rights mechanisms (ISR 8/2019).⁵⁶

62. Annex II contains a second incident against Mr. Hagai El-Ad, along with new information concerning Mr. Omar Shakir.

Kazakhstan

63. It was reported that in March 2019 the New Generation of Human Rights Defenders Coalition, established to coordinate civil society inputs to the UPR of Kazakhstan, was subject to surveillance, called for questioning related to their cooperation with the United Nations, and had their private channels of communication compromised.

Malaysia

64. On 10 May 2019, special procedures mandate holders addressed the summoning for questioning of Mr. Numan Afifi, a LGBT+ human rights defender, in connection with his participation in the Human Rights Council in Geneva (MYS 2/2019). It was further reported to OHCHR that Mr. Afifi and Mr. Rizal Rozhan, of Persatuan Kesedaran Komuniti Selangor (EMPOWER), were harassed online for delivering a statement during the deliberation of Malaysia's UPR Outcome session.

Malta

65. Acts of intimidation were reported to have taken place against Ms. Sarah Clarke, at the time working with PEN International, by Maltese high level officials during a United Nations High Level event in Marrakesh in December 2018 (see also MLT 1/2019). A public clarification and a private apology were later registered. On 24 June 2019, the Government responded.

Mauritania

66. In July 2018, the Committee against Torture addressed the reported detention of defenders who intended to cooperate with the Committee during the review of Mauritania (CAT/C/MRT/CO/2, paras. 26-27). On 27 August 2018, special procedures mandate holders addressed the confiscation of passports and the travel ban of Ms. Maimouna Alpha Sy, Ms Aissata Anne, Ms Aissata Diallo, Mr. Sy Yaya Ousmane and Mr. Baba Traoré, of Collectif des Veuves, des Orphelins and des Rescapés, which prevented their travel to Geneva to participate in the session of the Committee (MRT 2/2018; A/HRC/40/60/Add.1, paras. 622, 627).

Morocco

67. On 4 June 2019, special procedures mandate holders addressed allegations that Ms. Naziha El Khalidi, a Sahrawi journalist, had been interrogated by the National Judicial Police after the mandate holders transmitted a communication to the Government (MAR 1/2019) about her reported arrest, ill-treatment, and criminal charges (MAR 2/2019).⁵⁷ Annex II includes allegations of continued reprisals against Mr. Rachid Ghribi Laroussi, Mr. Ennaâma Asfari, and Mr. Ali Aarras.

Myanmar

68. The Human Rights Council (A/HRC/RES/40/29), the independent international fact-finding mission on Myanmar (A/HRC/39/64, para. 9), the Special Rapporteur on the situation of human rights in Myanmar (A/HRC/40/68, para. 46) expressed concern about and the General Assembly (A/RES/73/264, para. 8(e)) drew attention to intimidation and threats faced by persons cooperating with the United Nations. Annex II contains allegations on continued reprisals against Mr. Aung Ko Htwe.

Nicaragua

69. From June 2018 to May 2019, OHCHR documented 23 cases of harassment and persecution against those who regularly share information on violations. Mr. Braulio Abarca, Mr. Levis Artola Rugama, Mr. Marcos Cardona, Mr. Gonzalo Carrion, Ms. Haydée Castillo Flores, Mr. Lerner Fonseca, Ms. Sara Henriquez, Ms. Mayorit Guevara, Mr. Jonathan Francisco López, Ms. Monica López Baltodano, Mr. Félix Alejandro Maradiaga, Mr. Medardo Mayrena, Mr. Pedro Mena, Ms. Ana Quiroz, Ms. Francisca Ramírez, Mr. Amaru

⁵⁷ <https://spcommreports.ohchr.org/TMResultsBase/DownloadFile?gId=34727>

Ruiz Aleman, and Mr. Henry Ruiz Condega consented to being named in the report, while others did not due to fear of further reprisals. On 22 February 2019 the High Commissioner expressed concern about the “arrest and jailing of opposition leaders, possibly in some cases as a reprisal for cooperating with the UN.”⁵⁸

70. On 7 November 2018, special procedures mandate holders expressed concern at the arbitrary detention of Mr. Jonathan Francisco López, as well as attacks, intimidation and threats against Mr. Félix Alejandro Maradiaga (NIC 5/2018; A/HRC/40/60/Add.1, para. 246; A/HRC/40/52, para. 58) and others more generally⁵⁹ for their cooperation with the United Nations, and on 27 November 2018, the Government responded. On 8 October 2018, the Assistant Secretary-General addressed the alleged reprisals against Mr. López in writing to the Government.

71. On 8 February 2019, the spokesperson of the High Commissioner expressed concerns about a raid,⁶⁰ allegedly without a warrant, on the offices of the Federación Red Nicaragüense para la Democracia y Desarrollo, a coalition of 22 civil society organizations working across the country (Red Local), six days after Nicaraguan civil society representatives, including members of Red Local, met the High Commissioner in Geneva. On 12 March 2019, special procedures mandate holders addressed the allegations (NIC 1/2019).

Poland

72. On 13 December 2018, special procedures mandate holders expressed concern at reports that human rights defenders traveling to participate in the 24th Conference of the Parties (COP 24) to the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change in Katowice were barred from entering the country in early December 2018.⁶¹ On 25 January 2019, the Assistant Secretary-General further addressed these concerns in writing. It was reported to OHCHR that Poland’s national human rights institution and the Commissioner on Human Rights, Mr. Adam Bodnar, have been subject to acts of intimidation and reprisals.

Saudi Arabia

73. On 8 February 2019, special procedures mandate holders renewed concerns about the arbitrary detention and degrading treatment of women rights defenders Ms. Samar Badawi (see Annex II) and Ms. Loujain Al-Hathloul who had cooperated with CEDAW (SAU 1/2019).⁶² The CEDAW Chair and Focal Point on Reprisals sent letters on 25 May 2018, 20 July 2018, 7 August 2018, 13 November 2018, and 20 November 2018. On 9 October 2018 and 3 December 2019, the Government responded and provided information on Ms. Al-Hathloul. On 9 April 2019, the Assistant Secretary-General addressed allegations of reprisals to the Government in writing.

74. On 25 June 2018, special procedures mandate holders addressed alleged reprisals against Mr. Abdulrasheed Al-Faqih and Ms. Radhia Al-Mutawake of the Mwatana Organization for Human Rights based on orders reportedly received from the Saudi-led coalition in Yemen (SAU 8/2018; see Yemen). It was reported to OHCHR that, in March 2019, Mr. Yahya Al-Assiri, of the organization AIQST, received threats on social media as a result of his engagement in the context of the adoption of the UPR of Saudi Arabia. Annex II contains allegations of continued reprisals against Mr. Mohammad Fahad Al Qahtani, Mr. Essa Al Nukheifi, Mr. Fawzan Mohsen Awad Al Harbi, Ms. Amal Al Harbi, and Ms. Samar Badawi.

Sri Lanka

75. OHCHR reported that harassment or surveillance of defenders and victims of violations continued, including questioning by authorities after trips to attend the Human Rights Council and intimidation and death threats during Council sessions and side events (A/HRC/40/23, para 55). On 2 August 2018, special procedures mandate holders addressed allegations of harassment, including online attacks, against Ms. Sandya Ekneligoda in reprisal for her efforts to seek the truth about the fate and whereabouts of her husband (LKA 2/2018), disappeared journalist Mr. Prageeth Ekneligoda, whose case was registered by the Working Group on Enforced or Involuntary Disappearances in 2010.

Tunisia

76. It was reported to OHCHR that in January 2019 the National Syndicate of Tunisian Journalists (SNJT) was subject to online harassment for promoting the use of the United Nations special procedures, in the context of their monitoring of attacks against journalists. A complaint against the security forces representative allegedly responsible was submitted, on the bases of the revised Press Code.

Turkmenistan

77. On 27 November 2018, special procedures mandate holders addressed alleged reprisals against Ms. Daria Atdaeva for her cooperation with the Working Group on Enforced or Involuntary Disappearances regarding the disappearance of her husband, Mr. Annamurad Nurmukhammedovich Atdaev in 2017 (TKM 2/2018). On 25 June 2019, the Government responded.

United Arab Emirates

78. It was reported that Mr. Ahmad Ali Mekkaoui, a Lebanese citizen, was placed in solitary confinement, his family visits were restricted, and additional legal action was initiated against him and his relatives after the Working Group on Arbitrary Detention found his detention arbitrary (A/HRC/WGAD/2017/47) in August 2017, and his case and the Opinion were publicized on the Al Araby television channel in December 2018.

79. It was reported to OHCHR that the conditions of three women, Ms. Alya Abdulnoor, Ms. Maryam Soulayman Al-Ballushi, and Ms. Amina Alabduli worsened after information was shared with the United Nations. On 12 February 2019, special procedures mandate holders raised allegations of worsening detention conditions and abuse (ARE 2/2019). Ms. Abdulnoor died in custody on 4 May 2019, despite pleas from the United Nations for assistance.⁶³ Annex II contains allegations of continued reprisals against Mr. Ahmed Mansoor, Mr. Osama Al-Najjar, and Mr. Mohamad Ismat Mohamad Shaker Az.

Uzbekistan

80. It was reported that defender Ms. Tatyana Dovlatova and several other women activists were prevented from attending the Asian Forum on Human Rights in Samarkand in November 2018, organized by the National Human Rights Center and co-organized by the OHCHR Regional Office for Central Asia and the United Nations country team.

Venezuela (Bolivarian Republic of)

81. In March and April 2019, medical personnel, human rights defenders, and members of students' movements who cooperated with OHCHR during its first visit to the country in March 2019 reportedly suffered physical attacks, harassment, and public stigmatisation. Those affected included Dr. Ronnie Villasmil, Mr. Marlon Jesús Díaz Golindano, Dr. Maria Auxiliadora Castillo, Dr. Amarante Anza Maldonado, the Observatorio Venezolano de Conflictividad Social, Ms. Liliana Ortega of Comité de Familiares de Víctimas de los Sucesos de Febrero-Marzo de 1989 (COFAVIC), and Mr. Rafael Uzcátegui of Programa Venezolano de Educación y Acción en Derechos Humanos (Provea). OHCHR addressed allegations to the Government.

82. On 8 October 2018, Mr. Fernando Albán died in custody in Caracas after he was arrested at the airport upon return from New York, where he participated in meetings connected to the General Assembly on current and possible United Nations-led initiatives to address the situation in Venezuela, in particular by the Security Council. On 23 November 2018, the Assistant Secretary-General addressed the allegations in writing. Annex II contains allegations of continued reprisals against Ms. Lourdes Afiumi.

Viet Nam

83. It was reported that, in February 2019, Ms. Nguyen Thi Kim Thanh faced police questioning and the confiscation of her passport upon return to Viet Nam, following her participation in the UPR in Geneva in January 2019 where she advocated for the release of her husband, Mr. Truong Minh Duc. Further, in March 2019, Ms. Bui Thi Kim Phuong reportedly faced a travel ban as she was planning to visit Geneva to bring the case of her husband, Mr. Nguyen Bac Truyen, a defender who faced reprisals after the 2014 visit of the Special Rapporteur on freedom of religion and belief, to the attention of the Human Rights Committee. On 25 March 2019, the Human Rights Committee expressed concern at reprisals against human rights defenders in Viet Nam (CCPR/C/VNM/CO/3, paras. 43, 51-52).

84. On 26 September 2018, Mr. Nguyen Van An, a Catholic from Ke Gai Parish, was informed of an arrest warrant for his involvement in documenting and testifying on alleged violations, and reporting them to the United Nations. Mr. Nguyen Van An and his family have left the country. Annex II contains allegations of continued reprisals against Mr. Nguyen Bac Truyen, and civil society actors attending a regional event, which included engagement with the Special Rapporteur on freedom of religion of belief. On 26 June 2019, the Government responded.

Yemen

85. On 25 June 2018, special procedures mandate holders addressed reported arbitrary detentions during attempts to fly from Seiyun airport against Mr. Abdulrasheed Al-Faqih and Ms. Radhia Al-Mutawake of the Mwatana Organization for Human Rights, in apparent reprisal for their cooperation with United Nations human rights mechanisms (YEM 4/2018). Actions taken against them were based on orders reportedly received from the Saudi-led coalition in Yemen (See also Saudi Arabia SAU 8/2018).

State of Palestine

86. In the context of documenting cases of cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment in Palestinian detention centres, OHCHR in the Occupied Palestinian Territory received information that, between July and October 2018, several detainees in the West Bank faced reprisals after participating in interviews with OHCHR staff and other human rights institutions, which was addressed with the authorities.

VI. Conclusions and recommendations

87. During the reporting period, I received a large number of reports of alleged incidents of intimidation and reprisals against individuals or groups seeking to cooperate or having cooperated with the United Nations in the field of human rights. Reported allegations over time demonstrate that intimidation and reprisals can be more than isolated incidents, but can signal patterns.

88. Particularly evident is the misuse of the online space through hate speech, cyberbullying and smear campaigns against those who have pivotal roles in United Nations efforts. This includes representatives of civil society and national human rights institutions, public officials and members of political parties, and independent experts with United Nations mandates. Such individuals and groups should not be threatened for contributing to the work and principles of the United Nations.

89. I am particularly concerned at the body of evidence pointing to growing self-censorship by victims and civil society actors who decide not to engage with the United Nations, both in the field and at Headquarters, out of fear for their safety or in contexts where human rights work is criminalized or publicly vilified. As in the past, a number of cases or names have not been included due to security risks for the individuals or organizations involved, and under-reporting remains a concern.

90. I am concerned at the continued trend in the use of national security arguments and counter-terrorism strategies by States as justification for blocking access to the United Nations. Reported cases include individuals or organizations being charged with terrorism, blamed for cooperation with foreign entities, or accused of damaging the reputation or security of the State. These have also been used to justify restrictions on foreign funding. A disproportionate number of cases of enforced disappearance or detention, many which have been deemed arbitrary by United Nations experts, relate to these national security arguments. This is a worrisome trend I have addressed publicly, including in last year's report, and regrettably, it continues.

91. I have noted previously that women and lesbian, gay, bisexual, transgender and intersex (LGBTI) persons are exposed to gender- or sexual orientation-specific barriers, threats and violence in their engagement with the United Nations. Threats of rape, online smear campaigns, sexual assault in detention, and humiliating and degrading treatment have been reported. Unacceptably, those working on the rights of women and LGBTI people, including sexual and reproductive rights, seem to be particularly targeted. In our efforts to improve reporting and be more sensitive to allegations and the consequences of reprisals, we must examine, investigate and document intimidation and reprisals in a gender-responsive manner.

92. Member States have asked the United Nations how they may address this issue. Membership in the United Nations entails obligations and responsibilities, and States should live up to their commitments. I welcome explicit State pledges to reject intimidation and reprisals. States can put their commitments into practice through the Human Rights Council's Universal Periodic Review mechanism, which can be better utilized to its full potential. I would encourage States to further use this mechanism to address intimidation and reprisals. Beyond the UPR, I support continued multilateral engagement, as well as bilateral dialogue and assistance to victims. Several good practices at the national and international level are highlighted in this report.

93. The United Nations continues to strengthen its system-wide response, including through improved reporting on allegations and more thorough analysis of existing policy responses. More than ever, this issue should be a priority and a core responsibility of the Organization. I reiterate my call on all United Nations entities to be vigilant and engaged on this issue, to help follow up and seek resolution on the large body of cases, and to engage further with States and partners to encourage examination and accountability.

94. As I stated in my report last year, these incidents are absolutely unacceptable. Our partners are indispensable, and we must all do more to protect and promote their fundamental right to engage with the United Nations.

Annex I

Comprehensive information on alleged cases of reprisals and intimidation for cooperation with the United Nations on human rights

1. Algeria

1. In July 2018, the Human Rights Committee called on Algeria, as a matter of urgency, (a) to guarantee that individuals who cooperate with the Committee are not subjected to any form of intimidation or reprisal; and (b) drop the charges against, release and compensate all individuals who are being prosecuted, either directly or by way of other charges, for having cooperated with the Committee (CCPR/C/DZA/CO/4, para. 8(b)).

2. Bahamas

2. In October 2018, Ms. Alicia Wallace, from Equality Bahamas working on women's rights and gender-based violence, engaged with the Committee on the Elimination of all forms of Discrimination against Women (CEDAW) in the context of the review of Bahamas. Equality Bahamas submitted a public alternative report to CEDAW and Ms. Wallace travelled to Geneva to deliver an oral statement during the CEDAW session on 24 October 2019. In the following days, Ms. Wallace's statement was reportedly echoed in local newspapers and was read aloud by the host of a popular radio talk show, Freedom March. During the radio show, the host made disparaging comments about CEDAW, and about Ms. Wallace and her colleagues, including related to their engagement with the UN. The host reportedly displayed pictures of Ms. Wallace and her colleagues and criticized their advocacy. This episode reportedly worsened an already hostile environment for Ms. Wallace, who in 2014 had received death threats on Facebook in connection to her work on violence against women.

3. On 30 May 2019, CEDAW sent a letter to the State party addressing these allegations. On 22 June 2019, the Government responded and noted that, upon receipt of the allegations, the relevant authorities started an investigation, contacted Ms. Wallace to obtain more information about her situation, and offered her assistance through the Gender Based Violence Specialist, Department of Gender and Family Affairs. The Government expressed concern about the allegations stating that it will seek to protect the rights and safety of women defenders in the country.

3. Bahrain

4. In July 2018, the Human Rights Committee noted with concern a large number of reports of reprisals against Bahraini human rights defenders and journalists because of their work, particularly when they collaborate with United Nations treaty bodies and the Human Rights Council (CCPR/C/BHR/CO/1, para. 59). The Committee noted with concern the cases of Mr. Sayed Ahmed Al-Wadaei and Ms. Ebtesam Abdulhusain Ali-Alsaegh (see Annex II).

5. On 19 June 2019, the Government responded, stressing that competent authorities do not charge, arrest, imprison or take reprisal measures against anyone for working with the United Nations. It is the view of the Government that any allegations of intimidation or acts of reprisal against individuals or their families because of their human rights work are untrue and false; and anyone making such allegations is merely trying to cover up the fact that legal proceedings against them or any of their relatives are owing to violations and acts prohibited or criminalized by national law. Regarding the travel ban on Ms. Ebtesam Abdulhusain Ali-Alsaegh, the Government indicated that a judicial order was issued in April 2017 barring her from travel as part of a different case where she was charged with taking part in an unauthorized public assembly. The ban was lifted on 13 July 2017, and the case was set aside due to insufficient evidence. With regard to the allegations that Ms. Ali-Alsoegh received threats, there has been no complaint filed through any of the relevant national remedies. The Government response also referred to the situation of Ms. Hajar Mansoor Hasan and Mr. Nabeel Rajab (see Annex II).

4. Bangladesh

6. Some human rights advocates and indigenous peoples' representatives, in particular from the Chittagong Hill Tracts, were reportedly intimidated during the 18th session of the UN Permanent Forum on Indigenous Issues in New York in April 2019, where they reported on incidents of persecution, arbitrary arrest, torture and ill-treatment, disappearances and killings in the Chittagong Hill Tracts in the first half of 2019. Participants were followed and privately videotaped without their consent, and were approached and asked not to take the floor in public meetings. As a result, some participants avoided speaking with United Nations officials out of fear of reprisals.

7. On 5 July 2019, the Government responded to the allegations, expressing its dismay at the allegations reported. However, to be able to check on the authenticity of the allegations, the Government indicated that it requires more information without which allegations are incomplete, unfounded and unjustified. The Government stated that in UN meetings it is common practice to take photos or record audio/video of speakers unless prohibited or restricted for a specific event. It states that Permanent Forum events are open to all, including side events. The Government indicated that it is not aware of any incident where "indigenous participants were approached in the corridors and asked not to take the floor in public meetings." Lastly, the Government highlighted that everyone in Bangladesh is indigenous and there are as many as 50 ethnic groups, but most of the participation at the Permanent Forum is from a single ethnic group and recommends for the Permanent Forum to be more inclusive.

5. Benin

8. In July 2018, the Subcommittee for the Prevention of Torture reported that during its visit it received testimonies that detainees feared reprisals for speaking freely and engaging with members of the delegation, in particular at the Agblangandan gendarmerie station and in the Cotonou prison. The Subcommittee took note of the assurances provided by the authorities that no reprisals would take place. The Subcommittee requested the authorities to ensure that no reprisals occur after its visit, and to provide it with detailed information on the steps taken to prevent reprisals against staff or prisoners who spoke to members of the Subcommittee (CAT/OP/BEN/3, paras. 107-108).

6. Bolivia

9. In July 2018, the Subcommittee for the Prevention of Torture reported that during its visit it was unable to speak in private to persons deprived of liberty in MocoVÍ and San Pedro prisons due to lack of cooperation by staff and fear of reprisals against inmates. The occurrence of reprisals as a result of the Subcommittee's visit was corroborated during a follow-up visit by OHCHR, and the Subcommittee requested detailed information about measures adopted to address this. The Subcommittee recommended prompt, impartial and effective investigations so that those responsible are brought to justice and suitable redress is provided to victims (CAT/OP/BOL/3, paras. 3, 14, 126-131).

7. Burundi

10. During the 2018 September session of the Human Rights Council, the Permanent Mission of Burundi in Geneva requested the withdrawal of the badges of a number of civil society representatives with ECOSOC accreditation, including members of the Burundian Coalition of Human Rights Defenders. The Permanent Mission, which made its request public on Twitter, denounced the interruption of a side event it had organized by “former” members of civil society who are now wanted by the Burundian justice system. The names of the defenders were made public and the individuals were later attacked on social media. Ms. Marie Louise Baricako, Mr. Janvier Bigirimana, Ms. Yvette Ininahazwe, Mr. Pierre Claver Mbonimpa, Ms. Eulalie Nibizi, Mr. Alexandre Niyungeko, Mr. Pacifique Nininahazwe, and Mr. Vital Nshimirimana consented to be named in the present report, while others did not due to the fear of further reprisals.

11. On 5 March 2019, the High Commissioner for Human Rights announced with deep regret that the UN Human Rights Office in Burundi was closed at the insistence of the Government and that its staff had been “severely hampered in their ability to look into allegations of violations” since the October 2016 suspension of cooperation.¹ The climate of intimidation, reprisals and fear in Burundi prevented OHCHR from engaging with human rights defenders, especially those based in the country. Civil society actors in the country have reportedly avoided being publicly associated with OHCHR.

12. On 5 October 2018, the Human Rights Council urged the Government of Burundi to stop any reprisal against human rights defenders who cooperate with international human rights mechanisms, including the Council (A/HRC/RES/39/14, para. 15). The Council mentioned the closure of OHCHR in Burundi and underlined the need for the Office to fulfil its mandate and to resume its activities, including its monitoring and reporting functions, with full access to persons and locations (para. 14).

8. China

13. It was reported that several activists, human rights defenders and lawyers, including Ms. Li Xiaoling, Ms. Li Yuhan, Mr. Liu Zhengqing, Ms. Xu Yan, and Mr. Zhen Jianghua, had been targeted for engaging with the United Nations human rights mechanisms or attending trainings on how to engage with United Nations human rights bodies, organized by civil society with United Nations resource persons.

14. On 27 November 2018, the Zhuhai City Xiangzhou District Court convicted activist Ms. Li Xiaoling, who had engaged with the UN human rights mechanisms, of “picking quarrels and provoking trouble” after a 14 November 2018 trial and sentenced her to three years in prison, suspended for five years. She had first been detained in June 2017 and reportedly been denied adequate medical treatment. Ms. Li was released on probation on 3 December 2018 and prevented from leaving Zhuhai. She is fitted with an electronic bracelet to track her movements and record her voice.

15. A trial hearing for human rights lawyer Ms. Li Yuhan, who had engaged with the UN human rights mechanisms, at the Shenyang City Heping District Court was scheduled for 9 April 2019 but then cancelled on 6 April 2019. She is in pre-trial detention on charges of “picking quarrels and provoking trouble” since being seized by the police on 9 October 2017 and formally arrested on 15 November 2017. Ms. Li has reportedly suffered ill-treatment and torture in detention and denied medical treatment. In August 2018, the Working Group on Arbitrary Detention determined that the detention of Ms. Li Yuhan is arbitrary and recommended that she be released and provided compensation.²

16. On 10 January 2019, human rights lawyer Mr. Liu Zhengqing, who had engaged with the UN human rights mechanisms, was disbarred on the grounds that his defense statements “endangered national security” and “slandered” the State. He had previously faced reprisals for representing a human rights defender’s case addressed by the United Nations, and his case had been addressed by several mandate holders in 2011 (CHN 13/2011).³ Mr. Liu reportedly refused to attend the hearing, which was held in absentia, following which he was notified that he had been stripped of his license to practice law.

17. On 4 January 2019, Ms. Xu Yan, who had engaged with the UN human rights mechanisms, was called for questioning by individuals allegedly associated with the police related to her campaign for the release of her detained husband, Mr. Yu Wensheng. The case of Mr. Yu was addressed by the Working Group on Arbitrary Detention⁴ and the subject of a special procedures communication (CHN 5/2018).⁵ He was the attorney for human rights lawyer Mr. Wang Quanzhang (subject of a Working Group on Arbitrary Detention opinion No. 62/2018 – see Annex II). Previously on 27 January 2018, Ms. Xu had been summoned by police and informed that her husband was suspected of “inciting subversion of state power,” transferred to Xuzhou, Jiangsu Province (hundreds of miles away), and put under “residential surveillance at a designated location.” On several occasions in 2019, Ms. Xu was reportedly subjected to surveillance and unable to leave her home.

18. On 28 December 2018, activist Mr. Zhen Jianghua, who had engaged with the UN human rights mechanisms, was convicted of “inciting subversion of state power” and sentenced to two years in prison, following a closed-door trial. He was reportedly seized from his apartment without a warrant on 1 September 2017 and denied access to a lawyer. On 29 September 2017, he was reportedly put under “residential surveillance at a designated location.” Mr. Zhen’s case was raised by four special procedures mandate holders in January 2018 (CHN 2/2018).⁶

19. In May 2019, it was reported that staff members of the international non-governmental organization Chinese Human Rights Defenders (CHRD) faced serious intimidation and harassment for sharing information with the United Nations and conducting trainings for China-based human rights defenders seeking to cooperate with the United Nations. Between February and July 2018, repeated anonymous emails in Chinese reportedly threatened CHRD and its staff members with “severe consequences” if the organization held its planned trainings, including physical assault and abduction at airports and forcible return to China. The last reported email was sent weeks before the Committee on the Elimination of Racial Discrimination (CERD) review of China in August 2018, and three months before the universal periodic review (UPR) of China in November 2018. It was further reported that an article published in a Chinese newspaper denounced CHRD’s United Nations human rights trainings and efforts to engage the UPR and treaty body reviews.

20. On 1 July 2019, the Government responded to the allegations in writing. Regarding the case of Ms. Li Xiaoling, the Government indicated that, in April 2018, she was charged with “picking quarrels and provoking trouble” and illegal possession of a State classified document. According to the Government, since 2010, Ms. Li Xiaoling, has repeatedly created disturbances in public places by expressing solidarity for others, forming crowds of onlookers, and holding up signs and slogans. She has also shared information about these activities and maliciously sought to sensationalize and draw attention to them via on-line platforms as well as media outlets based outside mainland China. In November 2018, the first instance court found Ms. Li Xiaoling guilty of provocative and disturbing acts and sentenced her to three years imprisonment, suspended for five years. Ms. Li Xiaoling lodged an appeal, which was rejected on 11 February 2019, and she is currently on probation.

21. Concerning the situation of Ms. Li Yuhan, the Government indicated that she was taken into criminal detention on 9 October 2017 on allegations of “provocative and disturbing acts.” The first instance court charged her with a count of fraud and provocative and disturbing acts following allegations she had repeatedly provoked trouble and created disturbances in public places, undermining social order. Hearings on the case are ongoing and, according to the Government, the so-called “abuses” and “tortures” have not happened.

22. Regarding the situation of Mr. Liu Zhengqing, the Government indicated that he was disbarred not because of his legal defence of so-called “human rights defenders” but because his legal practice had violated relevant provisions of the Chinese Law on Lawyers. According to the Government, sanctions on a small number of lawyers, such as Mr. Liu Zhengqing, who have violated laws and regulations, serve to protect the rights and interests of the majority of lawyers practicing in accordance with the law. Sanctions also serve to encourage lawyers to practice strictly in accordance with rules and norms and in good faith, to create a favourable environment for legal practice, and to facilitate the rapid and healthy development of the legal profession in China.

23. Concerning the situation of Ms. Xu Yan, the Government indicated that the judicial authorities have not taken any compulsory measures against her. Regarding the allegations pertaining to international NGO Chinese Human Rights Defenders, the Government has inquired and found no relevant information.

24. Regarding the situation of Mr. Zhen Jianghua, the Government indicated that in September 2017 he was taken into custody and put under “residential surveillance at a designated location.” In May 2018, the People’s Procuratorate of Zhuhai City (Guangdong Province) filed a case against him for “inciting subversion of State power” based on rumors and slander against the Government from his repeated publication of articles and statements via websites based outside mainland China. On 16 December 2018, the court found Mr. Zhen Jianghua guilty of inciting subversion of State power and sentenced him to two years in prison and confiscation of his personal assets in the amount of 235,000 yuan (USD$34,000).

9. Colombia

25. Lieutenant Wilmer Orlando Anteliz Gonzalez, a key protected witness of a criminal investigation by the National Prosecutor’s Office, was reportedly the subject of acts of reprisal for cooperating with OHCHR in Colombia. Lieutenant Anteliz is in contact with OHCHR in Bogotá as key witness and whistle-blower in a criminal investigation on alleged links between a criminal armed group and members of the National Police Department in Tolima. This cooperation allegedly prompted acts of intimidation and reprisals against him, including disciplinary investigations, demotions, unsolicited transfers, and lack of adequate protection measures. He and his family have also received death threats. On 15 November 2018, the Assistant Secretary-General raised concern in writing about the allegations.

26. In August 2018, during a field visit to Ituango (Antioquia), OHCHR, United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR), the national human rights institutions and the UN Verification Mission in Colombia met with a woman defender (name withheld) working on a program for the substitution of illicit crops. Further to this meeting, the woman received threats against her life from an illegal armed group if she was seen talking to the UN again. Due to this, the woman defender was forced to relocate. OHCHR reports that restrictions to engage with the UN in this area imposed by illegal armed groups are not limited to this one case, but rather extend to the entire community.

10. Cuba

27. Allegations of patterns of intimidation and reprisals in Cuba continued in the reporting period, both prior to engaging with the United Nations as well as upon return in the form of travel bans and restrictions.⁷ In August 2018, CERD noted with concern information on travel restrictions placed on human rights defenders, preventing them from participating in the Committee’s session. The Committee expressed regret that Cuba did not acknowledge that these events occurred and had not taken steps to investigate or prevent them. The Committee urged Cuba to adopt the necessary measures to ensure that rights defenders, particularly those working against racial discrimination, are not subjected to arbitrary restrictions that prevent them from participating in meetings by international human rights mechanisms (CERD/C/CUB/CO/19-21, paras. 13-14).

⁷ OHCHR, Press Briefing Note, Spokesperson of the High Commissioner for Human Rights (11 May 2018).

28. In November 2017, Mr. Norberto Mesa Carbonell, Afro-descendant and founding member of the Cofradía de la Negritud (“Black Brotherhood”), had participated in the United Nations Forum on Minority Issues and engaged with Cuba’s UPR. In July 2018, Mr. Mesa Carbonell was reportedly intimidated by State security agents with legal action against a relative if he submitted information to CERD. Due to this, Mr. Mesa Carbonell decided not to submit the alternative report. On 30 August 2018, the Committee sent a letter to the authorities addressing these allegations and requesting a response with information on measures taken to prevent and address reprisals against those who cooperate with the UN.. On 15 October 2018, the Government responded to the Committee. On 30 April 2019, Mr. Mesa Carbonell was arrested by the police without charges, held in a cell overnight without access to necessary medicine or to a phone call, and released the next day.

29. On 20 June 2019, the Government responded denying the allegations, including the alleged pattern of reprisals against those who cooperate with the UN. The Government asserted that allegations are taken by the UN as valid despite information put forward by the authorities that is not taken into account. In the view of the Government, this does not respect the principles of objectivity, impartiality and non-selectivity and contributes to the politicization of the issue, in particular “the selective and arbitrary use of the mechanism against developing countries.” The Government stated that the defense of human rights is a noble cause that it has always supported and will continue to support, and it is not acceptable that it is manipulated as a pretext to violate the right of the peoples to self-determination.

11. Democratic Republic of the Congo

30. In January 2019, a member of civil society in Kwilu Ngongo (Central Kongo Province) reported and publicly denounced an incident to the UN Joint Human Rights Office (UNJHRO) of MONUSCO, where two men had been arrested, stripped and walked naked in the street mid-day on the order of a police officer. After UNJHRO brought the incident to the attention of the relevant authorities, criminal proceedings were initiated against the police officer involved. On 8 February 2019, during a public meeting in Kwilu-Ngongo, the deputy administrator of the Mbanza-Ngungu Territory announced the suspension of the defender from his functions and appointed an interim chairman of the civil society organization. The local authority refused to give the floor to the defender in question during the meeting, calling him a whistle-blower and an informant of the UNJHRO. The decision was later announced through the local community radio, threatening legal proceedings against the defenders in case of non-compliance.

31. On 12 April 2019, five special procedures mandate holders expressed concerns at death threats and kidnapping attempts against human rights defenders working with the Réseau d'aide aux Femmes et Enfants Nécessiteux (RAFEN) as reprisals for cooperation with the World Bank (COD 1/2019; CHN 2/2019; OTH 15/2019; OTH 16/2019). Defenders reportedly documented and denounced to the World Bank and its Inspection Panel acts of gender-based violence and the use of child labour by employees of the Zhengwei Technical Cooperation Company (SZTC) in charge of building the Bukavu-Goma road, as part of the High-Priority Roads Reopening and Maintenance Project in the DRC (ProRoutes).

32. Death threats reportedly took place between September and November 2017, after a request for an evaluation of the ProRoute project to the World Bank's Inspection Panel was made public confirming that violations had occurred and announcing the suspension of reimbursements for all civil engineering works in the ProRoutes project. Kidnapping attempts were reported in early 2018 when the defenders accompanied survivors to court. It is reported that the World Bank is in regular contact with threatened stakeholders, including civil society actors.

33. On 21 May 2019, the Government of China responded,⁸ stating that there is no factual basis for the allegations of the Zhengwei Congo (Golden) project, as verified by the local police investigation and the World Bank. Regarding the non-compliance of “pk99 + 800” material mining and the delay of the road construction, following negotiations, US$63,185 was paid to the landlord, who withdrew the complaint against Zhengwei Company. Regarding the complaints from the project team about sexual assault of local residents, the Government stated that local police concluded that the allegations were unfounded. Regarding the use of child labor in the project, the Government indicated that the Cong (Credit) Labor Law allows apprentices of 17 years of age to participate, as some did, but there was no use of child labor. Regarding the allegations of threats, beatings and kidnapping by Zhengwei Company, the Government states that following the compensation agreement was reached in 2017 there has been no formal or informal contact with the parties.

34. On 7 June 2019, the World Bank responded⁹ to the allegations in writing, stressing that they launched a collaborative discussion to help address the allegations with the UN agencies in Eastern DRC, and they have worked with the human rights defender over the past 20 months to address concerns. These actions are consistent with the Bank's new Environmental and Social Framework, which has instituted new provisions to help protect individuals from retaliation throughout the life of a project. Regarding the Bank's interaction with the human rights defender affected, while a member of the Bank's team met the individual on many occasions, they do not have first-hand evidence of the allegations. They can, however, confirm that there has been verbal tension between relatives and members of the community dissatisfied about the suspension of the works. The Bank indicated that the decision to partially suspend the disbursement for all civil works under the project was taken, as it became clear that there was a breach of the Borrower's social and environmental obligations. The Bank lifted the partial suspension when authorities met all conditions required.

12. Egypt

35. On 2 November 2018, the Special Rapporteur on the right to adequate housing and the Special Rapporteur on the situation of human rights defenders addressed allegations of forced evictions and violations of the rights to physical integrity, liberty and security in what appeared to be "a pattern" of acts of intimidation and reprisals against individuals who cooperated with the Special Rapporteur on the right to adequate housing during her visit to Egypt from 24 September to 3 October 2018 (EGY 16/2018; A/HRC/40/60/Add.1, paras. 585, 593; A/HRC/40/61/Add.2, paras. 10-12). The mandate holders underscored that the alleged violations appeared to be in breach of the Terms of Reference for country visits by Special Procedures mandate holders of the Human Rights Council.¹⁰ Already at the conclusion of her visit, the Special Rapporteur on the right to adequate housing expressed that "one of the most challenging aspects was to access individuals, families and organizations defending the right to housing."¹¹

36. Prior to the visit, individuals reported phone calls by Government officials enquiring whether they intended to meet the Special Rapporteur. After the visit, individuals reported being followed by unknown persons and photographed in their place of residence; house demolitions and forced evictions against community leaders who met the Special Rapporteur; the undisclosed detention of one resident for two days and a physical attack against one witness.¹² It was reported that one person fled Egypt for security reasons following the visit.

37. On 1 January 2019, the Government responded to the concerns of special procedures,¹³ expressing that it contained "numerous unfounded allegations, including intimidations and demolition of homes, without any details about the individuals in question or the areas.” It noted that the authorities were unable to verify allegations and initiate investigations as insufficient details were provided. The Government confirmed its full respect and observance of the assurances given that no one would be subject to intimidation or reprisal in relation to the visit.

38. In March 2019, several representatives of civil society reported harassment and surveillance during the Human Rights Council and its side events, including on panels related to Egypt. The targeted representatives reported being slandered in the press and on social media, including being associated with terrorism for their statements at the Council. Some individuals reported being video recorded, and believe the footage was shared with Egyptian security agencies monitoring Egyptian defenders’ activities outside Egypt.

13. Eritrea

39. At its 38th session, the Human Rights Council encouraged States to protect and pay due attention to the safety of those who have cooperated with the Commission of Inquiry and the Special Rapporteur, and in particular to protect them from reprisals (A/HRC/RES/38/15, para. 8). On 25 June 2018, the Special Rapporteur on the situation of human rights in Eritrea noted that she was unable to obtain details about the killing of a young man shot dead as he tried to cross the border near a frontier town due to fear of reprisals (A/HRC/38/50, para. 61). In her statement at the 73rd session of the General Assembly,¹⁴ the Special Rapporteur urged the Government to actualize key responsibilities associated with its membership to the Human Rights Council, including the protection of survivors, witnesses, and civil society cooperating with human rights organs both at the UN and regional levels from intimidation and reprisals.

14. Guatemala

40. It was reported to OHCHR that judges, especially those with jurisdiction in “high-risk” cases related to corruption, organized crime, and transitional justice, as well as public prosecutors, continued to face attacks, reprisals and intimidation. Such acts included spurious injunctions and requests to lift immunity in order to remove some of these judges from their posts (A/HRC/40/3/Add.1, paras. 15-18). A joint report by the national human rights institution (Procurador de los Derechos Humanos) and OHCHR, described numerous acts of intimidation and reprisals against judges, magistrates and prosecutors in cases of corruption and transitional justice which increased after November 2018, when the Government announced that it would unilaterally end the agreement with the International Commission against Impunity (CICIG).¹⁵

41. On 30 April, 18 September 2018, and 30 January 2019, the Special Rapporteurs on foreign debt and human rights and on the independence of judges and lawyers, raised concerns about reprisals against judges from the Constitutional Court seeking to protect the work and mandate of the CICIG, in particular Mr. Francisco de Mata Vela, Mr. Bonerge Mejía and Ms. Gloria Porras and their relatives. Acts of reprisals reportedly took the form of misuse of legal impeachment proceedings (“antejuicios”) as well as public stigmatization and vilification campaigns in traditional and social media (GTM 7/2018; GTM 13/2018; and GTM 1/2019).

42. The mandate holders also expressed concern about reported reprisals against a number of judges with competence in high risks cases, including Ms. Erika Lorena Aifán Dávila, Ms. Iris Yassmin Barrios, and Mr. Miguel Angel Gálvez Aguilar (GTM 7/2018, GTM 13/2018, and GTM 1/2019), as well as Mr. Juan Pablo Xitimul de Paz. These judges have jurisdiction in cases investigated with the support of the CICIG, particularly related to alleged corruption, organized crime and illicit financial flows involving powerful interest groups. Acts of reprisals against them reportedly included the use of disciplinary and professional bodies to file ill-founded complaints against judicial decisions, as well as public stigmatization and vilification campaigns in traditional and social media.¹⁶

43. On 25 April 2019, the Assistant Secretary-General raised the allegations above in writing. He also addressed the situation of Ms. Claudia Samayoa, president of the Unit for the Protection of Human Rights Defenders in Guatemala (UDEFEQUA) and Mr. José Manuel Martínez, of “Justicia Ya.” Ms. Samayoa and Mr. Martínez are reportedly the subject of a criminal complaint filed in late March 2019 by the President of the Supreme Court of Justice connected to an “antejuicio” request they filed in January 2019 against magistrates of the Supreme Court of Justice. The Assistant Secretary-General also raised the situation of Ms. Helen Mack, Director of the Mack Foundation, who has reportedly been subject to attacks and legal actions in connection to her participation in an injunction request before the Constitutional Court regarding the unilateral termination of the agreement with the United Nations, which created CICIG.

44. On 23 April 2019, the Government responded to the communication of 30 January 2019, including to the allegations related to CICIG¹⁷ whose presence in the country, according to the Government, created pressures or interests alien to the rule of law. Thus, after the UN Secretary-General decided not to remove Commissioner Mr. Ivan Velasquez, the Government decided not to extend the agreement establishing the CICIG. According to the Government, the CICIG was not part of the UN. It became a failed experiment in the fight against corruption and impunity with a legacy that divided society and was highly detrimental to the rule of law.

45. On 24 June 2019, the Government responded with detailed (confidential) information about the latest security assessment and protection measures provided to those individuals mentioned above, as well as on complaints received.

15. Honduras

46. In May 2018, Ms. Glenda Ayala, human rights lawyer and civil society member of the National Preventive Mechanism against torture, cruel, inhuman and degrading treatment (CONAPREV), participated in the examination of Honduras during the 14th session of the UN Committee on Enforced Disappearances. She presented a report including allegations of torture and ill-treatment during the detentions in the context of the 2017 presidential elections. Since her participation in the session, Ms. Ayala, who is up for re-election in September 2019, has reportedly been the subject of demeaning comments from public officials, including members of Congress, undermining her position and work at the CONAPREV. Moreover, it is reported that CONAPREV has been affected by budgetary restrictions without explanation. Fearing for her physical integrity, Ms. Ayala has reported to the National Protection Mechanism, the National Commissioner for Human Rights (CONADEH) and the UN Subcommittee on Prevention of Torture. At the request of CONADEH, the National Police are providing security measures for Ms. Ayala.

16. Hungary

47. On 10 September 2018, seven special procedures mandate holders raised concerns about legislation and practices impacting the activities of civil society (HUN 7/2018).¹⁸ They referenced the NGO Transparency Law (HUN 2/2017), stating that it would stigmatize foreign funded NGOs and noting that seventeen NGOs had filed a case against the law. The legislative initiatives and stigmatizing public discourse have been reported to OHCHR as intimidating and deterring civil society actors from cooperating with the UN, resulting in self-censorship in some cases.

48. Certain sectors of civil society report having been denied cooperation by Government agencies and some have lost access to foreign funding. Their ability to provide services to groups in need, to collect reliable data and gather information has reportedly been affected, as well as their capacity to conduct research, advocacy and reporting to UN human rights bodies. Further, civil society organizations have reported being called “traitors” serving foreign interests for their engagement with the UN. The mandate holders observed that “Threats against human rights defenders in Hungary are now regular and widespread, evidently encouraged by the Government.”¹⁹

49. The mandate holders expressed concern in particular about the public discourse on migration in this context (HUN 7/2018). Hostile rhetoric and billboards against civil society and the UN, for example around the consultations for the UN Global Compact for Safe, Orderly and Regular Migration on 13 July 2018, was previously reported (A/HRC/39/41, Annex I, para. 59). In July 2018, the Government informed OHCHR that its “rhetoric did not target any organization or individual for cooperating with the UN, but took a position and shared its view on the draft of a UN document related to migration” (A/HRC/39/41, para. 59).

50. The mandate holders drew attention to a draft bill, Act VI 2018, which amended certain laws relating to combatting illegal immigration, in particular, the creation of a new criminal offense, punishable with one year of imprisonment, in the Criminal Code of “supporting and facilitating illegal immigration” (HUN 7/2018). They noted that the “bill criminalises any ‘organisational activities’ to assist asylum seekers – already in Hungary or at the border - to exercise their legal rights to submit an asylum procedure or to obtain a residence permit.” They also noted the bill makes it “a crime to organise border monitoring” and “to provide financial means for the above activities.” The law inevitably restricts cooperation with UN entities assisting migrants and refugees, such as UNHCR. The law was found constitutional by the Constitutional Court in March 2019, with the exemption of altruistic action. However, organizations noted that this decision did not clarify how this exemption would be implemented and some reported restrictions in their work.

51. The mandate holders also raised concern about the amendments to the Tax Code adopted on 25 July 2018 (HUN 7/2018). In particular they noted the introduction of a special 25 percent tax on funding of organizations which carry out any activities that “promote migration” or for “immigration activities” which can include building networks and “propaganda activities that portray immigration in a positive light.” Organizations reported to OHCHR that the tax has the effect of reducing their budgets and, consequently, their ability to conduct activities, do research, report to UN human rights bodies, and participate in UN meetings.

52. On 18 June 2019 the Government responded that the allegations were false and inaccurate and based on political bias.

17. India

53. In June 2018, Mr. Thirumurugan Gandhi, an environmental human rights defender in Tamil Nadu, participated in the 38th session of the Human Rights Council where he delivered statements, was a panelist in various side events, and met two special procedures mandate holders. Mr. Gandhi denounced the killing of 13 people in May 2018 in Tuticorin City (Tamil Nadu) due to excessive use of force by police against peaceful demonstrators protesting Sterlite Industries, a copper smelter plant reportedly causing environmental pollution in the area. Upon his return to India, on 9 August 2018, Mr. Gandhi was arrested at the Kempegowda International Airport, brought before the Metropolitan Magistrate in Chennai the following day and then sent to Puzhal Central Prison, following which he was transferred to Vellore Central Prison. On 2 October 2018, he was released on bail. An incident of detention pertaining to Mr. Gandhi had previously been addressed by the Working Group on Arbitrary Detention in November 2017 (A/HRC/WGAD/2017/88). He was reportedly charged under the ‘Unlawful Activities (Prevention) Act,’ including for sedition.

18. Iran (Islamic Republic of)

54. In January 2019, journalists of British Broadcasting Corporation (BBC) Persian or BBC Farsi, the Persian language news channel of BBC World Service, reported patterns of harassment and threats in relation to action taken by special procedures mandate holders and the journalists’ statements at the 37th, 38th and 39th sessions of the Human Rights Council. Journalists reported being called ‘anti-Iranian’ and being accused of undermining Iran for their statements at the UN. In March 2018 they were reportedly followed and questioned at and in relation to their participation in the Human Rights Council in Geneva. Another journalist reported threats against family members, including warnings about their son participating in the UN advocacy work related to special procedure communications.

55. It was reported that on 22 October 2018, during a presentation with the Special Rapporteur on the promotion and protection of the right to freedom of opinion and expression during the Third Committee of the General Assembly, the Government of Iran accused BBC Persian of “pumping blind hate, fabricating false news and provoking disruption and destruction.”²⁰ BBC Persian journalists were also reportedly attacked in various state media and subjected to abusive, aggressive tweets in response to coverage of BBC Persian issues being raised in UN fora, such as accusing the journalists of undermining national security, being involved in terrorism, and being puppets of the Government of the United Kingdom. The intimidation and investigation of BBC Persian staff, former staff and contributors had previously been the subject of action by two special procedures mandate holders in October 2017 (IRN 29/2017)²¹ and raised in the March 2018 report of the Special Rapporteur on the situation of human rights in the Islamic Republic of Iran (A/HRC/37/68, para. 34).

56. On 15 January 2019 the General Assembly in resolution 73/181 on the Situation of human rights in the Islamic Republic of Iran called upon Iran “to release persons detained for the exercise of their human rights and fundamental freedoms... and to end reprisals against individuals, including for cooperating or attempting to cooperate with the United Nations human rights mechanisms (A/RES/73/181, para. 13).”

57. On 24 June 2019, the Government responded in writing to the allegations of intimidation and reprisals against BBC Persian journalists indicating that the incidents mentioned are not related nor attributed to cooperation with the UN. The Government rejects as untrue the allegations that the persons mentioned were subject to any punitive, restrictive, reprisal or judicial measure because of their cooperation with the UN.

19. Iraq

58. On 2 October 2018, five special procedures mandate holders raised concern over allegations of unlawful arrest, enforced disappearance and torture against Mr. Imad Al Tamimi and acts of intimidation and threats against Ms. Israa Al Dujaili, human rights defenders and volunteers for the non-governmental human rights organization Al Wissam Humanitarian Assembly, which documents cases of enforced disappearances in Iraq for their submission to the United Nations human rights mechanisms (IRQ 3/2018, and A/HRC/40/60/Add.1, paras. 597, 600-601). The mandate holders raised concern about other employees and volunteers of Al Wissam Humanitarian Assembly who have previously been subjected to acts of intimidation and reprisal, in particular related to the submission of cases and information to the Committee on Enforced Disappearances²² and to the Working Group on Enforced or Involuntary Disappearances, which they said may represent a pattern (see below and IRQ 1/2016; IRQ 2/2018).

59. On 14 July 2018, Mr. Al Tamimi participated in a peaceful demonstration held on Mutanabbi Street in Baghdad and was reportedly abducted by members of the Special Weapons and Tactics Unit (SWAT) in the vicinity of the “Medical City” in Baghdad. He was forced into a black pick-up truck and taken to an unknown location for interrogation, where he was subjected to acts of torture for the first two weeks of his detention. He remained secretly detained until 7 September 2018 when he was released.

60. On 27 August 2018, Ms. Al Dujaili went to a copy shop near Al Nasser Square in Baghdad to collect posters advertising events organized by Al Wissam Humanitarian Assembly for the 2018 International Day of the Victims of Enforced Disappearances. After leaving the shop, men allegedly connected to the Iraqi National Intelligence Service (INIS) questioned her about the posters, and she was verbally assaulted and threatened. Ms. Al Dujaili sought refuge elsewhere for fear of retaliation.

61. It was further reported that in December 2018, Mr. Riyad Al Karawi, a representative of Al Wissam Humanitarian Assembly in Diwanya, received threats and harassment in relation to the documentation of cases for the Working Group on Involuntary and Enforced Disappearances. Mr. Al Karawi also received threats and was intimidated in the context of his participation in a number of demonstrations in November and December 2018 against enforced disappearances. Mr. Al Karawi fled Iraq at the end of 2018 for security reasons.

20. Israel

62. On 31 May 2019, three special procedures mandate holders (ISR 8/2019) addressed a letter to the Government about State publications appearing to stigmatize civil society organizations for their engagement with international bodies, including the UN in the field of human rights, and also noted reports of harassment of civil society organizations engaging with UN human rights mechanisms. They refer to a May 2018 report²³ published by the Israeli Ministry of Strategic Affairs which lists civil society organizations working on human rights in the Occupied Palestinian Territories (OPT), which the Ministry claims promote boycotts against Israel, and calls for halting financial support from European Union (EU) institutions to these organizations. In the report, the Ministry notes the involvement of these human rights organizations in anti-Israel delegitimization and the promotion of the Boycott, Divestment and Sanctions (BDS) movement.

63. Among the activities included under the umbrella of anti-Israel delegitimization were support for the creation of a database on businesses that have enabled, facilitated and profited from the construction and growth of Israeli settlements in the OPT, as requested by Human Rights Council (resolution 31/36), and petitioning the UN Secretary-General on further issues related to business and human rights in the OPT. In January 2019, a second report²⁴ alleging ties between NGOs promoting BDS and terrorist organizations was published by the Ministry. It includes information on their engagement with the Human Rights Council, the 2009 UN fact-finding mission on Gaza, and their petitioning of the UN Secretary-General on issues relating to business and human rights in the OPT. The report calls on governments and donor organizations providing funds to these organizations to halt such support.

64. In their letter, the three special procedures mandate holders also raised concerns about reported harassment of staff members of a Palestinian human rights organization while participating in side events and in private meetings with OHCHR staff during the Human Rights Council in March 2019 (ISR 8/2019). The special procedures mandate holders note they were followed and photographed by staff members of an organization reportedly involved in discrediting members of Palestinian civil society.

65. On 31 July 2019, the Government responded in detail, rejecting alleged attacks on civil society organizations operating in Israel and the Palestinian territories and referring to the 2017 UPR in which it emphasized the recurring opportunities for dialogue and free discourse between civil society, academia and government representatives. Regarding the alleged stigmatization, the Government noted that despite the important role NGOs play in Israeli society, they are not “immune from criticism” and stated that BDS organizations often hide behind human rights claims. It noted that the Ministry of Strategic Affairs in its reports revealed direct links between BDS-promoting NGOs and designated terrorist organizations, information which it has aimed to provide to the EU and other European countries so they could re-examine the transfer of funds and make sure they are used for their intended purpose.

66. Regarding the claims of intimidation at the March 2019 Human Rights Council, the Government stated that these are “unfounded accusations hidden behind the veil of anonymity” and it cannot respond to claims against an Israeli NGO whose identity is unknown.

21. Kazakhstan

67. In March 2019, the New Generation of Human Rights Defenders Coalition, established to coordinate civil society inputs to the third cycle of the UPR of Kazakhstan, was reportedly subject to surveillance, called for questioning related to their cooperation with the UN, and had their private channels of communication compromised. Between 20 and 30 March 2019, two National Security Service (KNB) officials reportedly called for questioning a representative of the Coalition and inquired about their activity. The two officials were privy to detailed information on the discussions of the Coalition, and specifically referred to an encrypted message exchange (through an intercepted WhatsApp chat) that the Coalition had used to coordinate input to the UPR. The questioning occurred the same week that the Coalition sent its UPR submission on Kazakhstan to the United Nations for consideration. Another member of the Coalition reported an incident of surveillance the following week.

22. Malaysia

68. On 10 May 2019, five special procedures mandate holders raised concerns about the summoning for questioning of LGBT+ human rights defender Mr. Numan Afifi in connection with his participation in the 40th session of the Human Rights Council in Geneva (MYS 2/2019). Mr. Numan Afifi is associated with the PELANGI Campaign and has worked with the Coalition of Malaysian NGOs (COMANGO) during Malaysia’s UPR process. On 14 March 2019 in Geneva, Mr. Numan Afifi made a statement in the Human Rights Council on behalf of 12 Malaysian organizations working on sexual orientation and gender identity. On 16 April 2019, Mr. Numan Afifi was summoned for interrogation by the Classified Criminal Investigation Unit (D5) and asked to present himself to the Royal Malaysia Police (PDRM) headquarters in Bukit Aman on 26 April 2019, where he was questioned with a lawyer present.

69. It was further reported that Mr. Numan Afifi and Mr. Rizal Rozhan, of Persatuan Kesedaran Komuniti Selangor (EMPOWER), who delivered a statement on behalf of the International Service for Human Rights (ISHR) on 14 March 2019 during the deliberation of Malaysia’s UPR outcome session, were harassed and criticized online for ‘interfering’ in issues of freedom of religion and belief in Malaysia and spreading incorrect information at the Human Rights Council. On 21 April 2019, the Islamic Development Department of Malaysia (JAKIM), a unit of the Religious Affairs Ministry under the Prime Minister’s Office, released a statement denying claims made by Mr. Afifi and aligning itself with statements made by the Prime Minister to the effect that the lifestyles of LGBT+ persons will not be accepted in Malaysia.

23. Malta

70. Acts of intimidation against Ms. Sarah Clarke, at the time working for PEN International, by Maltese high level officials were reported to have taken place on 10 December 2018 during a UN High Level event in Marrakesh, Morocco marking the 70th anniversary of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights. Ms. Clarke had been involved in the urging of a public inquiry into the assassination of the investigative journalist and human rights defender, Ms. Daphne Caruana Galizia (see MLT 2/2017; MLT 1/2018). She was also involved in the submission of a shadow report for the review of Malta by the UPR, including on the case of Ms. Galizia. Following the intervention by Malta at the UN High Level event, Ms. Clarke approached representatives of the Maltese Ministry for Foreign Affairs and Trade Promotion and referred to the case of Ms. Galizia. A representative reportedly told her, using abusive language, that she was biased and unaware of the facts (see also MLT 1/2019). A public clarification and a private apology were later registered by the official.

71. On 24 June 2019, the Government responded to the allegations indicating that the Maltese official's reaction did not happen in isolation but was the direct result of what had transpired immediately before, when the official felt that the actions of Ms. Clarke preceding his comments were undue and inappropriate. The Government noted that the public official publicly clarified his comments and issued a private apology directly to Ms. Clarke, offering his unreserved apologies and expressing regret for his choice of words and for having caused an offense.

24. Mauritania

72. In July 2018, the Committee against Torture noted with concern reports indicating that, on the pretext of checking their visas, the authorities detained five human rights defenders who intended to cooperate with the Committee during the review of Mauritania (CAT/C/MRT/CO/2, paras. 26 and 27). The Committee urged Mauritania to protect members of civil society who cooperated with the Committee from any possible reprisals during the consideration of the second periodic report.

73. On 27 August 2018, five special procedures mandate holders addressed the authorities about the confiscation of passports at the International Airport of Oumtounsy and travel ban against Ms. Maimouna Alpha Sy, Ms. Aissata Anne and Ms. Aissata Diallo of Collectif des Veuves, Mr. Sy Yaya Ousmane of Collectif des Orphelins, and Mr. Baba Traoré of Collectif des Rescapés. These individuals were intending to travel to Geneva to participate in the session of the Committee against Torture (MRT 2/2018; A/HRC/40/60/Add.1, paras. 622, 627).

25. Morocco

74. On 4 June 2019, three special procedures mandate holders expressed concerns at allegations that Ms. Naziha El Khalidi, Sahrawi journalist from the Equipe Media based in Laayoune, had been interrogated by the National Judicial Police (MAR 2/2019) after the mandate holders had submitted a communication to the authorities on 3 April 2019 about her reported arrest, ill-treatment, and criminal charges for her journalistic work (MAR 1/2019).²⁵ Ms. El Khalidi was reportedly interrogated on 17 May 2019 for three hours without the presence of her lawyer, during which time police officers informed her about the communication sent by the mandate holders. They inquired whether she was the source of the complaint, asked her to provide the e-mail address used to send the complaint, and she was compelled to sign a document with references to the special procedures communication.

26. Myanmar

75. The independent international fact-finding mission on Myanmar expressed its grave concern at the intimidation and threats faced by persons cooperating with the mechanisms of the Human Rights Council examining the situation in Myanmar and urged the Government to protect human rights defenders (A/HRC/39/64, para. 9). The mission verified instances of reprisals for engagement with the United Nations (para. 72).

76. The Special Rapporteur on the situation of human rights in Myanmar expressed concern that in late February 2019 the Parliament decided to discuss a motion urging the Government to respond to the actions of the Human Rights Council on Myanmar. A member of Parliament threatened to take legal action against people and organizations who “damage the dignity” of Myanmar by cooperating with the United Nations, which the Special Rapporteur noted could further muzzle human rights defenders (A/HRC/40/68, para. 46). It had been reported in the media on 21 February 2019 that the member of Parliament stated that any organization or person providing information considered to be false and with the intent to cause deliberation in the United Nations General Assembly will face legal action and that voting in the United Nations causes great damage to the dignity of the country.

77. In March 2019, the Human Rights Council called on the Government of Myanmar to ensure that individuals can cooperate without hindrance with the United Nations and other human rights entities, without fear of reprisal, intimidation or attack (A/HRC/RES/40/29, para. 6). In January 2019, the General Assembly reiterated its urgent call on the Government of Myanmar to allow full and unhindered access for the delivery of humanitarian assistance by humanitarian actors, including the United Nations, to affected persons and communities, without fear of reprisals, intimidation or attack (A/RES/73/264), para. 8(e)).

27. Nicaragua

78. From June 2018 to May 2019, OHCHR documented 23 cases of harassment and persecution against those who regularly share information on human rights violations with OHCHR. Mr. Braulio Abarca, Mr. Levis Artola Rugama, Mr. Marcos Cardona, Mr. Gonzalo Carrion, Ms. Haydée Castillo Flores, Mr. Lerner Fonseca, Ms. Sara Henriquez, Ms. Mayorit Guevara, Mr. Jonathan Francisco López, Ms. Monica López Baltodano, Mr. Félix Alejandro Maradiaga, Mr. Medardo Mayrena, Mr. Pedro Mena, Ms. Ana Quiroz, Ms. Francisca Ramírez, Mr. Amaru Ruiz Aleman, and Mr. Henry Ruiz Condega consented to being named in the report, while others did not due to fear of further reprisals. Those affected have reported threats, harassments and smear campaigns on social media. Their homes and families have been under surveillance by police officers and pro-government armed elements. In some instances, their relatives suffered attacks against their life and personal integrity. On 22 February 2019 the High Commissioner expressed concern about the “arrest and jailing of opposition leaders, possibly in some cases as a reprisal for cooperating with the UN.”²⁶

79. In 12 of the 23 cases, victims were arrested or had arrest warrants issued against them. All cases of detention presented elements of arbitrariness or illegality. Reports received indicate a pattern of persistent infringement of the principle of the publicity of hearings. In some cases, defense attorneys were threatened with criminal prosecution by the judges during hearings, and the use of undercover witnesses hindered the exercise of the defense. On 5 November 2018, nine special procedures mandate holders raised the situation of some of the women defenders affected, expressing concerns about disproportionate and undue restrictions on them (NIC 4/2018).

80. On 14 March 2019, the European Parliament adopted a resolution (2019/2615(RSP)) on the situation in Nicaragua, and strongly condemned “the persecution, arrest and intimidation of people cooperating with the UN and other international bodies.” In March 2019, the Human Rights Council adopted a resolution on the human rights situation in Nicaragua expressing concern over reported acts of intimidation and reprisals (A/HRC/RES/40/2, para. 2).

²⁶ OHCHR, “Bachelet concerned about criminalization of dissent in Nicaragua,” (22 February 2019).

81. On 23 September 2018, Mr. Jonathan Francisco López, a 20 year-old student leader from the National University of Managua, was arrested on a warrant issued on 14 July 2018, transferred to the detention centre known as “El Chipote,” and held incommunicado for a number of days. Initially, he was not allowed to communicate with his family or lawyer, and was not brought before a judge. The situation of Mr. López was reported as an act of reprisals for his leading role in the students’ protests and for a meeting in June 2018 with the High Commissioner for Human Rights in Geneva. On 8 October 2018, the Assistant Secretary-General addressed these allegations in writing to the Government. On 22 February 2019, the High Commissioner for Human Rights noted that the proceedings in many of the cases that have reached the courts, including that of Mr. López, “have been marked by a lack of transparency, issues relating to the credibility and independence of witnesses, undue restrictions on evidence and witnesses for the defence, and insufficient access of defendants to their lawyers.”²⁷

82. On 7 November 2018, four mandate holders expressed concern at the arbitrary detention of Mr. López and at attacks, intimidation and threats against Mr. Félix Alejandro Maradiaga and others more generally (NIC 5/2018; A/HRC/40/60/Add.1, para. 246; A/HRC/40/52, para. 58)²⁸ as reprisals for their cooperation with international bodies, including the United Nations. On 5 September 2018, Mr. Maradiaga participated in an information session on Nicaragua related to the UN Security Council in New York. A week later, on 24 September 2018, a criminal court in the district of Managua issued a warrant for his arrest on charges of organized crime and financing of terrorist activities, reportedly for his cooperation with the UN. Prior, on 9 July 2018, the Inter-American Commission for Human Rights had granted Mr. Maradiaga precautionary measures responding to a sequence of attacks, threats, death threats against him and his family, as well as stigmatization by public officials. Due to this situation, Mr. Maradiaga left the country.

83. On 27 November 2018, the Government responded. Regarding the situation of Mr. López, the Government indicated that he had been charged with obstruction and kidnapping under articles 327 and 163 of the Criminal Code. On 14 November 2018, during a preliminary hearing, it was decided to keep Mr. López in pre-trial detention during which he has received weekly visits by relatives and access to medical attention. Regarding the situation of Mr. Maradiaga, the Government informed that there was an arrest warrant against him on charges of organized crime and financing of terrorist activities, as per articles 393 and 395 of the Criminal Code. On 14 February 2019, the Fifth Criminal Court of Managua found Mr. López guilty of the crimes of disruption of public services, illegal possession and carrying of weapons, kidnapping and threats, and sentenced him to five years and three months in prison. On 20 May 2019, Mr. López was released, together with other 99 persons detained in the context of the 2018 protests, under “family cohabitation or other alternatives measures to deprivation of liberty.”

84. On 8 February 2019, the spokesperson of the High Commissioner for Human Rights²⁹ expressed concerns that agents from the Ministry of Interior conducted a raid, allegedly without a warrant, on the offices of the Federación Red Nicaragüense para la Democracia y Desarrollo, known as “Red Local,” a coalition of 22 civil society organizations working across the country. During the raid, documents and assets were seized, and two of Red Local’s staff were detained for a few hours and subsequently released. The assault took place only six days after a group of Nicaraguan civil society representatives, including members of Red Local, met the High Commissioner for Human Rights in Geneva and shared their concerns about the increasing restrictions on civic space and expression of dissent in Nicaragua. On 12 March 2019, seven special procedures mandate holders addressed the alleged reprisals against Red Local and its members for cooperation with the UN, expressing concern that the raid was reportedly intended to obstruct the activities of the members of Red Local, as well as send a message to civil society in the country (NIC 1/2019).

28. Poland

85. On 13 December 2018, five special procedures mandate holders expressed concern about reports that human rights defenders traveling to participate in the 24th Conference of the Parties (COP 24) to the UN Framework Convention on Climate Change (UNFCCC), held in Katowice, were barred from entering the country in early December 2018.³⁰ They also expressed concern that the defenders were harassed, arbitrarily detained and questioned for several hours by the Polish authorities. The majority of up to a dozen individuals denied entry into the country were reportedly holding visas to enter Poland and approved UN accreditation. On 25 January 2019, the Assistant Secretary-General addressed these concerns in writing.

86. Prior, on 23 April 2018, five special procedures mandate holders addressed the adoption of a law related to the organization of the COP24 by Poland (POL 3/2018). They expressed serious concern that the law could enhance the surveillance powers of the police and secret services, allowing them to collect, obtain, process and use personal electronic and digital data without the necessary safeguards, and consequently, unduly restrict the right to privacy on environmental human rights defenders and members of the public seeking to participate in COP24 (article 17.1).

87. On 23 May 2018, the Government addressed the allegations that related to the law, providing a detailed explanation of preparatory measures the law was foreseen to facilitate in the organization of COP24. The Government noted that principally the law was aimed at efficient organization and financing of the conference and the regulation of how state institutions will cooperate to ensure full security. It also noted that the Ministry of Environment gave the assurance of the right of social partners to manifest their views freely at the conference and noted the important role of non-governmental organizations, per the Paris Agreement.³¹

88. On 1 February 2019, the Government responded to the Assistant Secretary-General stating that the scope and international character of the climate summit required additional temporary security measures to provide participants with sufficient security and ensure effective counter-terrorism protection. It stated that the Internal Security Agency cooperated with foreign partners to this end and that only those individuals identified as previously involved in disturbing the peace and committing unlawful acts were denied entry to COP24 as a preventive tool.

89. It was reported that Poland's national human rights institution and the Commissioner on Human Rights, Mr. Adam Bodnar, have been continually subject to acts of intimidation and reprisals in connection to their work, including for their cooperation with the UN. Since 2016, there has reportedly been a reduction of the budget assigned to the Office of the Commissioner for Human Rights by the Parliament, in part because of Mr. Bodnar's international engagement. In September 2017, an unsuccessful motion for dismissal of Mr. Bodnar was put forward by two Members of Parliament invoking Mr. Bodnar's collaboration with international bodies. Despite numerous international recommendations to provide the Commissioner with appropriate resources,³² it does not have enough to effectively fulfil its statutory obligations.

90. In October 2016, Mr. Bodnar presented an alternative report to the Human Rights Committee in Geneva during its review of Poland. In its concluding observations (CCPR/C/POL/CO/7), the Committee addressed points raised by Mr. Bodnar, who was subsequently accused in the media of having influence over the Committee's observations, including contacting them in advance. A public official accused Mr. Bodnar of a lack of objectivity, which could have constituted breaking his oath as Commissioner. On 5 March 2019, two special procedures mandate holders addressed allegations about a civil lawsuit against Mr. Bodnar by the public broadcaster, Telewizja Polska SA (TVP), in relation to advocacy against hate speech (POL 1/2019). The Government responded on 17 April 2019, detailing the circumstances of immunity of the Commissioner in Poland and providing an update on the status of the case.³³

29. Saudi Arabia

91. On 8 February 2019, four special procedures mandate holders issued an urgent appeal with renewed concerns about the situations of several women human rights defenders, including Ms. Samar Badawi (see Annex II) and Ms. Loujain Al-Hathloul, both of whom had cooperated with the United Nations and were being held in Dhabban prison in Jeddah (SAU 1/2019).³⁴ They raised concerns about reports of detention, torture, sexual harassment and ill-treatment including in the form of gender-based violence committed against them. On 9 April 2019, the Assistant Secretary-General addressed these cases with the Government in writing.

92. On 27 February 2018, Ms. Loujain Al-Hathloul cooperated with CEDAW during the consideration of Saudi Arabia. In early March 2018, shortly after Ms. Al-Hathloul's return from Geneva, she was arrested in Abu Dhabi by Emirati authorities and taken to Riyadh by Saudi authorities for interrogation. After three days she was released and a travel ban was imposed. On 15 May 2018, Saudi police forces raided Ms. Al-Hathloul's home, arrested her and held her in incommunicado detention for three months. The charges against Ms. Al-Hathloul reportedly include using social media to communicate with international actors and contact with foreign entities and participating in an exam of the United Nations. The case of Ms. Al-Hathloul has been raised by several special procedures mandate holders (SAU 15/2014; SAU 7/2018 and A/HRC/40/60/Add.1, para. 637; SAU 1/2019).³⁵

93. The CEDAW Chair and Committee Focal Point on Reprisals wrote confidential letters to the Government³⁶ related to the allegations of arbitrary detention and degrading treatment and punishment. In response, the Government provided information on the conditions of detention and remedies available to Ms. Al-Hathloul.³⁷ On 5 April 2019, the Government submitted additional information, stating that she had committed offences related to national security and cybercrimes and is detained in the General Directorate of Investigation (Al-Mabahith) with rights to medical treatment, legal representation, communications and visits. The Government stated that the investigation into her case has been conducted and concluded.

94. On 25 June 2018, three special procedures mandate holders addressed the situation of Mr. Abdulrasheed Al-Faqih and Ms. Radhia Al-Mutawake of the Mwatana Organization for Human Rights (see also Yemen), including reported arbitrary detentions during attempts to fly from Seiyun airport, in apparent reprisal for their cooperation with UN human rights mechanisms (YEM 4/2018; SAU 8/2018 and A/HRC/40/60/Add.1, para. 638). In 2017, Ms. Al-Mutawake was the first Yemeni woman to present a briefing at the UN Security Council and Mr. Al-Faqih had actively participated in Human Rights Council sessions in 2017. The detention and confiscation of their passports at Seiyun airport by military police were reportedly based on orders received from the Saudi-led coalition in Yemen, and caused them to not be able to travel (YEM 4/2018; SAU 8/2018). On 28 June 2018, the Government

95. In March 2019, Mr. Yahya Al-Assiri, director of the Saudi human rights organization AIQST, which reports on the human rights situation of detainees and activists in Saudi Arabia, delivered a statement on behalf of the International Federation for Human Rights (FIDH) during the UPR adoption of Saudi Arabia, and spoke as a panellist at a side event on Saudi Arabia organised by the World Organization Against Torture (OMCT). As a result of his engagement, Al-Assiri reportedly received threats on social media. Some of the women human rights defenders detained in 2018³⁹ were reportedly interrogated about Mr. Al-Assiri, including explicitly regarding his engagement with the UN Human Rights Council.

96. A February 2019 OHCHR report notes that harassment or surveillance of human rights defenders and of victims of human rights violations continue. In 2018, rights defenders reported being questioned by the authorities after travelling to attend sessions of the Human Rights Council (A/HRC/40/23, para 55). Representatives of civil society have reported being monitored, under surveillance, or intimidated, including receiving death threats, while participating in various sessions of the Council. A former NGO worker was visited by armed men who questioned him about his activities in support of visits by diplomats and United Nations officials, including the High Commissioner for Human Rights in 2013 (para. 55). The OHCHR report further notes that such cases suggest that informal and often extra-legal intelligence gathering activities have not ceased.

97. On 2 August 2018 five special procedures mandate holders noted with concern allegations of harassment, including online attacks, of Ms. Sandya Ekneligoda in reprisal for her efforts to seek the truth about the fate and whereabouts of her husband (LKA 2/2018; A/HRC/40/60/Add.1, para. 414), disappeared journalist Mr. Prageeth Ekneligoda, whose case was registered by the UN Working Group on Enforced or Involuntary Disappearances on 3 February 2010 (case number 10002838). Ms. Ekneligoda has been the target of threats, intimidation and online attacks by supporters of the Buddhist monk leader of the group Bodu Bala Sena (BBS), Mr. Galagodaatte Gnanasara Thera. He reportedly stormed the court room during a hearing on Mr. Ekneligoda's disappearance and threatened and intimidated Ms. Ekneligoda. He was convicted for contempt of court in 2018 and granted Presidential pardon on 23 May 2019.

31. Tunisia

98. In January 2019, the National Syndicate of Tunisian Journalists (SNJT), which monitors attacks against journalists, was subject to online harassment for promoting the use of the United Nations special procedures. On 29 January 2019, the SNJT issued a public statement calling on the Tunisian authorities to ensure protection of journalists and accountability through immediate investigation of increasing attacks against them. The SNJT stated that in case the authorities did not respond promptly, it would alert the UN Special Rapporteur on the promotion and protection of the right to freedom of opinion and expression. On 30 January 2019, a leader of the Tunisian regional security forces syndicate published the SNJT press release on its official Facebook page stating "The Traitors have no place between us. Back to hell and those who have problems with the Ministry of Interior should go away outside Tunisia with the United Nations."

99. Following the statement, a complaint was submitted to investigate and prosecute those responsible within the security forces on the bases of the Press Code. The case is being investigated and the security forces leader is being prosecuted for incitement to murder, per

32. Turkmenistan

100. On 27 November 2018, two special procedures mandate holders addressed alleged reprisals against Ms. Daria Atdaeva, Russian national, and her husband, Mr. Annamurad Nurmukhammedovich Atdaev, for cooperation with the Working Group on Enforced or Involuntary Disappearances (TKM 2/2018, A/HRC/40/60/Add.1, paras. 548, 551). On 27 April 2017, the Working Group transmitted, under its urgent action procedure, a case to the Government concerning Mr. Atdaev, allegedly disappeared in late January 2017 from the penal colony in Tedzhen, Ahal Province (A/HRC/WGEID/112/1, para. 99). According to the information received, Mr. Atdaev was sentenced by a court in Ashgabat city on 13 December 2016 and is currently being detained at an unknown location. Ms. Daria Atdaeva filed a complaint with the Working Group in April 2017, and has since maintained contact with the Working Group in order to clarify the fate and whereabouts of her husband.

101. In July 2018, after a first denial of visa, Ms. Atdaeva was authorized to visit her husband. However, on 21 September 2018, the Russian Embassy in Turkmenistan sent Ms. Atdaeva a letter stating that her husband was denied visitation rights because he violated internal rules of the penitentiary facility. This letter was sent one week after Ms. Atdaeva met with the Working Group in Geneva, and after she spoke about her husband's case at a public side event at the Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe (OSCE).

102. On 25 June 2019 the Government responded to the allegations, stating that Ms. Atdaeva does not have any restrictions on entry into and exit from Turkmenistan. It noted that Mr. Atdaev was sentenced to 15 years imprisonment in Ashgabat on 6 March 2017 for violating the Criminal Code, including conspiracy to seize power, appeals for a violent change of the constitutional order, incitement of social, national or religious hatred, creation of an organized group, and criminal community and other criminal structures or participation in their activities. He is currently in the correctional colony AH/E-2 of the Ministry of Internal Affairs and has had five short visits with his close relatives.

33. United Arab Emirates

103. It was reported that Mr. Ahmad Ali Mekkaoui, a Lebanese citizen, faced reprisals after his detention was found arbitrary by the Working Group on Arbitrary Detention (A/HRC/WGAD/2017/47, paras. 23, 34) during its August 2017 session. Mr. Mekkaoui had been arrested on 13 October 2014 and reportedly detained in secret detention and in solitary confinement for seven months, during which he was severely tortured and sustained injuries requiring five surgeries. On 4 December 2016, Mr. Mekkaoui was sentenced to 15 years in prison based on confessions extracted under torture. On 5 December 2018, the Arabic television channel Al Arabi broadcasted a video segment on Mr. Mekkaoui's case, detailing his torture and prosecution in the UAE, and the Opinion issued by the Working Group. The video also featured an interview with Mr. Mekkaoui's sister and his lawyer.

104. Consequently, and as an alleged act of reprisal, on 17 December 2018 Mr. Mekkaoui was moved to solitary confinement and was put in a cell underground, without natural day light. Since then, Mr. Mekkaoui has only intermittently been able to contact his family and the last phone call he made was on 15 April 2019. Moreover, in March 2019, the Public Prosecution initiated new legal proceedings against Mr. Mekkaoui, his sister, his nephew and his lawyer, accusing them of "misrepresentation and incitement against the UAE" based on the interviews from 5 December 2018 and his nephew's Facebook page calling for Mr. Mekkaoui's immediate release. His health reportedly remains critical.

105. It is alleged that three women in detention, Ms. Alya Abdulnoor, Ms. Maryam Soulayman Al-Ballushi and Ms. Amina Alabduli, faced reprisals after information on their conditions of detention and health situations were shared in December 2018 with the United Nations special procedures, including recorded testimonies. Their conditions and the treatment of their family members while visiting prison reportedly worsened following action by three special procedures mandate holders on 12 February 2019 (ARE 2/2019). The authorities denied the allegations on 4 March 2019.⁴⁰

106. Ms. Alya Abdulnoor was arrested in July 2015 and charged with “financing terrorism” after she helped raise funds for needy Syrian families in the United Arab Emirates and war-affected women and children in Syria. Before her transfer to Al-Wathba prison, Ms. Alya Abdulnoor was reportedly held in secret detention and in solitary confinement for six months and subjected to intense interrogation, torture, and threats. In 2015 she was re-diagnosed with cancer shortly after her arrest and despite her health condition was not provided with adequate medical treatment. After her state of health worsened significantly, she was transferred to Mafra Hospital in November 2016 and was kept there until January 2019.

107. At the beginning of January 2019, a few weeks after a press release on her conditions, Ms. Abdulnoor was suddenly transferred to Tawam hospital where medical staff had very limited access to her and treatment was monitored and authorised by the authorities. The authorities reportedly imposed more restrictions during visits, relatives were subjected to humiliating body searches and their personal belongings were taken from them. Ms. Abdulnoor died in custody on 4 May 2019, despite pleas from the United Nations for assistance.⁴¹

108. Ms. Maryam Soulayman Al-Ballushi was detained on 19 February 2015 and accused of “financing terrorism” because of her donation to a Syrian family. She was transferred to a secret detention center in solitary confinement where she stayed for five months, and was reportedly interrogated and subjected to beatings on the head and threatened with rape. It is alleged that a confession was obtained under duress and, on 12 April 2016, Ms. Al-Ballushi was sentenced to 5 years prison at Al-Wathba prison. After information was submitted about the situation of Ms. Al-Ballushi and others to the United Nations special procedures, the family was reportedly contacted by a female State Security officer who threatened to bring Ms. Al-Ballushi to trial again and lay new charges against her. She also threatened to harm the family members if Ms Al-Ballushi kept denouncing her detention conditions.

109. On 4 May 2019, shortly after Ms. Abdulnoor’s death, allegedly because they were seen as information sources to advocates abroad including the United Nations, Ms. Al-Ballushi and her cellmate, Ms. Amina Alabduli, were subjected to unequal treatment within the prison. Ms. Alabduli had been arrested in November 2015 and sentenced in October 2016 to 5 years charged with “inciting hatred against the State and disturbing public order; undermining the reputation of the State institutions, and publishing false information to endanger the State’s relations with its allies.” Following the death in custody of Ms. Abdulnoor, six police officers reportedly entered and searched the cell of Ms. Al-Ballushi and Ms. Alabduli and stamped on and confiscated their religious books. It is reported that they are both constantly abused by other inmates, which the prison administration reportedly has not addressed. Beyond requesting protection from the prison administration, they have complained about the systematic ill-treatment they are subjected to, compared to other detainees.

34. Uzbekistan

110. According to reports received, in November 2018, Ms. Tatyana Dovlatova, a human rights defender, and several other women activists, were prevented from attending the Asian Forum on Human Rights in Samarkand. The Forum took place on 22 and 23 November 2018 organized by the National Human Rights Center, and co-organized by the OHCHR Regional Office for Central Asia, the United Nations Country Team in Uzbekistan and the Organization for Security and Cooperation in Europe. On 22 November 2018, Ms. Dovlatova and the other women were subjected to detailed questioning by the Samarkand Prosecutor and the Deputy General Prosecutor in connection with their attempts to attend the Forum without being on a list of participants approved by the Government, and for requesting to meet with United Nations officials and human rights experts attending the Forum. Following the questioning, Ms. Dovlatova and the other women were reportedly taken against their will to Tashkent in order to prevent their interaction with the United Nations. The following days, when the Forum was still ongoing, Ms. Dovlatova and the other women were under surveillance by Uzbekistan security forces reportedly to prevent their interaction with United Nations officials and to prevent them from raising human rights issues at the Forum.

35. Venezuela (Bolivarian Republic of)

111. Between 11 and 22 March 2019, an OHCHR team visited Venezuela. On 20 March 2019, in an oral update to the Human Rights Council, the High Commissioner for Human Rights noted the visit as a positive first step and underlined the importance of completely unhindered access for the OHCHR team, with no reprisals against any person who had met, or sought to meet, them.⁴² According to reports received in March and April 2019, medical personnel, human rights defenders, and members of students' movements who cooperated with OHCHR during the visit suffered acts of intimidation and reprisals. OHCHR raised allegations of individual cases with the Government.

112. On 16 March 2019, the house of Dr. Ronnie Villasmil, who had engaged with OHCHR on 14 March 2019 during their visit to the Enrique Tejera Hospital in the state of Carabobo, was searched without a warrant by members of the Cuerpo de Investigaciones Científicas Penales y Criminalísticas (CICIPC). The CICIPC official reportedly left a subpoena to present himself to the police of the state of Carabobo. When asked about the incident, the Government explained that there was a complaint against Dr. Villasmil filed by a staff member of the hospital.

113. On 13 March 2019, OHCHR visited the Centro Nacional de Procesados Militares de Ramo Verde, a military detention center and a number of inmates approached the team and told them about detention conditions. A few days later, OHCHR was informed that family visits had been restricted for some of those who cooperated with the team.

114. On 14 March, Mr. Marlon Jesús Díaz Golindano, leader of a student movement from the University of Carabobo, tried to speak with OHCHR's team during their visit to Central Hospital of Valencia but a group of pro-government armed individuals (colectivos armados) physically attacked him and threatened him not to speak with OHCHR. On 17 March 2019, OHCHR visited the Dr. Pasto Oropeza Ribera Hospital accompanied by Dr. Maria Auxiliadora Castillo and Dr. Amarante Anza Maldonado. On 21 March 2019, both doctors received a notification that, as of 1 April 2019, they were to be beneficiaries of (early) retirement, which neither of them had requested.

115. On 25 March 2019, following the oral update of the High Commissioner,⁴³ disparaging statements were made on the pro-government news portal Aporrea against individuals and organizations who had cooperated with OHCHR during their visit. Those affected included the Observatorio Venezolano de Conflictividad Social, Ms. Liliana Ortega of Comité de Familiares de Víctimas de los Sucesos de Febrero-Marzo de 1989 (COFAVIC), and Mr. Rafael Uzcátegui of Programa Venezolano de Educación y Acción en Derechos Humanos (Provea), who were labelled as financed by foreign interests and accused of disseminating false information.

116. On 8 October 2018, Mr. Fernando Albán of the Primero Justicia party died in custody in Caracas. In September 2018, Mr. Albán had travelled to New York where he participated in meetings with diplomatic delegations to the UN attending the General Assembly as part of a delegation of members of the party. He took part in meetings about possible UN-led initiatives to address the human rights situation in Venezuela, in particular action to be taken, among others, in the Security Council.

117. On Friday 5 October 2018, upon arriving at Caracas international airport from New York, Mr. Albán was taken into custody by members of the Bolivarian National Intelligence Services (SEBIN) allegedly in connection with the failed assassination attempt against the President of 4 August 2018. The authorities did not inform Mr. Albán's family or lawyers of his detention or whereabouts, and on 8 October 2018, according to official sources, Mr. Albán killed himself by leaping from the tenth floor of SEBIN's administrative headquarters. OHCHR received reports indicating that Mr. Albán's suicide was unlikely, including related to the restrictions of movement applied to prisoners under the custody of SEBIN. On 23 November 2018, the Assistant Secretary-General addressed these allegations in writing.

36. Viet Nam

118. In August 2018, four special procedures mandate holders expressed concerns at allegations of torture, interrogation on religious activities and use of social media, as well as interdiction to report to international human rights organizations, related to Mr. Y Than Buon Dap, Mr. Y Bhuar Bdap, Mr. Ciêu Bkrông, Mr. Y Khen Nie, and Mr. Y Krit Bdap (VNM 9/2018). On 25 April 2019, the Government responded, stating that the individuals disseminated distorted information on State policies regarding ethnic minorities to mislead the local people and defamed the State by making up stories about the Government's violation of the rights of religious and ethnic groups.⁴⁴

119. It was reported that, in February 2019, Ms. Nguyen Thi Kim Thanh faced reprisals following her participation in Vietnam's UPR in Geneva on 21 January 2019, where she met with United Nations staff to advocate for the release of her husband, prisoner of conscience Mr. Truong Minh Duc, who was the subject of a special procedures communication in September 2017 (VNM 6/2017). Photos of these meetings were posted on Facebook. When she returned to Viet Nam, upon her arrival at the Airport in Ho Chi Minh City on 21 February 2019, she was detained by security forces who questioned her about her meetings with the United Nations. Ms. Nguyen Thi Kim Thanh was informed that she was being placed on a list of individuals barred from traveling abroad for national security reasons, her passport was confiscated, and her case referred to the Department of Immigration. She was asked to sign an official record of these directives.

120. It was reported that in March 2019, Ms. Bui Thi Kim Phuong faced a travel ban as she was planning to visit Geneva to bring the case of her husband, Mr. Nguyen Bac Truyen, a human rights defender and independent Hoa Hao Buddhist who faced reprisals after the 2014 visit of the Special Rapporteur on freedom of religion and belief, to the attention of the Human Rights Committee (see Annex II). On 7 March 2019, a few days before Viet Nam was to be reviewed by the Committee at its 125th session, Ms. Bui Thi Kim Phuong was detained and questioned at Tan Son Nhat International Airport in Ho Chi Minh City and banned from traveling to Europe to meet United Nations and European government officials to advocate for the release of her husband. The authorities reportedly cited "security reasons" for the travel ban placed on Ms. Bui Thi Kim Phuong.

121. On 26 September 2018, Mr. Nguyen Van An, a Catholic from Ke Gai Parish, was informed of an arrest warrant for documenting a violent incident that took place in December 2017 involving members of "Red Flag Associations" and reporting it to the Special Rapporteur for freedom of religion or belief in February 2018. Mr. Nguyen Van An was also an official government witness for the incident, but was later persecuted for his documentation role. He was the subject of four police summons and accused of "unlawful restraint." His family was reportedly subjected to police harassment. Due to these incidents, Mr. Nguyen Van An and his family have left the country.

122. In March 2019, the Human Rights Committee expressed concern at cases of reprisals against rights defenders, including for engaging with the United Nations. It recommended

⁴⁴ Response from Government:
<https://spcommreports.ohchr.org/TMResultsBase/DownloadFile?gId=34638>

the State party to allow the defenders the necessary latitude to carry out their activities, including engaging with the United Nations, without fear of restrictions or reprisal. The Committee also expressed concern that members of religious communities and their leaders face surveillance, harassment, intimidation, and physical assaults leading to death, and was disturbed by the involvement of non-State actors, such as the “Red Flag Associations,” in inciting religious discrimination as well as acts of violence (CCPR/C/VNM/CO/3, paras. 43, 51-52).

123. On 26 June 2019, the Government responded to the allegations. Regarding the cases of Ms. Nguyen Thi Kim Thanh and Ms. Bui Thi Kim Phuong, the Government stated that the claims that the authorities “threaten” or “prevented individuals from travelling” are untrue and stated that the compilation and drafting of reports related to the UPR and International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights (ICCPR) are carried out in an open, transparent and inclusive manner. Regarding the situation of Mr. Nguyen Van An, the Government indicated that claims of threats against him and his family are unjustified. The Government stated that there is no “Red Flag Association” in the country and that when tension between Catholic followers and local residents erupted in December 2017, the authorities convoked the two groups requesting them not to engage in acts causing disruption to local social order and security.

37. Yemen

124. On 25 June 2018 three special procedures mandate holders addressed the situation of Mr. Abdulrasheed Al-Faqih and Ms. Radhia Al-Mutawake of the Mwatana Organization for Human Rights, including reported arbitrary detention during attempts to fly from Seiyun airport, in apparent reprisal for their cooperation with UN human rights mechanisms (YEM 4/2018 and SAU 8/2018). These restrictions occurred after Ms. Al-Mutawake was the first Yemeni woman to brief the UN Security Council, and Mr. Al-Faqih actively participated in Human Rights Council sessions in 2017. On 14 June 2018, Mr. Al-Faqih was on his way to Seyun airport when he was detained and interrogated at Bab Al-Falaj checkpoint (Marib) by individuals believed to be members of forces loyal to the Government wearing Central Security Forces uniforms, who confiscated his passport and cell phone and took him to the security headquarters in Marib. He was unable to contact anybody for several hours and his location remained unconfirmed until his release later that afternoon. This incident prevented him from travelling abroad. On 18 June 2018, Mr. Al-Faqih and Ms. Al-Mutawake were prevented from travelling again when they were detained at Seiyun airport by military police reportedly of the Saudi-led coalition, and their passports confiscated (YEM 4/2018 and SAU 8/2018). Mr. Al-Faqih has reportedly been able to return to Yemen but Ms. Al-Mutawake remains at risk due to her advocacy work.

38. State of Palestine

125. In the West Bank, from July to October 2018, several detainees reported to OHCHR having faced reprisals after participating in interviews with staff from the OHCHR office in the Occupied Palestinian Territory who documented cases of cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment that may amount to torture in Palestinian detention centres. In three cases detainees declined to speak to OHCHR, and others expressed fear of revealing details regarding their treatment due to fear of reprisals. OHCHR has raised these concerns with the relevant authorities.

Annex II

Information on alleged cases included in follow-up to previous reports

1. Bahrain

1. The 2018 report of the Secretary-General included references by multiple United Nations actors to a general context of harassment and intimidation against Bahraini civil society representatives seeking to cooperate with the United Nations (A/HRC/39/41 paras. 29-30). Those individuals included Mr. Sayed Ahmed Al-Wadaei and some of his close relatives, Ms. Ebtesam Abdulhusain Ali-Alsaegh, and Mr. Nabeel Rajab (A/HRC/39/41, Annex I, paras. 1-6; Annex II, paras. 4-11).

2. During the reporting period, travel bans allegedly continued to be applied against those who wish to travel abroad, including to engage with the Human Rights Council. This prevented a number of civil society representatives based in Bahrain from participating in the 40th session of the Council in March 2019. Names of those affected are not put forward due to fear of further reprisals.

3. Mr. Sayed Ahmed Al-Wadaei reportedly continues to suffer disparaging public statements in pro-Government media. The deterioration of the detention and health conditions of his mother-in-law, Ms. Hajar Mansoor Hassan, and her two cellmates at Isa Town Women's detention Centre, Ms. Medina Ali and Ms. Najah Yusuf, have been reported. On 19 January 2019, the Working Group on Arbitrary Detention found the detention of Mr. Al-Wadaei's relatives, Mr. Mahmood Marzooq Mansoor and Ms. Hassan, to be arbitrary and in reprisal for their family ties with him (A/HRC/WGAD/2018/51, para. 85, 93).⁴⁵ The Opinion was reported in the media and the Ministry of Interior publicly referred to Mr. Al-Wadaei as a "terrorist fugitive" and a "criminal," and to his family members as "terrorists."

4. On 17 January 2019, five special procedures mandate holders addressed allegations concerning Ms. Ali-Alsaegh and Ms. Hassan (BHR 7/2018; A/HRC/36/31, Annex I, paras. 5, 7; A/HRC/40/60, para. 75). Concerns about Ms. Ali-Alsaegh were in relation to threats, travel restrictions and criminal charges for her cooperation with the United Nations, including the Human Rights Council. During the 38th session of the Human Rights Council, after Ms. Ali-Alsaegh posted several tweets highlighting human rights concerns in Bahrain, she received messages through Twitter and Instagram urging her to close her accounts and to stop her human rights work, under threat of public defamation and rape. Her situation was addressed by special procedures in 2016 and 2017 (BHR 9/2017⁴⁶; BHR 8/2017⁴⁷; BHR 4/2016⁴⁸).

5. The mandate holders also raised concerns about further acts of reprisals, including physical abuse in detention, against Ms. Hassan, convicted under a counter-terrorism law. On 16 September 2018, Ms. Hassan was reportedly assaulted, harshly beaten, hospitalized, and then held incommunicado in Isa Town Prison from 16 to 23 September 2018. Around those dates, the 2018 report of the Secretary-General, which mentioned her case, was presented at the 39th session of the Human Rights Council (A/HRC/39/41, Annex I, para. 5).

⁴⁵ Opinion No. 51/2018 adopted by the Working Group on Arbitrary Detention at its eighty-second session, concerning Sayed Nazar Naama Baqquer Ali Yusuf Alwadaei, Mahmood Marzooq Mansoor and Hajar Mansoor Hassan (Bahrain), 20–24 August 2018.

6. The family of Ms. Hassan has reportedly not seen her since September 2018 and in January 2019, she went on a two-day hunger strike to protest the restrictions after the publication of the Opinion of the Working Group. Reports also indicate that Ms. Hassan is being denied access to adequate medical care, in particular since August 2018 when she developed medical conditions that require specialized treatment. On 20 March 2019, the Embassy of Bahrain in London, through its Twitter account, posted private correspondence between Mr. Al-Wadaei and the Ombudsman Office of the Ministry of Interior of Bahrain, including information on the situation of his mother-in-law and private email accounts of relatives. The tweets were later deleted.

7. On 11 March 2019, the Government responded providing detailed information about the situation of Ms. Ali-Asaegh and Ms. Hassan, including related to the claims submitted to the Ombudsman Office. It stated that allegations about retaliation against individuals or family members for their human rights activities are not true.⁴⁹

8. The case of Mr. Nabeel Rajab, from the Bahrain Center for Human Rights, was included in the 2017 and 2018 reports of the Secretary-General (see A/HRC/36/31, para. 23 and Annex I, para. 6; and A/HRC/39/41, Annex II, para. 9). In August 2018, the Working Group on Arbitrary Detention found the detention of Mr. Rajab arbitrary, and referred the case to the Assistant Secretary-General for Human Rights.⁵⁰ On 31 December 2018, Bahrain's Court of Cassation upheld Mr. Rajab's conviction and sentence of five years' imprisonment. On 6 May 2019, the court rejected a motion submitted by his lawyers asking for an alternative punishment to the jail sentence. He has now exhausted all legal avenues and will remain in prison until 2023. On 4 January 2019, the spokesperson of the High Commissioner for Human Rights called on the Government of Bahrain to immediately and unconditionally release Mr. Rajab and to stop criminalizing dissenting voices.⁵¹

9. The Government in its reply of 19 June 2019 refers to the cases of Ms. Ali-Asaegh, Ms. Hassan, and Mr. Rajab. In the case of Ms. Ali-Asaegh, it provides detailed information and indicated that she was prevented from travelling due to charges against her for "unauthorized demonstration." Regarding the situation of Ms. Mansoor Hasan, the Government indicated that she was arrested in March 2017 on the charge of having taken part in placing an object resembling an explosive in a public roadway for the purpose of terrorism. According to the Government, over the course of interrogation, some of Ms. Hassan's fellow suspects confessed to having made an imitation explosive and planting it near a farm. On 30 October 2017, Ms. Hassan was sentenced to a three-year prison term. Concerning allegations of torture, the Government indicated that no complaint has been lodged by Ms. Hassan through any of the national remedies, nor has she complained about not receiving medical treatment.

10. Regarding the situation of Mr. Rajab, the Government indicated that the charges against him are unrelated to his human rights activities and have no bearing on the exercise of his right to freedom of opinion and expression; they are merely the application of the law which makes persons criminally responsible if they violate legislative norms.

2. Bangladesh

11. The case of human rights organization Odhikar and its Secretary Advocate, Mr. Adilur Rahman Khan, was included in the 2011 report of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/18/19 paras. 25-26). Odhikar regularly cooperates with the UN and submitted information for Bangladesh's 2009 review by the UPR. Starting in 2010, the activities of Odhikar were reportedly increasingly monitored by the authorities and its staff were threatened and harassed by government officials. In 2014, Odhikar's bank accounts were frozen by the NGO Affairs Bureau, and since then they have not been able to make bank transactions or receive any funds, severely limiting the organization's capacity to operate. Odhikar has been the subject of 13 communications by special procedure mandate holders, a number of which have not been responded by the Government. In December 2018, mandate holders raised concerns at a reported smear campaign against Odhikar as well as harassment and acts of violence against its staff (BGD 10/2018). Odhikar has been accused of anti-state and anti-government activities and of tarnishing the country's image by providing misinformation to the international community. Mr. Rahman Khan was also reportedly monitored and surveilled during and after his trip to Geneva in September 2018 to attend the Human Rights Council and related events.

12. On 5 July 2019, the Government responded, indicating that all NGOs that receive funding from outside the country are required to fulfill criteria established in national law, mainly the Foreign Donations (Voluntary Activities) Regulation Bill of 2016. If NGOs fail to comply with provisions in the law, they could be suspended. This applies to all NGOs in Bangladesh, including Odhikar.

3. Burundi

13. The cases of Mr. Armel Niyongere, Mr. Dieudonné Bashirahishize, Mr. Vital Nshimirimana, and Mr. Lambert Nigarura were included in the 2018 and 2017 reports of the Secretary-General (see A/HRC/39/41, Annex II, paras. 12-13, and A/HRC/36/31, para. 24, Annex, paras. 11-15). Three of the human rights lawyers were disbarred and one suspended allegedly for cooperating with the Committee against Torture during the review of Burundi. The Committee considered the verdict of the court an act of reprisal for their engagement with the United Nations human rights system.

14. According to new information received, the decision of the Court of Appeal has yet to be communicated to the four lawyers, thus preventing them from making an appeal. Moreover, on 15 May 2019, the Public Prosecutor reportedly issued an order requesting the seizure of real estate property and other assets in the country belonging to Mr. Armel Niyongere, Mr. Dieudonné Bashirahishize and Mr. Vital Nshimirimana.

4. Cameroon

15. The cases of Ms. Maximilienne Ngo Mbe and Ms. Alice Nkom of Central Africa Human Rights Defenders Network (REDHAC) were included in the 2018 report of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/39/41, para. 31, and Annex I, paras. 7-8). They suffered physical attacks, intimidation and harassment reportedly in connection to their cooperation with the Human Rights Committee during the review of Cameroon in October 2017. On 26 October 2017, five special procedures mandate holders addressed their situation (CMR 5/2017), and on 11 July 2018 (A/HRC/39/41, Annex I, para. 8) and 17 July 2018 the Government responded affirming that Ms. Ngo Mbe and Ms. Nkom have never been persecuted for their human rights work or cooperation with the UN and requested further detail about the allegations.⁵²

16. According to new information received, between October and December 2018, Ms. Maximilienne Ngo Mbe has been closely monitored and surveilled by plain clothed officers of the intelligence services and unmarked cars outside the REDHAC offices. When traveling, Ms. Maximilienne Ngo Mbe is routinely subjected to additional questioning and anonymous phone calls welcoming her back into the country. Since November 2017, she has received harassing text messages calling her a liar, including reportedly from the Vice-President of the National Commission on Human Rights and Liberties.

5. China

17. The case of Ms. Cao Shunli was included in the 2018 (A/HRC/39/41, Annex I, para.10-11), 2016 (A/HRC/33/19, para. 39), 2015 (A/HRC/30/29, Annex, para. 1), and 2014 (A/HRC/27/38, paras. 17-19) reports of the Secretary-General. On 14 March 2019, nine special procedures mandate holders issued a statement⁵³ renewing their call for a comprehensive and independent investigation five years after the death of Ms. Cao Shunli, a human rights defender who died in custody on 14 March 2014 following attempted engagement with the UPR.⁵⁴ They called for an investigation in 2014⁵⁵ after Ms. Cao Shunli was arrested in September 2013 at Beijing International Airport (CHN 11/2013), when her whereabouts remained unknown for five weeks until she resurfaced in custody and was charged with “provocation.” On 24 January 2014, the Government noted that she had been detained on the criminal charge of disturbing public, social and administrative order and a warrant for Cao’s arrest was issued on the charge of the crime of provocation.⁵⁶ During her incarceration, Ms. Cao Shunli’s health seriously deteriorated, allegedly due to torture, ill-treatment, and authorities’ failure to provide her access to medical care, and she died weeks after being admitted to hospital in critical condition on 19 February 2014 (CHN 13/2013).

18. The case of Ms. Chen Jianfang, a human rights activist, was included in the 2014 report of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/27/38, paras. 17-19). On 20 March 2019, Shanghai police reportedly took Ms. Chen Jianfang from her home and she has allegedly been subject to enforced disappearance since then. Days before she was taken away, she had written a tribute to Ms. Cao Shunli on the fifth anniversary of her death (see above), published online on 14 March 2019. Previously, in 2014, she was reportedly interrogated, warned about attempting to attend a human rights training program, and barred from traveling for life (CHN 11/2013).⁵⁷

19. The case of Ms. Wang Yu, a Chinese lawyer, was included in the 2018 report of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/39/41, Annex I, paras. 10-12) concerning her legal representation on several sensitive cases, including her role in the case of Ms. Cao Shunli (see above). She was arrested and charged for “subversion of state power,” reportedly tortured in custody, and forced to confess to criminal behavior (CHN 6/2015). On 31 July 2018, the Government noted that Ms. Wang was “lawfully subjected to criminal detention on suspicion of troublemaking and inciting the subversion of State power, and was subsequently put under residential surveillance in accordance with the law” (A/HRC/39/41, Annex I, para. 16). On 27 March 2019, Ms. Wang was reportedly handcuffed and taken to the Maizidian Police Station on the grounds that she failed to show an ID card while attempting to enter the Embassy of the United States of America in Beijing to attend a lecture. Embassy staff reportedly attempted to prevent police from detaining her, to no avail. She was later reportedly taken to Beijing Public Security Bureau’s Chaoyang branch and held for one night for “obstructing government administration,” and then released without charge.

20. The case of Mr. Qin Yongmin, democracy activist and dissident, and his wife, Ms. Zhao Suli, was included in the 2018 report of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/39/41, Annex I, paras. 13-14). In October 2018, Mr. Qin was reportedly transferred to Guanghua Prison in Qianjiang City, Hubei Province to serve a 13-year prison sentence on “subversion of state power” charges brought in July 2018. The criminal indictment reportedly accuses Mr. Qin of promotion of engagement with United Nations human rights mechanisms. On 31 July 2018, the Government stated that in March of 2015 he was “lawfully subjected to criminal detention on suspicion of subverting State power” and that he was “lawfully sentenced to 13 years’ fixed-term imprisonment and three years’ deprivation of political rights” (A/HRC/39/41, Annex I, para. 17). Mr. Qin’s wife Ms. Zhao reportedly remains under de facto house arrest, but has now been granted regular, albeit monitored, monthly visits since he was transferred to Guanghua Prison. They are both reportedly suffering health issues.

21. The cases of Mr. Mi Chongbiao and his wife Ms. Li Kezhen were included in the 2018 report of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/39/41, Annex I, paras. 15-16) after Mr. Mi posted a complaint online submitted to the Human Rights Council. Ms. Li is reportedly targeted solely on the basis of her relationship to Mr. Mi. On 31 July 2018, the Government stated that in May 2012, Mr. Mi was “lawfully subjected to criminal detention on suspicion of troublemaking subsequently changed to residential surveillance that was lifted in August 2012” and that the allegations of “disappearances” or “arbitrary detentions” are incorrect (A/HRC/39/41, Annex I, para. 16). On 20 June 2018, Mr. Mi and Ms. Li were reportedly allowed to return to their home in Yunyan District, Guiyang City, Guizhou after being detained in April 2017 and held incommunicado for several months. In July 2017, they were put under “residential surveillance at a designated secret location.” Mr. Mi has reportedly been subjected to ill-treatment and torture. Since returning home, the couple has remained under 24/7 police monitoring and their residence is surrounded by guards. On 27 June 2018, their lawyer attempted to visit them but was stopped by police and taken away for questioning.

22. The case of Ms. Li Wenzu was included in the 2017 report of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/36/31, Annex I, paras. 20-21) related to arbitrary arrest and detention in reprisal for her cooperation with the Special Rapporteur on extreme poverty and human rights, during his visit to China in August 2016. The Government stated that Ms. Li’s freedom of movement had not been restricted and that she had not been subject to unlawful surveillance or harassment (A/HRC/36/31, Annex I, para. 21). Ms. Li is the wife of Mr. Wang Quanzhang, arrested on 10 July 2015 during the “709” incidents (CHN 6/2015) and whose case was taken up by the Working Group on Arbitrary Detention.⁵⁸ On 26 December 2018, Mr. Wang Quanzhang was tried at Tianjin No. 2 Intermediate Court, but Ms. Li Wenzu was reportedly blocked by police from leaving her apartment compound to attend the closed-door trial. Since 29 April 2019, she has been denied visitation rights with her husband, following his transfer to Linyi Prison in Shandong Province.

23. The case of Ms. Wang Qiaoling was included in the 2017 report of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/36/31, Annex, paras., 20-21) regarding alleged acts of intimidation and harassment in reprisal for her cooperation with the Special Rapporteur on extreme poverty and human rights, during his visit to China in August 2016 (A/HRC/34/75, CHN 9/2016). The Government stated that Ms. Wang’s freedom of movement had not been restricted and that she had not been subject to unlawful surveillance or harassment (A/HRC/36/31, Annex I, para. 21).

24. Ms. Wang is the wife of Mr. Li Heping, arrested on 10 July 2015 during the “709” incidents (CHN 6/2015).⁵⁹ Upon arrest, Mr. Li was put under “residential surveillance at a designated location” and a criminal conviction was imposed on 27 April 2017 on charges of “subversion of state power” (CHN 3/2017).⁶⁰ Mr. Li received a three-year prison sentence, suspended for four years. He was reportedly tortured and ill-treated in prison, including forcibly medicated, and reportedly still suffers psychological trauma and long-term medical issues. On 6 June 2018, Beijing Judicial Bureau notified Mr. Li that he had been disbarred as a result of the criminal conviction. On 2 March 2019, Luo Shan County Public Security Bureau officers “criminally summoned” Ms. Wang Qiaoling for six hours of interrogation at Lingshan Police Station in Xinyang City, Henan Province, due to her efforts to meet lawyer Mr. Jiang Tianyong after his release from prison (see below).

⁶⁰ Response from Government:

<https://spcommreports.ohchr.org/TMResultsBase/DownloadFile?gId=33449>

25. The case of lawyer Mr. Jiang Tianyong was included in the report of the Secretary-General in 2017 and 2018 (A/HRC/36/31, Annex I, paras. 22-24 and A/HRC/39/41, Annex II, paras. 14-16) and the subject of multiple actions by special procedures mandate holders (CHN 13/2016; CHN 15/2016; and CHN 3/2017).⁶¹ He had met the Special Rapporteur on extreme poverty and human rights, during his visit to China in August 2016 (A/HRC/34/75, CHN 13/2016)⁶² The mandate holders urged the Government to immediately release Mr. Jiang, who was held incommunicado and may have been subjected to torture and ill-treatment in relation to his association with the Special Rapporteur.⁶³ His case is registered with the Working Group on Enforced or Involuntary Disappearances (no.10006805) and his subsequent detention was found arbitrary by the Working Group on Arbitrary Detention.⁶⁴

26. On 20 January 2017, the Government noted that Mr. Jiang had been charged with illegal possession of classified State documents with the intention of illegally transmitting State secrets abroad, among other charges to which he had admitted (A/HRC/39/41, Annex II, para. 16).⁶⁵ Mr. Jiang was reportedly released from prison on 28 February 2019 and placed in police custody. He, his family members and visitors remain under surveillance and are subject to harassment and intimidation. On 20 May 2019, six mandate holders expressed serious concern about the lasting impact of Mr. Jiang's arrest and detention on his health (CHN 9/2019).

27. The case of Mr. Dolkun Isa was included in the 2017 report of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/36/31, para. 29), in the context of his participation in the Permanent Forum on Indigenous Peoples in New York. On 28 July 2018, six special procedures mandated holders expressed serious concern regarding attempts by the Government to prevent Mr. Isa from participating in United Nations fora, which they stated may aim to "prevent the sharing of information with United Nations human rights bodies about the human rights situation of the Uyghur minority in the Xinjiang Uyghur Autonomous Region of China" (CHN 13/2018).⁶⁶

28. On 1 July 2019, the Government responded to the allegations above. Regarding the case of Ms. Cao Shunli, the Government indicated that judicial organs handled the case in accordance with the law, and guaranteed her legal rights. She died of illness on 14 March 2014. Regarding the case of Ms. Chen Jianfang, the Government indicated that she is a suspected criminal and the judicial authorities are handling the case according to law. As for Ms. Wang Yu, the Government indicated that, in accordance with the law, she was summoned for investigation in March 2019 and her legal rights have been protected. To date, no criminal compulsory measures have been taken against Ms. Wang Yu.

29. Regarding the case of Mr. Qin Yongmin, the Government indicated that after his release from prison in 2010, he continued to engage in activities aimed at the subversion of State power by writing articles, publishing books, and using the Internet and media outlets based outside mainland China. In July 2018, he was found guilty of subversion of State power and establishing an illegal organization under his leadership, and sentenced to 13 years in prison and deprivation of political rights for three years. His appeal was rejected in September 2018. According to the Government, his health is in good condition and "the house arrest" of his wife Ms. Zhao Suli never happened.

30. Regarding the situation of Mr. Mi Chongbiao the Government denied allegations of torture and indicated that he is not under house arrest. Concerning the situation of Ms. Li Wenzu, the Government informed that judicial authorities have not taken any compulsory measures against her, and the so-called harassment and arbitrary detention never happened. Regarding the situation of Ms. Wang Qiaoling, the Government indicated that the Chinese judicial authorities have not taken any compulsory measures against her, and there has not been intimidation or harassment.

31. Regarding the case of Mr. Jiang Tianyong, the Government indicated that he was accused of inciting subversion of State power, as he had long been influenced by anti-China forces including on “sensationalized high-profile case incidents.” He publicized statements defaming the Government on websites outside of mainland China and on several occasions travelled abroad to take part in training for overthrowing the State power. He also sought funds from outside mainland China to be used to sensationalize incidents relating to high-profile cases. Mr. Jiang Tianyong was sentenced in November 2017, released in February 2018, and is currently in the three-year period of deprivation of political rights.

32. Concerning the case of Mr. Dolkun Isa, the Government indicated that he is a designated terrorist by the Chinese Government, seriously threatening national security and spreading international terrorist activities. The World Uyghur Congress of which he is chairman has incited the “East Turkistan Islamist movement” to carry out violent and extremist activities in the Xinjiang region and has arranged for individuals in China to travel abroad illegally to Syria and elsewhere to join the “jihad.” It is the view of the Government that he, in the guise of “human rights” and “ethnic independence,” incited extremism and hatred and engaged in separatist activities, undermining China’s sovereignty and territorial integrity, which is against the purposes and principles of the UN Charter.

6. Colombia

33. The case of Mr. Germán Graciano Posso, member and legal guardian of the Peace Community of San José de Apartadó, was included in the 2018 report of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/39/41, para. 33 and Annex I, para. 18) regarding death threats and an assassination attempt against him by a paramilitary group following his participation in the United Nations Forum on Business and Human Rights in Geneva in 2017. On 1 February 2018, five special procedures mandate holders addressed these allegations (COL 1/2018).

34. On 5 December 2018, Mr. Graciano Posso won the prestigious national award on human rights for 2018, as “Defender of the Year,” along with other renowned defenders. On 14 December 2018, the 17th Brigade of the Colombian Army launched a legal action (“desacato de tutela”) against the Peace Community of San José de Apartadó for publicly denouncing alleged criminal behaviour by the armed forces, including collusion with illegal armed actors and criminal groups. This action can have direct implications for Mr. Graciano Posso as he is the legal guardian of the Peace Community.

35. The Special Rapporteur on the situation of human rights defenders expressed deep concern about the legal action in his statement at the end of his visit to Colombia in December 2018.⁶⁷ On 28 January 2019, the Constitutional Court requested a review of the legal action and, in parallel, the local court requested the temporary suspension of the ruling. Until the Constitutional Court rules on the matter, no legal action can be taken against the Peace Community or its legal representative.

7. Cuba

36. The case of Mr. Juan Antonio Madrazo Luna, member of the Comité Ciudadanos por la Integración Racial (CIR), was included in the 2018 report of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/39/41, Annex I, para. 25) due to travel restrictions that prevented him from travelling to Geneva to attend the UPR session. According to new information received, in August 2018, Mr. Madrazo Luna was the subject of a 21-day travel ban preventing him from participating in the Committee on the Elimination of Racial Discrimination review of Cuba. On 30 August 2018, the Committee sent a letter to the State party addressing these allegations and requesting a response with information on measures taken to prevent and address reprisals against those who cooperate with the UN. On 15 October 2018, the Government responded to the Committee.

⁶⁷ End of mission statement, Special Rapporteur on the situation of human rights defenders, Michel Forst, Visit to Colombia, 20 November to 3 December 2018 (page 7).

37. Reports received indicate that, in December 2018 and January 2019, Mr. Madrazo Luna and members of CIR were subject to a number of police operations preventing them from carrying out different events, including the celebration of Human Rights Day and presentation of CERD's observations. On 21 January 2019, Mr. Madrazo Lunas was arrested and held in a police station for eight hours.

38. The case of Ms. Dora L. Mesa, of Asociación Cubana para el Desarrollo de la Educación Infantil (ACDEI), was included in the 2018 report of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/39/41, Annex I, paras. 24-25). According to new information, Ms. Mesa continues to be the subject of harassment, intimidation and threats, including death threats. Ms. Mesa has been threatened at her home by a man who identified himself as a member of State Security, with severe consequences including to her physical integrity, should she not cooperate with them. She does not leave home for fear of being attacked. Her attempts to appeal to the Supreme People's Court for the return of her passport failed. She has been interviewed by police officers who have told her not to have contact with any official from the OHCHR or do research on child rights in Cuba.

39. The Assistant Secretary-General addressed the allegations of reprisals against Ms. Mesa on 27 December 2018. On 16 January 2019, the Government responded categorically denying the allegations and rejecting that, without new elements, allegations previously responded to are taken up again. The Government reiterated elements of its previous response of 10 May 2018 (A/HRC/39/41, Annex I, para. 26), including that the individuals mentioned in the letter pretend to be human rights defenders when they commit illegal acts aimed at overthrowing constitutional order established in the country following instructions and funding from foreign governments. The Government expressed concern that there are no safeguards to prevent the politization, selectivity and arbitrariness of the use of the reprisals mandate against developing countries.

8. Djibouti

40. The case of Mr. Kadar Adbi Ibrahim, professor, journalist and human rights defender, was included in the 2018 report of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/39/41, para. 37 and Annex, para. 31) because he was unable to participate in the UPR review of Djibouti in May 2018. Four Member States expressed their concern during the UPR session (see A/HRC/39/10, paras. 54, 64, 84 and 104). In July 2018, three special procedures mandate holders raised concerns about his arrest and the confiscation of his passport upon his return to Djibouti from Geneva in April 2018, where he had conducted advocacy activities ahead of the UPR of Djibouti (DJI 1/2018, and A/HRC/40/60/Add.1, paras. 19, 50). On 24 September 2018, the Government responded indicating that Mr. Ibrahim had been placed under surveillance due to his close connections with extremist movements in the country and that in 2016 Mr. Ibrahim was convicted in violation of national legislation.⁶⁸

41. On 15 March 2019, the Assistant Secretary-General addressed allegations of continued reprisals against Mr. Ibrahim as it was reported he continued to be unable to travel with his passport confiscated by the Service de Documentation et Sedimentation (SDS). Mr. Ibrahim has brought concerns to the attention of the National Prosecutor's Office, the National Human Rights Commission, and the Office of the Mediator of the Republic to no avail.

9. Egypt

42. The case of Mr. Ebrahim Abdelmonem Metwally Hegazy, of the Association of the Families of the Disappeared, was included in the 2018 report of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/39/41 para. 38 and Annex I, paras. 32-35) concerning his initial disappearance and later detention while he was on his way to meet the Working Group on Enforced and Involuntary Disappearances in Geneva in September 2017 (EGY 14/2017,

A/HRC/WGEID/109/1, para. 35(p), and see also A/HRC/WGEID/114/1, para. 56).⁶⁹ He was charged with founding and leading an illegal terrorist organization, conspiracy with foreign entities or organizations to harm state security, and spreading false information. He has been detained in Aqrab prison (Tora) and reportedly subjected to ill-treatment and torture in detention.

43. The Government responded on 8 November 2017⁷⁰ with assurances of Mr. Metwally's conditions of detention and access to a lawyer. On 31 July 2018, the Government informed that he was charged with leading a terrorist group and spreading false news, statements and rumors abroad about the situation in the country.

44. It was reported in May 2019 that Mr. Metwally continues to be held incommunicado from the time of his arrest in Aqrab prison, where he is subjected to systematic physical and psychological abuse that could amount to torture. Since February 2019, the prison administration has not allowed family visits, despite permission by the prosecution. During this period, abuses against Mr. Metwally have reportedly intensified and his conditions of detention are extremely poor. Despite suffering from acute medical problems, he has been denied examination by medical specialists. Mr. Metwally has not had a trial, as he is still being investigated before the Supreme State Security Court (case No. 900/2017). Mr. Metwally's lawyers were notified with adjournment dates that differed from the days when he was physically present in the courtroom affecting both his right to prepare his defense and the possibility for the lawyers to enquire about treatment in detention. The proceedings have reportedly been adjourned to an unspecified date.

45. The case of Dr. Ahmed Shawky Abdelsattar Mohamed Amasha was included in the 2017 and 2018 reports of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/36/31, para. 33 and Annex I, para. 34; A/HRC/39/41, Annex II, paras. 17-18, 21) concerning his reported abduction, detention, torture and ill-treatment in retaliation for his work documenting cases of enforced disappearances for special procedures (EGY 5/2017). In November 2017, the Working Group on Arbitrary Detention found the detention of Dr. Amasha arbitrary and requested the Government to ensure his immediate release.⁷¹

46. On 31 July 2018, the Government noted that Dr. Amasha was still in pre-trial detention on charges of joining a group established contrary to law, calling for demonstrations without authorization, incitement to violence and other charges. He was recommended to undergo medical treatment in the prison's clinic. According to information received in May 2019, his family and lawyer have not been allowed to visit him in prison since his initial abduction in March 2017. His lawyers are able to see him only when he is presented to the prosecutor for the renewal of his pre-trial detention, during which time he is held in a glass cage in the presence of the prosecutor. Dr. Amasha reportedly suffers from urgent medical issues without adequate care, his conditions of detention are poor and he is frequently subjected to ill-treatment.

47. On 28 September 2018, several special procedures mandate holders drew attention to the misuse of counter-terrorism legislation against individuals peacefully exercising their right to freedom of expression and association, which they said "should not be used as an excuse to suppress dissent or curtail human rights work."⁷²

48. The 2017 (A/HRC/36/31, para. 32 and Annex I, para. 33) and 2018 (A/HRC/39/41, Annex I, paras. 19, 22) reports of the Secretary-General addressed legislation adopted on 24 May 2017 (Law 70 of 2017 for Regulating the Work of Associations and Other Institutions Working in the Field of Civil Work). The former High Commissioner for Human Rights noted the crucial function of NGOs in Egypt had been "severely hampered already through asset freezes, travel bans, smear campaigns and prosecutions.” He noted the new law further restricted space for human rights work by NGOs, including closer scrutiny of acquiring foreign funding⁷³ (see also EGY 14/2016). Previously, in September 2017, the Assistant Secretary-General expressed concern that some provisions under the law could undermine civil society’s ability to engage freely with the UN, including provisions that would require them to seek Government permission before working with international organizations or experts.

49. In November 2018, it was reported that the Government was considering revisions to Law 70/2017. Discussions have reportedly taken place in 2019 for a new draft law for submission to the House of Representatives for consideration. The draft was not made public or subjected to scrutiny. In the meantime, the existing law and its application reportedly remain a threat to NGOs’ ability to fully function, with many organizations allegedly declining to submit information to UN human rights mechanisms or otherwise self-censoring to prevent prosecution and intimidation. Many organizations have reported an inability to access foreign funding as an impediment to participating in international advocacy as well as related obstacles to research and travel. These circumstances have affected many civil society organization’s preparations for Egypt’s UPR review in November 2019. Reprisals for engagement in Egypt’s UPR in 2014 were addressed in the 2014 report of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/27/38, para. 23; EGY 19/2013).

50. The 2017 (A/HRC/36/31, para. 30) and 2018 (A/HRC/39/41, Annex II, paras. 19, 22) reports of the Secretary-General addressed allegations of reprisals against civil society members in the form of asset freezes and travel bans. Several civil society representatives were prohibited from travelling outside of Egypt under case 173/2011, impacting their cooperation with the UN. On 20 December 2018, it was reported that over 40 civil society activists and human rights defenders were acquitted in case 173/2011, many of whom had been targeted for allegedly receiving foreign funds, inter alia. Despite this significant development, case 173 remains open and many civil society representatives have been brought in for questioning. As of May 2019, 31 human rights defenders were reportedly banned from travel, and around 60 summoned for investigation. Seven NGOs and ten human rights defenders were still subject to asset freezes including several cases in the 2017 and 2018 reports of the Secretary-General, such as staff members of the Cairo Institute for Human Rights Studies (CIHRS) and members of their families, Mr. Bahey El Din Hassan (EGY 16/2017), and Mr. Mohamed Zaree (EGY 16/2017), among others.

10. Guatemala

51. The case of Mr. Jerson Xitumul Morales, a journalist who regularly collaborated with OHCHR, was included in the 2018 report of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/39/41, para. 40, Annex I, paras. 40-41). He was arrested on charges of threats, instigation to commit a crime, illicit association, illicit meetings and demonstrations, damages and illegal detention related to his reporting on the demonstrations in May 2017 by fishermen against the pollution of Lake Izabal by the mining activities of the Guatemalan Nickel Company (CGN). According to new information received, the trial of Mr. Morales was closed on 24 July 2018 at the request of the Public Ministry, due to the lack of evidence.

52. The situation of the national human rights institution (Procurador de los Derechos Humanos) and that of its Ombudsperson, Mr. Augusto Jordán Rodas Andrade, was included in the 2018 report of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/39/41, para. 41 and Annex I para. 42). Allegations included attempts to undermine the independence of the institution because of its support for the CICIG, as well as smear campaigns against Mr. Rodas Andrade and threats to his family. According to new information received, attacks against the institution have continued due to its cooperation with the CICIG. The institution is reportedly facing a reduction of its 2019 budget, which may lead to its closure in October 2019. Moreover, there have been multiple attempts to remove Mr. Rodas Andrade from office by impeachment.

11. Honduras

53. The case of Ms. Hedme Castro, from ACI-PARTICIPA, was included in the 2018 report of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/39/41, para. 44 and Annex I, paras. 45-47). According to new information received, on 6 April 2019, a member of the national police launched tear gas at individuals connected to ACI-PARTICIPA and relatives of Ms. Castro in the city of Choluteca. On 16 May 2019, four special procedures mandate holders addressed these allegations, expressing serious concerns about the physical and psychological integrity of Ms. Castro and her relatives (HND 2/ 2019). On 17 July 2019, the Government responded⁷⁴ on the protection measures taken for Ms. Castro. In April 2017, the case was admitted to the national protection mechanism and a risk assessment was initiated for Ms. Castro and ACI-PARTICIPA. According to the Government, the assessment was not completed due to the lack of availability of Ms. Castro. The protection mechanism has followed up on the complaint affecting Ms. Castro's relatives.

54. Acts of intimidation and harassment against those sharing information with the UN in the fight against impunity for the killing of Ms. Berta Cáceres, a prominent indigenous Lenca leader and environmental human rights defender killed in March 2016, were reported in the 2018 report of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/39/41, para. 45 and Annex I, paras. 48-49). On 14 July 2018, the CERD expressed concern about the difficulties that rights defenders encounter in obtaining access to justice, as well as the persistence of high levels of impunity for violations of their rights. While noting that seven persons were convicted of the assassination of Ms. Cáceres, the Committee recommended awareness-raising campaigns on the crucial work undertaken by rights defenders to foster a climate of tolerance where they can work free from intimidation, threats and reprisals (CERD/C/HND/CO/6-8, para. 24, 25(d)). Following their official visit to Honduras in November 2018, the Working Group on discrimination against women in law and practice expressed concern about the trial for Berta Cáceres' murder, which they see as "emblematic of the lack of transparency and unfair legal processes faced by women's human rights defenders."⁷⁵ On 7 December 2018, UN experts welcomed the conviction of the murderers of Berta Cáceres but reiterated their concern that the "masterminds" remain at large.⁷⁶

12. Hungary

55. The 2018 report of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/39/41, paras. 55-56) noted the listing by the Hungarian publication Figyelő of more than 200 individuals who were accused of being part of a group regarded by Prime Minister Orbán as "mercenaries paid by George Soros to topple the Government." The list included people who had been publicly intimidated for reporting to or about the UN. The Government informed OHCHR in July 2018 that the allegations are not attributable to the Government given that Figyelő is not a State publication (A/HRC/39/41, Annex, para. 59). During the reporting period, OHCHR was informed that the "Figyelő list" has continued to contribute to increased stigma on and threats to human rights defenders, civil society organizations, investigative journalists, certain segments of academic community and other critical and independent voices. In addition, family members of those on the list report being fired from employment or being threatened to be fired.

13. India

56. The 2018 report of the Secretary-General drew attention to concerns about the application of the Foreign Contribution (Regulation) Act of 2010 (FCRA) to civil society for their cooperation with the UN (A/HRC/39/41, para. 50 and Annex I, paras. 60-67). On 20 December 2018, three special procedures mandate holders addressed the detrimental impact of the FCRA for Indian organizations' ability to access foreign funding and expressed concern that that, under the FCRA, Amnesty International India and Greenpeace India and some of its affiliates have had their offices raided, bank accounts frozen or registration suspended or canceled (IND 28/2018).

57. In the 2018 report of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/39/41, para. 50 and Annex I paras. 63-65), it was reported that the Centre for Social Development (CSD) and its staff had been surveilled for submitting information to and meeting with the UN on uranium mining and cement factories in Meghalaya, and consequently the organization's bank account was frozen for 6 months on claims that it violated the FCRA. In April 2019, the CSD reportedly filed a case against the Ministry of Home Affairs in the Manipur High Court, which is currently ongoing. In May 2019, the organization received notification from the Ministry of Home Affairs indicating that under the FCRA its bank account was de-frozen and activities could be resumed. It is reported that the Secretary of the organization, Mr. Nobokishore Urikhimbam, has reportedly been surveyed by military intelligence officials at his office premises and at his home in Imphal. In November 2018 as well as in April and May 2019, the CSD and some of its staff were also reportedly under surveillance by individuals who questioned the staff, including at their places of residence, about their activities and sources of funding.

58. The situation of Mr. Henri Tiphagne, from the Centre for Promotion of Social Concerns (also known as People's Watch), was included in the 2018 report of the Secretary General (A/HRC/39/41, para. 50, and Annex I, paras. 61-62). Special procedures mandate holders expressed concern at the use of the FCRA to restrict the work of non-governmental organizations seeking to cooperate with the UN (OTH 27/2017). Independent experts noted that the non-renewal of CPSC's license was a clear case of reprisal for his cooperation with the United Nations (IND 14/2018). The refusal to renew the organization's license to receive foreign funding was upheld by the High Court of New Delhi in January 2017, and the case was adjourned to 31 August 2018. According to information received in May 2019, the High Court of New Delhi held a last hearing on 2 May 2019 and the matter is still pending. The case had been posted to 30 July 2019.

59. The situation of Mr. Khurram Parvez, Chairperson of the Asian Federation Against Involuntary Disappearances and Program Coordinator of the Central Jammu and Kashmir Coalition of Civil Society (JKCCS), was included in the 2017 and 2018 reports of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/36/31, paras. 36; A/HRC/39/41, Annex II, paras 23-24). Mr. Parvez was reportedly subjected to travel bans, arbitrary arrest and detention in relation to his cooperation with the Human Rights Council, the Working Group on Enforced and Involuntary Disappearances, and the UPR. Mr. Parvez was a source of information collected for an OHCHR report published in June 2018 on the human rights situation in the State of Jammu and Kashmir⁷⁷ and has reportedly suffered reprisals for this. The police filed "First Information Reports" before a court in Srinagar for three cases, for which hearings were held in March 2019, April 2019, and May 2019. At the time of writing, it was reported that no witnesses had been produced and the outcomes of the hearings were pending.

14. Iran (Islamic Republic of)

60. The case of Ms. Raheleh Rahemipor was included in the 2017 (A/HRC/36/31, para. 37 and Annex, paras. 41-42) and 2018 (A/HRC/39/41, Annex II, paras. 25-27) reports of the Secretary-General concerning allegations of continuous judicial harassment for her efforts in seeking the truth about the fate and whereabouts of her brother, Mr. Hossein Rahemipor, and his infant daughter, raised by special procedures mandate holders (IRN 9/2018). Their disappearances have been registered with the Working Group on Enforced and Involuntary Disappearances since June 2016. In 2017, Ms. Rahemipor was sentenced to a year in prison "for spreading propaganda against the system" and arrested while her first case was under appeal. During interrogation, she was allegedly pressured to withdraw the complaints to the Working Group, which she refused. The situation was addressed by several special procedures (IRN 23/2016; IRN 29/2016; IRN 3/2017; IRN 27/2017) as well as in the February 2018 Secretary-General's report on the human rights situation in Iran (see A/HRC/37/24, para. 47).

61. The Government responded on 4 September 2018 stating that the allegations were false and that Ms. Rahemipor had circulated fabricated claims with the help of a terrorist group. However, her sentencing had not been finalized and she was not in prison.⁷⁸ According to reports, on 9 April 2019 Ms. Rahemipor was informed that her previously imposed prison sentence had been changed to a fine.

15. Iraq

62. The situation of Mr. Imad Amara of Al Wissam Humanitarian Assembly was included in the 2016 (A/HRC/33/19, para. 24), 2017 (A/HRC/36/31, Annex II, para. 4), and 2018 (A/HRC/39/41, Annex II, para. 28) reports of the Secretary-General in relation to his arbitrary arrest, interrogation and ill-treatment for his and others' documentation of cases of enforced disappearances and submission of information to the UN human rights mechanisms. In May 2019, it was reported that Mr. Amara was continually prevented from carrying out his peaceful human rights work. He and two other Al Wissam Humanitarian Assembly volunteers were arrested by plain-clothes officers during a peaceful demonstration against corruption in Tahrir Square in Baghdad. The officers handcuffed and blindfolded them before taking them to an unknown location. The three men were then insulted, severely beaten and questioned about their involvement with Al Wissam Humanitarian Assembly. They were released a few hours later after being forced to sign the pledge. It is reported that Mr. Amara faces serious risks to suffer further reprisals should he resume his activities.

16. Israel

63. The case of Mr. Hagai El-Ad, the Director-General of B'Tselem was included in the 2017 report of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/36/31, para. 38 and Annex I, para. 43). On 20 December 2018, seven special procedures mandate holders addressed a new incident in October 2018 where Mr. El-Ad again briefed the Security Council about the human rights situation in the OPT and faced harassment (ISR 14/2018). They noted that many in the Israeli political leadership had denounced B'Tselem, calling the organization unpatriotic, traitors and political outcasts. The mandate holders stated that "the labelling of Mr. El-Ad as "traitor" and "collaborator" may serve to stigmatize his work as harmful to national security, including by disparaging them in the eyes of the public, and creating an atmosphere of harassment that could lead to physical violence."

64. The March 2019 report of the High Commissioner for Human Rights (A/HRC/40/43, para. 30) also noted that a number of senior Israeli officials publicly condemned Mr. El-Ad. The High Commissioner's report noted that the Permanent Representative of Israel to the United Nations had accused Mr. El-Ad of defaming his Government, called him a "lousy collaborator" and said that if he had been Palestinian or Bolivian he would "likely end up dead."⁷⁹

65. The case of Mr. Omar Shakir, Director of Human Rights Watch, was included in the 2018 report of the Secretary-General (see A/HRC/39/41, para. 53 and Annex I, para. 68). In April 2019, three special procedures mandate holders expressed grave concern at the revocation of the work visa for Mr. Shakir, urging "Israel to reverse the order, to allow Mr. Shakir and Human Rights Watch to continue unimpeded with human rights advocacy, and to fully respect its human rights obligations in its relationships with Palestinian, Israeli and international human rights organizations."⁸⁰ It was reported to OHCHR that in June 2019 the Israeli Supreme Court issued an interim injunction (administration petition 367759-05-18)

17. Kyrgyzstan

66. The situation of civil society organizations Anti-Discrimination Centre Memorial and Bir Duino Kyrgyzstan was included in the 2018 report of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/39/41, para. 54 and Annex I, paras. 69-70) regarding the designation as extremist material of an alternative report they submitted to the Committee on the Protection of the Rights of All Migrant Workers and Members of their Families (CMW) in April 2015. The report addressed the obligations of the Government to protect the rights of Kyrgyz migrant workers. The CMW Chair and Focal Point for Reprisals addressed the Government for further clarification on 25 June 2018, 14 August 2018 and 10 September 2018.⁸¹ It was reported that Kyrgyz authorities had failed to notify either organization of the decision, leaving Anti-Discrimination Centre Memorial and Bir-Duino without the right to defend themselves in court or appeal the decision.

67. On 22 October 2018, the Supreme Court reportedly lifted the 'extremist materials' designation, at least temporarily, reinstating the right of ADC Memorial to carry out its activities in Kyrgyzstan. The matter was remanded to the Oktyabrski Court which, on 16 January 2019, considered the case again but did not make a decision. As of May 2019, ADC Memorial is reportedly able to act legally in the country.

18. Mali

68. Allegations of cases and trends of reprisals were included in the 2018 report of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/39/41, para. 56 and Annex, paras. 73-76) regarding retaliation by State actors and non-State armed groups against individuals who collaborated with the Multidimensional Integrated Stabilization Mission in Mali (MINUSMA). Individuals and organizations affected by intimidation and reprisals in the reporting period did not give consent to be named due to the fear of further reprisals. In January 2019, the Independent Expert on the situation of human rights in Mali, reported that the number of verified serious violations of children's rights had significantly increased but that many were underreported for several reasons, including the difficulty of verification and access to some geographical areas, fear of reprisals, and the lack of protection and other services for victims and witnesses (A/HRC/40/77, para. 53).

19. Mexico

69. The 2018 (A/HRC/39/41, Annex II, paras. 33-36) and 2017 (A/HRC/36/31, para. 41, and Annex I, paras. 49-52) reports of the Secretary-General included alleged acts of reprisals against the complainants in the case Ramirez et al. v. Mexico (2015) where the Committee against Torture found a violation of different provisions of the Convention against Torture (CAT/C/55/D/500/2012). In 2017 and 2018, the CAT requested protective measures in relation to the allegations of reprisals and made several attempts to follow up on the case with the Government.⁸²

70. On 30 January 2019, the State party informed the Committee that criminal investigations were reopened to bring the perpetrators to justice but no significant progress in establishing accountability had been achieved. There has been no further update on the two victims that were sent back to prison shortly after their release, who are reportedly experiencing serious health issues as a result of their alleged torture and conditions of detention. The State party's submission does not contain any update on access to medical treatment required by the victims, including one that reportedly has hearing loss as a result of torture. Complaints have been filed with the State Human Rights Commission. The Committee decided to keep the follow-up dialogue open (CAT/C/66/3, paras. 12-14).

20. Morocco

71. The detention of Mr. Rachid Ghribi Laroussi was found arbitrary by the Working Group on Arbitrary Detention in 2015 (A/HRC/WGAD/2015/34, para. 29, 31). According to information received, Mr. Laroussi's family sent the 2015 Opinion of the Working Group to the Ministry of Justice and to the National Human Rights Council (Conseil National des Droits de l'Homme – CNDH), following which, in August 2016, Mr. Laroussi was transferred from Tangiers, where his family lives, to a prison in Fes (approximately 300km away). He was placed in solitary confinement and prevented from continuing his legal studies. It is reported that Mr. Laroussi keeps a copy of the Opinion in Arabic in his cell and that his insistence in requesting his release has played a part in the decisions to transfer him.

72. On 8 April 2019, Mr. Laroussi reportedly started a hunger strike to call the attention of the authorities to the Working Group's Opinion and, as a result, was put in solitary confinement without light for four days. On 16 April 2019, the local branch of the CNDH visited Mr. Laroussi and on 30 April 2019 he was transferred again, without any prior notice or explanation, to Meknes Toulal II prison and detained in solitary confinement with restricted visits and calls.

73. The case of Mr. Ennaâma Asfari, a Sahrawi human rights defender, was included in the 2018 report of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/39/41, para. 57 and Annex I, para. 77) regarding the deterioration of his conditions of detention and transfer following the decision of the Committee against Torture about his case (CAT/C/59/D/606/2014). On 13 July 2018, the Committee wrote to the Government emphasizing the need to refrain from reprisals (G/SO 229/3 MAR(8) 606/2014). On 31 July 2018, the Government responded and met with the Committee on 3 December 2018.⁸³ On 5 December 2018, the Government responded to the allegations of reprisals, including limited visits by family members and entry ban against Mr. Asfari's wife, Ms. Claude Mangin-Asfari, into the Moroccan territory. On 14 and 15 January 2019, it was reported that Ms. Mangin-Asfari was able to visit her husband in Kenitra prison following a campaign she led, including a hunger strike. However, Mr. Asfari reportedly continues to be deprived of other family visits and those of his lawyers, and still suffers from harsh detention conditions. The Committee decided to keep the dialogue with the State party open, including by requesting another meeting with a representative in Geneva in July 2019 (CAT/C/66/3).

74. The case of Mr. Ali Aarrass was included in the 2013 report of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/24/29, para. 27) regarding threats and prison transfer reportedly in connection to his cooperation with the Special Rapporteur on torture during his visit to the country. His situation was addressed by a number of special procedures mandate holders (MAR 11/2012 and A/HRC/23/51; MAR 2/2013, and A/HRC/25/74; and MAR 7/2015). The Government responded to the allegations in 2013 and 2015. In a decision of 14 May 2014, the Committee against Torture reported that it is of the view that the information before it disclosed a violation of article 2, paragraph 1, and articles 11, 12, 13 and 15 of the Convention against Torture in the case of Aarrass v. Morocco (CAT/C/52/D/477/2011, para. 11; Communication 477/2011, para. 7.4).

75. On 3 December 2018, in light of the absence of updates by the State party, the Committee met with the Permanent Mission in Geneva and sent reminders for observations on 6 August and 30 November 2018, due by 31 December 2018. On 11 January 2019, the State party submitted observations. In May 2019, in the absence of a meaningful progress in implementation of the decision, the Committee decided to keep the follow-up dialogue open, and to request another meeting with the Permanent Mission in Geneva in July 2019 (CAT/C/66/3, paras. 9-11, and CAT/C/65/3, paras. 8-9). Mr. Ali Aarrass has reportedly suffered further reprisals while at Salé II prison, and continues to be held in solitary confinement. In December 2018, while the prison director was on leave, two prison officials took him by force, undressed him while spitting on him, and threatened to rape him. They also insulted him and his family. He was reportedly deprived of food for ten days.

⁸³ CAT/C/65/3, paras. 8-9.

21. Myanmar

76. The 2018 report of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/39/41, para. 59 and Annex I, para. 79) noted that the Special Rapporteur on the situation of human rights in Myanmar had received information about violent reprisals taken by the armed forces against civilians with whom she had met following her visit to Rakhine State in January 2017, including a reported killing, beatings and a rape (see A/HRC/37/70, para. 63). The Special Rapporteur has been denied entry into Myanmar since January 2018, and has not been able to visit the area to follow up on these reports.

77. The 2018 report of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/39/41, para. 60 and Annex I, paras. 80-82) noted that the Governing Body of ILO remained concerned about cases of apparent reprisal against complainants in forced labour cases, including that of Mr. Aung Ko Htwe (see GB.332/INS/8, para. 16),⁸⁴ which were also raised by the Special Rapporteur (see A/HRC/37/70, para. 15). Mr. Aung Ko Htwe had been forcibly recruited into the army in 2005 at age 14 and should receive continued protection as a complainant with ILO, according to the 2007 agreement between the ILO and Myanmar.⁸⁵ However, on 28 March 2018, the Dagon Seikkan Township Court sentenced him to two years in prison with hard labor.

78. It was reported that on 30 October 2018 Mr. Aung Ko Htwe was tried and acquitted of “causing destruction of the whole or any part of the Union Seal” by Yangon’s Botataung Township Court for his conduct during the trial when he allegedly stepped on a copy of Myanmar’s Constitution. In December 2018, three special procedures mandate holders raised concerns about Mr. Aung Ko Htwe’s trial (MMR 6/2018). On 4 and 25 March 2019, the Government responded, addressing his charges and trial.⁸⁶ At the time of writing, Mr. Aung Ko Htwe remains in Yangon’s Insein prison, where he has been since his arrest on 18 August 2017.

22. Philippines

79. Allegations of reprisals against the Commission on Human Rights of the Philippines (PHL 12/2017) were included in the 2018 report of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/39/41, paras. 61-62 and Annex I, paras. 84-85). As of May 2019, it was reported that members of the Commission continue to be under surveillance by State agents and threats have been made against their lives and security, amid calls for their resignation. Chairperson Mr. Chito Gascon has been particularly targeted as head of the Commission, with a State agent reportedly assigned to follow his movements. Mr. Gascon was also reportedly under surveillance during a side event at the Human Rights Council in March 2019.

80. Regarding the former Chair of the Commission, Ms. Leila M. de Lima, on 24 August 2018 the Working Group on Arbitrary Detention adopted an opinion⁸⁷ which highlights, among other things, that the detention is deemed arbitrary (para. 61 and 67) and recommends that Ms. De Lima be released immediately, afforded compensation (para. 81), and that her detention be investigated (para. 82). Ms. de Lima has been in prison since February 2018 on allegations of drug-related charges, deemed “politically motivated” by several special procedures mandate holders (PHL 5/2017; A/HRC/40/60/Add.1, para. 403; A/HRC/40/52, para. 58).

81. In the 2018 report of the Secretary-General it was noted that multiple actors expressed concern at the February 2018 petition of the Department of Justice to a Manila court which sought to declare the Communist Party of the Philippines (CPP) and the New People’s Army (NPA) as “terrorist” organizations (A/HRC/39/41, para. 62 and Annex I, paras. 86-89). In particular, they noted that the petition included a list of over 600 individuals labelled as de facto “terrorists,” among them recognized human rights defenders, indigenous peoples’ representatives, and representatives of community-based organizations, a number of which had been long-standing partners of the United Nations.

82. In July 2018, the Manila Regional Trial Court reportedly requested the removal of multiple names from the list based on a petition, and in January 2019, the Department of Justice amended the original petition to an abridged list. Multiple individuals still report being targets for having previously been listed, including subjected to harassment, surveillance and stigmatization.

83. Among this list were past and current human rights defenders of the Karapatan Alliance for the Advancement of People’s Rights, a national alliance of human rights organizations and individuals. In April 2019, Karapatan members reportedly were subjected to continued threats, harassment and intimidation against them and their partners. They noted in particular the “red-tagging” (Executive Order No. 70), which attempted to discredit the reports Karapatan sends to the UN as a basis for smear and vilification campaigns, and the terrorist-labelling of organizations in line with the Government’s counterinsurgency program. Karapatan cited defamatory propaganda materials circulated in public places and online, most recently in December 2018 and February 2019. They also noted public statements by officials calling for the defunding of organizations to halt their advocacy work.

84. Several indigenous peoples’ representatives and human rights defenders advocating for the rights of indigenous peoples were on the petition of the Department of Justice, addressed by CERD on 8 May 2018 under its early warning and urgent action procedures, and in a follow up letter on 30 August 2018.⁸⁸ The Committee urged the Government to stop the targeting of indigenous leaders and human rights defenders, including incumbent and former United Nations special procedures mandate holders, as terrorists, which could amount to intimidation and reprisals. In August 2018, UN experts urged further action to remove names on the Government’s “terror list.”⁸⁹

85. On 21 June 2019, the Government responded to the allegations. Regarding the situation of the Commission on Human Rights, the Government stated that contrary to the allegations of reprisals, it has further cultivated enabling conditions and environment for the work of the Commission with the unprecedented increase of its 2017 budget by over 60% from its regular budget. With reference to the statement by the Presidential spokesperson, the Government indicated that it exercises full rights to legitimately respond to public statements by other actors and that labelling Government’s statements as acts of reprisals and intimidation is a curtailment of the role of State actors in any democratic process. Regarding the case of Senator de Lima, the Government provided detailed information on the legal proceedings and the status of the ongoing cases against her, indicating that it is improper to intervene with regard to her detention and prosecution in light of concerns for the independence and impartiality of the judicial process.

86. Concerning the situation of Karapatan, the Government indicated that it is unlawfully operating since its corporate existence and registration have long been ordered revoked for the non-filing of reports. In view of the Government, Karapatan has failed to substantiate its figures concerning human rights violations or present evidence before an independent domestic body created to look into the allegations. Regarding the creation of the National Task Force to End Local Communist Armed Conflict, the Government states that some indigenous peoples and rights defenders have been exploited by terrorist organizations and misuse the international system and its sympathies, calling State efforts to uphold the rule of law, bring perpetrators to justice, and put an end to atrocities these groups commit with impunity as “acts of reprisals.”

23. Russian Federation

87. Reported acts of harassment, surveillance, threats, and intimidation against Ms. Yana Tannagasheva and Mr. Vladislav Tannagashev and their families, representatives of the Shor indigenous peoples from South West Siberia, as reprisals for cooperation with the CERD, were included in the 2018 report of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/39/41, para. 63, Annex I, paras. 90-91). In April 2018, as a consequence of the threats, they left Russia with their children. In May 2018, CERD raised their situation with the State party and, in June 2018, special procedures mandate holders raised concerns with the authorities (RUS 11/2018;⁹⁰ OTH 34/2018; A/HRC/40/60/Add.1, paras. 512 and 677). On 12 September 2018, the Government responded to the allegations by special procedures and noted a preliminary investigation into the harassment and a criminal case was refused on 28 April 2018 on the basis of “absence of a crime.” On 26 July 2018 this decision was overturned by the supervising procurator, and further investigations were ongoing. On 24 July 2019 the Government provided an update to OHCHR and noted that the investigation was ongoing.

88. In September 2018, in the context of the UPR of the Russian Federation, States made recommendations regarding restrictive legislation, in particular, laws on “foreign agents” and “undesirable” organizations (A/HRC/39/13, paras. 147.61-67; 147.83-95). Since 2012, the Russian Federation has adopted a number of laws and amendments that have reportedly had a direct impact on the willingness and ability of civil society actors to engage with international bodies, in particular with the UN. Human rights organizations have been impacted primarily by the application of laws and policies such as N 121-FZ Foreign Agent Law for Non-Commercial Organizations, adopted in July 2012 and amended in June 2016 (N 147-FZ and N 179-FZ). Since 2013, authorities have carried out multiple inspections of human rights organizations under suspicion of being an “NGO – foreign agent.” Such criteria have included the existence of foreign funding from any charitable foundation, including the UN, and “engagement in policy.”

89. The case of the Anti-Discrimination Centre Memorial (ADC Memorial) was included in the 2013 report of the Secretary-General when the Committee against Torture raised concerns at reported reprisals faced for providing information to the Committee in December 2012 (A/HRC/24/29, para. 31). The Government responded to the allegations, stating that activities of Russian law enforcement authorities regarding ADC Memorial, or any other non-profit organization, were carried out in accordance with the law and have nothing to do with reprisals (HRC/NONE/2013/102).⁹¹ In August 2018, the Committee against Torture recalled the administrative case against ADC Memorial, regretting that the prosecutor’s office had reportedly referred to alternative reports sent to the Committee as a political activity justifying their registration as “foreign agents.” The Committee reiterated its recommendation that rights defenders, journalists and lawyers should not be subjected to reprisals for their communication with or provision of information to the United Nations treaty bodies, including the Committee (CAT/C/RUS/CO/6/ paras. 28 and 29(c)).

90. On 24 July 2019, the Government provided an update to OHCHR. Regarding ADC Memorial, it noted that in 2013 the St. Petersburg Prosecutor’s Office reviewed the organization’s compliance with laws governing non-commercial organizations. It was found to have engaged in political activity while in receipt of foreign funding and to have failed to register with the justice authorities as a non-commercial organization performing the functions of a foreign agent. The Government stated that ADC Memorial did not agree with the measures taken in response and ceased operations on 11 April 2014.

91. As regards the recurrent criticism of Russian laws on foreign agents, the Government referred to the position taken in its national report to the May 2018 UPR and stated that the legislative requirements’ purpose was to ensure greater transparency. It noted that the obligation of a non-commercial organization performing the functions of a foreign agent to submit an application for inclusion in the relevant register did not: prevent it from receiving financial support from foreign and international organizations, foreign citizens or stateless persons; preclude it from participating in political activities in the Russian Federation; or discriminate against it by comparison to non-commercial organizations that do not receive foreign funding. It was also emphasized that Russian laws regulating the activities of non-commercial organizations performing the functions of foreign agents have recently undergone a significant revision in terms of what constitutes “political activity,” with more legal precision and several exclusions.

24. Saudi Arabia

92. The case of Mr. Mohammad Fahad Al Qahtani, lawyer and co-founder of the Saudi Association for Civil and Political Rights (ACPRA) was included in the 2012 and 2013 reports of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/21/18, paras. 35-37; A/HRC/24/29, para. 42) concerning his sentencing to 10 years of imprisonment and a 10-year travel ban for inter alia having provided false information to outside sources, including the human rights mechanisms of the United Nations. On 17 December 2018, Mr. Al Qahtani reportedly started a hunger strike and was subsequently punished with solitary confinement for two days. On 20 March 2019, he was moved from the wing of political prisoners inside Al Hai'r Prison to the wing hosting regular criminals despite his complaints.

93. The case of Mr. Essa Al Nukheifi, a human rights defender, was included in the 2018 report of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/39/41, para. 65 and Annex I, paras. 95-96, 98) regarding charges, imprisonment, and bans on travel and the use of social media for cooperation with the visit of the Special Rapporteur on extreme poverty and human rights to Saudi Arabia in January 2017 (SAU 2/2017).⁹² On 8 April 2019, Al Nukheifi requested to be transferred to Jizan prison to be able to see his family, but his request was reportedly denied.

94. The case of Mr. Fawzan Mohsen Awad Al Harbi, human rights defender and member of ACPRA was included in the 2014 report of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/27/38, para. 30) and addressed by special procedures mandate holders (SAU 1/2014) regarding travel restrictions and a request to sign a pledge to terminate ACPRA in connection to his cooperation with the UN. In December 2013, he was arrested and detained at Al Malaz prison in Riyadh and charged with, among other things, “co-founding an unlicensed organization” and “ignoring judicial decisions ordering its dissolution.” In June 2014, he was sentenced to one year in prison and an additional six-year suspended prison sentence. In November 2014, the Court of Appeal increased his sentence to a 10-year prison term followed by a travel ban of 10 years. On 30 July 2018, Mr. Al Harbi's wife, Ms. Amal Al Harbi, was reportedly arrested. She had been vocal in campaigning for the release of her husband and is currently being held at Dhahban Prison pending the finalization of the trial.

95. The case of Ms. Samar Badawi was included in the 2015 annual report of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/30/29, para. 36) concerning threats and subsequent interrogation for a statement she made at the Human Rights Council in September 2014. On 30 July 2018, it was reported that Ms. Badawi was arrested without a warrant in Jeddah and transferred to an unknown location where she was detained incommunicado for a month before being allowed contact with her family. In early 2019, it was alleged that Ms. Badawi was among other women reported in the media who faced sexual harassment, torture and other forms of physical and psychological ill-treatment during interrogation. Ms. Badawi has been the subject of several special procedures communications (SAU 16/2014), (SAU 1/2016), (SAU 11/2018), and (SAU 1/2019) and a public statement.⁹³ The Government responded,⁹⁴ indicating that the facts pertaining to the allegations of reprisals were inaccurate and that Ms. Badawi was subject to criminal charges. On 5 April 2019, the Government provided information that Ms. Badawi is detained at a prison in Jeddah Governorate Makkah Province. According to information received, she is allowed regular contact with her family at Dhahban

25. South Sudan

96. In the 2018 report of the Secretary-General, the United Nations Mission in South Sudan (UNMISS) and OHCHR reported instances of restrictions by national authorities against individuals whose opinions were perceived as critical of the Government or the reputation of the country and who cooperated with the United Nations (A/HRC/39/41, paras. 67-68 and Annex I, paras. 100-102).⁹⁵ During the reporting period, UNMISS received reports of at least eight incidents, including arbitrary arrests, detention, and acts of intimidation and harassment. For instance, former detainees who were being released from detention facilities, were ordered not to share information with the United Nations on their experiences during their detention.

97. National authorities continued to target individuals and organizations perceived as sharing information regarding possible human rights violations or specifically contributing to UNMISS public reports. The perpetrators were identified among the elements of the South Sudan National Security Service, pro-Government forces and personnel of State administration. As a result, growing self-censorship is reported.

98. In March 2019, Security Council Resolution 2459 (2019) strongly condemned obstructions of UNMISS by the Government of South Sudan and opposition groups, including severe restrictions on freedom of movement and constraints on the Mission's operations, and requested UNMISS to continue reporting violations of the Status of Forces Agreement (SOFA) between the Government and the UN. In particular they requested UNMISS to continue to compile monthly the access denials/blockage of UNMISS patrols with UNMISS human rights officers attempting to visit or access areas where violations of human rights may have occurred, and obstructions of UNMISS human rights officers to police stations/detention facilities and similar Government establishments where human rights violations are reported.⁹⁶

26. Thailand

99. The case of Mr. Maitree Chamroensuksakul, a Lahu indigenous human rights defender, was included in the 2018 report of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/39/41, para. 69 and Annex I, paras.103-104). Special procedures mandate holders raised concern at harassment and death threats against him following a meeting with the Special Rapporteur on the situation of human rights defenders (THA 4/2017), to which the Government responded.⁹⁷ Mr. Chamroensuksakul had documented and publicly raised violations against the Lahu community by law enforcement officers, and in particular the death of a 17-year old Lahu youth activist shot by military personnel in March 2017 during an alleged anti-drug operation. In May 2019, it was reported that Mr. Chamroensuksakul and his family continue to face intimidation and threats and are unable to return to their home. On 22 October 2018, the Government provided additional information to OHCHR, stating that the search of Mr. Chamroensuksakul's home took place with a warrant and was unrelated to the visit of the Special Rapporteur. The Government further noted that Mr. Chamroensuksakul is entitled to file a complaint for any damages incurred, and is eligible for witness protection concerning the death of the youth activist.

100. The case of Ms. Sirikan Charoensiri, of Thai Lawyers for Human Rights, was included in the 2018 report of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/39/41, para.70 and Annex paras. 105-106) regarding criminal charges reportedly linked to her participation at the Human Rights Council in September 2016. Four special procedures mandate holders raised concerns (THA 2/2017) to which the Government responded.⁹⁸ Ms. Charoensiri also participated in the March 2017 session of the Human Rights Committee, where she publicized the case of 14 student activists arrested for their alleged participation in peaceful protests following the military coup in May 2014. It was reported that, if found guilty, Ms. Charoensiri could face up to 15 years in jail and could be tried in a military court for sedition. During the reporting period, Ms. Charoensiri's trial was postponed for the 11th time. On 22 October 2018, the Government provided information that the three criminal complaints against Ms. Charoensiri were still being investigated. It noted that she was not being charged in her capacity as a lawyer or human rights defender but on the possible basis of being one of the principal offenders or accomplices in the alleged offenses. It also noted that there was currently no legal proceeding against Ms. Charoensiri in the Military Court.

101. The 2017 (A/HRC/36/31, para. 57 and Annex I, paras. 80-81) and 2018 (A/HRC/39/41, Annex II paras. 51-53) reports of the Secretary-General noted that grant recipients of the United Nations Voluntary Fund for Victims of Torture were subject to a legal complaint filed by the Royal Thai Army, dismissed in October 2017, for publishing a report on cases of torture and ill-treatment by military in the Southern Border Provinces. They were also harassed online. In September 2018, following the presentation of the 2018 report of the Secretary-General to the Human Rights Council (A/HRC/39/41), it was reported that Ms. Anghkhana Neelapaijit and other defenders were subjected to smearing on social media. For example, a photo of Ms. Neelapaijit was circulated and she was accused of manipulating the truth.

102. On 28 June 2019, the Government responded to the allegations providing detailed comments. The Government requested further details on the intimidation and threats against Mr. Chamroensuksakul and his family, in order to better understand how they relate to his cooperation with the UN. The Government also noted that the Ministry of Foreign Affairs has asked relevant agencies to verify this case and is waiting for more information. Regarding the situation of Ms. Sirikan Charoensiri, the Government further updated that the case had been postponed eleven times due to the procedures of the Office of the Attorney General, in particular its criminal procedure codes. The next hearing of the indictment decision is scheduled for late June 2019. Regarding the reported online smear campaign against Ms. Anghkhana Neelapaijit, the Government shared that she filed two libel complaints on 7 June 2017 and 18 September 2017. The Royal Thai Police instructed the competent authorities to treat them as urgent cases, which are still under investigation. Preliminary findings suggest that the incidents involve fake Facebook accounts.

27. United Arab Emirates

103. The case of Mr. Ahmed Mansoor, advisor to the Gulf Centre for Human Rights and Human Rights Watch's Middle East and North Africa Division, was included in the 2018 (A/HRC/39/41, Annex, para. 55), 2017 (A/HRC/36/31, para. 60 and Annex, paras. 86-87) and 2014 (A/HRC/27/38, para. 38) reports of the Secretary-General related to his collaboration with the Human Rights Council, the special procedures, the UPR and the treaty bodies. Mr. Mansoor was detained and experienced physical assaults, death threats, and government surveillance. He had been subject to a travel ban from 2011 to prevent him from engaging in person with United Nations human rights mechanisms. On 6 July 2018 the Government provided information to OHCHR, stating that Mr. Mansoor "was tried, convicted and sentenced to ten years' imprisonment" and is serving his sentence at the Al Sadr penal institution with the right to an appeal.

104. On 4 January 2019, the spokesperson for the High Commissioner for Human Rights expressed concern that the Court of State Security Chamber of the Federal Supreme Court had upheld a 10-year prison sentence and one-million dirham fine (about USD272,000) against Mr. Mansoor. The spokesperson urged the Government "to promptly and unconditionally release Mansoor and to ensure that individuals are not penalised for expressing views critical of the Government or its allies.”⁹⁹ In April 2019, it was reported that Mr. Mansoor was on a hunger strike to protest an unfair trial and the conditions in which he is detained. On 7 May 2019, seven special procedures mandate holders expressed grave concern over Mr. Mansoor’s physical well-being and the poor conditions of his detention.¹⁰⁰

105. The case of Mr. Osama Al-Najjar was mentioned in the 2018 and several previous reports of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/39/41, Annex II, paras. 57-58; A/HRC/33/19, para. 44; A/HRC/30/29, para. 6; and A/HRC/27/38, para. 37) and raised by five special procedures mandate holders (ARE 2/2015). He was alleged to have been subject to reprisals after meeting with the Special Rapporteur on the independence of judges and lawyers during her visit to the country in 2014. According to information received, Mr. Al-Najjar was arrested, tortured and held incommunicado in March 2014, was then transferred to Al Wathba prison, to be released on 17 March 2017, following the completion of his three-year sentence. However, in March 2017 the Federal Supreme Court reportedly refused to release him and, requested by the Public Prosecution, transferred him to a counselling center (Munasaha) for guidance and reform.

106. In 2017, the court extended his placement in this center twice. In May 2018, seven special procedures mandate holders expressed serious concern over the continued arbitrary detention of Mr. Al-Najjar beyond the term of his sentence on the basis of broad and vague anti-terrorism legislation (ARE 1/2018).¹⁰¹ On 6 July 2018 the Government provided follow up information, noting that Mr. Al-Najjar is going therapy and treatment at a counselling centre called a Munasaha Centre which “consists of psychological, social and religious sessions to uproot terrorist and extremist ideologies” based on “concern that he might commit a terrorist offence after leaving the prison” and a “threat to public security.” In March 2019, it was reported that Mr. Al-Najjar was still being held in a counselling center despite having completed his sentence and treatment.

107. The case of Mr. Mohamad Ismat Mohamad Shaker Az was included in the 2018 report of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/39/41, Annex, para. 56 and 58) concerning his treatment following an Opinion issued by the Working Group on Arbitrary Detention who found his detention arbitrary (ARE 6/2017).¹⁰² Mr. Shaker Az was placed in solitary confinement on 2 July 2017 for two months allegedly in retaliation after the issuance of Opinion of the Working Group. It was further reported that the prosecutor would ask for an increased penalty, from 15 years to life imprisonment. On 6 July 2018 the Government provided information that Mr. Shaker Az is “currently serving his sentence of imprisonment at the Al Wathba penal institution, where he receives appropriate health care, and is permitted to communicate with his family in accordance with the regulations and procedures applicable to penal and correctional institutions.”

108. In May 2019, it was reported that Mr. Mohammed Shaker Az was allowed phone calls to his family on a monthly basis, but the last time they heard from him was on 14 February 2019. Concerns are reported that this might constitute further acts of reprisals for his engagement with the United Nations and that, while being denied access to his family, he might be subjected to acts of torture or other forms of ill-treatment.

28. Venezuela (Bolivarian Republic of)

109. The case of judge Ms. Maria Lourdes Afiumi was included in multiple reports of the Secretary-General since 2010 (A/HRC/14/19, paras 45-47; A/HRC/27/38, para. 46; A/HRC/30/29, para. 7; A/HRC/33/19, para. 45). On 23 March 2019, the Special Rapporteur on the independence of judges and lawyers issued a statement¹⁰³ on the ruling of the court in Caracas sentencing Judge Afiuni to five years imprisonment for corruption, which he noted with grave concern was another act of reprisal against her. Ms. Afiuni had been arrested and imprisoned in 2009 for deciding on the conditional release of businessman Mr. Eligio Cedeño in accordance with a decision of the UN Working Group on Arbitrary Detention (No. 10/2009). While in detention, she was reportedly subject to ill-treatment that could amount to torture, and refused medical treatment. Ms. Afiuni was held in prison for 14 months. In 2011, she was granted house arrest for health reasons, and two years later released under the conditions of not leaving the country or using social media. On 5 July 2019 it was noted by the High Commissioner for Human Rights that Ms. Afiuni was provided a conditional release.¹⁰⁴ Her release was conditional based on one of the measures of her sentence and she is reportedly still at risk of being detained.

29. Viet Nam

110. The case of Mr. Nguyen Bac Truyen was included in the 2016 report of the Secretary-General (A/HRC/30/29, para. 42) due to his arrest, incommunicado detention and charges, allegedly in reprisals for his support to the 2014 visit of the Special Rapporteur on freedom of religion and belief to the country. Mr. Nguyen Bac Truyen has been the subject of several special procedures communications (VNM 4/2014; VNM 11/2014; VNM 8/2016; VNM 6/2017). He is currently serving an 11-year sentence at An Diem Prison, Quang Nam province, 1,600 kilometers away from his hometown. The Government has responded to allegations in June 2014, March 2015, January 2017, and January 2018. Mr. Nguyen Bac Truyen reportedly submitted a petition on 11 February 2019 requesting to be transferred to a prison near Ho Chi Minh City to allow for visits by his family and lawyer, and on 12 March 2019 his request was denied. He was also reportedly denied access to letters of support from international organizations. A member State requested the immediate release of Mr. Truyen in the context of the UPR of Vietnam in January 2019 (A/HRC/41/7, para. 38.145).

111. Special procedures mandate holders expressed grave concern about surveillance, intimidation and travel bans against rights defenders and some members of the independent religious communities for their cooperation with the Special Rapporteur on freedom of religion of belief during his visit to Viet Nam in July 2014 (VNM 11/2014). Despite concerns raised during and after the visit,¹⁰⁵ individuals and groups reportedly continue to face severe restrictions in sharing information and meeting with United Nations experts and staff members.

112. A number of representatives of civil society, human rights defenders and religious organizations reportedly faced acts of reprisals after attending the NGO-organized August 2018 Southeast Asia Conference on Freedom of Religion or Belief in Bangkok, which included engagement with the United Nations Special Rapporteur on freedom of religion of belief. Of the 28 advocates invited from Viet Nam, two received police warnings against attending the conference, five were prevented from leaving Vietnam at border checkpoints or at the airport, two were detained and interrogated at the airport and their passports and cell phones were confiscated, and eight participants were summoned to the police station or visited by the police for questioning about their participation in the conference. Additionally, the police harassed family members of three participants while they were at the conference.

113. On 26 June 2019, the Government responded to the allegations. Regarding the situation of Mr. Nguyen Bac Truyen, the Government indicated that Mr. Truyen has participated in establishing an organization aimed at overthrowing the Government and his conviction was because he broke the law, not because of reprisals after the 2014 visit of the Special Rapporteur. The Government indicated that Mr. Truyen is currently detained in An Dien prison, his health is normal and he has access to healthcare, family visits and letters. The reply informs that his request for transfer could not be considered. Regarding the civil society representatives that attended or tried to attend the 2018 Southeast Asia Conference on Freedom of Religion or Belief, the Government stated that allegations are untrue, and that
