The Global Church

Most World Christianity books are written for scholarly audiences only. However, Portraits of Global Christianity moves beyond that sphere and into the lives of Christians who have learned about and continue to experience the global church in their everyday lives. No other global Christianity book on the market provides this kind of self-understanding on the relationship between world Christianity and individual experience.

This book is geared toward a general Christian audience and is written in an accessible style with attractive full-color charts, maps, and graphs to make quantitative data on Christianity and other religions come alive.

This volume is a fitting tribute to Dr. Todd Johnson. Always keen to see not just the trees but the forest, he embodies a meta-analytical skill set, which this book stays true to. He is a storyteller and mentor par excellence, both in his writings and to all those he encounters personally, as exemplified by the magisterial data and moving testimonies that lie herein.

ALLEN YEH, DPhil
Professor, Intercultural Studies & Missiology,
Biola University

GINA A. ZURLO (PhD, Boston University School of Theology) is Co-Director of the Center for the Study of Global Christianity at Gordon-Conwell Theological Seminary. She is co-author of the World Christian Encyclopedia, 3rd edition and co-editor of the World Christian Database. She is author of Global Christianity, and Women in World Christianity. She was named one of the BBC's 100 most inspiring and influential women of 2019 for her work in quantifying religion worldwide.

Financing Mission from Anywhere to Everywhere

New Funding Models for Global Missions first summarizes how world missions has been funded from the past to the present. It then critiques the common fundraising approach where missionaries raise their own financial support and suggests possible adjustments.

Tim Welch presents seventeen alternative funding models appropriate for contemporary missionaries. He concludes with fifteen practical recommendations for individuals, churches, and mission agencies.

134-page Paperback: $10.99 | eBook: $6.99

This is a very informational and inspirational book for mission workers who want to get creative ideas on how to finance their ministries. May this concise volume help mobilize more workers into the vast harvests among the unreached and unengaged peoples of our world today.

Contextualization

With One Gospel for all Nations, we not only get theory about contextualization, but a practical model for working out the most significant theme in the Bible: gospel.

SCOT MCKNIGHT, Professor of New Testament at Northern Baptist Theological Seminary

Mary Lou Codman-Wilson and Alex Zhou model a process of examining our cultural worldview to overcome the tensions associated with living out our faith in a context dominated by different religious or secular systems. Written in a conversational tone and validated with personal stories from Asian internationals, Supracultural Gospel is a powerful and practical tool for anyone passionate about cross-cultural discipleship.

Eighty percent of the world's people are storycentric communicators—they prefer to learn and are most likely to be influenced through stories, pictures, drama, and music rather than through reading and writing. Yet more than ninety percent of Christian workers communicate through a highly literacy-based approach. Through engaging stories, biblical insights, leadership research, field-tested methods, and practical models of effective leadership development, Leading with Story offers unique solutions that will inspire and challenge any who want to raise up or to be raised up as Christ-centered leaders in this storycentric generation.

Cross-Cultural Communication

Christians engaged in communicating the gospel navigate a challenging tension: faithfulness to God's ancient, revealed Word and relevance to the local, current social context. What if there was a lens or paradigm offering both? Understanding the Bible—particularly the gospel—through the ancient cultural “language” of honor-shame offers believers this double blessing.

240-page Paperback: $17.99 | eBook: $10.99

In this single volume, God has brought together some of the world's brightest cross-cultural gospel communicators and thinkers to share with us the wisdom they have gleaned about worldview and how it is influenced by guilt, shame, and fear.

Biblical Theology of Missions

Rich in intellectual engagement and scholarly diversity, Reading Hebrews Missiologically provides a needed resource to studies of the Epistle and a necessary and vital resource to equip further mission work in the church.

Readers will encounter essays that draw from the best of Hebrews scholarship for a fresh missiological end.

The volume even includes an essay offering critique and avenues for further development, beginning with the “where do we go from here” conversation.

I’m eager to use this in my own work on Hebrews and pass it on to my students.

Biblical Theology of Missions

While many books explore the work ethic and character of Daniel, Ed Smither takes those discussions to a new level, illustrating why each of Daniel's qualities and skills is a necessary component of mission today. Providing relevant application for contemporary issues like diaspora, power encounters, and divine favor in mission, the themes in Mission in the Way of Daniel advance the ongoing conversation about how to do mission.

For mission practitioners, tentmakers, and all Christians, this book shows us how God can use us where we are in life and work.

Violence against Christ-followers is increasing globally. The lived reality for many Christ-followers involves daily threats, risks, and persecution. When evil casts its shadow on us, and we're tempted to despair, it is vital to develop anti-fragile faith and the guts to endure in hard places.

Facing Fear is a practical guide for Christ-followers who long to have bold, mature courage. Cultivating this courage is necessary to endure wisely for Christ's sake. Learning to face our fears, name them, and manage them requires learning specific steps to reduce their impact on us. You'll gain valuable skills to become "shrewd as a serpent" and stand with unshaken faith in dangerous situations.

Risk can be an offering of worship. Jesus is worthy of whatever pain you go through, whatever loss you experience, and whatever fears you have. Nothing is too small to escape his tender care and touch. He delights when his saints stay alert, stand firm, and endure all for his honor.

Staying isn't always good and leaving isn't always bad. Both require grit and grace. Cross-cultural ministry presents us with many difficulties. The lies we believe tempt us to leave our work too soon. But nothing tests our resolve to stay like seeing others go.

Grit to Stay Grace to Go normalizes the challenges of ministry through honest and humorous stories from the authors' own lives as well as testimonies from many other workers. They try to help cross-cultural workers not just to stay, but to stay well, by countering lies with truth. This workbook provides poignant questions and spiritual practices to help them make an intentional, not reactive, decision.

Are you considering leaving the field? Or someone else you know? Work through this book by yourself or with others. You will gain wisdom to help workers develop grit and grace to stay or go.

“ In Karmic Christianity, E. D. Burns skillfully unmasks the deeper script that informs so much of evangelical Christianity today. While confessing the good news of grace-alone-by-faith-alone, far too many believers lapse into thinking that, ultimately, the “skeleton key” that guarantees success in the Christian life is, “enoughness.” I commend this book to the global church as a wake-up call to a pervasive and disturbing reality.

All people struggle with fear. Perhaps a child has a life-threatening illness. Your spouse loses a job, and you don't know how bills will get paid. We wonder whether tough times indicate that God is not pleased with us. To regain assurance and peace, we try harder to please God and attain blessings. We can too easily fall into a karmic-like cycle of good works, relying on our own power to break the cycle of fear.

In Karmic Christianity, E. D. Burns explains why the antidote to fear is not power but rather peace— God's peace. The peace of Christ sets us free from anxiety arising from hardships and our inability to control our situations.

If we're honest, we know that our best is never good enough. We are frequently powerless to change our circumstances. Burns shows why the solution is not working harder, being better, or just giving up. Readers learn why we don't need to be exhausted. Instead, we can rest in God's refuge.

Spiritual Formation

Do you ever fail to connect God’s mission of love, reconciliation, and compassion to your daily life? God’s message was simple, and we’ve made it complicated—allowing fear, shame, culture-locked language, and traditions to stop us from aligning ourselves with God’s heart for the world.

In Made to Love, Geoff Peters sheds light on the deeper story for why we are here and addresses the great divide between what we are called to do and what we actually do. He also lovingly points toward places where we, as ministry leaders, may have failed those we seek to serve.

“ Burden is scholarly yet efficient and very approachable in his writing, and clearly summarizes and applies what he discovers. Church leaders, students, and missionaries in preparation must grab and devour this book. ”

PAUL W. SHEA, DMiss

What drove the expansion of early Christianity? Where some might think the motivations were the Great Commission or concern for non-Christians, which are common today, the early church's mission was profoundly Christocentric. The focus was exalting the reign of Christ and the pursuit of holiness. As the prophets foretold, the messianic king came and now reigns at the Father's right hand, drawing all nations to himself.

Missionary Motivations takes a deep look into the mindset that drove missional activity in the early church and explores original themes to inspire and inform the next generation of the church's missional thinkers.

New Abridged Version!

Nothing can fully prepare a person for life as a missionary. However, for almost thirty years, Thomas Hale's On Being a Missionary has helped to equip cross-cultural workers to not only survive but thrive in their calling.

This abridged version of On Being a Missionary remains practical and accessible. It addresses the new realities of the changing missionary force. It also looks at the challenges of bonding with a new culture in an increasingly globalized and technologically connected world. The book is written for everyone with an interest in missions, whether the missionary on the field or the supporter at home. It is written by learners for learners.

“The gospel is not just a message to be proclaimed, but a life to be lived.”

At its core, mission intertwines praise, word, and deed. As we ponder best mission practices, it's wise to hear the voices of global practitioners—those who have been at it for a long time. The authors in this volume represent the diversity of the global church. They are men and women from Africa, Asia, Latin America, North America, and Europe who have served or presently serve in places like Ethiopia, Indonesia, Mexico, Haiti, Russia, France, Germany, Canada, and the regions of Central Asia, North Africa, and the Middle East.

Though some contributors are scholars and even professors, most are field practitioners—evangelists, church planters, Bible translators, medical professionals, refugee workers, and community development specialists. Based on decades of faithful service, they report on what they have learned about mission. Through their accounts, they inspire us to envision the future of global mission and embrace its transformative power.

Leadership

Multiplying Leaders in Intercultural Contexts focuses on how to develop grassroots Christian leaders across cultures. These often unrecognized leaders mostly lead small groups at the growing edges of the church. They are ordinary people who faithfully share Christ amid the demands of daily life. Another focus of the book is shaping the character of developers as they humbly walk beside leaders in the leaders' community.

The authors weave together research, experience, and practical application to show how community, character, clarity, and care are expressed across different cultures. The book then discusses five principles, illustrated in common settings, for an intentional process that develops leaders and their communities collectively. Take the next step now in developing yourself and others in the task of leading Jesus's church wherever that might be.

Community Arts for God's Purposes

How to Create Local Artistry Together

Brian Schrag and Julisa Rowe (Authors)

Community Arts for God's Purposes highlights the CLAT (Creating Local Arts Together) method, a seven-step process that inspires artistic creativity and collaboration with local musicians, dancers, storytellers, actors, and visual artists. In this manual, the arts are treated as special kinds of communication systems, connected to specific times, places, and social contexts. As local communities use the creative gifts developed in their particular culture to worship God and extend his kingdom, a beautiful example of the Lord's complex artistry emerges.

History

Written in an engaging style and intended largely for a lay audience, The Evangelization of the World tells the remarkable story of how Christianity grew from an insignificant Jewish sect in the first century until, by the beginning of the twenty-first century, it had become the world's first truly global religion.

The book is careful to explain historical context and mission theory, but the foci of the narrative are the great personalities of mission—the Apostle Paul, St. Martin of Tours, St. Patrick, St. Francis Xavier, John Eliot, Count Von Zinzendorf, William Carey, Robert Morrison, David Livingstone, Mary Slessor, Albert Schweitzer, and many others—who make this account of the expansion of the church a fascinating and often dramatic tale. In addition, the book does not neglect the great mission conferences of the twentieth century, nor does it avoid the controversial aspects of mission that, in many instances, continue to vex the movement today.

Movements

Impacting Eternity builds on multi-dimensional research performed over a period of years. Its findings have been refined in practice within three different movements that the author helped to facilitate. Robert Reach gives seven concrete, root principles that bear kingdom fruit. This is not merely information that might work; it has proven effective in the trenches of movement life resulting in miraculous growth. Reach has found that his 5-5-5 methodology is very effective, but instead of promoting it, he helps readers think about the underlying leadership dynamics that spark and sustain a movement.

“ Robert M. Reach brilliantly weaves his extensive field experience with Biblical foundations. He gives the readers an overview of movements thinking using stories and illustrations that have worked over the decades. ”

STEVE ADDISON

Author of Acts and the Movement of God

ROBERT M. REACH began cross-cultural mission work in 1965. After researching people movements, he developed a pilot project in Southeast Asia, now with more than 1.5 million disciples of Jesus from a variety of religious backgrounds. Reach has learned the fundamentals of how to initiate, facilitate, develop, and multiply a self-funding, self-propagating, and self-governing mass people movement of disciples of Jesus Christ.

Everyone has heard of the Taliban, but how well do we know the Afghan people? Afghanistan is one of the hardest countries in the world in which to be a Christian. How can Afghans build trusting, vibrant communities of believers? What are the best practices in discipleship? Afghan Mountain Faith explores relationships, justice, and beauty in God's unfolding kingdom. These never-before-recorded accounts show Jesus's followers in their unique Afghan context. Their stories extend worldwide as Afghan fellowships arise globally, even though there is not a single church building inside their country.

Ministry to Hindus

Whether in New Age mysticism, occultism, Haitian voodooism, Chinese ancestor veneration, or Japanese Shintoism, animistic beliefs are widespread, even today. Gailyn Van Rheenen turns our attention to what Paul Hiebert called “the excluded middle,” the intermediate realm of spirits, ancestors, gods, and ghosts. Rather than being merely anecdotal, he presents a rigorous, biblical, theological, and anthropological foundation for ministering in animistic contexts.

The China Chronicle Series

Many have heard of the extraordinary explosion of Christianity throughout China in recent decades. Few, however, know how it occurred. Paul Hattaway draws on thirty years' experience in China and numerous interviews with church leaders to provide insights into how the living God brought about the largest revival in the history of Christianity.

In a narrative full of jaw-dropping stories, the China Chronicles series documents the acts of the Holy Spirit throughout China, where phenomenal growth has occurred in the furnace of intense persecution. This series is designed to inform the wider world of the astonishing work of the Spirit in China. The China Chronicles also aim to provide Chinese believers, and members of the immense Chinese diaspora, with some sense of their own roots.

Medical Missions

Village Medical Manual is a user-friendly, two-volume healthcare guide for lay workers in developing countries with special features that trained medical professionals would also find useful. Its intended use is for those who are required, by location and circumstances, to render medical care.

The clear vocabulary, along with over a thousand illustrations and diagrams, help Western-educated expatriates living in isolated locations to medically treat people and intelligently refer those that can be referred accordingly. It contains clearly defined procedural techniques and diagnostic protocols for when sophisticated instrumentation and lab tests are not available. It also offers solutions and advice for overcoming barriers to best practices in global health.

Volume 1 elucidates medical principles, symptoms, and procedures for routine medical care, as well as emergency situations.

Volume 2 includes vast symptom, disease (common and tropical), drug, and regionally-relevant indices to assist the reader in step-by-step diagnoses and treatment. This is a crucial reference for all who lack formal global health training but must know how to meet health care challenges in developing areas lacking medical infrastructure.

2-Volume Paperback Set: $79.99

The Village Medical Manual is a valuable resource for primary care providers in developing country settings everywhere—considerably more useful and comprehensive than other introductory healthcare manuals.

Beyond Our Walls provides a unique window into what ministry in an urban slum setting can look like. The author shares the amazing story of God's faithfulness in her life, as she follows Jesus into the slums of Jakarta, Indonesia, and still lives there twelve years later with her husband and two young sons. Not only have her Muslim neighbors had an opportunity to get to know a follower of Jesus, but the author herself has been forever changed by her experiences. While life in the slums is often hard, the joys are many as well.

Critical Concerns

Ambassadors of Reconciliation is an invitation to participate in the redeeming of destructive behaviors, harmful thinking, and broken relationships with the Creator, ourselves, others, and all creation. The contributors challenge readers to consider the church's role in God's mission and how every Christian can become an envoy of his restoration work. They emphasize the spiritual dimension of reconciliation and offer practical guidance for effectively engaging in ministry. Whether you are a missionary, pastor, or simply someone interested in promoting restoration in the world, this book provides valuable insights and tools for your journey.

“ Ambassadors of Reconciliation is an inspired vision to reframe mission as reconciliation with God and our neighbor in all the dimensions where sin has divided and defiled us. This volume offers a path forward in our war-torn world. ”

Perhaps there is no greater challenge in missions than money.

The Realities of Money & Missions provides a unique level of credibility and transparency as it calls for evangelicals to reevaluate their relationship with money, both personally and corporately. Written by men and women whose calling as missionaries, pastors, and administrators has brought them face-to-face with the complex, real-life issues involving the intersection of money and ministry, read on and be challenged to change.

Snapshot Series

Forthcoming

The Snapshot Series takes a unique approach to starting conversations on subjects that often get overlooked yet deserve urgent attention. These snapshots are about a fourth the length of a typical book but two or three times the length of an average journal article.

Snapshots are also a call to action. Every book gives an overview of an important subject and provides links to resources, gatherings, and organizations that will help you move beyond caring to action. Accordingly, they are easy resources to stimulate your thinking and encourage conversation about key issues related to the church's global mission!

40-page Paperback: $5.99
eBook: $2.99

The material in this Snapshot book was adapted from chapter 17 of Supracultural Gospel: Bridging East and West (William Carey Publishing, 2022).
