<sup>2</sup> Includes U.S. military personnel stationed overseas and their dependents living with them overseas. These counts also include personnel assigned to U.S. military vessels that have an overseas homeport.

<sup>4</sup> Includes a subset of U.S. military and federal civilian employees deployed overseas (while stationed in the United States) that could not be included in the resident population because administrative records were insufficient to allocate them to a usual residence address in the United States. Therefore, they were allocated to their home state and included in these overseas population counts, which are included in the apportionment population.
