Rowena Cherry, "SPACE SNARK™" author of futuristic romances

I write as Rowena Cherry, and also as Rowena Beaumont Cherry. All my works are copyrighted. I am the sole owner of the copyright of my works. None of my works are "in the public domain". I have never granted digital "resell rights" to anyone. My goal as a Romance author is to give good value. I expect to provide my readers with six to eight hours of amusement, a couple of really good laughs, a romantic frisson or two from the sensual scenes, a thoroughly satisfying Happy Ever After, and something to think –or talk-- about when the book is finished. My novels are Forced Mate, Insufficient Mating Material, Knight's Fork, and coming soon Grand Fork. I also have licensed the rights to reproduce and distribute the short story Mating Net to New Concepts Publishing. I may be contacted by email: rowena@rowenacherry.com

I'm delighted that readers enjoy my books, and I am pleased to see some of my paperbacks being sold on eBay. However, please know that if you see anyone offering any of my works for sale on eBay as EBOOKS, whether as CDs, or pdfs, or as part of a collection, those vendors --no matter what they say-- are infringing on my copyright: my right to control the reproduction (copying) and distribution of my works. No one has "resell rights" to Forced Mate or Mating Net or Insufficient Mating Material or Knight's Fork. Please let me know, if you discover that my e-books are being illegally sold on eBay.
