25. Data processing in the framework of Overdrafts:

1. Data processed

In the framework of offering this product to you, we process the following data related to you:

- Data collected when you use our account: we consider your age, customer ID, account status. We further assess the type of transactions you have, your income, your expenses, your existing payment obligations, the development of your previous or co-existing contractual relations with N26 regarding any N26 products, your repayment of any former credits to N26 (if applicable), your salary history with N26 and any unemployment, social or other benefits you have received 3 months prior to your application, based on an internal mathematical-statistical analysis.
- Data collected from third parties: we take into account your SCHUFA credit score if you have an address in Germany. Note that your SCHUFA Score used can be up to 3 years old. If we have your SCHUFA Score which is over 3 years old, we will request your updated SCHUFA Score to SCHUFA and this might appear on your SCHUFA report. In this case, you will not be eligible for a N26 Overdraft but you can try again on the next day or reach out to us as mentioned below.
- Your internal N26 creditworthiness: we calculate an internal creditworthiness score for you, based on a standard automated mathematical-statistical procedure and risk criteria determined by N26 for assessment of the creditworthiness of our customers, which considers the data mentioned above, as well as how you use N26 products and services, including transaction details (card payment and banking transfer amounts and recipients), payments history (rejected payments, non payment of subscriptions or N26 fees, direct debits history) and the repayment of your former credits with N26 (if applicable), based on your usage history of products and services contracted with N26.

Please note that this data may be processed by N26 to make automated decisions regarding your eligibility or the limit of your Overdraft. To learn more about automated decision making under the framework of N26 Overdraft, please see Sec. X.3.

2. Amendment and cancellation of Overdrafts

N26 is regularly reviewing the underlying credit risk of overdrafts that are granted to N26 customers in order to ensure that an overdraft still meets the defined risk appetite of N26. For that purpose N26 evaluates both the customer's usage of the overdraft loan and the creditworthiness of its customers by means of an internal credit score. Your legitimate interests will be considered at any time.

This internal credit score is the result of a mathematical-statistical procedure, which considers the information we have received from you and from your account like the type of transactions you do, your expenses, your existing payment obligations, the development of your previous or co-existing contractual relations with N26 regarding any N26 products, your repayment of any former credits to N26 as agreed upon, as well as, if existent, your credit score from SCHUFA.

Based on the respective outcome of the internal scoring process, we determine, based on a fully human process and subject to Art. 6 (1) b) GDPR, whether N26 may continue to support the existing overdraft contractual relationship with you or if we are required, based on our current internal risk management approach, to terminate your overdraft loan or to amend the contractual conditions applicable to your overdraft loan.

3. Repayment plan:

N26 will use your internal creditworthiness score mentioned in paragraph 1. of this Section (Sec. III.23.2) to review the underlying credit risk of the overdraft granted to you, in order to ensure that an overdraft still meets the defined risk appetite of N26. For that purpose N26 evaluates both the customer's usage of the overdraft loan and the creditworthiness of its customers by means of an internal credit score. Your legitimate interests will be considered at any time.

Based on this internal risk management approach, and subject to Art. 6 (1) b) GDPR, N26 will decide whether we can provide you the possibility to convert your overdraft loan into a repayment plan.

Based on your decision to restructure your overdraft loan, N26 will process additional data provided by you during the application flow for the repayment plan, namely: monthly income, employment status, your monthly installments' affordability (as provided by you). The processing of this data is necessary for the performance of our contractual relationship with you (pursuant to Art. 6 (1) b) GDPR), in order to calculate the respective terms of the repayment plan. Although this calculation is carried out by automated means, no automated individual decision-making occurs in this context (please see Sec. X.3, to confirm the data processing activities subject to automated individual decision-making under the framework of N26 Overdraft). Your legitimate interests will be considered at any time.

26. Data processing when participating in In-App surveys

When you share your feedback with us in the App by participating in surveys, on a voluntary basis, we process the information that is technically necessary to provide the survey function and enable us to display it to you (metadata). We process your data, as described, for the purpose of displaying surveys to you and obtaining your feedback, based on our legitimate interests, in accordance with Art. 6 (1) f) GDPR.

Depending on the survey, we may also process the content of your responses and, in particular, the information that you choose to share with us. Additionally, we may combine the data collected through the survey with other customer data that we process in the context of our contractual relationship with you, including your customer ID, date of account creation, age group, gender, country and city of residence. In this case, we will inform you accordingly in the respective information note at the beginning of the survey. We process your data, as described, for analysis purposes and to improve our products, processes and service levels, based on our legitimate interests, in accordance with Art. 6 (1) f) GDPR.

If you decide to share your feedback with us, we may anonymise the data obtained to create research reports and publications. This is done based on our legitimate interest to conduct and produce statistical research and reports and analysis regarding the use customers make of the products and features provided by N26, in accordance with Art. 6 (1) f) GDPR.

For more information on legitimate interest as a legal basis for processing data, please see section II. above.

It facilitates a direct transfer from your N26 account to that of a beneficiary (e.g. a merchant). The iDEAL scheme is operated by Currence iDEAL B.V., located at Gustav Mahlerplein 33, 1082 MS Amsterdam, Netherlands ('Currence'), which provides the infrastructure and technical setup for the connection between the online payment environment and your N26 account.

Additionally, we process the name and ID of the iDEAL payment beneficiary (e.g. a merchant), their bank ID, IBAN and BIC numbers, as well as the merchant category code (if applicable). We further process data related to the device and browser that you used to make the iDEAL transaction, namely IP address, http referer, language settings, device ID, browser ID and device fingerprint.

We process this data as a data controller to verify your identity, authenticate you as an N26 customer and to enable your iDEAL payment, based on the execution of our agreement with you as per Art. 6 (1) b GDPR. In this context, we collaborate with Currence, which acts as a data processor on our behalf. Currence also processes your data as a separate data controller for their own purposes. You can find more information about the processing of your data by Currence in the iDeal Privacy & Cookies Statement.

We further process your data to detect and prevent fraud and criminal acts, including money laundering and terrorism financing, as well as to manage risks and for reporting purposes, based on our legitimate interests under Art. 6 (1) f) GDPR. For more information on legitimate interest as a legal basis for processing data, please see section II. above. In addition, we process your data to comply with our legal obligations stemming from applicable laws and regulatory requirements, including anti-money laundering and tax laws as well as other binding measures related to financial matters, based on Art. 6 (1) c) GDPR.

We will not link your ideas to any direct identifiers, such as your customer ID, and the feedback you provide will not have any influence on our actions towards you. We merely link the data to your idea to better understand the context of your ideas, e.g. if it is something that is specifically interesting for a specific market or if the idea is linked to a specific usage period of our app. We process your data, as described, for research purposes to improve our products, processes and service levels, based on our legitimate interests, in accordance with Art. 6 (1) f) GDPR.

For more information on the legitimate interest as a legal basis for processing data, please see section II. above.

Personal data collected as part of competitions and giveaways are solely processed for the purpose of selecting the winners and will be deleted within 4 weeks after the end of the competition or giveaway period. This does not apply with regards to winners. In that case, we delete stored data when they are no longer necessary for this purpose or to comply with any applicable statutory requirements.

3. Online Advertising

Online advertising helps us promote our products and services on the internet. In this context, we process personal data about your use of N26 services to deliver personalised advertisements to you and other internet users online and to measure and optimise their performance. We only process personal data for online advertising purposes if you consent to such processing, in accordance with Art. 6 (1) a) GDPR and Section 25 (1) of the German Telecommunications-Telemedia Data Protection Act (TTDSG). You can revoke your consent at any time in the N26 App via My Account > App-Settings > Marketing Communications > “Advertising Partners” (disable toggle) or in the N26 Web App under My Account > Personal Details > “Advertising Partners” (disable toggle). The data processing for online advertising purposes is described in more detail further down in each section.

1. Custom and lookalike audiences

We process your data to create so-called custom and lookalike audiences. Custom audiences consist of N26 customers and internet users and are created to display personalised content to both groups. This permits us to exclude N26 customers from the delivery of advertisements that we believe are not relevant to them. Lookalike audiences consist of internet users that share certain characteristics with N26 customers, which enables us to define target groups that are more similar to N26 customers than the average internet user and deliver more relevant advertisements to them.

To create custom and lookalike audiences, we use the services of our Advertising Partners below:

- Google Ireland Ltd, Google Building Gordon House, 4 Barrow St, Dublin, Ireland (“Google”);
- Meta Platforms Ireland Ltd, 4 Grand Canal Square, Grand Canal Harbour, Dublin 2, Ireland (“Meta”).

For the purposes described above, we transfer your pseudonymised email address to Google and Meta. They then match this email address against a potential account you might have on their services. For this purpose, and regardless of whether the matching is successful or not, the data is retained by Google for up to 48 hours and by Meta for up to 8 hours, after which it is deleted. Google and Meta do not share these data with third parties. You can find further information on how these technologies work under How Google uses Customer Match data and in the terms of Facebook Custom Audiences.

2. Conversion tracking

We process your data to capture specific actions that take place inside the N26 App and Web App, specifically the sign-up, acceptance of T&Cs, identification procedure of new customers and completion of a first transaction (so-called “conversions”). This enables us to measure and optimise the performance of our online advertisements and to deliver them to internet users that we infer are more likely to complete these conversions.

For the purposes described above, we use the services of Google and Meta (as identified in the previous section). We transfer conversion data, including date and time, to Google and Meta together with the following personal data, which is transmitted with encryption: email address, first name, last name, phone number, gender, city, zip code and country of residence, IP address, customer ID and predicted customer lifetime value. These data points are associated with other personal data collected on our website (see the section on Personalisation/Targeting Cookies in our Cookie Policies for N26 websites). Google and Meta are able to associate these data with your account on their services, if existent. The data is deleted by Google after a maximum of 18 months and by Meta after a maximum of 2 years.

IX. International transfers of personal data

Insofar as N26 transmits data to entities located outside the European Economic Area and in order to ensure an appropriate level of data protection equivalent to that granted under the GDPR upon the international transfers of personal data, N26 has implemented one or more of the following transfer mechanisms, in addition to safeguards in accordance with the international data transfer impact assessment on the respective data transfer, if applicable:

- A decision of the European Commission deciding that the third country ensures an adequate level of protection, pursuant to Art. 45 (1) GDPR - the existing adequacy decisions can be found here. This includes the certification under the Data Privacy Framework Program developed by the U.S. Department of Commerce and the European Commission - self certified entities can be found here;
- Binding Corporate Rules (“BCRs”) approved as per Art. 47 GDPR, pursuant to Art. 46 (2) b) GDPR;
- Standard data protection clauses for the transfer of personal data to third countries (“SCCs”), as adopted by the European Commission, pursuant to Art. 46 (2) c) GDPR - the most recent version of the SCCs can be found here.

You can obtain a detailed copy of the transfer mechanism and more information in this regard by sending a request to N26 to the addresses indicated in section XII. below.

X. Automated decision making in the framework of Flex account, N26 Credit, N26 Overdraft and N26 Installments (referred to as “N26 Products” in this section)

N26 uses automated decision making for the offer and use of the N26 products, in accordance with Art. 22 GDPR. We use automated decisions to offer you N26 Products (and applicable limits) more quickly and efficiently.

Whenever such an automated decision happens and if required by law, you will be informed accordingly before the decision takes place. You will also be informed how to request a human review of that decision. Kindly note that the possibility of having a human review of such a decision will be effective if you have not accepted our offer for the respective N26 Product.

The following automated decisions are taken by N26 based on the data we have about you:

1. Offer of a Flex account:

When you go through our account creation flow we decide automatically if we need to limit our product offering to a Flex account for you. This processing is based on pre-contractual steps taken upon your request, specifically to assess what N26 account we can offer you, in accordance with Art. 6 (1) b) and Art. 22 (2) a) GDPR. This decision is based solely on your SCHUFA score when you try to open your account with us. If you think we have not considered your SCHUFA credit score correctly, you can request to have someone review this automated decision, as described in this Support Center Article.

2. N26 Credit:

In the framework of N26 Credit, we process the following data related to you:

- Data collected when you use your account: we look at how you use N26 products and services, including your age, customer ID, account status, transaction details (card payment and banking transfer amounts and recipients) and the repayment of your former credits with N26 (if applicable), based on your usage history of N26 products and services. We further assess your income received on your N26 account and your arrears, as well as your expense calculation which we perform based on an internal mathematical-statistical analysis;

- Data collected from you in the application flow for N26 Credit: your work contract date; your family/marital status; your number of family members; if you own or rented your domicile; if you own real estate; if you own a car;
- Data collected from third parties: we take into account your SCHUFA credit score if you have an address in Germany. Note that your SCHUFA Score used can be up to 30 days old. If we have your SCHUFA Score which is over 30 days old, we will request your updated SCHUFA Score and this might appear on your SCHUFA report, but will only be visible to you.

The data referred to above is processed by N26 for the following purposes:

- To decide automatically if you are eligible for a N26 Credit: When you apply for a N26 Credit, we use a market standard automated mathematical-statistical method to calculate the risk associated with a possible offer of a N26 Credit to you, based on your data points mentioned above. We then decide automatically, based on our risk appetite at each moment in time and the risk we calculated for you, if you are eligible for a credit. If you are not eligible for a N26 Credit offered by N26, you may still be eligible for a credit product offered by Auxmoney GmbH. We then direct you to Auxmoney GmbH, along with your personal data needed by Auxmoney, who will be a separate data controller of your personal data. Once you are directed to Auxmoney GmbH, Auxmoney's Privacy Policy will be applicable to how Auxmoney processes your personal data. This processing is based on pre-contractual steps taken upon your request, prior to entering into a credit contract with either N26 or Auxmoney GmbH, in accordance with Art. 6 (1) b) and Art. 22 (2) a) GDPR.
- To decide automatically on your N26 Credit conditions: We also use a market standard automated mathematical-statistical method to calculate the risk associated with a possible offer of a N26 Credit to you. We then decide automatically, based on the risk appetite practiced at each moment in time at N26 and the risk calculated for you when applying for a N26 Credit, which conditions we can offer you. This processing is based on pre-contractual steps taken upon your request, prior to entering into a credit contract with N26, in accordance with Art. 6 (1) b) and Art. 22 (2) a) GDPR.

If you want to challenge the automated decisions taken by N26 on your N26 Credit eligibility or your N26 Credit conditions, please reach out to us as described in the Support Center Article. We will then have someone reviewing that decision for you.

3. N26 Overdraft and N26 Installments:

The data processing underlying the N26 Overdraft and N26 Installments products is similar. In the framework of offering these products to you, we process the following data related to you:

- Data collected when you use our account: we consider your age, customer ID, account status. We further assess the type of transactions you have, your income, your expenses, your existing payment obligations, the development of your previous or co-existing contractual relations with N26 regarding any N26 products, your repayment of any former credits to N26 (if applicable), your salary history with N26 and any unemployment, social or other benefits you have received 3 months prior to your application, based on an internal mathematical-statistical analysis.
- Data collected from third parties: we take into account your SCHUFA credit score if you have an address in Germany. Note that your SCHUFA Score used can be up to 3 years old. If we have your SCHUFA Score which is over 3 years old, we will request your updated SCHUFA Score to SCHUFA and this might appear on your SCHUFA report. In this case, you will not be eligible for a N26 Overdraft but you can try again on the next day or reach out to us as mentioned below.

- Your internal N26 creditworthiness: we calculate an internal creditworthiness score for you, based on a standard automated mathematical-statistical procedure and risk criteria determined by N26 for assessment of the creditworthiness of our customers, which considers the data mentioned above, as well as how you use N26 products and services, including transaction details (card payment and banking transfer amounts and recipients), payments history (rejected payments, non payment of subscriptions or N26 fees, direct debits history) and the repayment of your former credits with N26 (if applicable), based on your usage history of products and services contracted with N26.

The data referred to above is processed by N26 for the following purposes:

- To decide automatically if you are eligible for a N26 Overdraft or for a N26 Installments: When you apply for a N26 Overdraft or for a N26 Installments, we decide automatically, based on our risk appetite at each moment in time and based on the data collected and processed as described above, if you are eligible for the product. Note that specific circumstances related to your usage of your N26 account or your financial situation may lead to the decision that you are not eligible for a N26 Overdraft or N26 Installments, in accordance with our N26 Overdraft T&C and our N26 Installments T&C. This processing is based on pre-contractual steps taken upon your request, prior to entering into a credit contract with N26, in accordance with Art. 6 (1) b) and Art. 22 (2) a) GDPR.
- To decide automatically on your N26 Overdraft limit or your N26 Installments conditions: We also use a market standard automated mathematical-statistical method to calculate the risk associated with a possible grant of a N26 Overdraft or a N26 Installments to you. We then decide automatically, based on our risk appetite at each moment in time and your internal creditworthiness, which amount we can offer you for a N26 Overdraft and which conditions (amount, number of installments and interest rate) we can offer for your N26 Installments. This processing is based on pre-contractual steps taken upon your request, prior to entering into a credit contract with N26, in accordance with Art. 6 (1) b) and Art. 22 (2) a) GDPR.

If you want to challenge the automated decisions taken by N26 on your eligibility for any of the mentioned products, on the N26 Overdraft limit or on the N26 Installments conditions we offer you, please reach out to us as described in the N26 Overdraft Support Center Article or in the N26 Installments Support Center Article. We will then have someone reviewing that decision for you.

XI. Data collected in the framework of phone call recordings

When discussing any contractual matters (such as account related information or your transactions) with us on the phone, the call between us will be recorded for security and evidence reasons. Our interest to be able to prove contractual inquiries as well as to prevent and detect fraudulent behavior stipulates our legitimate interest to record calls in accordance with Art. 6 (1) f) GDPR. This does not apply to calls aimed at clarifying general inquiries related to N26 products and services.

The call recordings will be retained as long as required for security and evidentiary purposes. The call recordings will be processed by our Interactive Voice Response (IVR) service provider who is processing personal data on behalf of N26 (Art. 28 GDPR). If we are required to do so, the recordings will be shared with the competent authorities, in accordance with the applicable law.

If you do not wish to be recorded when calling us, please do contact us by email or through our Customer Chat for queries related to account related information or your transactions.

You have the following rights concerning your personal data:

- right to revoke your consent according to Art. 7 (3) GDPR, which is detailed in section XII.2. below;

- right to restriction of the processing according to Art. 18 GDPR, which means you can request the restriction of the processing of your personal data when it is legally permitted and, in particular, (i) while you challenge the accuracy of your data, (ii) when you request the restriction of your data because you believe the processing is unlawful, or (iii) when the data is no longer needed for the purposes for which it was collected but N26 needs them for legal actions;
- right to object to the processing according to Art. 21 GDPR, which is detailed in section XII.2. below;
- right to data portability according Art. 20 GDPR, which means you can request N26 to provide you personal data, in a structured, commonly used and machine-readable format and to transmit your data to another controller where the data processing is based on the consent, or on a contract and the processing is carried out by automated means;
- Right to lodge a complaint with a supervisory authority according to Art. 77 GDPR, which means that you can complain before the supervisory authority if you consider that the processing of your personal data by N26 infringes the GDPR.

Without prejudice to section XII.2. below, please:

Exercise your right of access, right to erasure and right to object to the processing through our webform;

Please do not address your requests through a third party platform which requires us to get back to you through that same means, since we are not able to clearly identify you as an N26 customer in such cases. Instead, please resort to the aforementioned ways of making use of your rights before N26.

2. Specifically, your right to revoke consent and right of objection

You can find below more details about your right to revoke consent and right of objection:

- Right to revoke your consent (in accordance with Art. 7 (3) GDPR)

You have the right to revoke your consent to the processing of your personal data at any time with effect for the future. In the event you revoke your consent, your personal data is not processed any

In some cases, we process your personal data for direct marketing purposes. You have the right to object to the processing of your personal data for direct marketing purposes at any time. This also applies to profiling, in case it is connected to direct marketing purposes. In case you object to the processing of your personal data for direct marketing purposes, your personal data is not processed any longer for this purpose. The processing of your personal data remains justified until the date of your objection.

Via the communication settings of your App, you can easily exercise your objection right by using the opt out toggles provided. You can access the settings as follows: N26 App > My Account > Settings > App-Settings > Communication-Settings > disable respective toggle. Please see the Support Center Article for further information on Marketing Communication settings here.

XIII. Deletion and retention periods

We are storing and processing your personal data only as long as it is necessary to perform our obligations under the agreement with you or as long as the law requires us to store it. That means, if the data is not required anymore for statutory or contractual obligations, your data will be deleted. This also occurs in case your onboarding process is not finalized with the opening of an account, and meanwhile there are still pending legal or security obligations for the bank to preserve your data. However, that rule does not apply, if its limited processing is necessary for the following purposes:

- Performing regulatory and tax retention periods, which relate to the applicable laws and complementary regulation, including the following laws: Commercial Code (Handelsgesetzbuch), Tax Code (Abgabenordnung), Banking Act (Kreditwesengesetz), Money-laundering Act (Geldwäschegesetz) and Security Trading Act (Wertpapierhandelsgesetz). The statutory retention periods and documentation obligations are between two to ten years. The applicable legal basis is Art. 17 (3) b) GDPR together with Art. 6 (1) c) GDPR.
- Keeping evidence in the context of statutory limitation periods. According to German Civil law (Bürgerlichen Gesetzbuch) these limitation periods can be up to thirty years, however the regular limitation period is three years. The applicable legal basis for this is Art. 17 (3) e) GDPR together with Art. 6 (1) f) GDPR.

Furthermore, whenever your consent is the legal ground to process your personal data, N26 will store that data for as long as you do not revoke your consent or until your account is closed, whatever happens the latest.
