Sabrina Bittencourt exposed John of God's baby trafficking ring with ties to the government backed Lula Institute and the United Nations (/v/pizzagate/3025988) (pizzagate (/v/pizzagate))

submitted 22 days ago by letsdothis3 (/u/letsdothis3)

https://twitter.com/LexCosta90/status/1093186752993525761 (https://twitter.com/LexCosta90/status/1093186752993525761) << This twitter thread goes through the confusion over the details of Sabrina Bittencourt's death and the death threats against her ever since she helped to expose Joao de Deus.

And there's this:

The psychologist Aparecida Alves said Sabrina sought her on the morning of her death. Sabrina wanted Alves to put her in touch with someone who could investigate allegations that João de Deus offered homes built under the "My Home, My Life" program to silence his victims.

"My Home, My Life" is a federal government program established under Lula. It focuses on ensuring more Brazilians can buy their first house. For years, it's been alleged that the program was used for fraudulent means, including buying of votes.

If Sabrina's suspicions were true, that would mean government officials were involved with João de Deus' reign of horror.

On the day of her death, Sabrina was still fighting to expose abuse and corruption.

What happened?

THE FEAR OF SABRINA BITTENCOURT - https://epoca.globo.com/o-medo-de-sabrina-bittencourt-23425031 (https://epoca.globo.com/o-medo-de-sabrina-bittencourt-23425031)

The activist helped unmask John of God at the end of last year when she gathered dozens of victims of sexual abuse. She forwarded the reports to the Goiás Public Ministry and the Civil Police. Under pressure from people attached to the religious, imprisoned in Goiás, Bittencourt denounced the threats he suffered, which caused her to leave Brazil.

Accustomed to collecting the pain of violence in Goiânia, the psychologist Aparecida Alves was sought by Bittencourt in the morning of what would be the last Saturday of life of the militant. She asked for Alves's help to contact someone who could investigate cases in which the medium would have used homes from the "Minha Casa Minha Vida" program to silence victims. In the conversation to which ÉPOCA had access, Bittencourt wanted the list of owners of the houses in Itapaci, in the interior of Goiás. According to her, a witness would have said that the medium donated houses for its victims so that they did not denounce it.

For Newcomers

Do you remember when the dream of owning a home was really just a dream? Well, with Lula and Dilma it is coming true, thanks to the largest housing program in Brazil's history. Considered by the UN "an example for the world," My House, My Life already has contracted construction of 3.4 million homes and apartments across the country, of which 1.7 million have been delivered, to the benefit of some 6.8 million Brazilians — the equivalent of the entire population of Brazil's second largest city (Rio de Janeiro).

Lula Institute https://pt.wikipedia.org/wiki/Instituto_Lula
(https://pt.wikipedia.org/wiki/Instituto_Lula) (using Google translator.)

The Lula Institute of Political Studies is a non-profit and non-profit foundation dedicated to international cooperation between Brazil, Africa and other Latin American countries. His name honors former President Luiz Inacio Lula da Silva who is also its president of honor.

On May 9, 2017, the federal court ordered the suspension of the activities of the Lula Institute. The magistrate justified that even if the Lula Institute develops projects of a social nature, there are "vehement" indications of "criminal offenses" that may have been initiated or instigated at the headquarters of the institute, located in São Paulo. Revenue experts challenged donations from two non-profit entities that together earmarked R $ 1.5 million to the institute between 2013 and 2014. The Treasury concluded that there was a misuse of purpose in the period under investigation.

UN accepts petition stating Brazil judge violated Lula's rights

<https://clubofmozambique.com/news/un-accepts-petition-stating-brazil-judge-violated-lulas-rights/> (<https://clubofmozambique.com/news/un-accepts-petition-stating-brazil-judge-violated-lulas-rights/>)

The U.N. accepted a petition from lawyers of former Brazilian President Luiz Inacio Lula da Silva claiming that the judge overseeing the Petrobras corruption case had violated Lula da Silva's rights by charging him with the same allegations several times and detaining him arbitrarily without any evidence.

I'll bet they did...

The United Nations Human Rights Committee agreed to investigate the allegations that Judge Sergio Moro had "violated Lula's right to privacy, his right not to be detained arbitrarily and his presumption of innocence."

Lula da Silva said in his request that the case was "highly political" and the result of "a series of arbitrary violations of rights," including the illegal searching of his home, as well as his children's homes and the Lula Institute. The attorneys also added that the judge abused his position and leaked confidential information to the press, disclosed recordings obtained illegally and used temporary detention of key suspects in order to reach an agreement that would affect Lula.

I have a question- who does the UN have to answer to??

2: Empiricism: EACH factual claim that is not common knowledge must be sourced with a link. If you ask a question: Explain what led to your question and provide sources. If you present opinion/argument, connect your dots and provide sources for them. Avoid baseless speculation. ALL posts must include at least one link.

What began as an investigation into money laundering quickly turned into something much greater, uncovering a vast and intricate web of political and corporate racketeering.

On 14 January 2015, police agent Newton Ishii was waiting in Rio de Janeiro's Galeão airport to meet the midnight flight from London. His mission was simple. A former executive of Brazil's national oil company, Petrobras, was on the plane. Ishii was to arrest him as soon as he set foot in Brazil and take him for questioning by detectives.

No big deal, the veteran cop thought as he ticked off the hours in the shabby Terminal One lounge. This was just one of many anti-bribery operations he had worked on. Usually they made a few headlines, then faded away, leaving the perpetrators to carry on as if nothing had happened. There was a popular expression for this: acabou em pizza (to end up with pizza), which suggested that there was no political row that could not be settled over a meal and a few beers...

Petrobras was also at the centre of Brazil's politics. During the 2003-2010 presidency of the Workers' Party leader Luiz Inácio Lula da Silva (known as Lula), executive posts in Petrobras were offered to Lula's political allies, to help build support in Congress. Petrobras's commercial and strategic importance was such that the US National Security Agency made it a target for surveillance. As the Car Wash investigation was to prove, if you could unravel the secrets of this company, you would unravel the secrets of the state.

The web of corruption has been traced far beyond Brazil's borders. Odebrecht had a department dedicated to bribes, known as the Division of Structured Operations, which laid out close to $800m in illicit pay-offs for more than 100 contracts in a dozen countries over 15 years. Dozens of foreign corporate suppliers (of engineering equipment, power lines, drilling rigs and so forth) also face regulatory and shareholder inquiries about the bribes they paid to secure contracts with Petrobras. Among them was Rolls-Royce, which posted hefty losses as a result of penalties imposed in January this year by Brazilian, UK and US authorities. The World Cup and Olympics have also been sucked into the mire with fraud investigations now focused on six out of the 12 stadiums used in 2014 and 2016.

I think this baby trafficking ring goes very, very far.

Thanks for the support. I'm discovering a lot of stuff has been scrubbed from the internet, particularly when it comes to any US or UK companies involvement. I'm currently trying to go down a tricky rabbit hole. Any help would be appreciated...

Edit: One example is the involvement of Bill and Melinda Gates Foundation with Petrobras...

in 2015: Bill Gates sues oil giant Petrobras and PwC over corruption scandal (<https://www.telegraph.co.uk/finance/newsbysector/energy/oilandgas/11892400/Bill-Gates-sues-oil-giant-Petrobras-and-PwC-over-corruption-scandal.html>)

Prosecutors in Brazil say Petrobras executives colluded with construction companies to massively overbill the state oil giant

The Bill & Melinda Gates Foundation Foundation, together with WGI Emerging Markets Fund, alleged in the suit that Petrobras repeatedly misrepresented its operations and financial situation in raising billions of dollars from investors.

One can only find articles about the fact that they sued Petrobras and nothing about the work they did together apart from a few pdf files. Sounds like they moved to cover their arses..

@swordfish69 (<https://voat.co/u/swordfish69>), please see parent. Matthew Freud invited Bono to sing at his daughter's birthday party IIRC.

Which makes sense when you take into account that he was a friend of Matthew's father, Sir Clement Freud, one of our usual suspects.

Do we know anything about Paul and Barbara's family? Parents, grandparents, siblings?

Yes, and he was friends with Balthus, who created pedophile art, and Clement Freud, one of our usual suspects.

Matthew Freud, Clement's son, hired him for singing at his daughter's birthday.

Oh, we're deep in muck with this one.

Bono's ONE charity under fire for abuse allegations

(<https://www.irishcentral.com/culture/entertainment/bono-one-charity-abuse-allegations>)

One worker, a married woman in her mid-30s, claims Moyo pressured her to have sex with an older Tanzanian MP. When she refused, she was demoted and had her salary cut. Moyo said she "vehemently denies" the claims and says she is being smeared. She, in return, claims that other directors treated her "like their personal maid" and abused her in public. Workers say the abuse went on for years and bosses at the charity tried to cover up he allegations. Ex-staff says that nothing was done about their claims against the organization until after staff started complaining publicly on social media in November.

The organization, whose board includes high-profile figures such as David Cameron and Facebook chief Sheryl Sandberg, has since admitted that there was "mistreatment and inaction" by former managers.

Hillary Clinton's Anti-Corruption Partner Mired in Corruption Scandals

(<https://freebeacon.com/issues/hillary-clinton-partner-corruption-scandals/>)

Brazil's Superior Election Court is also looking into charges that Rousseff brought in money for her 2010 and 2014 elections through an illegal scheme involving state-owned oil giant Petrobras. Rousseff chaired the company's board of directors from 2003 to 2010.

Rousseff claims that she knew nothing of the illegal Petrobras graft scheme, but other politicians implicated in the plan say that's not the case.

One senator, a political ally of Rousseff who was arrested last year for trying to bribe Petrobras executives to keep quiet about his involvement, recently said that Rousseff "knew about everything" and "benefited from the scheme" she inherited from her predecessor, Luiz Inacio Lula da Silva. Prosecutors have already charged Lula for hiding his ownership of a beachfront penthouse apartment that was renovated by OAS, a construction company that saw three of its executives arrested last year for their role in the Petrobras bribery scheme.

The construction company has given between $1 million and $5 million to the Clinton Foundation and has been a partner of former President Bill Clinton in the Haitian relief effort he leads.

The Clinton Foundation has also made its presence known in Brazil. The 2013 Clinton Global Initiative conference was held in Rio de Janeiro, where Rousseff was featured as a speaker. The Clinton campaign did not respond to a request for comment on Rousseff's corruption scandals.

The Petrobras scandal even involves Haitian trafficking: Haiti's Lead Export: Brazil's New Slaves - <http://archive.is/jjXma#selection-323.0-323.40> (<http://archive.is/jjXma#selection-323.0-323.40>)

The sale of unskilled Haitian labor from sweatshops and sugarcane fields to traditional colonial powers is well documented. Less well known is the current dissipation of Haiti's middle class toward the emerging powers in the United Nations' so-called peacekeeping mission (MINUSTAH), especially Brazil.

About 76,000 Haitians have migrated to Brazil since 2010. This exodus has reached a rate of about 75 Haitians per day and continues to accelerate. Ninety-three percent of the Haitian migrants are between 19 and 45 years old; seventy-seven percent are male. The demographics of this group alone should give one pause. Historically, young male migrants have been brutally exploited, especially for dangerous construction work, and treated as being expendable.

The 3,700-mile trek would begin with travel to the Dominican Republic; from there, the Haitians would be put on a flight to Ecuador, where a visa was not required. After this, they were taken by bus into Peru, where a visa was also not needed before 2012. From Peru, they would enter Brazil, in the northwestern state of Acre. Since a visa was required in Brazil, they would then travel by bus or taxi to the nearest office of the Brazilian Federal Police, usually in the city of Brasileia, and apply there for a visa. Over 40,000 Haitians have been trafficked in this way, starting with only 37 individuals in 2010; increasing rapidly to 1,175 during 2011; and continuing to accelerate to more than 9,000 for the first half of 2015.

Simultaneously with the start of the illegal traffic of Haitians, powerful Brazilian interests began to clamor for a legal admission of large numbers of Haitians, with support from human rights groups. At a senate hearing in late December 2011, several powerful senators with interests in construction lobbied vigorously for a liberalization of Haitian immigration. Among them was Senator Jorge Viana, whose brother, Tião Viana, was the governor of Acre. ... Mr. Tião Viana is now alleged to have been involved in the Petrobras scandal, a convoluted scheme to launder about $3.8 billion that had been embezzled over a decade, from inflated construction contracts, for bribes and kickbacks. Ms. Rousseff is under threat of impeachment for her failure to stem the corruption.

On Twitter searching under "Minha Casa Minha Vida" (for the My House My Life program), the first account which comes up is: EcoHouse Group <https://twitter.com/EcoHouseUK> (<https://twitter.com/EcoHouseUK>)

EcoHouse Group are a UK based property developer operating in Brazil. Our latest Minha Casa Minha Vida project is in Porto Alegre : <http://www.montealegrebrazil.com> (<http://www.montealegrebrazil.com>)

website: <http://www.ecohousegroup.com/> (<http://www.ecohousegroup.com/>) (I cant see it.)

So, their last tweet was in October : Why Investment Companies Are Signing Up With eSignlite (<https://whichinvestments.wordpress.com/2018/08/23/why-investment-companies-are-signing-up-with-esignlite/>) . They tweet a lot about a 5 Star resort Cape Verde. Most of their stuff doesn't seem to match with who they say they are.

https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/EcoHouse_Group (https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/EcoHouse_Group)

EcoHouse Group Developments Ltd – in compulsory liquidation and EcoHouse Developments Ltd are defunct UK companies, registered in England and Wales.

The companies claimed to have been specialising in the construction of social housing through the Brazilian government's Minha Casa, Minha Vida programme; however, in August 2014 the Brazilian Embassy in Singapore (where Ecohouse attracted many investors) stated that the company had no relationship with the Brazilian government,[3] [4][5] in November 2014 it appeared the company was not on the government's list of participants in the scheme, and the companies are subject to fraud investigations by the Brazilian police.

Another tweet from them shows their founder Anthony Armstrong Emery at MIPIM

<https://twitter.com/EcoHouseUK/status/444083944183451648>

Diet4Fitness, check out the profile picture <https://twitter.com/dieting4fitness>

(<https://twitter.com/dieting4fitness>) . Both accounts are followed by the Saatchi Gallery.

None of this is adding up and I'm thinking this has the whiff of a spooks network. If anyone else wants to chime in on this please do. I'm just going to record anomalies until we work out what is going on.

Okay, so here is the company founder in Dubai: Housing 'Godfather' leaves £50m misery

(<https://www.thetimes.co.uk/article/housing-godfather-leaves-pound50m-misery-x6r789pj8sp>)

Armstrong Emery, 37, enjoyed a lifestyle that included a sports car, a luxury flat and the ownership of two football clubs. It stands in sharp contrast to the lives now facing his investors.

Among them is Nerys Pearce, 33, who is confined to a wheelchair and lives in a bungalow in Ascot, Berkshire. She was paralysed in 2008 after a car pulled out in front of her motorbike. She invested £253,000 of her £1.2m settlement in EcoHouse, Armstrong Emery's company, which was promising 20% returns.

The company quickly raked in about £50m from up to 1,500 investors in Britain and abroad. The minimum investment was set at £23,000 — the cost of building one "unit" of the social housing. But the scheme hit trouble last year and the money disappeared along with Armstrong Emery.

Armstrong Emery, who was born in west London, cites his business heroes as Sir Richard Branson and the American billionaire Donald Trump.

When he was living in Natal, northern Brazil, where the social housing developments were being built, he would travel in an armoured 4x4 accompanied by two other vehicles carrying armed bodyguards.

Armstrong Emery then decided to put enough money into a Natal football club, Alecrim FC, to become its president.

Football you say?

Anthony Armstrong Emery hoping to create AFC Wimbledon community spirit with AC Monza Brianza investment (<https://www.mirror.co.uk/sport/football/anthony-armstrong-emery-hoping-create-2114363>)

It takes a special kind of faith (or madness) to buy two clubs. But this is exactly what tycoon Anthony Armstrong Emery has done. The British born international property developer is the owner of Brazilian club, Alecrim FC and as of last month Italian outfit A.C. Monza Brianza 1912.

Special fixture: Lawrence Goldsmith with AFC Wimbledon boss Neil Ardley

Tied in with his two clubs Armstrong Emery is launching innovative football academies which he says will give youngsters a rounded education, social skills and top quality coaching. He is planning to give trainees a better chance of making a career in the game rather than the current academies which he feels discard young hopefuls too quickly. Armstrong Emery invited League Two side AFC Wimbledon to Monza to re-create an Anglo-Italian cup game played in June 1976. Back then, Monza played the former Wimbledon, as part of the pre-season schedule.

AFC Wimbledon, huh... I've written about the pedophile football scandal in the UK.. wonder if AFC Wimbledon was on the list of 30 clubs that were under investigation?

Ooops, yes... <https://www.standard.co.uk/sport/football/sexual-abuse-in-football-the-response-from-each-london-club-when-asked-about-the-met-police-a3420291.html>

That's very interesting. Remember that the infamous George Webb said in his video series that the Clintons allegedly smuggled heroin from Pakistan, hidden in mangos? Which I didn't believe, since I don't trust Webb - imo he's Mossad.

But 'mango' as a code word for human trafficking makes sense.

The fight against corruption and illegal gambling has once again hit Brazilian President Lula da Silva. This time, the target is his older brother, Genival Inácio da Silva, better known as 'Vavá', charged with influence peddling in the executive branch and for prestige exploitation with the judiciary. Agents of the Federal Police searched his home yesterday, in the city of São Bernardo do Campo.

Genival Inácio da Silva, known as Vavá, the Brazilian president's elder brother, acted as an intermediary in favor of the Portuguese businessman Emídio Mendes, getting him meetings in the presidential palace with direct advisors to Lula and then to the oil company Petrobrás. The complaint, published today in Veja magazine, contradicts previous statements by the president that the brother was never an intermediary between businessmen and the government.

Santos - Portugal passed consulate for the Riviera Group? - <http://des-consulados.blogspot.com/2009/02/santos-portugal-trespasou-consulado.html> (<http://des-consulados.blogspot.com/2009/02/santos-portugal-trespasou-consulado.html>)

The Luso-Portuguese newspaper Mundo Lusíada reports the passage from the Portuguese consulate in Santos to the new honorary consul, the billionaire Armênio Mendes (owner of a wealth of real estate in Baixada Santista) on January 27, 2009, ending the presence of the structure (of the public administration of Portugal) in the port city (and now also oil and tourism) of the Paulista coastline that had already been going for more than 150 years ..

We inquired as to whether the consulate moved to the Riviera Group, on the grounds that, to the best of our knowledge, Mr. Armênio Mendes will be the brother of Emídio Mendes, a native of Chão de Couce (District of Leiria). Brazil and in Portugal, connected to football (Académica de Coimbra and other clubs), as well as to such Riviera Group with real estate investment in Coimbra, hotel in Carcavelos, as well as many others in the Paulista coast.

The Portuguese Riviera group operates in the real estate, tourism, trade, services and energy sectors. According to its website, the Riviera Group (name of origin of the conglomerate) originated in Santos, coast of São Paulo, for 32 years. The group was responsible for the construction of shopping centers on the coast of São Paulo, hotels and condominiums. Today, it maintains investments in the tourism sector in several regions of Portugal but also has interests in gas distribution, through Nacionalgás, and wind energy generation.

very difficult to get info on the company.. https://pt.wikipedia.org/wiki/Riviera_Group
(https://pt.wikipedia.org/wiki/Riviera_Group)

Riviera Residence Service, which belonged first to the Riviera Group (which declared bankruptcy) , is a building that stands with works in the city of Santos , south coast of the State of São Paulo, Brazil . If finalized, it will be one of the largest buildings in Brazil, being 35 floors and 119 meters high. The Riviera Residence Service is under construction since 2008, the place where was the Cine Indaia and Indaia Hotel in the city of Santos . The Cine Indaia and Hotel Indaia were very old and were demolished in 2007.

Since the demolition of the old Cine Indaia, the site has been under construction for almost 10 years. In addition, the works have already stopped in some newscasts, showing the concern of the population regarding the outbreaks of dengue. With many problems the Portuguese group transferred the work in 2011 to incorporator Strasbourg , which in turn was able to continue the works for only one year.

A lot people would have been happy to see her gone:

During the repercussion of the João de Deus case, Sabrina said she received at least 185 denunciations against 13 Brazilian spiritual leaders since September. Sabrina began to gather the reports after women reported alleged abuses committed by guru Sri Prem Baba.

Joao de Deus had 255 victims, all females between 9 and 67 years old.

John of God spent R$35 million in the days before his arrest and R$1.2million was found in his house (<https://vaaju.com/brazileng/bag-of-money-found-in-hidden-basement-in-joao-de-deus-house-had-r-1-2-million-goias/>) The suitcase of money was found in a hidden wardrobe.

Joao de Deus had 255 victims

The current number is 600 - and we will have to take into account that not all have come forward yet, there might be many, many more. :-/
